Serenity Oxygen Spa Opens In Sidney

Serenity Oxygen Spa owner Heather Keenan.

By Dianne Swanson

Serenity Oxygen Spa is now open downstairs in the Yellowstone Marketplace, downtown Sidney. Owner Heather Keenan is excited about offering the benefits of oxygen, along with aromatherapy to help a myriad of different conditions.

"I developed Serenity Oxygen Spa because I am committed to listening to the needs of our community and to providing a wellness spa to meet both the physical and mental wellness of my clients. The spa provides a variety of services all of which work on self improvement and wellness. It feels great to be able to customize a package that works specifically for a customer's needs and see the benefits. All the services are chemical free and natural. I provide lots of literature and studies that prove the system works. I'm excited to bring a new business to this community and look forward to meeting new people."

Oxygen treatments at Serenity Oxygen Spa are designed to relieve different issues such as headaches, depression, sore muscles, stress, insomnia, and to increase energy, just to name a few. Treatments are for 20 minutes or less.

Infared therapy, which helps with weight loss, eczema, burns, scars and more, is also offered. Treatments last 40 minutes and may be taken three or four times per week. A 5 to 10 minute body analysis is also available. Energy and hangover drinks may be purchased as well.

Treatments are offered for those 10 years and older. Kids 10 to 15 years old must have parental permission and no pregnant women are allowed. Monthly memberships are available for $200 or single treatments are available. Walk-ins are welcome.

Serentiy Oxygen Bar is open from 1-8 p.m. Wednesday through Friday and 10 a.m. to 5p.m. Saturday and Sunday. Call Heather at 720-666-5335 for an appointment or just stop in to start feeling better.

Learn About Eastern Montana Agriculture During YF&R Ag Tour In Sidney

Submitted by Rebecca Colnar, AgNewsWire

Ever wander around a sugar beet factory? Want to learn about the controversy surrounding the Lower Yellowstone Intake Diversion Dam? Plan to take part in the Montana Farm Bureau Young Farmers and Ranchers Regional Ag Tour June 1-2 in Sidney. The tour, which departs from the Best Western Golden Prairie Inn, kicks off mid-Friday afternoon with a stop at the Sidney Sugar Beet Factory followed by a tour, social and dinner at Meadowlark Brewing.

Saturday's first tour stop is Safflower Technologies, which grows seed for farmers in Montana and North Dakota, as well as buys back the seed to sell as bird food. Following the tour of Safflower Technologies, the group will visit the Eastern Ag Research Station for a look at how their latest research is helping farmers and ranchers. Next stop: the Steinbeisser Farm will talk about their diverse production of sugar beets, soybeans, alfalfa and malt barley, along with their 2500-head feedlot. Following lunch, the group will travel to the Lower Yellowstone Intake Diversion Dam to discover more about the controversy surrounding it. Included in the visit will be a glimpse into the Montana Caviar Company that harvests paddlefish eggs to sell as a unique value-added high-end delicacy.

"Each year, the YF&R Tour focuses on different regions of Montana," said MFBF YF&R Chair Gil Gasper. "We will get a view of the diversity of Eastern Montana Agriculture, from seeing irrigated crops like sugar beets and malt barley to learning about the hot topics surrounding the Lower Yellowstone Intake Diversion Dam. We're planning to invite members of the North Dakota Farm Bureau Young Farmers and Ranchers, so it will make a great networking opportunity for all. It's exciting that we have a chance to showcase what our ag producers do in Eastern Montana."

Registration is $50/person with all meals and activities included. Attendees are responsible for making their own hotel reservations. Contact the Best Western Golden Prairie at 406-433-4560 and request the "Montana Farm Bureau room block" for the special $70 room rate. Seats are limited to the first 30 people.

Register online today at www.mfbf.org. Questions? Contact Sue Ann Streufert at sueanns@mfbf.org or 406-587-3153.

Parents and Their Teens Invited to Boundaries Classes in Watford City

By Marcia Hellandsaas
NDSU Extension Agent, McKenzie County

Boundaries exist in all areas of life! To help your teens be adequately prepared, join the free Boundaries program to be held from 6:00 to 7:30 pm CT on May 24, 29, June 7, 12 and 21. Parents and their teenage children are encouraged to attend all sessions. Pre-registration is required prior to attending. Please contact the NDSU Extension Office in McKenzie County at 701-444-3451 or email marcia.hellandsaas@ndsu.edu to sign up for this series. Deadline to enroll is Tuesday, May 22.

At these sessions, parents and their children will:

- Recognize why boundaries are important
- Understand how boundaries reflect personal values
- Identify negotiable and non-negotiable rules in their lives
- Respectfully work through disagreements with authority figures

Teens need parents to be their greatest fan through their best and worst in life. Regardless of the situation, our sons and daughters need to know parents love them---unconditionally. And loving them means establishing boundaries.

Part of setting boundaries for teenagers is to help them learn to eventually set their own boundaries. Parents should discuss the reasons for the limits they put on their teen. Let your teen know some of the responsibilities that go with setting boundaries.

Boundaries include saying yes and no, just as doors are made to be opened and closed. Teens need the life lessons of success and failure to mature. When we open the door to appropriate levels of freedom, we give our teens a chance to make their own decisions, and to learn from them. Boundaries set for your teens should show them how things work in the adult world.

Parents should explore effective ways to use boundary-setting to avoid conflicts with teens, encourage responsibility and self-management, resolve problems, prevent pointless and frustrating, no-win power struggles, and establish a foundation of mutual trust, consideration and respect.

As we look at setting boundaries for teens, one of the first questions we need to ask ourselves is, "who is in the driver's seat – the parent or the child?"

For more information on the Boundaries series, please feel free to contact NDSU Extension in McKenzie County.

Car Shows In The MonDak

By Jordan Hall

A number of upcoming events are planned in the MonDak region for car enthusiasts. From classic cars to hot rods, there will be more than a few occasions to stop by area towns to peruse impressive vehicles on display that were brought from far and near to be shown in style.

The Sheridan Classics Car Club, which is in Plentywood, MT, has several events on the calendar for the weekend of June 1-2. There will be a "Meat and Greet" at the Harvest Church Plentywood Campus and will be a family and kid-friendly event. The event will include a "burn-out contest" and barbeque, which will be paid for by a free-will offering. This will kick off the next day's bigger event.

Now in its 43rd year, the Motorcraze Weekend Car and Bike Show in Plentywood will feature vehicles from all over the region and beyond. The two-day event will be held at the Sheridan County Fairgrounds and will begin at 9 a.m. on Saturday, June 1 and will allow registration and parking of vehicles at 1 p.m. Later in the afternoon, votes for various categories for best-in-show will be taken and tallied, with awards given at 2:30 p.m. A parade will follow at 3 p.m., and a catered banquet at 7 p.m. that evening. Transportation will be provided from town to the fairgrounds via shuttle every thirty minutes or so. Also that evening, the Plentywood Fire Department will host a rib cook-off, with proceeds going to benefit the Plentywood Fire Department.

The Roundup spoke to Jason Rusbult, who explained the variety to be expected at the show, explaining, "We've got all kinds of different vehicles coming. We have some British vehicles that are coming down from Canada, we have some exotic cars coming down from Canada and will be bringing Ferraris, Lamborghinis, Porches and that type of thing."

"We've got everything from Model-Ts to Corvettes to new Challengers," Rusbult continued. "It is pretty much open to anything."

Rusbult spoke of the show's influence and impact on the small town, saying, "We do it for the love of the car. We love looking at other people's cars that they spend so much time working on. It is a big thing as far as Plentywood goes. We usually have a hundred cars that show up. There's a good number of Canadians that come down. We work on this all year trying to put this together."

There is a small registration fee for those showing their vehicles, but no fee for those attending the show. If one desires more information, they may call show president, Jason, at 406-480-0015.

Williston, ND will also be hosting a car show at its annual Band Day Celebration on May 12. In its 42nd year, the citywide festivity will again feature vehicles on display for the public to peruse and admire. Beginning at 11 a.m. and ending at 5 p.m. on May 12, the event will be held at the Raymond Family Community Center in Williston. This event has a general admission price of five dollars, with those twelve and under getting in free. To register a vehicle to show, the price is twenty dollars. Raffle prizes and show awards will also be provided.

The Williston car show, hosted by the Basin Kruzers, has multiple categories for awards. There are four award classes for cars, based upon year, model, four truck classes, Best of Show, Tuner Class, People's Choice, Street Rods, Motorcycles, and under 21 years of age.

Basin Kruzers organizer, Doug Ginther, spoke to the Roundup and said, "We have several out of town vehicles this year coming. These include hot rods from Canada, some Edsels from South Dakota, and we're going to have some new high-tech Highway Patrol cars that nobody has really even seen yet. It will be a surprise to us, too."

Ginther told The Roundup, "We are also going to have a 1935 patrol control, which is one of the first patrol cars ever. It will be coming from a museum in Fargo. We also have some Hemi cars, both old and new, that guys have built. Some new Challengers will be there. Hopefully we'll have a brand new Corvette there."

For more information regarding the event, you can call Doug Ginther at 701-770-5447.

The Watford City Chamber holds a car show during their Best of the West Ribfest event each year. This year's event will take place Aug. 10. For more information visit www.watfordci-

Public Advisory: Sidney Roundabout Construction

April 30 update:

The construction of the roundabout at the intersection of Highway 16 and Highways 200/23 south of Sidney is again in progress.

The project and traffic flow will see significant changes in the following week to facilitate continued progress and completion of the project.

Be aware of the following changes:

1. Stop signs. All directions of travel will have stop signs within the construction area.

2. The roundabout will see partial use. Roundabout rules will prevail within the roundabout.

3. The detour will see partial use at the same time as partial use of the roundabout. There will be stop signs at the intersection.

4. Delays have been extremely limited during construction. Delays will occur now, however, delays will still be relatively low.

Please:

1. Be alert and watch for all traffic around you, particularly to stopped traffic.

2. Signs will be posted to assist proper traffic flow.

3. Be patient and respectful to others.

Construction of the roundabout will be ongoing with majority completed by end of June and project completion in August. Updates will be given of future traffic changes.

For additional information, please call 406-482-9875.

Richland Co. to Vote for Justice Of The Peace June 5

By Jordan Hall

Three candidates are running for Richland County Justice of the Peace. Sidney resident, Judge Luke Savage, Sidney resident, Ross Hall, and Fairview resident, Judge Ray Trumpower are all vying for this position.

Savage explained to the Roundup the position of Justice of the Peace and its terms of office, saying, "The Justice of the Peace handles all misdemeanors outside the City of Sidney. It's technically called the 'Richland County Justice Court of Record.' That means that because there is a record, you lose your right to trial de novo, or an automatic right to appeal. The Justice of the Peace also does the initial appearance and bind-over on felonies, and the defendant will then see another judge."

The Justice of the Peace position does not require a degree in law. Savage explained that there was a case a few years ago in which the District Court stated you needed a law degree, but the State Supreme Court over-ruled the District Court case and stated that state trainings are sufficient. Savage is the only one of the three contenders with a degree in law.

Savage has been serving in the position since he was appointed to the position sixteen months ago, but he must now run to keep the office. Born in Missoula while his parents were in law school, Savage moved to the area in 1982 and attended K-12 here. He then attended law school at the University of Montana in Missoula.

When asked why voters should cast the ballot for him, Savage responded, "I am passionate about the law and making sure that it is equal for every person. I want it to be fairly and properly applied to everyone."

Savage continued, "I believe that my experience on the bench and my experience as an attorney haVE been critical to allowing me to make those just and fair decisions. I would let my knowledge and experience speak for itself and I would hope the public would want the most knowledgeable and experienced persons making those decisions."

There have been challenges in the work, but Savage says that he has made strides in spite of an increase in caseloads. Savage said, "I think we have had a substantial increase in cases in my first year and we have handled the increased caseload by identifying certain areas in the office we've been able to streamline very smoothly and we have dealt with that increased caseload without any major adjustments to the office."

Ray Trumpower is originally from Michigan, and has been in this area since 1979, coming in the first oil boom. After that, Trumpower moved to several different states including Wyoming, back to Michigan and then North Dakota and ultimately Fairview, Montana. Trumpower told the Roundup that his brother, Joe, is a graduate of Sidney High School.

Trumpower has been the Fairview City Judge since 2005, which has concurrent jurisdiction with the Richland County Justice of the Peace. The way the law is set up in Montana, each county has one small claims court, so Trumpower explained that small claims court is the one area he doesn't have experience.

Trumpower explained in succinct terms why voters should cast their ballot for him, saying, "Basically I want the position because I am a good judge, I have good jurisprudence, and to be honest, I think I can do a better job than Luke."

When asked if not having a law degree was a disadvantage, Trumpower stated, "The thing is, the job of the judge is to listen to both arguments of the lawyers and determine which one was right. If you go in with a preconceived notion, there will be a problem. When either side quotes the law, I look at the book. It's about the law and about common sense and life experience. After time, you can determine when somebody is trying to lie or trying to pull one over on you."

Trumpower asserted, "I've done this for twelve years. I'm obviously good at it because I've never been reversed in another court."

Ross Hall attended University of Wyoming College of Law, where according to Hall, it was possible to practice law while being a student. Hall practiced law and tried several cases, but told the Roundup, "I got into a crisis of confidence, and I just went into the Dean of Students and asked how do you defend someone you know is [guilty]? An honest man lost a case because of what I did to him."

Hall then explained that he decided that coaching and teaching would be his career choice. Hall, who works for the Circle School District, said, "I now drive to Circle. They're wonderful kids. It's been a great experience, but it's tiring."

Hall continued, speaking of serving as judge, "This is what I've always wanted to do and I wanted to give it a try."

His lack of experience on the bench shouldn't deter voters, Hall argued. He told the Roundup, "There's no paper that says you have the expertise to do it. Common sense is common sense."

Two Candidates Vying for Richland Co. Clerk & Recorder

By Jaymi Loobey

Tuesday, June 5th, Richland County voters will have a chance to vote for party representatives to be voted on for the general elections on November 6th. It is the primary but for offices where all candidates are representing the same party, like Clerk and Recorder this year, June 5th is it. Two different but worthy candidates are running for Clerk and Recorder. Stephanie Verhasselt is Richland County's current Clerk and Recorder. She was born and raised in Sidney and moved back to work after taking several business classes at MSU Minot and DSU Dickinson. She first ran for Clerk and Recorder in 2010 after eight years of working in the office. She said, "The previous Clerk and Recorder was undecided if she was going to run and I felt, as Chief Deputy, I had a good idea of what was expected and that I could do the job." Two terms later and she still loves the job. She feels the job is challenging, rewarding and the staff is great to work with. Stephanie also feels she is experienced and confident enough for the job but told me, "There is always something new and different tasks assigned, and changes made in laws that affect the office and the Clerk and Recorder needs to stay on top of it." She feels she can continue to bring a good understanding and knowledge of the laws, rules, and policies a Clerk and Recorder would have to work with.

Kari Sinks is the other candidate. She grew up in Savage, Montana and attended Williston State College. She got an Associate degree in Applied Science with focus on being a Legal Administrative Assistant . After college she moved to Billings for a year, then back to Richland County to marry Gary, her high school sweetheart. She has not run for an elected office before but seems confident in her ability in promoting herself. She has worked for Richland County before, though, in the Accounts Payable position. At the time Stephanie Verhasselt was her supervisor. When I asked her about her time serving in the position she said, "I enjoyed it and miss it." I also asked Kari what she thought of the position of Clerk and Recorder. She said she likes a good challenge and there is a lot of responsibilities involved in it. She wants to try it.

Kari Sinks

Stephanie Verhasselt

Traditionally the Clerk and Recorder's office is responsible for many things such as recording of documents, payroll, claims, assisting the public when looking up records, birth and death certificates. All of these things the Clerk and Recorder needs to have knowledge of and be able to do and answer questions on. The Clerk and Recorder is also responsible for entering budgets, and tracking them, the annual financial report and making sure it is submitted with all the proper reports and forms, and working with the auditor throughout the year. The Clerk and Recorder is the clerk of the County Commissioners as well.There is more, however. Richland County's Clerk and Recorder also handles the elections, is the county's Human Resources and serves as an unlicensed county surveyor. It is a big job.

Car Shows ...

Car enthusiasts in Sidney, MT, have taken an altogether different approach to their vehicular hobbies, making their car show a weekly affair throughout the summer.

Gene Trudell explained the car show to The Roundup, "We thought we would just get together and visit while people are already out running around. We get together on Wednesday evenings at have 20 to 40 cars there every night. We've had people from as far Grenora, North Dakota or Glendive come. People from Williston even come."

"We meet in the Reynolds parking lot," Trudell continued, "and Reynolds has been really good about it. Everybody has been quite supportive of it. Young people and old people show up, and it gives husbands an opportunity to do something while their wife is shopping, so it's good for everybody."

Trudell said, "It's from about 6 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. at night. We've even had riding lawnmowers down there. There are pickups, cars, motorcycles, and virtually everything you would want to see."

Trudell says that the vehicles can be seen every Wednesday night from the first part of May to the end of September. For more information, you can contact Gene Trudell at 406-480-3939.

Glendive, Montana will also have a car show on June 22-23, hosted by the Badlands Drifters. Registration for this event will be next to NAPA at the Westpark Plaza parking lot and will begin Friday evening at 5:30 p.m. Scheduled events for the "Cars in the Park 2018" event will be the Cruise and Fun Run, Participant Dash plaques, concessions, a crafts show, door prizes, goody bags, and more than 30 trophies to give away. At 9 p.m. on Friday evening there will be a Midnight Gearhead Gathering at the Westpark Plaza parking lot.

The Roundup spoke to Jerry Glaser, an event organizer, who explained that the Glendive car show is actually quite sizeable.

Glaser said, "Just when you think you've seen them all, you see something new. We usually have between 150 and 200 vehicles. This is going to be our 29th year and we're really excited about it."

For more information, you can contact Glaser at 406-365-5342.

The MonDak Heritage Center Announces Let's Talk About Fake News

The MonDak Heritage Center announces Let's Talk About Fake News on Thursday, May 24 from 6:30 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. at the MonDak Heritage Center, 120 3rd Ave SE, Sidney! Whether it's celebrity click-bait, your crazy uncle on Facebook, or a news article you disagree with, everyone's raising the alarm about fake news. Join professional journalists as we transform the MonDak into a friendly, neighborhood pub atmosphere to discuss how we got here, and what happens when we can't agree on the facts. Leading the discussion will be: Darrell Ehrlick, editor of the Billings Gazette; Ed Kemmick, publisher of Last Best News; and Jackie Yamanaka, news director for Yellowstone Public Radio. Drinks and refreshments provided. So gather around a table and join us to ask questions, share your thoughts, or just listen and enjoy a pint! FREE to the public!

Let's Talk About Fake News is part of Hometown Humanities Sidney and part of Humanities Montana's focus "Democracy and the Informed Citizen," administered by the Federation of State Humanities Councils. The initiative seeks to deepen the public's knowledge and appreciation of the vital connections between democracy, the humanities, journalism, and an informed citizenry. Sponsored by Humanities Montana, an independent, non-profit affiliate of the National Endowment for the Humanities. For more information contact MDHC at (406) 433-3500 or visit mondakheritagecenter.org.

Sidney Teacher Writes Essay to Benefit School

Jenny Baker, a 3rd grade teacher of West Side School, sent an essay on wishing to purchase art supplies to the KTVQ news station out of Billings, and West Side school was chosen as one of the finalists for a chance to win up to $2,000 for their school project. The community can help achieve this goal by going online to vote for West Side School at http://www.ktvq.com/category/321840/one-school-at-a-time-vote#/gallery/ every day up through May 15. Or if you prefer you can make a direct donation.

Jenny Baker's essay is below:

I would like to purchase art supplies such as pottery materials: clay, tools and under glazes. This would help to add more depth into the 3rd grade art programming. Children need to have more meaningful opportunities to connect and express themselves artistically, and not just through paper.

This would be giving kids a chance to experience art in different ways, as well as using concepts like architecture, symmetry and special design. Art not only encompasses the ability to create, it also helps with problem solving and spatial reasoning. I would love to really focus on the STEAM concepts every Friday. This would be used to help empower my students, using a hands-on method. There is so much out there in the world as far as art is concerned, I want to bring some of that here to our corner of Eastern Montana, where it is harder for students to have these experiences.

Gardening Opportunities for Youth Offered

By Marcia Hellandsaas
NDSU Extension Agent, McKenzie County

Youth ages 10 to 12 are invited to participate in the McKenzie County Junior Master Garden Program to be held from 5 pm to 6:30 pm on Fridays, May 11 and 18 and on Wednesday evenings (same time) thereafter. Classes will be held at the McKenzie County Fairgrounds in the 4-H Building with planting taking place behind the Homemaker Building next door.

Gardeners will be planting and caring for their own vegetable and flower square foot gardens. Most classes will provide hands-on experiences including planting both seeds and transplants, weeding and harvesting plants. Classes will include learning about soil, food preparation, recipe sampling, serving our elderly through their gardening, garden touring, farmer's market and much more.

In addition children will learn about relationships, cooperation, respect and much more through their gardening experiences.

Later on this summer, the gardeners should be bringing vegetables home for the families!

For more information, or to enroll your child in the Junior Master Gardener Program, please contact NDSU Extension/McKenzie County at 701-444-3451 or email marcia.helland-saas@ndsu.edu

Letter to the Editor

Key Leadership Qualities for Next HD35 Representative

Dear Editor:

The June 5 Republican primary election will give Richland County voters the opportunity to decide what kind of new leadership we want in the next Representative we send to Helena.

These are a few key leadership qualities I believe our next representative should have.

We need a leader in Helena who listens to the people of our district and understands the issues our county and towns are facing on roads and bridges, property taxes and schools. We need a leader who can effectively communicate these issues to other legislators and then achieve solutions. Lastly, we need a leader that will shun the political divisiveness, extremism and brinksmanship that is causing people to lose faith that our political process can still work for the common good.

I believe the candidate running for Representative of House District 35, who best represents these critically important leadership qualities is Joel Krautter.

Over the years I have gotten to know Joel and have been glad to see his involvement in our community and especially in our political process, where we need reasonable, common sense leadership that will put the needs of our district first at the Montana legislature. I am glad to give Joel my support in his campaign.

Elections are decided by the people who show up and vote. I hope you'll get out and vote for Joel Krautter for Representative on June 5. This primary election is too important to stay on the sidelines.

MDT Hosts Public Open House Workshops for the MT Pedestrian and Bicycle Plan

The Montana Department of Transportation (MDT) is seeking input from the public on developing the state's first pedestrian and bicycle plan.

A series of open house workshops will be hosted across the state to help develop the vision and goals for the Montana Pedestrian and Bicycle Plan.

The workshops will be held between the hours of 4:00 p.m. and 7:00 p.m. at the following locations:

GLENDIVE: May 23, Eastern Plains Event Center (EPEC), 313 South Merrill Avenue

BILLINGS: May 24, DoubleTree by Hilton Hotel/Ballroom C, 27 North 27th Street

Attend a workshop at any of the locations to share your thoughts on pedestrian and bicycle travel, and to learn about the planning process. A collaborative effort will help MDT develop and implement a plan to meet the needs of transportation users across the state.

Public input will help MDT assess focus areas for non-motorized transportation such as safety and education, system preservation and maintenance; mobility, health, and economic vitality; accessibility and connectivity; and barriers and challenges.

For more information on the Montana Pedestrian and Bicycle Plan, please visit the project website at:

www.mdt.mt.gov/pubinvolve/pedbike

Your participation and feedback are important to the planning process. An electronic survey is also available on the website to help assess the existing needs for pedestrian and bicycle transportation in Montana. To submit comments, go online at the above web address or mail your comments to MDT - Ped Bike, P.O. Box 201001, Helena, MT 59620.

MDT attempts to provide accommodations for any known disability that may interfere with a person's participation in any service, program, or activity of the department. If you require reasonable accommodations to participate in this meeting, please call Jan Nesset at (406) 556-4707 at least two days before the meeting.

Alternative accessible formats of this information will be provided upon request by contacting Alice Flesch, Human Resources and Occupational Safety Division, P.O. Box 201001, Helena, MT 59620; (406) 444-9229; TTY (800) 335-7592; fax (406) 444-7243; or e-mail to aflesch@mt.gov. Janet Christoffersen Running for Richland County Attorney

By Jordan Hall

Two local attorneys are running for Richland County Attorney, both on the Republican Party ticket. One candidate is Tom Halvorson, and the other is Janet Christoffersen, both of whom serve currently as deputy county attorneys under Mike Weber. Weber is retiring from his long-held office, which leaves the opening to be filled by the upcoming election.

The Roundup spoke with Christoffersen, who has about eleven years in her current position, about her candidacy for County Attorney.

When asked why she was running for the County Attorney position, Christoffersen indicated there was some public demand, answering, "The main reason I've decided to run is that a lot of people have approached me and asked me to run. I think we need to make a lot of changes to the office, especially regarding the budget. I'm going to be around a while and I think we can make long-term changes, that we're not spending money on outside contracts or things that we could handle in-house."

Christoffersen is a native of the nearby Froid area, graduated from Minot State University and received her law degree from the University of Montana School of Law.

Before serving as a deputy county attorney, Christoffersen began her career with a large law firm and ultimately settled into her own private practice in the community of Sidney, working in a variety of cases, from criminal to civil.

Christoffersen explained to The Roundup that her experience qualifies her for the position.

"I've managed a large caseload for the County Attorney's Office," Christoffersen answered, "and I have developed great working relationships with numerous agencies in order to efficiently and effectively handle such a large workload. I have a common sense approach to prosecution to help not only victims, but offenders as well."

Christoffersen, who is considerably younger than her opponent, believes that her potential longevity in the county attorney position is a bonus for Richland County residents. With lots of potential time left in her career, Christoffersen feels she can make positive, long-term contributions.

Christoffersen told The Roundup, "I am invested in Richland County and have dedicated my time here for the service of our communities."

Regarding possible changes to the office, Christoffersen said, "I foresee long-term changes to the County Attorney's Office to reduce the budget and provide better service to our county officers and constituents. These changes cannot happen overnight, but need a long-term vision for the future of the office."

No Democrat filed for the office, meaning that the contest will remain between Christoffersen and Halvorson, to be ultimately determined by the primary. Absentee ballots will be sent out on April 25, and the primary will be held on June 5.

WARREN THROUGH-TRUSS BRIDGE AVAILABLE FOR ADOPTION MCKENZIE COUNTY, NORTH DAKOTA

The North Dakota Department of Transportation (NDDOT) is proposing the replacement of Bridge No. 85-126.262, the Long X Bridge. The Long X Bridge is Eligible for listing on the National Register of Historic Places. Therefore, the bridge must be made available for adoption prior to removal under the Bridge Adoption Program pursuant to 23 USC 144. The NDDOT is announcing that one or more segments of the historic Long X Bridge are currently available for adoption during a 30-day advertisement period ending June 14, 2018.

The Long X Bridge is located in McKenzie County along US Highway 85 over the Little Missouri River (approximately 15 miles south of Watford City). The bridge is a cantilevered, sub-divided Warren through truss design that was constructed in 1959. The bridge has three spans, with a total length of 969 feet, a 30-foot roadway width and 16 feet of vertical clearance. There are two segments on either end of the bridge approximately 260 feet in length each, and one center segment approximately 450 feet in length.

The Long X Bridge is available to any responsible state, local or private agency willing to take ownership of, relocate and preserve the Long X Bridge in a new location (preference will be given to public entities). The adopting party would be responsible for maintaining the bridge segment(s) and would assume all future legal and financial responsibility associated with the bridge. In order to facilitate adoption, the NDDOT will fund the disassembly, loading and transport of one of the segments of the bridge within a 100-mile radius of its current location. The Long X Bridge is currently in use and would continue to be in service until a new bridge is constructed to replace it. Construction of the new bridge is anticipated to occur through 2019.

For more information or to express interest in adoption, please respond by June 14, 2018, to:
