"Watford City Celebrates A Patriotic Christmas – Honoring Heroes" This Christmas Season

Watford City's Christmas theme this year is "Watford City Celebrates A Patriotic Christmas – Honoring Our Heroes". Red, white and blue lights adorn Main Street trees.

Wake Up Santa, sponsored by the Chamber and the National Honor Society will be Saturday, Dec. 3 at 10 a.m. at the Watford City High School Commons Area. Photos with Santa will be $5.

There will be a coloring contest for kindergarten through 3rd grade and an essay contest for grades 4-6.

Free movies are being offered at Six Shooters Movie Hall at 1 p.m. on Saturdays, Dec. 3, 10 and 17. Tickets for the movies are free. Concessions will be available for sale. This Saturday's movie is "Polar Bear Express". Parents are encouraged to enjoy the free movies with their children. Movies will be supervised, so parents can also drop their children off and use that time to shop Watford City businesses.

Kids Shopping Night will be held Monday, Dec. 12 from 3:30-7 p.m. This event allows children to shop without mom and dad's help. Mom and Dad can help their child make a list of who they need to shop for and how much money to spend and then bring their child to their favorite store. At each participating store a clerk will help the child select, purchase and wrap their purchases.

From Dec. 12-23 a different person in the community is chosen each day to be the "Merry Christmas Elf" and give away $25 in Watford City bucks. All you have to do is be the first person that day to wish the Merry Christmas Elf a "Merry Christmas".

Everyone is also encouraged to register for daily and weekly prize drawings offered at many of the local businesses. The Chamber also uses those names to select winners of $250 in Watford City bucks to be given away each Monday in December for a total of $1000 given away. Watford City bucks can be spent at all Chamber businesses.

Christmas loans are available at First International Bank and Trust and Dakota West Credit Union through Dec. 2. Christmas dollars can be used at all Chamber businesses until Dec. 31.

ABATE Participates In Toy Drive

The Yellowstone Chapter of ABATE (American Bikers Aiming Towards Education) looks forward to participating in the 18th annual toy drive. This community project collects new toys or cash donations to buy new toys for those who face financial hardships this holiday season. ABATE, along with the Christmas Coalition and Gifts from the Heart, last year gathered over $3000 worth of toys for distribution among 141 families with a total of 358 children. The money for these toys came from donations from individuals, companies and businesses.

Interested people who would like to help can make donations or they can purchase a nice gift or two for children from the ages of zero through 18 years old. All gifts must be unwrapped, but people can also donate wrapping paper if they wish.

All donations will assist our local friends and neighbors in need, as the recipients of the gifts must reside in Richland County.

Those who wish to donate cash may make donations to ABATE Toy Drive, c/o Maria Hodge, PO Box 62, Crane, MT. People who purchase toys and would like pickup service may call Maria Hodge at 406-480-3597.

ABATE members thank all those who support this worthwhile endeavor during this season of giving.

A Merry Culbertson Christmas

By Jaimee Green

As the candy cane resumes its place temporarily on the top of the food pyramid and community members watch to see who will be the first to hang up their festive Christmas lights, plans are underway to celebrate a growing Culbertson tradition; the annual Christmas open house. The evening of merriment offers community members the opportunity to take in a local concert and visit fellow community members over a hot cider and tasty treats.

This year's event is taking place on Dec. 19, in downtown Culbertson with events beginning at 4 p.m.

The Lion's Club is hosting their free stew feed at the senior center from 4-6 p.m. as a way of thanking the community for their support of the Lion's Club each year. "Most of our efforts focus on youth and the community has always supported us in everything we try to do. This is something we do to show our appreciation for their support," said Edward Darr, a Lion's Club member.

He said preparations for the meal will begin as early as 9 a.m. and involve about a half a dozen people assisting throughout the event. Last year over 150 people were in attendance.

The Lion's Club does many charitable projects throughout the year including a Palm Sunday dinner, handing out flags to elementary students, a spring track meet and putting up and taking down the holiday lights downtown.

First Community Bank is opening its doors from 4-6 p.m. and serving coffee, cider, meat and cheese trays and other goodies as their way of thanking the public for their dedicated patronage. "The bank employees sponsor this event every year as their way of saying thanks to their customers for their patronage. It is our hope that people will enjoy the free stew feed and then come over to the bank for dessert," said Wayne Hendrickson, branch manager. They will also be giving away bags filled with banking supplies such as calendars and calculators.

Culbertson School will be hosting their annual Christmas concerts and this year's theme is "Christmas Carols". Grades 5-12 band, choir and music classes will be performing on Dec. 1 in the school gymnasium at 7 p.m. On Dec. 19, at 7 p.m. kindergarten through 4th grade will perform their Christmas program in the old armory.

As part of the Lion's Club's participation in the open house activities, members will be handing out goodie bags for the children immediately following the concert.

Students involved in Culbertson school's Explore America program will be giving the elves up at the North Pole some competition as they will soon be mass producing their holiday cookies as part of their annual fundraising efforts. They are selling lefsa for $8 per dozen as well as Christmas cookies. Small trays are $18 and large trays are $25. Trays are also on sale at the concert. To place an order, contact Linda at 406-787-6241.

Marketing Assistance Loans

A Marketing Assistance Loan (MAL) is available for producers who share in the risk of producing the crop.

To be eligible, a producer must maintain continual beneficial interest in the crop from harvest through the earlier of the date the loan is repaid or CCC takes title to the commodity. Once beneficial interest in a commodity is lost, the commodity is ineligible for loan-even if the producer regains beneficial interest. Commodity loan eligibility also requires compliance with conservation and wetland protection requirements; beneficial interest requirements, acreage reporting and ensuring that the commodity meets Commodity Credit Corporation minimum grade and quality standards.

For commodities to be eligible, they must have been produced by an eligible producer, be in existence and in a storable condition and be merchantable for food, feed or other uses as determined by CCC. The quality of the commodity in farm storage must be maintained throughout the term of the loan.

Producers do not have to participate in the Direct and Counter-Cyclical and/or ACRE Programs to be eligible for commodity loans. Violating provisions of a marketing assistance loan may trigger administrative actions, such as assessing liquidated damages, calling the loan and denial of future farm-stored loans. The most common violations are removing or disposing of a commodity being used as loan collateral without prior authorization and providing an incorrect quantity certification.

Bovine Connection Set For Dec 1-2

By Lois Kerr

This year's Bovine Connection, scheduled for Thursday and Friday, Dec. 1-2 in the meeting room at the MSU EARC and Extension building, 1499 N. Central Ave., Sidney, promises to provide an interesting program, complete with a variety of pertinent information for cattlemen and agribusiness people. Committee members have worked hard to provide a quality program for those who attend. Richland County Extension Agent Tim Fine points out that people will certainly benefit by attending this year's proceedings.

"The committee has obtained top notch, nationally known speakers for this event," Fine remarks. "We will offer a diverse program that includes everything from genetics and nutrition to people management to the generation gap to the discussion of the promotion of free market principles."

He adds, "We will cover a lot of topics during the two-day event."

The Bovine Connection event begins with a 9:30 a.m.

registration and welcome on Dec. 1 in the meeting room. Presentations begin at 10 a.m., with Steve Dittmer, Ag Freedom Foundation, talking on preserving free market principles. At 10:30 a.m., Bill Price will talk on global trade, followed at 11 a.m. by Charlene Rich, Montana Beef Council, discussing the new agricultural alliance made up of farmers and ranchers.

Following a noon lunch, presentations continue with John Paterson, Montana State University, discussing cattle response and behavior in relation to mineral supplements. A talk on implants will follow, and the day's educational sessions will end with an extremely important talk by Curt Pate, NCBA, on stress free livestock handling.

The Thursday session of the Bovine Connection will finish up with a banquet held at the Country Club beginning with a social at 5 p.m., followed by dinner at 6 p.m. Steve Dittmer with the Agribusiness Freedom Foundation will give the address following dinner.

The Friday, Dec. 2 session of the Bovine Connection convenes at 9:30 a.m. Friday morning at the Extension office meeting room. At 10 a.m., Robin Thorstenson, Bismarck State College program manager and trainer, will discuss the power of persuasion. At 11 a.m., Jim Robb, Livestock Marketing Information Center, will talk about the market update and outlook. Willy Altenberg will finish the morning sessions with an A.I. industry update.

Following a 12:45 p.m. lunch, the afternoon session will lead off with a discussion on DNA testing, followed by the return of Thorstenson to talk about generational issues. Bill Bowman, AGI president, will wrap it all up and tie together the information presented at the two-day session.

"We have an excellent program lined up," Fine concludes. "I invite all cattle people, cattle industry people, and those interested in the cattle business to attend this two-day event."

The Bovine Connection proceedings will cost participants $40 per individual or $75 per couple. Tickets may be purchased at the Richland County Extension office. This fee includes two days of proceedings and the Thursday evening banquet.

Anyone wishing to just attend the banquet may purchase a banquet ticket for $25 per individual. These tickets are also available at the Extension office.

Sidney Area Receives $43,172 Through Thrivent Choice Dollars

Thrivent Choice lets members show their care for our community.

Lutheran congregations and organizations in the Sidney area have now received $43,172 through the Thrivent Choice Dollars<sup>SM</sup> program since its inception in July 2010. Approximately nine Lutheran organizations in the Sidney area have benefited from the good will of Thrivent Financial members.

The program allows eligible Thrivent Financial for Lutherans' members to recommend how a portion of Thrivent Financial's charitable funds are distributed. Nationwide, nearly $50 million in funding has been directed to 18,000 Lutheran congregations and organizations through the program.

"Seeing Thrivent Financial members influence how charitable dollars are given to the community where they live, work and play is rewarding," said Harvey Senn, LUTCF, FIC who serves the Sidney area. "Hearing the stories about how the funding is making a difference in the lives of so many validates the success of Thrivent Choice."

In 2010, Thrivent Financial and its members contributed, raised and donated more than $135 million to help congregations, communities and nonprofit organizations. Thrivent Choice is one of many ways that Thrivent Financial gives back. To learn more about the Thrivent Choice program, visit www.thrivent.com/thriventchoice.

Thrivent Financial is represented in the local area by Harvey Senn, 406-433-6143 and Ron Gebhardt, 1050 S. Central Ave., 406-433-5287.

Fairview High School Graduate Publishes Book

Fairview High School graduate Joshua Knels has published a book, The Seattle Massacre, through iUniverse publishers. Knels, currently at Bismarck State College studying English as a major with a minor in psychology, started writing this book a year ago, and he says this book is the first of seven in his fictional Ripper series.

"This is a series of books that pits a serial killer against homicide detectives and eventually the FBI," Knels says. "This is a work of fiction, not based on a true story. I will have seven books in this series, but I also plan to write other series based on characters from the original work."

Knels began writing seriously at the age of 15. He feels compelled to write, and a year ago, following a vivid dream, he began working on The Seattle Massacre. "This book was inspired by a dream, where the main character approached me and told me he had a story to tell me," Knels says. "I started to write the story, and it quickly became an obsession."

Knels loves writing and along with his college classes he carves time out of his busy schedule each day to write. "I make time to write every day," he says. "I spend three hours a day writing during the weekdays, and on weekends I spend from five to eight hours each day to work on my book. I am very dedicated to this."

With the publication of his first book, Knels feels his hard work has been well worth the effort. "I feel like I've accomplished something," he remarks. "Growing up, I didn't feel like I was worth much, but this book has really boosted my confidence."

The Seattle Massacre is available through Amazon. The book will also be available through Barnes and Noble by Christmas.

Knels has started work on the second book of the series, Trails of Blood. He expects this book will be released this coming summer.

Sidney-Richland Co. Library Wants To Know "What's Your Favorite Story" In Holiday Gingerbread Contest

What's your favorite story? The Sidney-Richland County Library wants to know, but there's a catch, you'll have to show them, in their Holiday Gingerbread Contest. Use their theme of "Tell us your favorite story in gingerbread" to inspire your gingerbread creation or come up with your own idea. Your imagination is the limit, so build a doghouse, birdhouse, castle, train depot, skyscraper or anything else you can think of. Entries will be displayed in the Library during December, adding a little holiday flare to the shelves, and the best creations will win fun prizes.

So how do you participate? Easy! First, get the rules from the Library or their website (<http://www.richland.org/spl>) and get your entry form back to them as soon as possible so they can plan their display areas. Next choose whether you'll work in one of their individual categories: Child (8 & under); Youth (9-14); Teen/Adult (15 & up); or if you'd rather build your gingerbread with a friend (groups & families are welcome).

Then it's time for the fun part, choose your creation and build it. Your gingerbread house will have to be entirely edible, except for the base, which shouldn't be any larger than 18"x18". Bring your creation to the Library starting Nov. 28, and definitely before our final judging begins on Dec. 19! The longer your entry is in the library, the more time you'll have to get votes from patrons and guest judges. They'll give out prizes in each age category, as well as honoring the People's Choice, Most Creative Creation and Best Representation of a Story.

Dec. 20 from 4:30-6:30 p.m., the Library invites everyone, community members and participants alike, to join them for a special Holiday Open House with cider and cookies. They'll view all of the entries, introduce our guest judges, and unveil the winners. All of the contest details and the full rules and entry form are available on our website (<http://www.richland.org/spl>) and in hard copy at the Library. Feel free to call 433-1917 with any questions, and may the best gingerbread architects win!

MSGA Annual Convention, Trade Show To Be Held In Billings, Dec. 15-17

The 2011 Montana Stockgrowers Association (MSGA) and Montana CattleWomen (MCW) Annual Convention and Trade Show will meet at the Holiday Inn Grand Montana, Billings, on Dec. 15-17. The convention will offer opportunities for attendees to learn tips to improve their ranch or business, find out about new products available for their animal health and ranch supply needs at the trade show, and for members to weigh in on policy discussions. Members who attend convention will be eligible to win a Ford super duty truck from the Montana Ford stores.

Speakers will include Bill Donald, National Cattlemen's Beef Association president and Gene Carlson, Big Sky Little League All-Stars manager, with Rocky Erickson, Northern Ag Network. The Pfizer Cattlemen's Colleges will be held on Dec. 17 featuring Gary Brester, Montana State University agricultural economics professor, and Larry Gran, Pfizer Animal Health. Brester will conduct two economic workshops. Gran will talk about utilizing modern technology to help commercial cattlemen select bulls for their ranch.

A major component of the convention is the setting of new policy and the review of past policies to guide the association through its day-to-day work. The policy process will begin on Thursday, Dec. 15 with the Beef Production & Marketing and Membership Development & Services committee meetings. The Land Use & Environment and Tax, Finance & Ag Policy committee meetings will be on Dec. 16. The Second Reading of Resolutions will be held on the morning of Dec. 17, with reports from each committee. The final reading, and an up or down vote on resolutions, will occur at the MSGA Business Meeting on the afternoon of Dec. 17. Resolutions that make it through the entire process will become association policy.

MSGA membership will be voting for new MSGA board of directors as Don Griffin, Ismay; Jason Camp, Belgrade; and Kraig Meeks, Geraldine, end their terms on the MSGA board.

MSGA and Montana Ford stores have teamed up to give a Ford super duty truck to one lucky member who attends convention. The drawing will be held on Saturday during the Grand Finale Banquet with Justin Mills emceeding the banquet. To be eligible for the truck drawing, you must attend convention, be a current Rancher, Stocker/Feeder or Young Stockgrower member, and fill out the truck entry form.

To learn more, please call the MSGA office at 406-442-3420, or visit www.mtbeef.org. If you would like to reserve a trade show booth or sponsor part of the convention, please contact the MSGA office soon as there are limited spaces open.

Board Of Livestock To "Carefully Weigh" Decision On 12-Day Milk Rule

Following a hearing examiner's proposed decision regarding the State's 12-day milk labeling rule, the Montana Board of Livestock on Monday said it will "carefully weigh all possible options" before making any rule changes.

"It's important that we give this issue due process," said Montana Board Chair and Hobson rancher Jan French. "We want to thoroughly review all of the available information and issue a decision that is fair and in the best interests of Montana's milk consumers."

According to the State's existing administrative rule (Administrative Rules of Montana 32.8.202[b]), "no grade-A pasteurized milk may be put in any container marked with a sell-by date of more than 12 days after pasteurization." That rule was challenged in 2008 by Core-Mark International, a Spokane-based wholesale distributor that provides retail products, including milk, to convenience stores.

Core-Mark sued the Board of Livestock and asked a federal court to declare the state's 12-day labeling rule unconstitutional. The company and the Board of Livestock later agreed to settle the federal case by holding a public hearing and an evidentiary hearing on whether to retain, amend or repeal the 12-day rule. Core-Mark seeks to replace the State's present 12-day sell-by date with a sell-by date to be chosen by the processor of the milk.

A hearing examiner in the evidentiary hearing recently recommended that the Board repeal the 12-day rule and not adopt any rule that includes a sell-by date. The hearing examiner also recommended that the Board repeal its present rule and adopt a rule allowing milk processors to set their own dates for milk freshness, using such terms as "best by" or "best if used by".

French said the Board, which meets every two months, doesn't have a time frame on making a decision.

"We want to be thorough," she said. "It might take some time, as there is a mountain of information to review from both hearings."

The previous hearings produced nearly 1,100 pages of oral testimony, legal briefs and scientific evidence regarding the shelf life of milk products.

NDSA President Responds To Proposed Livestock Competition Rule

"The North Dakota Stockmen's Association (NDSA) is pleased that the U.S. Department of Agriculture's (USDA) Grain Inspection, Packers and Stockyards Administration (GIPSA) has decided to postpone action on its proposed livestock competition rule as it relates to the beef industry," states Jason Schmidt, North Dakota Stockmen's Association president, Medina.

"Cattle producers want good prices, fair practices and the freedom to operate our businesses without unnecessary government intrusion. We support value-based marketing and were very concerned with the proposed language that would have hindered these profit opportunities for producers."

"The NDSA thanks USDA for taking into account the opinions of thousands of family farmers and ranchers who offered input at various listening sessions as well as through the public comment period.
