Ag Golf Tournament Looking For Sponsors

Join in on the fun and support your local ranchers and farmers by sponsoring the 12th Annual Ag Appreciation Golf Tournament which will be held on July 8th.

The event is organized by the Sidney Area Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture, which is in the process of getting sponsors lined up for the event. Sponsorships are available at three different levels: $50 golf cart sponsorship, $150 hole sponsorship or $200 team sponsorship. The $50 sponsorship includes signage to promote business, while the $150 sponsorship allows business to have giveaways and signage at a specific hole. The $200 sponsorship allows two people from the business to be part of a team, partnered with ranchers and farmers. All sponsorships and golfer registrations are offered on a first paid, first reserved basis.

This is a great way to mingle and make connections with your farm and ranch friends and customers. For more information about sponsorships please contact the Sidney Area Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture at 406-433-1916.

During the Ag Appreciation golf tournament, businesses have the opportunity to sponsor a team, a cart or a hole. Brandon Taylor (second from the right), Manager of the Microtel Inn & Suites, had many items available to the golfers at his sponsored hole at last year's tournament.

Hole sponsor, Farm Bureau Financial Services, was manned by the office staff during last year's Ag Appreciation Golf Tournament.

Golfers at last year's Ag Appreciation Golf Tournament show their door prizes donated by Dr. Ryan Laqua of Yellowstone Chiropractic.

Annual MonDak Ag Showcase to be Held July 10-12

By Tie Shank

The MonDak Ag Showcase is an annual public event showcasing and promoting the Mon-Dak region as an ideal place for new agricultural businesses and development. The event also promotes the irrigation development and potential in the region, as well as the crop diversity taking place on dryland conditions.

The event is hosted to promote the region as a viable ag producing region on various crops and livestock and to showcase the current and potential ag processing located in the region.

Some of the region's agriculture successes are the development of a Malt Barley storage and handling facility, seed potato production and pulse plants.

All community members, local farmers and ag processors are encouraged to attend. There will be experts in multiple areas available to answer your questions and you'll have the unique opportunity to view the growing and processing of crops in the region.

Refreshments will be served and an afternoon workshop and an evening banquet with a keynote speaker will be held.

The MonDak Ag Showcase Social & Dinner will take place at The Airport International Inn in Williston on July 10 starting at 5 p.m. The Williston Research Extension Center Dryland Tour will take place 4-1/2 miles west of Williston on Hwy 2 and will begin at 8:30 a.m. on July 11. # New Superintendent, Plant Pathologist Appointed for Eastern Ag Research Center

Submitted by MSU News Service

Hans Schneider, currently living in the Netherlands, will join the Montana State University faculty and be both superintendent and associate professor of plant pathology at the Eastern Agricultural Research Center in Sidney, pending approval of the Montana Board of Regents.

Schneider will assume his duties on July 15, thus he will participate in the Eastern Agricultural Research Center Field Day on July 18.

Schneider will develop a field-oriented research program that focuses on integrated disease management in pulse crops, sugar beets, and other crops under production in Eastern Montana. Additionally, he will be responsible for the administration and management of resources in support of EARC's research and outreach programs pertinent to Montana agriculture.

"We are very fortunate to have someone of Dr. Schneider's experience and abilities join our faculty," said Barry Jacobsen, long-time MSU plant pathologist and interim head of the Department of Research Centers.

Jacobsen said Schneider will bring exceptional expertise to address sugar beet diseases, as he has spent the majority of his career working on sugar beet diseases with the Institute for Sugarbeet Research in the Netherlands. He has also worked on diseases of bulb crops, potatoes and woody ornamentals, so he is well situated to address diseases of other crops important to Eastern Montana. Schneider received his Ph.D. in 1998 at Wageningen Agricultural University in the Netherlands.

Goehring Announces Sites, Dates for 2013 Project Safe Send

Submitted by Ted Quanrud

Agriculture Commissioner Doug Goehring encourages farmers, ranchers, pesticide dealers and applicators, government agencies and homeowners to bring their unusable pesticides to any of the 12 Project Safe Send collections in July.

"This is a simple and non-regulatory program to help people safely and legally get rid of unusable pesticides free of charge," Goehring said. "Over the past 20 years, thousands of people have brought more than three million pounds of these chemicals to Project Safe Send collection sites."

Project Safe Send accepts old, unusable or banned pesticides, including herbicides, insecticides, rodenticides and fungicides. The pesticides are shipped out of state for incineration. The program is funded through product registration fees paid by pesticide manufacturers.

"Check your storage areas for any unusable pesticides and safely set them aside for Project Safe Send," Goehring said. "If you find that the containers are deteriorating or leaking, pack them in larger containers with absorbent materials. Free, heavy-duty plastic bags are available from the North Dakota Department of Agriculture."

People with more than 1,000 pounds of pesticides should pre-register. No other pre-registration is required. A maximum of 20,000 pounds of pesticides per participant will be accepted. Pesticide rinse water also will be accepted. The first 100 pounds of rinse water will be taken free of charge; a fee will be applied for each additional pound.

To pre-register, obtain plastic bags or for more information, contact Jeremiah Lien at the North Dakota Department of Agriculture at (800) 242-7535 or jjlien@nd.gov.

The collections will run from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. local time at the North Dakota Department of Transportation facilities in the following cities:

- July 9 - Underwood
- July 10 - Kenmare
- July 11 - Minot
- July 12 - Watford City

Richland County 4-H Raising Money for New Fair Booth

By Jody Wells

Richland County 4-H clubs are holding fundraisers to earn money to build a new food booth at the Richland County Fairgrounds. The fundraising efforts are already underway and they include selling brand boards, memorial plaques and various other fundraising events conducted by the 4-H clubs in the area.

The brand board fundraiser consists of a square foot (12 inch by 12 inch) board on which area ranchers can place their personal brand. Each brand costs $50 and will be displayed at the 4-H food booth.

The memorial plaques are sheets of stainless steel metal with engraved names and faces of a former 4-H member or leader that someone wishes to honor. The cost of each plaque is $300 and they will be displayed on a commemorative wall at the booth as well.

Richland County 4-H club leaders ask everyone to submit their information for the plaques and the brand boards as soon as possible so they can be ready to be displayed at this year's fair taking place July 31 – August 3.

Additional funds for the new fair booth will be raised by various fundraisers conducted by area 4-H clubs. For example the Forever Buds worked the concessions at the Neal Hermanson Memorial Ranch Rodeo which took place June 22.

Many of our leaders and companies that support 4-H are donating money, materials and manpower to the construction of the new booth. "It's been a real community effort and we appreciate all the help we are getting," stated 4-H leader Lisa Gorder.

The new 4-H fair booth will be updated with a new food prep area, ordering window and seating area. "The layout is designed to fit with the other food booths at the fair," stated Gorder. Construction of the new booth will be completed before this year's Richland County Fair.

For more information, or to take part in the fundraisers mentioned above, contact Lisa Gorder at 406-482-9672 or Josie Evenson at the MSU Extension office at 406-433-1206.

Crews have begun erecting the new booth.

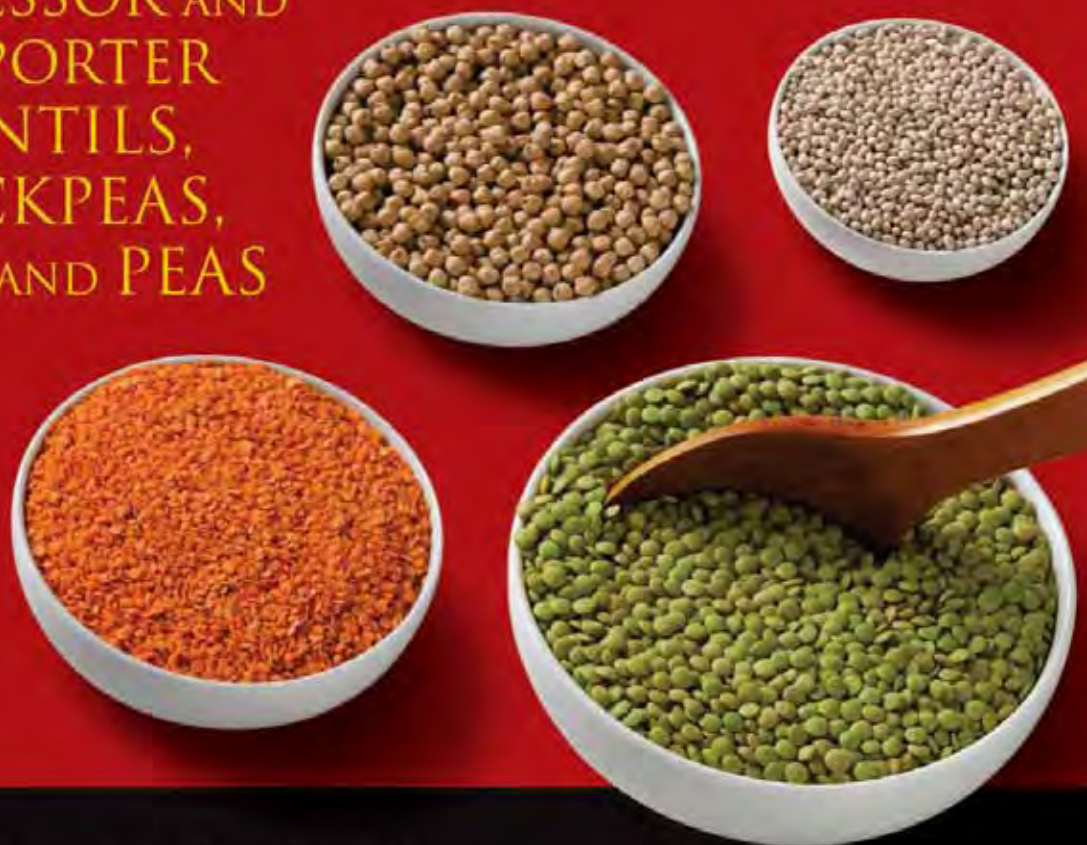

The Richland Co. 4-Hers are selling memorial plaques and brand boards to raise money for a new fair booth.

Renowned Barrel Racing Instructor Holds Clinic in Eastern MT

Barrel Racing Coach Judy Myllymaki talks to the 20 participants of the clinic held at the Rice Ranch.

By Jody Wells

Barrel racing instructor Judy Myllymaki held a two day clinic at the Rice Ranch arena near Fairview on June 1 & 2.

Myllymaki, a former school teacher, has been involved in the sport of barrel racing for over 35 years and has conducted teaching clinics for over 25 years. She is a National Finals Rodeo Qualifier, a Montana Pro Rodeo Circuit Champion, a Montana Pro Rodeo Circuit Finalist, a Dodge National Circuit Finals Qualifier, participated in Multiple Futurity Championships and has won more buckles than she can count. Myllymaki and her husband Gene both train and sell horses from their ranch in Arlee, MT.

Myllymaki continues to compete in PRCA and WPRA rodeos. Both teaching and competing in barrel racing takes Myllymaki throughout the US and Canada and even to Australia. "Now I'm working on the award for the longest staying power in the sport," she commented.

"We are very blessed to have Judy here," said Mary Jo Brunsvold, the mother of clinic participant Jade Brunsvold.

Myllymaki shared her expertise with twenty participants from novice to expert skill levels during the two day clinic. She conducted training station exercises, breaking down patterns and isolating moves to train both horse & rider. One of the most important skills taught was how to be patient and provide proper communication between the jockey and the horse. "Just like people, your horse does not like to be picked at," stated Myllymaki.

The partnership between the horse and rider is of utmost importance in the sport of barrel racing. "A poor jockey can foul up a good horse and a good jockey can't make a bad horse great," Myllymaki said.

The chemistry between human and animal can not be understated. Horse and rider must make a good match. "Opposites attract in barrel racing," Myllymaki said. "A nervous person should have an easy going horse and vise versa."

Preparation is another key to success in the sport. "You always have to go into a rodeo with a plan. You can't start making the plan at the time of the rodeo," Myllymaki stated. "If that plan doesn't work, you make a new plan for the next rodeo," she continued.

The sport has changed quite a bit during Myllymaki years of involvement in barrel racing. "Now the riders are less cowgirls and more athletes. They are very polished," she stated.

Brunsvold Wins Southeastern Montana Rodeo Queen Title

By Jody Wells

Sidney native Jade Brunsvold won the title of Miss Southeastern Montana Rodeo Queen at a pageant held during the Bucking Horse Sale in Miles City in May. Brunsvold returned to the Miles City pageant after winning the Miss Southeastern Montana Teen Rodeo Queen title in 2012.

Brunsvold, a 2013 Sidney High School graduate, lives on 25 acres near Crane, MT with her parents, Mary Jo and Lance Brunsvold.

Brunsvold has grown up with her three horses Scotch, Jo Jo and Dakota. An equestrian by nature, she learned to jump and ride dressage at an early age. She became interested in rodeoing and the western way of life in the 7th grade. "I compete in barrel racing and pole bending," Brunsvold stated. To date she has earned thirteen buckles and three saddles.

Pageantry was a passion for Brunsvold at an early age as well. "I always admired how beautiful the women in pageants were," she said. A busy youngster, she never thought she would have the time to pursue pageantry. Competing in rodeo queen pageants was perfect for her. "This lets me do both of the things I love, pageants and horsemanship," she stated.

As an experienced teen rodeo queen, Brunsvold looks forward to her new role as Miss Southeastern Montana Rodeo Queen. "I love all the things you get to do as a rodeo queen," she said. Brunsvold's duties include carrying flags in parades and rodeos, volunteering at community events, conducting rodeo queen clinics, promoting rodeo and helping kids. "Speaking in front of people is scary for most kids but it really helps you later in life," Brunsvold stated.

One of Brunsvold's fondest moments as teen rodeo queen was being invited to the annual Flag Day and All Horse Parade held in Medora, ND. At the event she signed autographs and rode with other rodeo queens. "It was neat to meet and ride with the other rodeo queens. There were rodeo queens from all over there," she said.

When she isn't rodeoing and fulfilling her Rodeo Queen duties, Brunsvold enjoys hockey, dance, scuba diving and traveling the world. She plans to attend NDSU in the fall with a pre-med major. She hopes to one day move to Texas with a degree in optometry and, of course, keep on rodeoing!

Saddle Up for the 90th Wolf Point Wild Horse Stampede

By Sue Benson

It's that time of year again when July kicks off the annual Wolf Point Wild Horse Stampede. This year marks 90 years of ropin, ridin and plenty dirt flyin! So, dust off that Stetson hat and shine up those silver studded belt buckles because this could be one of the wildest rodeos in the west!

This year's events are taking place July 11, 12, and 13 at the Marvin Brookman Stadium.

The rodeo lines offer something for everyone, whether they enjoy the thrill of watching bronc and bull riding, the wild horse race or just cozying up with fellow onlookers and taking in the excitement while enjoying a substantial meal from one of the many tasty concession stands. Spectators will kick up their spurs as they take in all of the professional action.

As rodeo goers enjoy the cascade of entertainment they might need to ask themselves if they are "Tough Enough to Wear Pink?" The rodeo, in collaboration with Northeast Montana Health Services works to raise money to benefit local digital mammography by presenting the Luminary Lighting which takes place in the center of the arena. There, the sky casts a brilliant glow of eternal love, hope and remembrance as nearly 100 luminaries lift off into the night sky.

Early risers can enjoy the Saturday morning benefit Pancake Breakfast sponsored by the Lions Club of Wolf Point. The delectable fundraiser benefits the Wolf Point Museum located at 203 U.S. Highway 2.

As professional ropers and racers gear up, the energy and enthusiasm will continue during the presentation of dual Grand Marshals, Bernerd Wanderaas and Eddie Olson. Together, having witnessed nearly every Stampede rodeo to take place, they offer an eye witness account of the rich history associated with the tradition of western rodeo. Together, the World War II veterans and longtime best friends will watch as yet another chapter unfolds, while reminiscing on a lifetime of rodeo going memories.

With nine decades of rodeo excitement and know how, The Wolf Point Wild Horse Stampede promises fun for the entire family. Youth can enjoy the endless carnival rides and sweet treats, take part in the stick horse rodeo on the lawn of Faith Lutheran Home and even meet Alyson Grinestaff, Miss Rodeo Montana.

So all you studs, fire up that old pickup, grab your favorite filly and head to Wolf Point to see the most awaited event the year has to offer. Take in the excellence of talented riders and glorious rodeo stock while witnessing a piece of local history. Enjoy carnival amusement and tempt your taste buds with the sweetest treats and tastiest eats.

Be sure to grab your partner and two-step your way down to the Thursday night Street Dance taking place on Main Street. Hold on to your cowboy hat while you take in the local talent during the KVCK Texaco Country Showdown and don't forget to mosey toward the Airport Golf Course for the Stampede Roundup TETWP Golf Tournament.

Rodeo tickets can be purchased at the ticket booth located in the Elk's parking lot or at the stadium for $12, $15 or $17. Youth 12 and under are free.

Montana Stockgrowers Mid-Year Meeting Draws 175 to Missoula

Submitted by Ariel Overstreet

The 2013 Montana Stockgrowers Association (MSGA) Mid-Year Meeting, held at the Hilton Garden Inn in Missoula, June 7-8, drew approximately 175 participants from across the state for policy meetings and MSGA's Annual Ranch Tour.

"We had an enjoyable Mid-Year Meeting in Missoula," said Tucker Hughes, MSGA President.

"Meeting new folks from Western Montana and touring the Bitterroot Valley was an enjoyable experience for all."

Here are some of the highlights from the 2013 MSGA Mid-Year Meeting:

Opening General Session speakers were Monica Lindeen, Commissioner of Securities and Insurance, Montana State Auditor, who spoke about their role in state government and Dr. John Paterson, executive director of producer education for the National Cattlemen's Beef Association, who discussed marketing beef to a new generation of consumers.

The 2013 MSGA Ranch Tour began at the Missoula Smokejumper Center where attendees had the opportunity to see how the Forest Service trains smokejumpers, as well as how they work to protect land and structures from dangerous fires. MSGA then traveled to the PEAS Farm which serves the local community, providing low-cost vegetables and fruit for low income individuals. The farm is also a community service outlet for troubled youth. The farm gave attendees a unique look into small scale, urban agriculture. Finally, the tour traveled to the picturesque Bitterroot Valley and local ranches, Sutherlin Farms and Mytty Angus.

Following the Ranch Tour, a delicious dinner was served at Lolo Peak Arena prepared by the Sutherlin family of Sutherlin Farms. Attendees were entertained by ranch humor and singing by Take Two Productions. MSGA's Research, Education and Endowment Foundation (REEF) awarded Kelsey Haughian of Kinsey the 2013 MSGA Educational Heritage Scholarship and the "World Famous Stick Horse Race" fund-raiser.

One interim policy was passed through the policy process by the Cattle Health, Brands and Theft Committee recommending that the MSGA board develop and submit comments to the Texas Animal Health Commission relative to their proposed brucellosis testing requirements for Montana, Wyoming and Idaho which would require a post-entry test for all breeding cattle and a post-calving test for heifers. MSGA is concerned about the precedent this could set for other states to restrict trade of Montana cattle.

The keynote speaker at the Young Stockgrowers "Advocating for Ag" lunch was Captain Peter Shinn, Iowa National Guard. Captain Shinn discussed his work in Afghanistan, building communities up with agriculture. He discussed the needs of the Afghan people and how special teams composed of Ag-savvy National Guardsmen and women worked to help the affected communities, teaching the people farming techniques. Captain Shinn said, "It's hard to have a national security without food security," and regarded the United States as the most successful pioneer of Agriculture.

MSGA members learned about updates to Facebook and how to use Twitter, Pinterest and Instagram at the Digital Café. Attendees also learned what a "meme" is and developed their own.

Plans are already underway for MSGA's Annual Convention and Trade Show which will be held December 12-14 in Billings at the Holiday Inn Grand Montana.

It's the "Wild, Wild West" at the McKenzie County Fair July 11-13

Cotton candy. Hot dogs. Folks tempting you to step right up and win a prize. Youth chaotically running with tickets in hand from one ride to the next. Shrills, screams and genuine laughter. Must be fair time!

For McKenzie County Fair Board members and volunteers, its crunch time as they are busily preparing for the annual fair taking place at the fairgrounds east of Watford City July 11-13.

This year's theme is "Wild, Wild West." General admission is a $5 button good for all three days.

Some of the entertainment highlights include a rodeo, carnival, Curly the Clown and Funtastic Kid Zone, the Olaf Leiseth Jr. Memorial Draft Horse Competition, demolition derby, KIDDYUP Goat roping and youth lil' buckaroo rodeos.

Funtime Carnival Company of Payette, Idaho will be supplying attractions ranging from kiddie rides to whizzing and whirling rides, midway games and carnival food.

For folks who have never witnessed a draft horse competition, the excitement of watching the massive equine participate in a type of ag-olympics will offer excitement and awe. The annual competition is named after Olaf Leiseth, a long time draft horse teamster and member of the Long X Wagon Team.

Foot traffic at the local junkyard may have increased as drivers prospect for sturdy cars to enter into the fourth annual demolition derby which will feature drivers smashing vehicles into their opponents as they attempt to leave the arena with the last vehicle running.

Traditionally, the fair plays host to an extensive 4-H youth lineup of livestock showing.

July 11 kicks off the four days of fun with 4-H activities starting at 10:00 a.m. and lasting throughout the evening.

4-H exhibits for swine, goat, sheep, beef breeding and market beef will take place until 10:45 a.m. with judging of the open class taking place throughout the day.

Curly's Funtastic Kid Zone opens at 11:00 a.m. and Ice Cream in a Bag is back by popular demand with limited sessions at both 2:00 p.m. and 6:30 p.m.

The fair parade will make its way down Main Street starting at 4:00 p.m. followed by the beef barbecue at 5:30 p.m.

Registration for the Olaf Leiseth Jr. Memorial Draft Horse Competition closes at 6:00 p.m. and the event takes place at 7:00 p.m. in the rodeo arena.

On Friday, July 12, commercial exhibits open at 9:00 a.m. and continue throughout the day.

Curly's Funtastic Zone reopens at 11:00 a.m. and KIDDYUP goat roping starts between 11 a.m. and 11:30 a.m.

Youth involved in the 4-H exhibits will be presented awards at 1 p.m. and a livestock sale starts at 2:00 p.m.

Registration for the demolition derby closes at 5:15 p.m. with car inspections following. The derby starts at 6:00 p.m. Commercial exhibits open at 9:00 a.m.

Curly's Funtastic Kid Zone opens at 11:00 a.m. with goat roping at 11:30 a.m.

At 3:00 p.m. the lil' buckaroo rodeo will take place at the livestock show arena.

The NDRA rodeo starts at 6:00 p.m. featuring saddle bronc and bareback riding, steer wrestling, calf roping, ladies' barrel racing and ladies' & men's breakaway roping

Tickets to the demolition derby or the rodeo cost $10 for adults and $5 for children ages 6-13. Children six and under are free.

Capping off both Friday and Saturday night is a dance with the band "Smokehouse," an all-pro variety act featuring four outstanding performers who bring a powerful vocal blend to the stage. This year's dance will be sponsored by Watford City's western wear store Saddle Up and their vendor Tony Lama. The dance begins at 9 p.m. on both nights.

MSU College of Agriculture has New Wheat Variety Available for Licensing

Submitted by MSU News Service

Montana State University researchers have produced a new line of hard white winter wheat that shows potential to produce as well as one of the most popular red winter wheat varieties currently grown in Montana.

The new hard white winter wheat variety, a line currently identified as MTW08168, is similar to the widely popular Montana variety of Yellowstone red winter wheat in yield, agronomic characteristics and resistance to prevalent races of stripe rust.

The new variety stands out from Yellowstone as having a hard white kernel versus the hard red kernel of Yellowstone. MTW08168 also has a higher grain volume weight, with about one half pound per bushel grain volume weight. It heads about two and a half days later than Yellowstone and averages close to 2 inches taller than Yellowstone.

MSU is the major supplier of new wheat varieties for Montana growers with approximately 2.5 million acres of MSU varieties grown in the state from 2010 to 2012, according to the Montana Agricultural Statistics Service.

A report on the origin, breeding history and characteristics of MTW08168 compared to other winter wheat lines is available through MSU Technology Transfer Office. The MSU Agricultural Experiment Station anticipates 200 bushels of foundation seed from current seed production. Trial lines are available for observation.

Naming of the new variety may be subject to the terms of its licensing.

July Sugar Beet Update

By Dianne Swanson

Sidney Sugars Agricultural Manager Russ Fullmer was much more optimistic about this year's sugarbeet crop last week than he had been. Sunshine and warmer temperatures have the beet fields looking much healthier. "Even the little ones are growing now," Fullmer said. Even though the rains have been wonderful, the crop needs heat. The best fields should have leaves touching in the row by July 4th. That's a normal indication of the health of the crop but Fullmer said that some of the new Roundup ready varieties don't leaf out as much, making this standard a little unreliable.

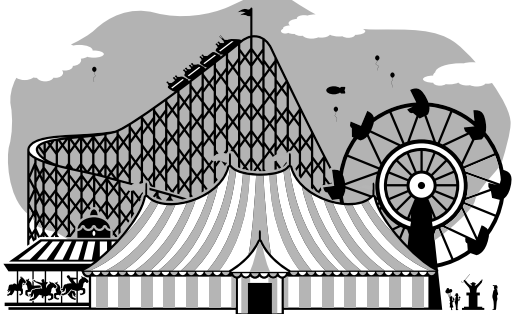

There was some hail damage to approximately 300 acres, most of it slight, the week of June 19.

"We're looking at an average to above average crop," Fullmer said. Estimates taken last week were better than expected with agricultural staff making a prediction of 26.5 tons per acre for this year's crop.

Sidney Sugars staff will be busy the month of July with root samples starting the second week. Fullmer will be presenting at the Field Day in Sidney July 18, and a staff member will be attending Ag school in California.

Montgomery Gentry to Headline 2013 Richland County Fair

The Richland County Fair Board has announced the concert line up for the 2013 Fair, as well as announcing a new carnival. North Star Amusements out of Cody, Wyoming will be the carnival this year playing all 4 days.

The concert line-up, performing on Saturday, Aug. 3 is MONTGOMERY GENTRY with special guest Gloriana.

With a new album, a new label and a renewed sense of musical purpose, Montgomery Gentry is back in full swing. These two Kentucky boys first broke into the national country scene in 1999. With millions of albums sold, many sold out shows and tons of awards and accolades, Montgomery Gentry is back with their new album "Rebels On The Run". The new album brings you back to the beginning, but with a fresh new attitude. "People are going to be able to touch on each one of our songs and say, 'Yeah man, that song is a little bit about me,' or 'I know a person that lives next door to me that's been through what you just got done singing about,'" Gentry continues. "People can associate themselves with our songs."

Their induction into the Grand Ole Opry in 2009 is the thing that means the most to them. There's no doubt that they're hard-running honky tonkers, but they are also active participants in many charitable organizations, including Stand Up to Cancer, Make-A-Wish, USO and other military organizations.

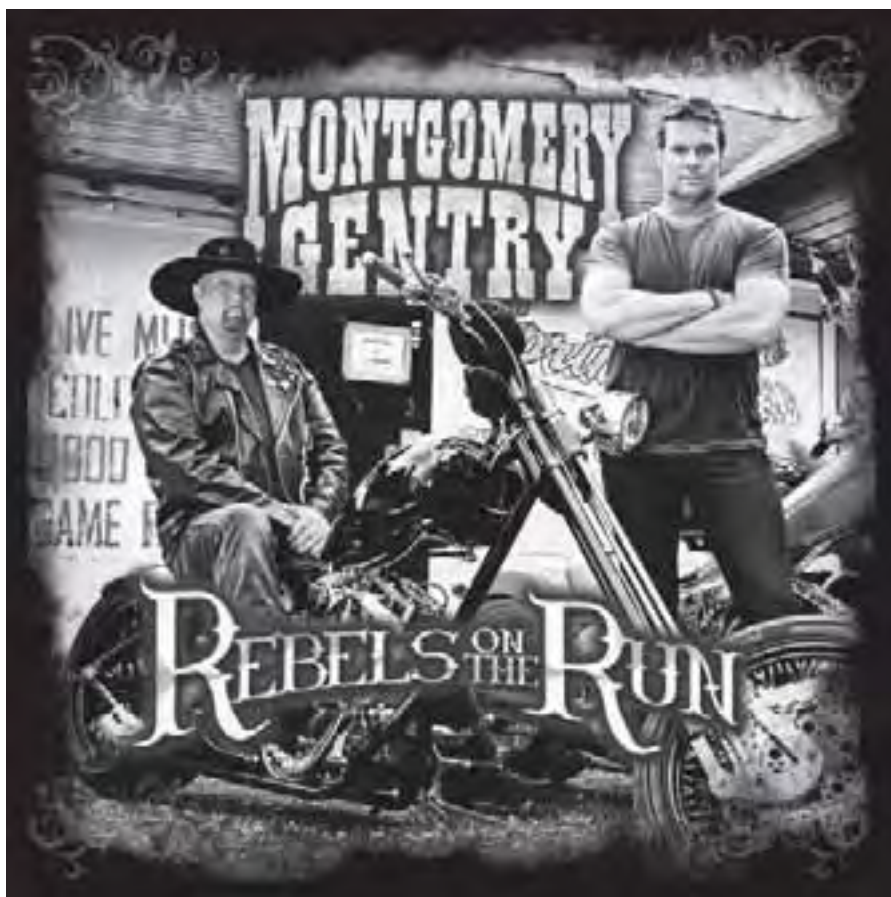

The old saying "what you see is what you get" applies when you see Montgomery Gentry. Rowdy, fun loving, spontaneous, and awesome talent all describe what these guys are about. Whether you are fan already or not, the music and personalities are so infectious that you will instantly become a fan.

Their opening act will be Gloriana, made up of brothers Tom and Mike Gossin and Rachel Reinert. Achieving success takes strong motivation to commit, something these three young talents have proven willing to do as their career has exploded over the past two years. That motivation, as well as their authentic talent, have propelled the group to become the best-selling debut country act of 2009. Gloriana debuted at No. 2 on the Billboard Country Albums chart and No. 3 on the Top 200 chart and spawned the gold-certified hit single "Wild At Heart." The album's success led to two years on the road, during which the band performed in front of millions worldwide opening for Taylor Swift, Jason Aldean, Alan Jackson, Brooks & Dunn, and the Zac Brown Band.

In 2010, Gloriana won the Academy of Country Music's Award for Top New Vocal Group and were nominated for a Teen Choice Award for "Choice Country Group."

Now Tom, Mike, and Rachel have funneled everything they've learned into their second album, A Thousand Miles Left Behind, released in the Summer of 2012. "On this record, we wanted to tell stories," says Rachel. "I think people will be able to relate to a lot of these songs because they're honest and come from a place that's real." The result is an appealing mix of up-tempo, good-time numbers including current single "(Kissed You)Good Night" and popular "Can't Shake You".

Tri-County 4-H Sewing Camp Held June 14

Submitted by Josie Evenson

Friday, June 14, 4-H members and leaders from Daniels, Richland, and Roosevelt Counties gathered at the American Legion Hall in Culbertson for the Tri-County Sewing Camp.

Leslie McMillen, Richland County sewing leader, began the camp by instructing the sewers on how to make a catch-all basket using recycled denim jeans and fusible fleece for stability. Basket linings ranged from solid pink, polka-dots, bright neon to camouflage. Under the direction of Josie Evenson, Richland County Extension Agent, the campers then re-made an old t-shirt into a necklace. Following lunch, the campers created a road trip pillow case, complete with outside pocket and strap. Once again, fabric choices varied from stripes and animal prints to geometrics and solids.

4-H youth always excel at giving back to the community. This year's event was no exception. For a community service project this year, the 4-Hers made a roll up toiletry case using hand towels. The 4-H members stitched several pockets and inserted into each one was a toothbrush and toothpaste that were donated by Healthy Smiles Dental Group of Sidney. The 27 toiletry cases will be donated to area families who are in need of them.

This is the 11th year for the Tri-County sewing camp, and it is a combined effort from extension agents, 4-H leaders, and members from Richland, Roosevelt, and Sheridan Counties.

MSU Extension Offering New Cool-Season Guide for Montana Growers of Peas and Lentils

Submitted by Sepp Jannotta

Montana State University (MSU) Extension has published a new guide for growers of peas and lentils. The "Montana Cool-Season Pulse Production Guide" provides current best management practices for dry pea, lentil and chickpea for Montana producers.

In the traditional wheat-fallow system of crop production common in Montana, the use of annual legumes, or pulse crops, in rotation with wheat can help bring agronomic and financial benefits in terms of soil health, biological activity and overall potential productivity. As of 2012, pulse crops represent more than one-half million acres of the seven million acres in dry-land production in Montana.

"This guide provides the most recent best management practices from experts in crop production, nutrient management, weed, disease and insect control to help Montana producers successfully raise pulse crops on their farms," said Kent McVay, author and MSU Extension Cropping System Specialist.

The authors of the new pulse guide include the basics for successful production of the pulse crops as well as internet links to more detailed information. Detailed chapters in the guide address cultural practices; soil fertility and nutrient needs; recommendations by crop; weed management during growth and harvest; disease, insect, pathogen management.

The guide is available for download or in print from MSU Extension at www.msueextension.org/store, and through your local county Extension office.

FWP Surveys Hunters and Landowners on Wildlife Disease

Submitted by Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks

State wildlife officials have embarked on an extensive survey of hunters and landowners to determine their opinions about Chronic Wasting Disease, a rare brain disease that is always fatal in deer, elk and moose.

CWD belongs to a family of diseases that include mad cow disease in cattle, scrapie in sheep and Creutzfeldt - Jakob disease in humans.

Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks is conducting the survey in anticipation of creating a new plan to impede the fatal diseases entry into Montana – and for managing the risk of spreading should it be detected here. Montana's first CWD plan was completed in 2005.

"We're surveying more than 3,000 resident hunters and landowners to learn more about what they know about the disease and to determine what we may need to consider in a new CWD risk management plan," said Ken McDonald, FWP wildlife division chief in Helena.

After more than 14 years of testing, CWD has not been found in Montana's wild deer, elk or moose populations. About 18,000 wild deer, elk and moose, mostly harvested by hunters, have been tested for CWD in Montana since 1998.

CWD was diagnosed in 1999 in nine captive elk on an alternative livestock facility, or game farm, near Philipsburg. All the animals there were destroyed and the facility was quarantined.

States where CWD is confirmed in wild deer or elk include Colorado, Illinois, Kansas, Maryland, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, New Mexico, New York, North Dakota, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, Texas, Utah, Wisconsin, West Virginia and Wyoming. CWD has also been found in Alberta and Saskatchewan, Canada. Most of the states and provinces have game-export regulations that Montana hunters must follow. Similarly, Montana hunters may only bring back processed deer, elk and moose when hunting in a CWD positive area in another state.

Symptoms suggestive of CWD in deer, elk and moose include emaciation, listlessness, blank facial expressions, excessive salivation, lowered heads and, in some cases, hyper-excitability and nervousness. FWP encourages hunters and others who see animals with any of these symptoms to contact the nearest FWP office.

Public health officials have found no link between CWD in deer and elk and disease in humans and say that at this time CWD poses no known risks to humans, domestic livestock or pets.

For more information, visit the CWD Alliance website at <http://www.cwd-info.org/>; or visit FWP's CWD Frequently Asked Questions at fwp.mt.gov and search "CWD".

Farm Service Agency NAP Coverage Available for 2014 Annual Forage Crops

Submitted by Dale Ihry

North Dakota USDA Farm Service Agency (FSA) Executive Director Aaron Krauter announced that North Dakota FSA will offer Noninsured Crop Disaster Assistance Program (NAP) coverage for 2014 crops that are planted annually and used for livestock feed or fodder.

The Risk Management Agency (FSA) recently announced a pilot program that offers a CAT level Rainfall Index-Annual Forage Insurance Plan to producers in Texas, Kansas, Nebraska, North Dakota, Oklahoma and South Dakota.

Because there is limited time for producers in these states to transition from NAP to the new RMA pilot program, an exception was made that will allow the states to continue offering NAP coverage for 2014. However, NAP coverage will not be available for 2015 annual forage crops.

Eligible producers can apply for 2014 NAP coverage at the their local FSA Office using form CCC-471, Application for Coverage. Producers must file the application and service fee by the appropriate deadline for the applicable crop. The service fee is the lesser of $250 per crop or $750 per producer per administrative county, not to exceed a total of $1,875 for a producer with farming interests in multiple counties.

Producers who meet the definition of a limited resource farmer or rancher can request a waiver of the service fee.

NAP provides financial assistance to producers of noninsurable crops when low yields, loss of inventory or prevented planting occur due to normal disasters.

"The easiest way for producers to protect their investment is to purchase an insurance policy," said Krauter. "The past few years have proved that natural disasters are unavoidable, and producers can recover if they take the necessary precautions to mitigate risks."

For more information about NAP, please contact your local FSA office or visit www.fsa.usda.gov.

FSA Administrator Urges Producers to Enroll in DCP

Submitted by Dan Janes

USDA Farm Service Agency (FSA) Administrator Juan M. Garcia today encouraged farmers and ranchers to enroll for the 2013 Direct and Counter-Cyclical Payment Program (DCP) before the deadline. Producers who wait until the last minute to sign up could face increased waiting time in FSA county offices.

"We understand that producers have gotten busy, but they can't forget to visit their county office and sign up for DCP," said Garcia. "Just as farmers and ranchers plan their spring plantings, producers should plan to schedule an appointment to visit their USDA Service Center at the earliest possible time. It's best to complete the paperwork now rather than to stand in line the day before the deadline," advised Garcia.

The sign-up began Feb. 19, 2013. The DCP sign up period ends Aug. 2, 2013.

The 2013 DCP program provisions are unchanged from 2012, except that all eligible participants in 2013 may choose to enroll in either DCP or ACRE for the 2013 crop year. This means that eligible producers who were enrolled in ACRE in 2012 may elect to enroll in DCP in 2013 or may re-enroll in ACRE in 2013 (and vice versa).

For more information about the programs and loans administered by FSA, visit any FSA county office or www.fsa.usda.gov.
