NPARL Celebrates 50th Year of Science in Service to Agriculture

Submitted by Beth Redlin

The USDA-ARS Northern Plains Agricultural Research Laboratory (NPARL) is celebrating its 50th anniversary this year with two special talks and related activities to be held at the lab on successive Thursday evenings, Nov. 14 and 21st. These family-friendly talks, presented in plain language and designed for upper elementary students through adults, will not only touch on science's contribution to agriculture in the past 50 years, but also look ahead to new frontiers in the future. The presentations will also explain broad scientific concepts and tools, such as evolutionary and molecular (DNA) biology, and demonstrate how they are being used to advance agricultural research today and in the next 50 years.

Presenters include NPARL scientists Erin Espeland (Nov. 14) and Stefan Jaronski (Nov. 21), who will discuss "Evolution in Wheat: from ancient times into the future" and "What Does the Future Hold for Insect Pest Management?" respectively.

Each evening's activities begin with the scientist's talks at 7 pm, followed by related hands-on activities, demonstrations and displays at 8 pm, along with refreshments and tours of the facility for those interested. Among the unique activities on Nov. 14 will be an opportunity for those attending to do their own DNA extraction from a strawberry using simple household supplies.

In keeping with the family friendly focus, NPARL employees will also be providing free childcare onsite for the youngest members of the family (toddlers through lower elementary grades) so their parents can take in the talks with their older children without having to find a babysitter. Childcare activities will include special age-appropriate treats, games and other activities.

The lab is located at 1500 N. Central in Sidney. Additional details will be forthcoming. You can also contact Beth Redlin at the lab (406-433-9427) for more information.

Wine & Food Festival

The Foundation for Community Care held its annual Wine & Food Festival Nov. 2 at the Richland County Fair Event Center. At press time the total raised was over $36,000. # Zero Weight Gain Challenge

Submitted by Ludmila Keller

The holiday season is coming up and with that the dreaded holiday pounds. Thanksgiving, Christmas and the cold winter months certainly invite high-sugar and fat-laden meals, as well as a sedentary lifestyle. That's why many of us notice by the beginning of the New Year that our pants feel tighter around the waist. A study by Tufts University found that on average adults gain 1 pound during the holiday season, and overweight adults gain five pounds or more during the 6-week holiday season. Now, all of this wouldn't be so bad if we actually lost the additional pounds during the rest of the year. Unfortunately, this is not the case. The New England Journal of Medicine found that the holiday weight gain is not reversed during the spring or summer months.

So, let's move on to the good news. Weight control IS possible during the holiday season. The Zero Weight Gain Holiday Challenge Newsletter can show you how. This successful new program was developed by the University of Georgia Cooperative Extension and will be offered by Richland County Extension this year. You can sign up now to receive bi-weekly newsletters in your e-mail inbox, starting the week before Thanksgiving until January. Newsletters will include recipes, and cover a variety of topics such as eating out, overeating prevention, exercising during the holidays and many more.

Signing up is easy and free! Just e-mail Family and Consumer Sciences Extension agent Ludmila at Ludmila.keller@montana.edu with the subject "Zero Weight Gain Challenge". That's it. You don't have an e-mail account? No problem. Call Extension at 406-433-1206 to receive the newsletters in your mailbox. So let's commit this holiday season to the Zero Weight Gain Holiday Challenge.

The different products available are: 12" candle wreath, 20" wreath, 22" wreath, 26" wreath, 26" rustic wreath, 28" cross wreath, 28" door swag and 15 ft. Cedar garland (all wreaths come with a bow). # Farm Credit Provides $170,650 for Western North Dakota Medical and Emergency Services

Rural Community Grant Fund Supports Communities Impacted by Oil and Mineral Exploration and Production

Submitted by Teresa Kjellberg

Western North Dakota communities received $170,650 in grants from Farm Credit, including five grants for worthy community projects to support cities and towns impacted by oil and mineral exploration and production.

"North Dakota is now the second-largest oil-producing state in the United States, bringing both opportunity and challenges to the towns and cities in western North Dakota. These grants represent our commitment to investing in the needs of these communities through the Rural Community Grant Fund," said Bill York, CEO of AgriBank. "This is an on-going program. Organizations with worthy projects can apply online at www.agribank.com before the next review period deadline on Nov. 30."

AgriBank, Farm Credit Services of Mandan and Farm Credit Services of North Dakota announced the awards under the Rural Community Grant Fund, which has awarded $845,134 since it began providing grants in 2012. The organizations started the fund to support a variety of infrastructure and development projects that benefit communities in western North Dakota, including affordable housing, medical and fire emergency services, medical facilities and services, and education.

"We are pleased to be a part of the recent round of grant approvals. The needs of oil-impacted regions of western North Dakota continue to be evident from the applications received for Farm Credit's Rural Community Grant Fund. I encourage interested groups to review our websites for background information and forward their applications," said Michael O'Keeffe, CEO of Farm Credit Services of Mandan.

"We continue to be amazed at the impact oil exploration has had on western North Dakota. While this gives us many opportunities, it also comes with many challenges. It is exciting to be part of a company that gives back to the communities and is driven to make a difference for those most impacted," said Claude Sem, CEO, Farm Credit Services of North Dakota. # “Make It With Sugar” Winning Recipes

Buttermilk Coconut Pie

Makes 1 (8 or 9 inch) pie
Prep time: 25 minutes    Bake time: 1 hour
Single piecrust:
3 eggs
1/3 All- purpose or bleached flour
1 ½ c. sugar
½ c. butter, melted and cooled
¾ c. buttermilk
1 tsp. vanilla
1 c. shredded coconut
Preheat oven to 350°F. Prepare pie crust as directed; do not bake. In a medium mixing bowl, whisk together the eggs, flour, sugar, melted butter, buttermilk and vanilla; whisk until smooth. Stir in the shredded coconut. Pour mixture into unbaked pie shell. Bake 1 hour or until the center is set.

Caramel Popcorn

1 14 oz. can sweetened condensed milk
1 c. white corn syrup
1 lb. brown sugar
½ c. butter
6 packages microwave popcorn-popped
Put popcorn in a bowl. Put all ingredients in a microwave safe bowl except popcorn. Stir. Cook for 3 minutes and sir. Once it starts to boil, boil for 4 minutes. Stir and pour over popcorn. Mix well.

Divinity

3 c sugar
¾ c light corn syrup
½ c water
2 egg whites
1 tsp. almond extract
1 c. chopped walnuts or pecans
Place sugar, corn syrup, and water in heavy saucepan. Cook and stir over medium heat to hardball stage (248°F). Remove from heat and let stand until temperature drops to 220°F,without stirring.
Place egg whites in mixer bowl. Attach bowl and wire whip to mixer. Turn speed 8 and whip about 1 minute, or until soft peaks form. Gradually add syrup in fine stream and whip about 2 ½ minutes longer.
Turn to speed 4. Add almond extract and whip 20 to 25 minutes, or until mixture starts to become dry. Turn to stir speed and add walnuts, mixing just until blended.
Drop mixture from measuring tablespoon onto waxed paper or greased baking sheet to form patties.
Yield: 20 servings (2 pieces per serving)
Per serving: About 192 cal, 2 g pro, 40 g carb, 4 g fat, 0 mg chol, 15 mg sod.

Macadamia Cookies

Yield 6 dozen
4 ½ c. all-purpose flour
2 tsp. baking soda
2c. butter, softened
1 ½ c. packed brown sugar
½ c. white sugar
2(3.4 oz.) packages instant vanilla pudding mix
4 eggs
2 tsp. vanilla extract
4 c. white chocolate chips
2 c. chopped macadamia nuts
Preheat oven to 350 °F. Sift together the flour and baking soda, set aside. In large bowl, cream together the butter, brown sugar, and white sugar. Beat in the instant pudding mix until blended. Stir in the eggs and vanilla. Blend in the flour mixture. Finally, stir in the chocolate chips and nuts. Drop cookies by rounded spoonfuls onto ungreased cookie sheets. Bake for 10 to 12 minutes in the preheated oven. Edges should be golden brown.

Pumpkin Cake Bars

4 eggs
1- 29oz. can pumpkin
1 ½c. sugar
½ tsp. salt
1 tsp. ginger
½ tsp. cloves
2 tsp. cinnamon
1 yellow cake mix
½ c. melted butter
1 c. chopped pecans (don't have to use this many)
Mix eggs, pumpkin, sugar, salt, ginger, cinnamon, and cloves together. Pour into 9x13 pan. Sprinkle with dry cake mix. Drizzle melted butter over cake, spread chopped nuts over all. Bake at 325°F for 1 hour and 20 minutes. Cover with foil loosely to keep from browning too soon, for the first 40-45 minutes, uncover and bake another 40-45 minutes. Serve with whipped cream. Yield 24 bars. (We like it better cold.)

Salted Caramel Cream Pie Bites

Crust:
1 c. flour
1/3 c. oil
½ tsp. salt
2 T. cold water
Mix all ingredients together until well mixed. Put approximately 1T of dough into each mini muffin tin. Press dough into each muffin cup around the bottom and sides of the cup. Bake at 350 degrees until golden brown approximately 15 minutes. Let fully cool.

Filling:

½ c. brown sugar
2 T butter
½ c. vanilla ice cream
1 8oz block cream cheese (room temp.)
½ c. whip topping
sea salt for garnish
Put the brown sugar, butter, and ice cream into a pan and bring to boil. Boil for one minute and let cool. (I put in the refrigerator for 45 minutes.) Reserve 1 T of caramel sauce to drizzle on top of pie bites. Use a mixer to mix and smooth the block of cream cheese. Mix the caramel into the cream cheese and fold in ½ cup of whipped topping. Use a piping bag to put the filling into the crust, drizzle with caramel and salt, and enjoy!

Sweet Rolls

4 ½ C milk, scalded
1 C shortening
1 C mashed potatoes (use instant potatoes if you wish)
2 T self rising yeast
1 tsp. baking soda
1 tsp. nutmeg
1 C raisins (optional)
1 C sugar
2 tsp. baking powder
3 tsp. salt
6 eggs, beaten
Flour to make a soft dough (approx.12-14 C)
Start with 8 cups, add up to 14 C. The softer the dough the better the better-just so you can barely handle it without it being too sticky. Let beat only for 2-3 min.
Scald milk, cool to lukewarm. Add yeast, sugar, shortening, mashed potatoes, soda, salt, baking powder, and nutmeg. Add enough flour to make a batter (about 6 C) Mix well until smooth. Add raisins and eggs. Add more flour to make a soft dough. Knead or mix lightly. Let rise until double. Punch down and let rise again. After second rising, spread out on a lightly floured surface. Spread with softened (not melted) butter, brown sugar, and cinnamon. Roll up tightly like a jelly roll. Pull a thread or string through to make about one inch slices. Place on a greased cookie sheet not touching. Let rise till light. Bake at 375 degrees for approximately 15 minutes or until lightly browned. Frost with buttercream frosting. Makes approx. 45 sweet rolls.
Variation: For orange rolls, spread with a mix of 1/3 C melted butter 1 ½ C sugar and the rind of one orange. Frost with buttercream frosting to which orange juice and rind have been added. Grate the peel of 3 oranges. Squeeze oranges.
*** This dough makes fabulous dinner rolls. Just omit the nutmeg and form as desired.

Energy Share Montana: Thirty Years & Running

Submitted by Barbara Roberts

Thirty Years and Running this heating season Energy Share of Montana, a private nonprofit organization, celebrates 30 years of helping Montanans who are experiencing energy emergencies. Since 1983 Energy Share has provided one-time help for people facing loss of heat or lights in their home due to unforeseen circumstances, and have no resources to pay for it themselves. In its first heating season Energy Share helped 681 Montana families; peaked at 3,161 in 2008, and last heating season helped 2,281 families. Examples of situations Energy Share helps with include households with high medical bills, fixed or lower incomes, the unemployed or under-employed, and many others. Energy Share contracts with the ten Human Resource Development Councils (HRDCs) around the state to process its applications. Since the HRDCs also work with the federally-funded Low Income Energy Assistance Program (LIEAP) the partnership works well for people looking for help with their energy needs. "Over the last two heating seasons Energy Share helped 443 families in this area," said Brian Steffen, CEO of Action for Eastern Montana in Glendive.

Energy Share provides a valuable resource for our lower-income population and we are glad to be a part of that network. Even though there are good-paying jobs in the area now due to the oil and gas fields, there are many, many people in our area whose income has not kept pace with the cost of living increase. We need Energy Share as much now as we ever have. Energy Share applications may be obtained at Action for Eastern Montana at 1-800-227-0703 or 377-3564. Normally applicants are asked to see if they qualify for LIEAP prior to applying for Energy Share, but the best course of action for someone in need is to contact the energy assistance office at Action for Eastern Montana and explain their situation. If you are interested in helping a neighbor in need, look for Energy Share donation envelopes or pledge cards in your utility bill or Rural Montana magazine in November. One hundred percent of private donations are used first in the area from which they came.

Energy Share is a 501(c)(3) organization so donations are tax-deductible. For more information call Energy Share statewide office at 1-888-779-7589, or visit www.energysharemt.com

March of Dimes 2013 Jail & Bail

Submitted by Maria Mares-Reed
Wednesday, November 6, from 11:00am – 2:00pm at Millers' Corner of Sidney, business leaders and other citizens will be voluntarily arrested, booked and jailed in this fundraiser benefiting the March of Dimes. They will be fingerprinted, have their mug shot taken and go before a "judge", for sentencing before being locked up. Jailbirds will then spend time behind bars phoning family, friends and co-workers to raise bail in the form of contributions to the March of Dimes, Montana. The March of Dimes mission is to improve the health of babies by preventing birth defects and infant mortality. Support Jail & Bail Wednesday, November 6 to raise funds for the March of Dimes and its programs to improve the health of Sidney and the surrounding community's mothers and babies. Founded in 1938, the March of Dimes funds programs of research, community services, education, and advocacy to save babies and in 2003 launched a campaign to address the increasing rate of premature birth.

Open House for Recipients of the Presidents Award

Submitted by Mary Sundheim
All of Richland County Welcome on November 12, 2013 from 4:00 PM - 6:00 PM in the Community Services Building, Conference Rooms.

The Richland County Health Department nominated our Commissioners for years of support and dedication to the health and safety of our community. They are an intricate part of Public Health policy development. As members of the Board of Health they are responsive to the needs of the community.

The Richland County Strategic Plan Steering Committee supported the nomination by saying:

“We are pleased to nominate the Richland County Commissioners for the MPHA (Montana Public Health Association) Presidents’ Award. The Richland County Strategic Plan Steering Committee works to ensure that the issues facing Richland County are identified and that there are multi-faceted action groups addressing the issues. The process is community driven and is supported both time and financially by the County Commissioners. They understand that involving the community in identifying and solving challenges in Richland County is the best way to lead in these ever changing times. The commissioners understand and appreciate the community building process as a way to manage an efficient and transparent county government.

The county commissioners are also willing to share information and share resources with counties in the region. Moreover, they have shown leadership statewide by being innovative in their approach to Quality of Life and Public Health issues. The strategic planning process has been in place for the last six years and its integration with the county growth policy has been innovative. The framework that has been laid in Richland County can be duplicated in counties across Montana.

We feel that the work of the Richland County Commissioners and their support of the community building process is worthy of the MPHA Presidents’ Award. We highly recommend them for this honor.

Building in Richland County

By Kyle Osborne

With all of the new development in Richland County it seems hard to keep track of everything that is going on. While subdivisions are appearing everywhere, buildings are being built as fast as possible throughout the county. With all of the new development it is important that a person follows all of the right procedures.

Building permits are an important part of this process and they like everything else have been updated. Some of the changes you can expect are, the costs of permits have increased, new application forms for your permit will need to be filled out, and the new webpage for the Building Department can be found at www.richland.org.

It is understood that people may have some questions on the process of receiving a building permit and when one is needed. Here are a few questions and answers that some people may have:

Do I need construction permits in Richland County?

Richland County does require permits. The County provides building permits. Electrical, mechanical, and plumbing permits are received from the State of Montana.

Who should obtain the permit?

Contractors, architects, engineers, or your agent can obtain permits. The home owners can also obtain the permits.

Where do I get a permit?

Building permits are issued by Building Inspector, Alton Hillesland, at 115 2nd Street SE. The Building Office is open from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Or you can find the permit application online at www.richland.org. This application will still need to be taken to the Building Inspector for approval. For electrical, plumbing, and mechanical permits please contact the State of Montana at buildingcodes.mt.gov or call (406) 841-2056.

How is the cost of a permit calculated?

Fees are based on the valuation assigned to each individual project. Commercial and single family structures are assigned a value based on square footage. Remodels are determined by contract price or the estimated value of material and labor. The fee schedule per valuation can be found on www.richland.org and is following.

This is the first of a series of building articles to provide information that relates to building requirements and regulations. More information can be found at www.richland.org for assistance contact the Building Inspection Office at 115 2nd ST SE, Sidney, MT 59270 or call (406) 433-2809.

DPHHS, Healthy Mothers Healthy Babies Partner To Raise Awareness About Text4baby

Submitted by Jon Ebelt

The Department of Public Health and Human Services (DPHHS) and Healthy Mothers Healthy Babies (HMHB) are partnering to raise awareness about text4baby, a free health text messaging service for pregnant women and new moms.

Montana First Lady Lisa Bullock, a mother of three, says this service provides invaluable information and urges all Montana women to sign up. "I know from personal experience that the more knowledge I have at every stage of my kids' lives, the better equipped I am as a mother to ensure they are healthy and happy," she said. "That's why increasing awareness for this incredibly helpful program is so important."

DPHHS Director Richard Opper said the state health department supports text4baby prevention messages and the communication tool being used. "Using text messages to reach out is a great way to get valuable information to people in a timely fashion," he said.

In September, DPHHS and HMHB sent information about text4baby to pregnant women receiving Medicaid benefits in Montana urging them to sign up for this free service. The mailing produced an immediate spike in text4baby participation statewide with several hundred more people signing up for the program.

According to HMHB-Montana Executive Director Melissa Synness, the text messages promote healthy eating, car seat safety, exercise and fitness, safe sleep, quit smoking, prenatal care, labor and delivery and breastfeeding. The text messages are timed to a pregnant woman's due date and provide 1-800 numbers and other resources to learn more.

"Those who sign up receive three free text messages each week with tips and the latest health information to help both mom and baby," Synness said. "Even people who don't have a text messaging plan can still get the messages for free."

To sign up for the service, an individual can text BABY to 511411 or visit www.text4baby.org. Then, enter the baby's due date or the baby's birthday and zip code. Then, the free text messages are timed to the women's due date or the baby's birth date. "Once you have your baby, be sure to text UPDATE to 511411 with your baby's birthday so you keep getting messages until your baby's first birthday," Synness said. "If you want to stop receiving messages at any time, text STOP to 511411. Enroll today!"

Since text4baby was launched in February 2010, the service has connected over 600,000 pregnant women and new moms to vital health and safety information nationwide. Currently in Montana there are about 2,500 text4baby users.

This service is an education campaign of the National Healthy Mothers, Healthy Babies Coalition that works with a broad range of partners to encourage the women they reach to take advantage of this free service. The messages are developed by the National Healthy Mothers Healthy Babies in collaboration with federal partners, physicians, nurses and national medical organizations. Text messages are available in both English and Spanish.

State's Housing Program Wins National Award

Submitted by Sarah Mudder

The North Dakota Housing Incentive Fund (HIF) was recognized for its merit winning a 2013 Award for Program Excellence from the National Council of State Housing Agencies in the Rental Housing Encouraging New Production category.

"The Housing Incentive Fund has been an incredible tool in developing affordable housing units across North Dakota," said Jolene Kline, NDHFA acting executive director and fund administrator. "I'm pleased that we are able to share one of our success stories with our peers from across the country."

Capitalized by contributions from state taxpayers,

HIF provides the state with a means for developing affordable multifamily housing for essential service workers and low- to moderate-income families. During the 2011/2012 biennium, a $15 million program supported the development of 23 affordable housing developments.

The program was reauthorized by the state legislature during the 2013 session. NDHFA received a $15.4 million general fund appropriation and the authority to issue up to $20 million in state tax credits to further capitalize HIF. Thus far, the agency has made conditional commitments to 18 new HIF projects. NDHFA plans to announce more funding commitments in November.

The award was announced at the annual conference of state housing agencies in late October. HFAs in Rhode Island, Arizona and Louisiana also submitted entries in the same sub-category.

NDHFA is a self-supporting state agency that finances the creation and rehabilitation of affordable housing across North Dakota. The Industrial Commission, consisting of Governor Jack Dalrymple as chairman, Agriculture Commissioner Doug Goehring and Attorney General Wayne Stenehjem, oversees the agency.

More information on HIF is available online at www.ndhousingincentivefund.org.

Pasture Rangeland and Forage Insurance Sales Closing Date

Submitted by Doug Hagel

USDA's Risk Management Agency (RMA) Billings Regional Office reminds producers in Montana and Wyoming that the sales closing date for the Pasture Rangeland and for ageinsurance program is November 15.

In Montana a gridded rainfall index is used as a proxy for rangeland and forage production, and is intended to reflect how much precipitation is received relative to the long term average for a specified area and timeframe. In Wyoming a gridded vegetation index gathered by satellite is used to observe long-term changes in greenness of vegetation of a specified area since 1989. Producers can review historical grid data on the RMA website at www.rma.usda.gov.

Doug Hagel, Billings Regional Office director, reminds producers to contact their crop insurance agent for more information. For more information on how to find a crop insurance agent, go to www.rma.usda.gov/tools/agent.html.

Keystone XL - A Critical Pipeline To Strengthen The U.S. Economy

Submitted by Tie Shank
Based in Calgary, TransCanada Corporation, Canada's second largest pipeline company patiently awaits a ruling on the Keystone XL pipeline. The ruling is expected to be made by the end of the first quarter of 2014.

The Keystone XL pipeline is a proposed 1,179 mile, 36 inch-diameter crude oil pipeline beginning in Hardisty, Alberta, Canada and extending south to Steele City, Nebraska. The pipeline will transport crude oil from Canada along with crude oil from producers in the Bakken region of North Dakota and Montana.

The pipeline will have the capacity to transport 830,000 barrels of oil per day (bbl/d) to Midwest and Gulf Coast oil refineries. This will reduce American dependence on oil from the Middle East and Venezuela by up to 40 percent.

Currently the U.S. is consuming approximately 15 million barrels of oil per day and nearly 60 percent of that is being imported from other countries.

According to the Canadian Energy Research Institute (CERI), one-quarter of Keystone XL's capacity has been dedicated to transporting light crude oil produced in the Bakken region of North Dakota and Montana.

Construction of the Keystone XL pipeline project will require approximately 9,000 skilled American workers including: welders, electricians, laborers, pipefitters, mechanics, heavy equipment operators, safety coordinators and others. An additional 7000 U.S. jobs will be supported in manufacturing of steel pipe, fittings, valves, pumps and control devices.

The pipeline will cross the Canada-U.S. border near the Port of Morgan in Phillips County, MT. It would run southeast to a point near Baker where an on-ramp would send oil from the Bakken towards South Dakota and Nebraska to Gulf Coast refineries. The planned route will run through six counties in Montana.

Montana's U.S. House of Representative Steve Daines said, "As the pipeline passes through, more than 800 good-paying jobs in Montana will be created and thousands more across the nation."

More than 165 top business leaders wrote to U.S. President Barack Obama and urged him to approve the pipeline, citing the benefits to the economy. One business leader stated, "Approving this investment will send a powerful signal of this administration's commitment to getting America back to work."

FACTS

- 329 miles of the pipeline will run through Canada
- 850 miles of the pipeline will run through the U.S.
- 36 inch diameter pipeline
- Capacity of 830,000 barrels of oil per day
- Projected in service date of 2015

Fall Mule Deer Survey Completed

The North Dakota Game and Fish Department's fall mule deer survey indicated production in 2013 was higher than in 2012.

Biologists counted 1,761 (1,224 in 2012) mule deer in the aerial survey in October. The buck-to-doe ratio of 0.46 (0.37 in 2012) is similar to the long-term average of 0.43 bucks per doe, while the fawn-to-doe ratio of 0.74 (0.59 in 2012) was the highest since 2009, but still below the long-term average of 0.91 fawns per doe.

Bruce Stillings, big game supervisor in Dickinson, said the combination of no antlerless harvest and milder winter conditions over much of mule deer range in 2011 and 2012 has provided conditions needed to begin mule deer population recovery in the badlands.

"In addition, substantial rainfall this spring provided much improved habitat conditions for fawning this year compared to 2012," Stillings said.

While it is encouraging to see mule deer numbers increase for the short-term, Stillings said challenges remain for continued population growth, including changes in habitat quality due to fragmentation and disturbance, predators and weather.

The fall aerial survey, conducted specifically to study demographics, covers 24 study areas and 306.3 square miles in western North Dakota. Biologists survey the same study areas in the spring of each year to determine population abundance.

ND Landowners Seek Doe Hunters

The North Dakota Game and Fish Department is currently working with 18 landowners in 16 hunting units across the state who would like to host hunters with antlerless deer licenses in 2013.

Participating landowners are located in hunting units 2C, 2G2, 2I, 2J2, 2K2, 3A4, 3B3, 3C, 3D1, 3D2, 3E1, 3E2, 3F1, 3F2, 4B and 4E.

The program is not intended for buck hunters, but designed to direct hunters with antlerless licenses to specific areas to reduce deer populations.

Interested hunters can get their name on a list of possible participants by accessing the Game and Fish Department's website at gf.nd.gov. Hunters who do not have Internet access can call the department's main office in Bismarck at (701) 328-6300.

Hunters will provide their address, hunting unit(s) where they hold valid antlerless licenses, and if using rifle, muzzleloader or bow. From this list the department will select the number of hunters landowners have agreed to host. These hunters will be sent the landowner's name, phone number and any information relating to the landowner's specific situation.

Hunters must have a valid 2013 deer gun license – the Game and Fish Department does not provide a hunting license with this program.

Not everyone who signs up will end up with a new place to hunt, because not everyone's schedule will match up with a landowner's, and more people will likely put their name on the list than there are openings. Currently, participating landowners have openings for about 170 doe hunters.

North Dakota's 2013 regular deer gun season runs from Nov. 9-25. In addition, the archery season extends through Jan. 5, 2014; the youth season is Sept. 20-29; and muzzle-loader runs from Nov. 29 – Dec. 15.

Storytelling in the Oil Patch Writing Workshops Nov. 7 & 21

Submitted by Brenna Gerhardt

An organization in North Dakota believes it's just as important to harvest the stories coming out of western North Dakota as it is to capture the natural resources there. To achieve their goal, the North Dakota Humanities Council (NDHC) will send two professional writers with North Dakota roots to communities directly affected by the recent oil boom to host writing workshops exploring the ways oil is transforming the landscape and culture.

According to NDHC director Brenna Gerhardt, "Nothing is more important to a culture than its stories. They are the vehicles for transferring history, values and ideas from one generation to the next. Stories can endure for thousands of years, but oil development has a limited lifespan."

The "Our People. Our Places. Our Stories. ," writing workshops will allow residents of the Bakken the ability to share and preserve their stories under the guidance of professional storytellers Debra Marquart and Taylor Brorby.

A native of Napoleon, Debra Marquart is a professor of English at Iowa State University. A performance poet, Marquart is the author of two poetry collections: Everything's a Verb and From Sweetness. Her memoir, The Horizontal World:

Growing Up Wild in the Middle of Nowhere, was published by Counterpoint Books in 2006. It received the "Elle Lettres" award from Elle Magazine and the 2007 PEN USA Creative Nonfiction Award.

In the seventies and eighties, Marquart was a touring road musician with rock and heavy metal bands. Her collection of short stories, The Hunger Bone: Rock & Roll Stories draws from her experiences as a female road musician.

A native of Center, Taylor Brorby is a writer based in Minneapolis, Minnesota. Taylor has received grants and fellowships from Hamline University and St. Olaf College. His work has appeared on Minnesota Public Radio, in the journal Rock, Paper, Scissors, Augsburg Fortress Press, in newspapers, and The Huffington Post, where he writes on education.

Finished stories generated during the workshops will appear on the NDHC website. The NDHC will also publish a special issue of On Second Thought magazine in the summer of 2014 that will print the best stories generated at the workshops.

For more information on participating in the workshops, visit www.ndhumanities.org or contact Brenna Gerhardt at 800-338-6543.

More Than 130,000 Montanans to See a Cut in Food Assistance Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program Cuts Will Impact Montana's Families, Community Resources, And Economy.

Submitted by Kristie Smith

Beginning today, 131,000 people in Montana will see their food assistance benefits cut, when a temporary boost to the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP, formerly known as food stamps) expires. This boost took effect in 2009 and aimed to strengthen the economy and ease hardship. However, Congress chose to end the increase early, before struggling families have fully recovered. For a household of three, the early reduction will mean a loss of $29 in benefits each month, the equivalent of nearly two days' worth of meals. These cuts will have harmful impacts for thousands of Montana families who depend on SNAP to make ends meet during difficult times.

Genoa Carver, of Billings, said her family relied on SNAP after her mother experienced a traumatic brain injury and was hospitalized and unable to work. "SNAP kept food on the table while my family was struggling. It allowed my sister and me to focus on school and allowed my mom to focus on recovering. Without SNAP I'm sure there would have been days we didn't eat." Carver says that cuts to the SNAP program will have a devastating effect on families like hers.

In addition to helping feed hungry families, SNAP is one of most effective ways to stimulate a struggling economy. "Every $1 increase in SNAP benefits generates about $1.70 in economic activity," said Jackie Semmens, Policy Analyst at the Montana Budget and Policy Center. "Because SNAP benefits increase farm production, create agricultural jobs, and help give business to small grocery stores and local farmers' markets, this cut will be felt in households and small businesses across the state. The cut will total a loss of $13 million to Montana over the next 11 months."

On top of today's reductions, the U.S. House of Representatives recently passed legislation cutting $40 billion from SNAP, potentially eliminating assistance for at least 12,000 people in Montana. The legislation would provide strong financial incentives for states to reduce their caseloads, targeting families who are already struggling.

This proposal, coupled with today's cuts, unfairly targets millions of the most vulnerable Americans and places a massive burden on community resources.

"Food banks across the nation continue to be stretched to the limit as they struggle to keep up with unprecedented demand in a weak economy," said Kate Devino, Chief Policy Officer of the Montana Food Bank Network. "Our ability to meet this need became even harder today, and additional cuts to SNAP would further increase hunger and hardship for many Montanans. Montana's emergency food providers simply cannot compensate for cuts to SNAP at a time when resources are already stretched so thin. Expecting private organizations to fill the gap is unrealistic, and devastating for the families and individuals who will bear the brunt of the cuts."
