The Montana Hope Project Grants The Wish Of Jorden Bialorucki, Raises Awareness In Eastern Montana

By Meagan Dotson

The Montana Hope Project, sponsored by the Association of Montana Troopers, has been reaching out to children with life-changing medical conditions since 1984 when a few highway patrolmen decided to take a couple of critically ill kids and their families through Glacier Park. Borrowing a van and personally funding the trip, they unknowingly founded an organization that would change the lives of Montana kids for generations.

Sixteen year old Jorden Bialorucki of Glendive, is one of those kids. In the summer of 2013, Bialorucki and her mother Joleen, father Craig, and brother Raiden went to the Big Island of Hawaii and spent a week swimming, playing in the hotel lagoon, taking submarine rides, and swimming with dolphins. Bialorucki was diagnosed with acute lymphoblastic leukemia in 2011 which required extensive medical treatment at Children's Hospital in Aurora, CO and the Billings Clinic in Billings, MT. The Bialorucki family often had to drive to Billings weekly and Jorden Bialorucki missed a lot of school that first year, doing most of her work at home with the support of the Deer Creek School.

The Montana Hope Project and the Bialorucki family connected through Joleen Bialoruck's aunt who had helped with fundraising for the non-profit organization. It wasn't long before plans were underway to make the trip-of-a-lifetime happen.

"I had a hard time choosing between swimming with dolphins and going to Maine to eat fresh Lobster," Jorden Bialorucki admitted, but ultimately Hawaii won out.

The family got to see amazing ocean life like sea turtles and a manna-ray and recall how there were lots of goats and donkeys on the island. They described that the land itself looked a lot like the badlands here in Montana.

"It was different and exciting," Jorden Bialorucki said of the experience.

The family also attended the 2014 summer reunion in Essex Montana near Glacier National Park where there were both Montana Highway Patrolmen and Canadian Royal Mounted Police helping with the festivities. The Bialoruckis got to go on boat rides and fly in a helicopter all while meeting other families that have been impacted by the Montana Hope Project.

"Everyone we've met has been awesome," said Joleen

Bialoruck

"It's such a great program; everyone in the state should know about it," added Craig Bialorucki.

That is exactly what Dave Evans, Coordinator for Eastern Montana and the Ride for Hope is trying to do: get the word out. Evans become involved with the project in 2005, and in 2012 when they needed an area coordinator, he volunteered. He quickly noticed that most of the families involved were from the western half of the state and is making an effort to increase awareness of the program east of Billings.

"I know that there are kids on this side of the state that qualify and deserve to have a wish granted," said Evans, a retired patrolman. "Parents that work with the project want something special for their families. Each wish is really a week about family."

In 2014, 29 wishes were granted including several trips to Disney World, a shopping spree, and a pop-up camper to name a few. Each wish costs between $6,000 and $6,500 and fundraisers include ATV rides, car shows and the Magicians of Montana. However, the main fundraising event is the Ride for Hope, an annual motorcycle ride where riders receive pledges from businesses and individuals and ride about 500 miles round trip. This raises anywhere from $70,000 to $100,000 dollars a year for the Montana Hope Project. Families are also invited to two reunions, one the first weekend in June held in Essex Montana and the second is held the first weekend in December at Fairmont Hot Springs Resort.

"Families build strong relationships with each other," commented Evans. "It's built in support."

Anyone in the state can be involved and can go online at montanahope.org to find their area coordinator.

For anyone who knows a child who would be eligible for having a wish granted, they can contact the Montana Hope Project through their website, montanahope.org, or by phone, 406-949-7433. The application process is simple, but does require a medical referral for review.

Jorden Bialorucki, who received the last of her three year treatment in August of 2014, and the Bialorucki family looks forward to attending reunions in the future.

Joleen Bialorucki adds, "It's great that they help kids here in Montana; it's local support from local organizations."

Roosevelt Medical Center Brings Lost Penny Competition Back to Area Schools

Submitted By Roosevelt Medical Center

Tucked between sofa cushions. Stuck to the floorboards of vehicles. Tossed into jean pockets. Thrown inside purses. Sitting in jars, laying in wait. Pennies can make a difference! That's exactly what Roosevelt Medical Center is counting on during their annual Lost Penny Days competition set to begin Feb.1.

During the month of February, Culbertson, Bainville and Froid Schools will rally to raise the most money for RMC through

Bootleggers Ball Feb. 7th

Submitted by Jodi Leland

The 1st Annual Bootleggers Ball, sponsored by the Sidney Elks Lodge and the Boys and Girls Club of Richland County, will provide a unique opportunity to support the youth of Richland County. This fundraising event will feature premium whiskey and spirit tasting. National distributors as well as boutique distilleries from throughout the West will present a wide range of tastings to choose from on February 6 from 7 PM to Midnight.

This Roaring Twenties-themed event will present music by Tumbledown House, a live auction, a complimentary old-fashioned glass, and table-service hors d'oeuvres. The event will also provide a photo booth for guests to commemorate their Roaring Twenties era costumes if they choose to wear them. Free shuttle services will be provided following the event.

This fundraising event will support the Boys and Girls Club building fund as well as sponsor scholarships for Richland County children to attend Camp Make-A-Dream this summer.

Tickets for the event are on sale now at Sidney Liquors for $100 per person. Space is limited so it is advised to purchase them as soon as possible. You also may reserve your tickets by calling Jodi Leland at 480-1999.

penny jars placed at their respective campuses. They are also competing for the chance to bring home the traveling trophy for the next year. Currently, the trophy is held at Bainville School.

"This has always been a great opportunity for local youth to realize they too can make a valuable contribution to their community while instilling in them the importance of philanthropy, a lesson which hopefully stays with them the rest of their lives," said Audrey Stromberg, Administrator for RMC.

Other jars will be placed throughout the communities to enable supporters to participate in the friendly competition, while supporting both their school and local healthcare.

This year, RMC is fundraising to replace a badly cracked window that needs replacing in the Sun Room, a room the residents who call RMC home, hold dear. It is where they sit, relax, watch television and enjoy listening to the birds chirping in the aviary. "This area serves as their living room. It's a place they can gather and visit with one another, while enjoying the view outside," Stromberg said.

Currently, with the window in its present condition, the residents have to sit away from the window and be covered with lap blankets because of the draft created by the cracks in the window pane.

Window pane.
Window replacement will cost an estimated $18,000.

In previous years, funds raised have gone toward supplies for the Activities Department for reminiscence activities through music, and crafts as well exercise equipment to assist residents with range of motion activities for flexibility, balance, and strength and endurance development.

For more information on how you can participate or donate to the Lost Penny Days competition, contact Jaimee Green, Marketing and Foundation Director for RMC, at (406) 787-6476.

RTC Offers College Scholarship Programs

Submitted by Kristin Jaeger, Marketing Manager Reservation Telephone Cooperative (RTC)

Parshall, ND– In 2015, Reservation Telephone Cooperative (RTC) will award nine college scholarships, each in the amount of $1,000. There will be one scholarship awarded in each of RTC's eight director districts and one scholarship at large. Scholarships will be awarded based on a random drawing between applicants who meet the established criteria. RTC applications must be postmarked to RTC by March 2, 2015.

RTC also participates in the Foundation for Rural Service (FRS) college scholarship program. FRS offers several college scholarships to help further higher education among rural youth. Scholarships are awarded to students from rural America for their first year of college, university, or vocational-technical school. The FRS Scholarship provides $2,500 awards to rural high school seniors across the United States. The FRS Staurulakis Family Scholarship provides $5,000 awards giving preference to students in rural communities with an interest in science, math, medicine, or engineering. The TMS Scholarships provides $1,500 awards and the Colt Ford Scholarship will awards up to $15,000 to rural students.

To be eligible for the FRS scholarships, applicants must receive telecommunications service from a FRS supporter, such as RTC. The FRS scholarship gives preference to those applicants interested in returning to a rural community following graduation. FRS applications must be postmarked to FRS by March 2, 2015.

Applications and eligibility information for all scholarships are available at www.RTC.coop/resources, at local high schools, or at the RTC business offices in Parshall, New Town and Watford City.

from Nebraska to Sidney, MT in 1935. Harold was united in marriage to Lila Sheehan on February 3, 1946, in Sidney, MT. After the marriage they lived in a little house by the old stockyard in Sidney. Then they moved to a house on her family farm, then to the Gable place before moving to Miles City, MT. After several years in Miles City, they purchased a farm in Sidney and moved home. When Harold moved back, he farmed with his brother, Richard on the Otto Dige place, Dad on the Homeplace, and then rented the Julius Degn farm, the old Whitaker place, and the Lester Moore farm for many years. Harold and Lila moved in to the Lodge for several years before entering Roosevelt Medical Center in 2012, due to failing health.

Harold was a member of the Ebenezer Congregational Church in Sidney and the Moose Lodge. After retiring from farming, Harold enjoyed gardening and having coffee with his buddies. Harold and Lila enjoyed traveling with Herman and Martha. They made several trips to Mexico and Las Vegas.

Harold died on Friday, January 23, 2015 at the Roosevelt Medical Center in Culbertson, MT.

Harold is survived by his five sons, Dennis Buxbaum, Fred (Joy) Buxbaum, Greg Buxbaum, and Chuck Buxbaum, all of Sidney, MT and Keith (Lori) Buxbaum, Billings, MT; his sisters, Mollie Asmus and Katie Wahlstrom; his brother, Richard Buxbaum; 10 grandchildren and 7 1/2 great grandchildren.

He was preceded in death by his parents; his wife, Lila; infant son, Douglas; son, Jeff; grandsons, Eric Buxbaum, Patrick Buxbaum and Darren Linde; and infant brother, Henry.

Flyin' Lion Antiques And Collectibles Opens In Sidney

By Dianne Swanson

Flyin'Lion Antiques and Collectibles is open in the Yellowstone Marketplace, downtown Sidney, MT. Full of fascinating items from the past, the store is a must see for antique and history buffs alike.

Owner Arch Ellwein, well known local broadcaster and actor, has spent a lifetime collecting historic and unusual pieces, often as props for his theatrical performances. Many of those pieces are now for sale in his new shop.

Sports memorabilia, small furniture, toys, books, magazines, posters and historical items fill the space and Ellwein has a story about each item. The store is very well stocked and items change day to day. Ellwein listens to his customers, what they collect, what their interests are, and tries to fulfill their needs and wants. He encourages customers to ask for specific items since he may have them, just not in the store at the time. He is also open to buying items although he says they would have to be pretty special. "I opened this store for fun," Ellwein said. "I see an op-downtown, especially for visitors." Every month there is a silent auction with a couple of special portunity in Sidney and believe there's a niche to fill. It adds to items which will sell for whatever the bid ends up to be. Ellwein

Arch Ellwein invites everyone to stop by his new store, Flyin' Lion Antiques and Collectibles in the Yellowstone Marketplace, Sidney.

also plans to have special events such as an appraisal event where up to three appraisers with various expertise will be on hand to value items brought in by the public. He hopes to have the first of those in May.

Ellwein also would like to revitalize Community Theatre in Sidney. All types of people are needed for acting, technical, costuming and props. Anyone interested is encouraged to visit with Ellwein.

Flyin' Lion is open from 10 am to 5 pm with other hours available by appointment. Visit the shop in the Yellowstone Marketplace, or call 406-489-1209.

Thank You

Thank you for extending so much love and support to our family both before and after Albert's passing. Thank you for all the beautiful flowers and cards, and the charitable donations made to various organizations. We greatly appreciated the loving thoughts in however you expressed your acts of kindness. A special thank you to Dr. Council and his staff who always treated him so special; also, a very special thanks to everyone in the E.R., and thank you to Dr. Kessler. We would like to give a special thanks to Albert's friends and family for all of their loving kindness during this time. We will be forever grateful. What a beautiful tribute to honor Albert's life. He would have really loved and appreciated every kind thought that was passed his way. This is a very difficult time in our lives and having your friendship helps lighten the pain of our loss.

Thank you so much-The Albert Riedel Family

Roosevelt Medical Center Offers Assistance With Affordable Care Act January 28

Submitted By Roosevelt Medical Center

Navigating the waters of healthcare reform in search of quality health insurance coverage can be confusing. With the Feb. 15 Montana Health Insurance Exchange open enrollment deadline fast approaching, many insurance-seekers are scrambling to determine what their next step should be in ensuring adequate healthcare coverage for themselves and their families.

Roosevelt Medical Center is offering a free webinar on Jan. 28 from 1:00 – 2:30 p.m. (MST) in the Tele-med Room at RMC, to assist residents with their health insurance questions. They will also have a staff member, referred to as a Navigator, available to answer individual questions about the different policies offered through the Affordable Care Act.

"The role of a Navigator is not to tell people what plan to pick, but instead to walk them through what might work best for them based on their family circumstances and health," said Brenda Harvey, Social Services Director and Navigator for RMC.

While the webinar is geared toward farming and ranching operations and their families, anyone looking to better understand their health insurance options will benefit from the hourand-a-half long webinar presented by Dr. Roberta Riportella of Kansas State University. There will also be experts, via tele-conferencing, available to advise on questions pertaining to the Internal Revenue Service and the Small Business Administration.

The event is being sponsored through the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services and RMC.

The original goal of the Act, signed into law by President Barack Obama in 2010, was to give more Americans access to affordable health insurance and to reduce the growth in healthcare spending in the U.S.

As of early January, some 6.8 million Americans were enrolled in the Affordable Care Act.

For more information, contact Brenda Harvey at 787-6432.

Food Fads Part of Wheat Show Discussions

By Warren Froelich - NDSU Extension Agent Williams County

Lately, gluten and wheat have been presented as "dietary villains". While those with celiac disease must avoid gluten for health reasons, others are following gluten-free diets for various reasons that lack scientific basis.

Julie Garden-Robinson, a food and nutrition specialist and professor with the NDSU Extension Service, will discuss the myths and facts related to gluten in our diets and in our food supply. She also will describe current recommendations for grain foods and the role of grains in nutrition and health.

Julie comes to us with a doctorate degree in cereal science and food technology and is a registered dietitian. She develops educational programs for the NDSU Extension Service and does research in the areas of nutrition and food safety. She also writes a weekly column and blog, both titled "Prairie Fair".

Following Julie, Erica Olson, Marketing Specialist of the North Dakota Wheat Commission, will share efforts the industry

Lower Yellowstone Wool Pool Annual Meeting Feb. 9th

By Tim Fine - MSU Extension Agent

The Lower Yellowstone Wool Pool has been a great asset to area producers for many years. In case you are not familiar with the reason for the existence of a pool, its sole purpose is to gather wool from area sheep producers in one central location, grade said wool, and then combine that wool with other producers' wool to make a larger shipment. By combining these graded pools of wool together, instead of one person trying to market their product, there is now a greater amount of wool being marketed at one time. This process of combining and grading the wool will increase the amount of product that is marketed at one time, therefore ensuring a more consistent product and an increase in the price paid for the product.

The Lower Yellowstone Wool Pool was formed in the spring of 1987 for this reason. A group of local producers organized to aid in creating greater value for the wool they produce. Since the pool's inception, many tons of wool has been gathered, graded, bagged, and combined with wool from pools across the state of Montana to be marketed.

If you have sheep and are interested in learning more about the Lower Yellowstone Wool Pool, you are encouraged to join us for our annual meeting and dinner on Monday, February 9th at 6:00 PM (MST) at the Richland County Extension Office. The Lower Yellowstone Wool Pool annual meeting will begin with a lamb dinner at 6:00 and business meeting immediately following. If you cannot make it to the meeting but are still interested in becoming part of the pool, you are welcome to contact Tim Fine at the Richland County Extension Office at 406-433-1206 or Wade VanEvery, Lower Yellowstone Wool Pool president.

is taking to educate the public about the safety of wheat in food diets. Erica is also chair of the Wheat Foods Council. This group is composed of grain producers, millers, baking suppliers, life science companies and cereal manufacturers. The Council develops sound nutritional, educational, and promotional programs that reach health and nutrition professionals, opinion leaders, media and consumers.

The Wheat Foods Council was organized in 1972 by farmers across the country to promote the entire category of wheatbased foods. Since then, the organization has established itself as a leading source of science-based information on wheat and grain foods nutrition.

Grain Groups On Wheat Show Agenda

It has become a tradition for leadership of various cereal grain producer groups to give reports during the Wheat Show about their efforts to enhance profitability of the ag community. These groups work very hard to promote their commodity but are often limited by some type of resource, usually financial. Despite this, they do manage to stimulate research, educate the public and influence public policies.

So this year, look forward to hearing from the Montana Wheat and Barley Committee, North Dakota Wheat Commission, North Dakota Grain Growers, North Dakota Barley Council and U.S. Durum Growers Association.

Speaker is Dynamite

If you want to infuse your brain with more enthusiasm or maybe view your life a little differently, be sure to attend the Recognition Lunch of the Wheat Show on Wednesday, February 4th. The speaker for this event is Mark Lindquist. Not only is he a world touring entertainer but a very good motivational speaker who will make us laugh and maybe shed a tear or two. He has appeared in ABC's Lost, CBS's Hawaii Five-O and the Universal Studios movie, "Battleship". Mark's hour long presentation is titled "Passion! 8 Steps to Find Yours".

Regardless of age, all of us must have a passion for something that will give us enjoyment. Mark will help us with that.

Tickets for the luncheon are $10 and can be purchased during the Wheat Show or in advance at the Williams County Extension Office, 302 East Broadway.

National Drug Fact Week

Submitted By Nicole Hackley, Prevention Services Director District II Alcohol & Drug Program

National Drug Facts Week is an opportunity for teens, to shatter the myths about drugs and drug abuse. This year, it runs the week of January 25-30th. In community and school events all over America, teens, scientists and other experts will come together for an honest conversation about how drugs affect the brain, body and behavior. Drug Fact Week was launched in 2010 by the National Institute on Drug Abuse (NIDA), part of the National Institutes of Health. The purpose was to counteract myths that teens get from the internet, TV, movies, music or friends.

About a third of high school seniors report using an illicit drug sometime in the past year: more than ten percent report nonmedical use of potentially addictive prescription painkillers; and more than 20 percent report smoking marijuana in the past month. Many teens are not aware of the risks to their health, to their success in school and the dangers of driving under the influence. When teens are given the scientific facts about drugs, they can be better prepared to make good decisions for themselves and they can share information with others.

For more information on National Drug Fact Week, and to take the knowledge quiz, go to http://teens.drugabuse.gov/ national-drug-facts-week.

In Richland County, there will be a candlelight vigil held on Friday, January 23rd at 7:00 p.m. at the Richland County Old Courthouse steps, to help kick off Drug Fact Week. The candles will burn to help remember those friends and loved ones who have died from drugs or alcohol use. This information and event is brought to you by Richland County STAND. To become involved and take a STAND against underage drinking please get involved and consider attending the local STAND meetings held the 4th Tuesday of the Month at District II Alcohol & Drug Program from noon to 1, or become involved in the Parent Café' held the first Wednesday of the month. For information on the important role you play as a parent and community member in addressing Underage Drinking and other youth issues in Richland County contact Vicky, Missy or Melissa at 433-4097. Keep up with all of our events on our Facebook Page: Richland County STAND.

Writing Workshops Featuring Renowned North Dakota Writer Deb Marquart Coming To Watford City & Williston

By ND Humanities Council

Take in a unique writing workshop coming to Williston and Watford City that features the opportunity to work with renowned North Dakota writer, Deb Marquart. A native of Napoleon, Debra Marquart is a professor of English at Iowa State University. A performance poet, Marquart is the author of two poetry collections: Everything's a Verb and From Sweetness. Her memoir, The Horizontal World: Growing Up Wild in the Middle of Nowhere, was published by Counterpoint Books in 2006. It received the "Elle Lettres" award from Elle Magazine and the 2007 PEN USA Creative Nonfiction Award.

"Our People. Our Places. Our Stories." Writing Workshops will be hosted:

February 3 & 17, 2015 at 6-8pm at the Pioneer Museum Of McKenzie County in Watford City, ND.

February 4 & 18, 2015 at 7-9pm on the 4th, 6-8pm & 8-10pm on the 18th at Books on Broadway in Williston, ND.

Have a story to tell, but not sure where to start? Already writing and want some techniques to bring out your best work? Join us and explore tips to further your writing practice. These hands-on workshops are designed for members of the community interested in honing their writing skills. Each event will include a discussion of the process of researching and writing about family and place, about the different approaches to writing the essay, and will include time to workshop with the authors. We ask that you come with a prepared piece of writing-it need not be long, though it shouldn't be too short. This workshop is intended for writers at every stage of development. All are welcome to come and participate or just sit shop is FREE and open to the public. The writing workshops will be in conducted in two visits to each community. Participants must be able to attend both workshops. Register for the Watford City workshop here! http://www.ndhumanities.org/our-people-our-places-our-stories2015.html

Richey Senior Citizen Of The Year 2014

Betty Keysor is the Richey Senior Citizen of the year for 2014. Betty is the current librarian at the Richey Public Library. Betty was asked how long she has held this job. After doing some quick math she thinks she has been there for 45 years! Betty has been active in the Richey Rodeo club, the Richey VFW Auxillary and the Methodist Women's group. She also is the one who plants and cares for the flower pots at the front of the library and had cared for the flowers under the Welcome to Richey sign for years. Betty hauled the water for these plants from her home to the edge of town. Even though Betty is in her 80s she has no plans on retiring.

Sunrise Women's Clinic Hires New Director, Starts Capital Fundraising Campaign

By Dianne Swanson

The Sunrise Women's Clinic in Sidney has quadrupled the number of visits to over 400 in just the past two years, demonstrating the tremendous need for its services in the community. The clinic provides counseling and ultrasounds to women who are facing an unplanned pregnancy under the direction and supervision of a volunteer medical director who is a local physician licensed to practice medicine in Montana. Rachel Sonnenberg is the newly hired director for the clinic.

In order to provide a more energy efficient building and pleasant environment for patients, the Clinic has undertaken some remodeling projects including new siding and windows and providing better patient access. They also wish to turn the back yard into a memorial garden which will provide a peaceful spot for patients as well as a space for small group and donor events. The remaining mortgage on the building needs to be paid off as well to ensure that more donor funds are going directly to patient services.

Currently, almost 70% of donations go towards patient services, with under 6% going to management. The remaining funds are spent to fundraise for operations.

The total needed to fulfill the needs of the Sunrise Women's Clinic is $65,000. The clinic is supported locally. They do not receive funds from any state or government source and so they are asking the caring businesses and individuals in this community to "Invest in the lives of the women, children and families of our area."

Memorial Garden Fire Pit

The Vision of Sunrise Women's clinic is: We envision a community where God's love for life is embraced, each pregnancy is welcomed as a miracle, and all human life from conception on is love and protected.

You can make a difference. All donations will be appreciated and recognized. Contact the clinic at 116 3rd Ave. NW, Box 1086, Sidney, MT 59270 or call 406-433-7772. Visit www. friendsofsunrise.org for more information.
