Montana Gives Donors Tax Credit for Gifts to Charitable Endowments

Staci Miller

Submitted by Staci Miller

(Reprinted in part from The Chronicle of Philanthropy)

The oil boom in the MonDak area has given our area an economic boost and the lowest unemployment rate in America. Montana is one of the few states in the country to offer a state tax credit to individuals or businesses that make endowment gifts to in-state charities or foundations like the Foundation for Community Care.

These credits are especially popular in rural states and in states with plenty of natural resources. Three other states with endowment credits are Iowa, Kentucky, and North Dakota, and community funds in Minnesota are lobbying for them now.

The tax credit is a way to ensure some of the profits on the state's oil, gas, or coal end up in endowments that will permanently help foundations and other charities. The tax incentives are also a way to help keep family wealth in-state, rather than watching it migrate away as younger residents move to urban areas, taking their inheritance with them.

The 40% Montana tax credit has helped secure $123-million for permanent endowments since the credit was enacted in 1997.

The most common Planned Gift to the Foundation for Community Care includes:

- Charitable Gift Annuities
- Deferred Payment Gift Annuities
- Charitable Trusts
- Gifts of Life Insurance Policies
- Bequests (Gifts through Wills)
- Beneficiary Designations (IRAs, Insurance, etc.)
- Bargain Sale

The Foundation for Community Care offers those who care about our community a way to keep their charitable dollars close to home for an important cause - Helping to Ensure the Continuance of Quality Healthcare. For complimentary, no obligation information on how to set up a planned gift, contact Staci Miller at the Foundation for Community Care at 406-488-2273 or visit our website at www.foundationforcommunitycare.org and click on Planned Giving.

Extended Care Beauty Shop

Every Wednesday, Thursday and Friday morning at Extended Care, some of the residents get their hair fixed up. According to activities director, Kris Radke, 10-13 residents get their hair done each day.

A number of volunteers take time out of their day to come to the Extended Care Beauty Shop and do hair for the residents.

One of the volunteers, Cecelia Thiel, has been volunteering her time to the beauty shop for 28 years. The volunteers all come in on different days, like Daneilia Benton, who comes in every other Thursday.

Juanita Bailey has a great time while getting her hair done by Daneilia Benton.

Extended Care resident, Jeanette Schmitz, gets her hair curled by Cecelia Thiel.

Viola Flynn, a resident at Extended Care, gets the final touches on her hairdo, thanks to volunteer Daneilia Benton.

The Lodge Christmas Party

The Lodge held their Resident Christmas Party Friday, December 21st. They had a wonderful afternoon of exchanging gifts, singing Christmas carols, and enjoying holiday treats. Every resident got a gift, which ranged from chocolates, socks and beauty products, to Christmas decorations, scarves and blankets.

Kathy Jensen discusses the gift her father, Harry Olson, just opened.

Marie Hoffman looks through her box full of beauty products.

Sophie Panasuk displays her present she received.

Mon-Dak Feeders tour set for February 2

Montana-Dakota "Silver Aniversary" Livestock Feeders Tour in Fairview will be held Saturday, February 2, with a full days of events scheduled.

Highlight of the 25th Annual Feeders Tour will be the appearance of Eastern District Congressman, John Melcher, as a guest speaker at the tour banquet to be held at the Fairview High School cafeteria. Master of Ceremonies will be Ed Agre at the lamb, beef and pork dinner to be served by the Altar Society of St. Catherine's Catholic Church.

Events of the day are as follows: Registration opens at 8:30 a.m. at the Fairview Civic Center, with free coffee and doughnuts being served.

The tour gets underway at 9:30 a.m. with buses available for those who wish transportation. The first stop will be at the Sundheim Corporation Farm to inspect 500 head stock cows and 500 calves on feed. At 10:15 the tour continues to the Dallas and Duane Ullman farm to see 350 head of hogs on feed and inspect 110 stock cows and 80 calves on feed. Coffee and doughnuts will be served at this stop. At 11:15 the tour continues to the Harold Schlothauer farm to inspect 2000 head of lambs on feed.

Weight guessing contests will be held at each tour stop. Winners must be present at the afternoon program. A trophy will be presented to the jackpot winner during the evening banquet.

At noon the caravan will arrive at the East Fairview School for a free noon lunch sponsored by the Feeders Tour Committee and served by the East Fairview PTO.

A feed discussion and management panel will be held starting at 1:00 p.m. with Ellis Williams, Richland County Agent, and Kermit Toepke, McKenzie County Agent, in charge.

The days events will close with a Smoker from 5:30 to 6:30 and the banquet. The banquet tickets, good for both the Smoker and the banquet, are on sale by Feeders Tour Committee members and at several local business establishments.

The Livestock Feeders' Tour Committee members are:

Rod Pruitt (sic), Chairman; Bob Buxbaum, Vice-

Chairman; Dan Watts, Secretary; Jim Bieber, Treasurer.

Glenn Asbeck, Albert Reidle, Dale Reidle, John Hovde, Ralph Ludington, Jim Ketterling, Gary Lapka, Harold Helland, Lee Norby, Ellis Williams, and Kermit Toepke.

Jaycees hold 'Boss night'

John Cayko was named "Boss of the Year" Saturday when a record crowd attended the annual Jaycee award night and banquet held at the club room in Fairview.

Master of Ceremonies, Dale Reidle, first introduced Don Helm who spoke on the purposes of Jaycees and reviewed accomplishments of the local club during the past year. Ed Agre, national director and a member of the Fairview club, was main speaker of the evening. Mr. Agre based his talk on the need for realizing one's potential.

"Most young people under-rate themselves," Agre said. Much more might be accomplished, he emphasized, if people could overcome the tendency to down-grade themselves.

Following the address, Jim Beiber introduced George Beiber, 1972 winner of the under 60 acres beet award, and he presented the 1973 award to Herman Johnson.

Hugo Asbeck, winner of the 1972 over 60 acres award, then presented the 1973 award to Maurice ("Nig") Martin.

In the absence of Don Baxter, 1972 Boss, Larry Knels was called upon to present the coveted award to John Cayko. The new Boss of the Year was cited for his excellent cooperation with Jaycee activities and for his fine treatment of his employees.

The Distinguished Service award went to Ivan Cayko and was presented by last year's winner, Dick Shannon.

The Distinguished Service award is made annually to any young man in the community between the ages of 18 and 35. The one who qualifies to receive the award need not be a member of the Jaycees. The banquet was catered by the Powder Keg, and Mrs. Harold Helland was assisted in serving by Jayceens.
