

Baucus Gives Support To Eastern Montana On Oil Impact Issues

Sen Max Baucus, D-Mont, and State Rep. Walt McNutt, R-Sidney, were available to discuss oil impact issues with community leaders at a forum held last Wednesday in Sidney.

By Jodi McPherson

U.S. Sen. Max Baucus, D-MT, held an energy jobs roundtable last Wednesday at the MSU Eastern Ag Research Station, Sidney. He was joined by USDA Rural Development Deputy Undersecretary Cheryl Cook, U.S. Small Business Administration leaders and other state officials in a call to action to support Eastern Montana in their struggles to solve oil impact issues.

Baucus explained that a multi-agency "one-stop-shop" in Sidney has been established dedicated to the infrastructure and development needs Eastern Montana is facing. The multi-agency's main purpose is to help local communities unlock federal resources to address the oil and gas boom.

Baucus announced that former Montana Department of Commerce Director Tony Preite will serve as the coordinator in the multi-agency to help oil-impacted areas find possible federal resources to address oil impacts.

Baucus is confident that Preite understands what federal programs will work in eastern Montana.

"Preite is innovative, creative and hardworking," said State Rep. Walt McNutt, R-Sidney, "You couldn't have picked a better guy for the position."

This comes on the heels of a letter Baucus sent to President Obama in January urging support at the federal level to rural communities in the Bakken. Baucus pointed out in the letter that even though there are thousands of jobs available and tremendous growth in the Bakken, many local businesses and community leaders are facing difficulty in accessing federal resources.

Baucus encourages rural communities in the Bakken to get organized and use Preite to find solutions. Baucus mentioned establishing an Eastern Montana Development website which will feature information about the various federal programs available.

Baucus urged community leaders to get on board with the "one-stop-shop" agency developed for Eastern Montana communities looking for solutions to their oil impact issues.

"Tony has the long time experience to know just what entity to go to with each issue when asked," stated Baucus.

Baucus also stated his support for Eastern Montana in that he might be able to secure additional funds for the oil-impacted areas. Baucus is a chairman of the subcommittee on transportation and infrastructure. He stated there's no guarantee in that but there is an opportunity there.

Baucus also stressed his support with the suggestion that Eastern Montana seems to have been given the "short shift".

"I work for you," said Baucus, "Tell me what you want and I will do what I can."

Community leaders discussed the challenges in dealing with the state of Montana such as schools having money taken away and the road issues in the area. Other concerns are that with many of the grants available, Richland County has been ineligible because the income is too high.

U.S. Senator Max Baucus encourages local communities to use federal resources available to help oil impacted communities in the Bakken.

Baucus said he could talk to large oil company's CEOs about providing some relief if there are specific funding needs. "I just worked on a rig today and I could give them (oil companies) a call, but I need you to help put some meat to the bones, not talk in abstracts. We love them, but they should have to share."

Baucus offered a few suggestions after hearing oil-impacted issues faced by the city from Sidney Mayor Bret Smelser and by the school from Sidney Superintendent of Schools Daniel Farr.

The senator said since the state has a surplus, it seems to him that the areas should be receiving a larger share of oil monies. He again stresses that legislators are employees, and people should act like employers and get organized.

"Don't let yourselves get divided and conquered," Baucus said, "put your thinking caps on."

The importance of getting organized and coordinated when dealing with legislators was stressed by McNutt. He suggested one goal in a long term solution could be to have some of the oil revenue not go into the general fund but rather into an oil-impact fund.

Baucus was in Culbertson earlier that day to announce the latest breakthroughs in his call to the White House to unleash every appropriate resource to assist with the infrastructure needs of Montana communities most impacted by the energy boom in the Bakken. Baucus and Cook announced a $1 million grant for the town of Culbertson's wastewater system.

Baucus toured a rig site between Sidney and Culbertson while he was in the area. He discussed the challenges and opportunities facing energy producers.

Baucus also shared that Environmental Protection Agency Administrator Lisa Jackson has accepted an invitation to visit Montana and meet with oil producers in the region to discuss the local impacts of EPA regulations.

Trashy Tuesdays Set For April 17

Trashy Tuesdays are a paper, aluminum can, and plastic recycling event free to the public, with the next event being held on Tuesday, April 17 from 3-7 p.m. at Richland County Public Works, 2140 W. Holly St. by the Richland County Fairgrounds. This recycling drive assists the City and the County in lessening the amount of garbage collection and landfill space by recycling plastic bottles, aluminum cans and paper products. At January's Trashy Tuesday, 2,000 lbs. of office paper, 1500 lbs. of newspaper/magazines, and 1,000 lbs. of plastic bottles and jars were collected.

Trashy Tuesdays' events are a self sort process where the public sorts their recyclables into labeled boxes. The Recycling Advisory Committee strongly urges that presorting of recyclables occurs prior to coming to the event. All plastic bottles/jars with numbers 1-7 and which have a threaded neck are accepted. Every plastic bottle has a "chasing arrow" sign on the bottom and inside the chasing arrow sign is a number. In order to hasten the process, # 1 bottles need to be sorted into one group. Examples of #1 bottles are water, pop and vegetable oil, and are generally clear plastic. Plastic bottles #2-#7 should be sorted into a second group and include milk jugs and laundry detergent, pill and hair product bottles. As long as the container has a threaded neck which is smaller than the base, it can be taken to the drive. The drive will not accept yogurt containers, plastic convenience store glasses, Styrofoam, or any other plastic without a neck which is threaded. The committee asks that all jugs and bottles be washed out and the lids removed for sanitation purposes. All paper products including junk mail can be recycled with the exception of manila envelopes, cardstock and bright neon paper. Catalogs and telephone books also cannot be accepted. Newspapers and magazines will be recycled but must be sorted from the office, mail and computer paper. Community members will sort their own office paper and newspapers/magazines into labeled bins at this event.

The Recycling Advisory Committee, a volunteer group, hosts these events and requests that people bring their items during the event hours. This group is appreciative to the public for their willingness to recycle. Since the committee is giving their time to ensure that these events occur, the participants are encouraged to review what is accepted and presort before coming. Trashy Tuesdays are scheduled the 3rd Tuesday of every 3rd month of the year from 3-7 p.m. Start collecting today for Trashy Tuesday on April 17 and continue collecting! The next Trashy Tuesday events are scheduled for July 19 and Oct. 16. If you are interested in joining the Recycling Advisory Board, would like to volunteer at the drives or would like more information on recycling drives, please contact Cindy at 406-488-3341, extension 4 or roi@midrivers.com. Bring your recyclables to April 17 Trashy Tuesday and "toss it our way".

Trio Voronezh In Concert On April 19

The Northeastern Arts Network presents Trio Voronezh in concert on Thursday, April 19th as the finale of the 2011-12 Big Sky Concert Series. Enjoy the intriguing sounds of this Russian trio playing traditional Russian folk instruments: a double bass balalaika, a domra and a bayan. Discovered playing Bach in a Frankfurt, Germany subway station, Trio Voronezh has since made several tours of the U.S., and earned audience and critical praise.

Trio Voronezh's astonishing virtuosity and delightful artistic innovation gives the trio the ability to alter the way audiences experience classical, folk and contemporary repertoire. The Trio's diverse repertoire ranges from the works of Bach, Vivaldi, Tchaikovsky and Stravinsky to Russian folk songs, gypsy dance music and popular songs by Gershwin. This ever-expanding concert material is arranged by the trio's members and performed with extraordinary virtuosity entirely from memory.

Classically trained at the Conservatory in Voronezh, Russia, the members Valerie Petrukhin, Vladimir Volokhin and Sergei Teleshev, formed the trio in 1993 in their native working-class city of Voronezh. The trio made its U.S. debut at the 1996 Oregon Bach Festival, and immediately was invited to return. Their orchestral debut with the Phoenix Symphony Orchestra proved a highly successful collaboration with Doc Severinsen. Since the debut the trio has performed throughout the U.S. with major orchestras.

This concert will be held at the Sidney Middle School Auditorium at 7:00 p.m. Ticket prices at the door: adults $15, senior $13, and students $10. For additional concert information contact Candy Markwald 406-488-4155, Jill Hill 406-488-3845, or Karen Boehler 406-433-4375.

The Big Sky Series is made possible in part by the Montana Performing Arts Consortium Presenter Development Program which is supported by grants from the National Endowment for the Arts, Montana Arts Council, and legislative grant from Montana's Cultural Trust and WESTAF.

Teaching Kids About Money In Richland County

What do kids know about money? Not enough. High school seniors only answered 48% of questions correctly when taking a 2008 nation-wide financial literacy test. That statistic inspires dedicated people and businesses of the Richland County Jump$tart coalition to start financial education early and to celebrate April's National Teach Children to Save Month.

Members of Boys and Girls Club of Richland County will be on the radio encouraging people to save and will participate in a week full of financial games, activities and budgeting "phantom money" for real life expenses.

Richland County 11th graders will receive information about Credit Card Smart$, developed by MSU Extension and presented by Enid Huotari, Edward Jones, Sidney. The program is designed to educate high school students about credit and the pitfalls of paying just the "minimum" each month on their credit card balances.

Richland County Public Library story time will include books on saving and spending. A library "store" will help children make decisions related to pennies earned throughout the month.

Sidney eighth graders will take part in "Be a Credit Union SUPER SAVER" at the Richland Federal Credit Union learning about using money wisely.

Financial activities and information for youth will be provided through the Sidney Herald.

Jamie Malsam and Wade Whiteman, Stockman Bank, will be teaching second graders at Westside Elementary that money doesn't grow on trees. By using a money tree students will learn about the benefits of saving.

The Richland Jump$tart Coalition encourages all adults to take time to teach children about saving and other money management principles. It's never too early to start and the rewards will last a lifetime.

Fairview Schedules "Citywide Spring Cleanup Day"

Litter is ugly. It can put a blight on a community and create a negative image for a city or neighborhood. One rundown home or property that's full of trash can cause a ripple effect across a neighborhood and lead to other properties falling into disrepair. On the opposite end of the spectrum, a property owner who takes the initiative to clean up his or her area can inspire others to do the same. With that in mind, The Fairview Chamber and City of Fairview are sponsoring a "Citywide Spring Cleanup Day" on Saturday, May 5. The center of the event will be the area south of the firehall. A large dumpster will be there, to hold your accumulation from the winter. Volunteers will be available to help seniors with transporting their trash to the site. To schedule help, or for more information, call City Hall at 742-5616.

Jean F. Krause, 83, Sidney, MT

Jean F. Krause, 83, passed away on Monday, April 2, 2012 at the Valley View Nursing Home in Glasgow, MT.

Jean was born on June 6, 1928 in Sidney, MT, the daughter of Earl Otto and Elizabeth Jephtha (Clark) Minser. She was raised and attended schools in Sidney, graduating from Sidney High School in 1956. She then attended Northern Montana College in Havre and graduated in 1948. She worked briefly in California and then at the hospital in Sidney.

On July 14, 1951 Jean married Earl F. Krause in Sidney. Except for living in Tracy, California from 1972 to 1973 and Delta, Colorado from 1973 to 1976, Jean has lived in Sidney all her life. She was a member of the Shepherd of the Valley Church in Sidney.

Jean said the best years of her life were when Bill & Deneen were home. "I just really enjoyed having the kids and they were good kids." Jean's second love was traveling with their RV. They took two real nice trips, one being to Lake Louise, Banff, Canada and down the west coast of California and then a 2 month trip to Alaska.

Jean had occasional part time jobs over the years, one being a rural mail carrier and later in life she was a realtor during Sidney's first oil boom. She also volunteered and helped seniors with their taxes.

Jean was an avid bridge player and played until her vision did not allow her to do it anymore, as she had Macular degeneration. She enjoyed the last seven years living at Crestwood. Jean had an amazing circle of friends and loved them dearly. She also found true friends in her short time at Valley View Nursing Home.

Jean kept her mind active and up to date on current events. She wanted to convey to her grandchildren how important it is to keep abreast of what is going on in the country. She also wanted them to be knowledgeable about the importance of our nation's history. Jean was an avid reader and her wish was to pass that desire of reading on to her children, grandchildren and great grandchildren. Jean said education is important and it is something that no one can take away from you.

So to Jean's family and dear friends, just remember there is one more angel watching over you.

She was preceded in death by her husband Earl on January 20, 2005 and by a brother J.D. "Andy" (Lil) Anderson of Colorado.

Survivors include her son William "Bill" (Kathy) Krause of Spokane, Washington, her daughter Deneen (Brian) Fuhrman of Ophelim, Montana, four grandchildren Christopher Krause of Spokane, Washington, Alysia (Pat) Kaufman of Spokane, Washington, Keith (Kerri) Fuhrman of Joliet, Illinois and Carl (Rikki) Fuhrman of Glasgow, and five great grandchildren; Soren James Kaufman of Spokane, Jacob, Cassie and Bryce Fuhrman of Joliet, and Wade Fuhrman of Glasgow. She also is survived by two cousins, Don and Charlotte Clark of San Francisco, California and Joe and Judy Clark of Post Falls, Idaho, and many other nieces and nephews.

Ready. Set. March For Babies!

March of Dimes Kicks Off Biggest Fundraiser to Help Babies Be Born Healthy

Friday, April 13, at the Richland County Fairgrounds, families and business leaders will join together in the March of Dimes annual March for Babies—the nation's oldest walk fundraiser honoring babies born healthy and those who need help to survive and thrive.

This year in Sidney, the Alvstad family is walking in honor of their son Andrew. The Alvstads were so excited to become parents and were looking forward to starting their family. During Kelly's pregnancy, the baby, Andrew, was diagnosed with anen-cephaly, a neuro-tube defect that is linked to insufficient folic acid. Andrew was not expected to be born alive and in the rare event that he was, he was not expected live more than minutes. Andrew blessed the Alvstad family with 10 full days of life. Kelly and her husband are dedicated to making sure other parents are aware of the importance of having and/or taking folic acid supplements prior to becoming pregnant, walking in honor of Andrew at the March for Babies supporting the March of Dimes and the research that goes into preventing birth defects like Andrew's.

Registration begins at 3 p.m. with the walk kicking off at 4 p.m. Participation in March for Babies will provide a memorable and rewarding day for the whole family including a bounce house, cotton candy, and face painting for the kids. A BBQ/dinner will end the walk, hosted by the Sidney Kiwanis Club. To register for this event or to find an event in your community, visit www.marchforbabies.org.

Funds raised by March for Babies in Montana will help support prenatal wellness programs, research grants, newborn intensive care unit (NICU) family support programs and advocacy efforts for stronger, healthier babies.

Premature birth is the most urgent infant health problem in the U.S. today. It affects more than half a million babies each year, 1 in 8 babies in Montana. This past November, the March of Dimes issued its annual Premature Birth Report Card, giving the nation a "C" and Montana the grade of a B. The March of Dimes is committed to funding research to find the answers to problems that continue to threaten the lives and the health of babies.

Upland Game Bird Council To Meet In Miles City

Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks' Upland Game Bird Enhancement Program's citizen advisory council will meet in Miles City April 16-17 at FWP's Region 7 headquarters, 352 I-94 Business Loop, beginning at 12:30 p.m. April 16.

During its first tour of southeastern Montana, council members will tour habitat projects and sage grouse and sharp-tailed grouse leks.

"Prairie grouse and wild turkey in the southeast portion of the state are – to varying degrees – situated within a landscape of rangeland, cattle, energy exploration and production," said Joe Perry, council chair. "It is especially important for the council to visit this area because of its unique game bird habitat needs and management challenges."

Last year, the advisory council submitted recommendations to the FWP Commission on a long-range strategic plan for FWP's Upland Game Bird Enhancement Program. The commission accepted the strategic plan and now the advisory council is focused on supporting its implementation.

The meeting is open to the public and comments are welcome during the comment period set on the agenda. Go to the FWP website at fwp.mt.gov and click Upland Game Bird Council for meeting details.

For more information, contact Debbie Hohler at: 406-444-5674, or by e-mail: dhohler@mt.gov.

RTC Supports Lewis & Clark Trail Museum

Reservation Telephone Cooperative (RTC) is a proud supporter of local organizations and their projects. Most recently RTC donated $3,000 toward labor, materials, and installation of a surveillance camera system for the Lewis and Clark Trail Museum, Alexander.

RTC began leasing and installing surveillance cameras about a year ago in response to requests from small businesses wanting to monitor the inside of their buildings, oil companies wanting to monitor well sites, and families wanting to monitor their homes. The cameras work indoors and outdoors and provide top quality, high definition, live streaming video that can be viewed via a secure IP address and can also be recorded. The cameras will be a great solution to keeping the museum secure.

RTC has a strong donations and sponsorship program, which dispersed over $50,000 last year. Throughout the year, RTC participates in and sponsors many area events including fairs, 4-H livestock sales, parades, school events, fundraisers, and Relays for Life, just to name a few.

Along with donations and sponsorships RTC is involved in area communities on an ongoing basis through chambers and other community organizations. Many RTC employees are members of the local ambulance and fire squads and volunteer their time to numerous other causes.

RTC enjoys staying involved in the communities they serve. RTC Marketing Manager Kristin Jaeger says, "We care about our communities. It's rewarding to be active participants and see their projects succeed!"

Sidney Students Of The Month

Chosen by the Library this month, Madison Gorde is a fifth grader in Mrs. Lovegren's class. Madison has a deep love for reading and will always venture into new genres, try out new authors and quickly go for the sequel when she's introduced to a new series. She is a natural leader as she can organize her thoughts and be sure to include others to get group work done. Madison is very helpful and is one of the most polite students at West Side. Working with younger students on their reading a couple times has been great and Madison says she really loves helping out. Madison's favorite subjects are math and writing, her hobby is reading, and playing outside with her dog, Holly, is another favorite pastime. She also studies tap and jazz dancing. Madison says when she grows up she would like to be a Book Critic. Her second choice is being a teacher. Madison has a younger sister, Makena, and her parents are Rich and Linda Gorde.

The Social Science department at Sidney High School is extremely pleased to announce Madeline Warner as its unanimous selection for student of the month. She is currently enrolled in the advanced government course. Madeline has also participated in the psychology, street law, world history, leadership, and accelerated U.S. history classes while at SHS. She is active in class discussions and her deep interest into the foundation of our nation, politics, and the function of our government has made her enjoyable to teach. Madeline has been impressive in her content knowledge, work ethic, and ability to synthesize information when applying key aspects of the social sciences. Furthermore, she is articulate, has strong opinions, and debates teachers and students alike. She is currently the president of LEO club and is in contention for valedictorian of her class. Madeline is the daughter of David and Shelee Warner.

Madeline Warner

The Sidney High School Communication Arts department is pleased to announce Taylor Fay as its February student of the month. Taylor Fay is an active student in Advanced English, enthusiastically participating in class discussions, acting groups, and class activities. Outside of class, Taylor competed in two events at Speech and Drama, performed in the SHS school play (both fall and spring productions), and participated in other activities and clubs. Her enthusiasm for communication arts is displayed on a daily basis.

Taylor Fay

Taylor is taking her acting abilities to the next level. She recently returned from auditioning for the University of Minnesota acting program. Auditions were held in Los Angeles, and Taylor performed well in this competitive atmosphere. Taylor is the daughter of Mary Fay and Brian Fay. Congratulations, Taylor!

Home Of The Comfortable Shoe Williston Gets A Unique Store

By Theresa Yockim
Sam is getting SASsy! And that's a good thing. Setting out to find the best shoe lines available, he managed to pull down exclusivity with SAS Shoes, a real win for him and the area! Choosing to locate in the iconic downtown Hedderich's building on Main Street, Williston, it's high, tin scrolled ceiling above and beautiful hand hewn pine floorboards below add character to his decor. "I wanted red carpeting throughout for that Red Carpet appeal, but my installer talked me into leaving the floor bare because it has such great qualities," he says.

Sam Kitzenberg, former representative, senator, teacher/librarian and shoe salesman has come back to his roots. Growing into the family business, H&H Shoes, Glasgow, MT, which belonged to his father, Sam grew to love it. In his father's wisdom, he one day sent Sam to a national buyers market in Minnesota, where he was told to find the top shoe. Coming home with SAS, an argument quickly ensued when his father refused to order more than six pairs. "I learned a valuable lesson that day and eventually the SAS line filled half a wall in our store," he said.

They worked side by side for many years and the business then became Sam's Shoes. Eventually going to school at the University of Montana, Missoula, he obtained an English degree which he later upgraded to Teaching and Bachelor of Arts through Minot State University.

Over the years he's won many prestigious awards. Among those is the Montana Education Association's Apple Award, a Chamber of Commerce Man of the Year award, Pro Deo et Patria award for the Boy Scouts. Having worked tirelessly in the Montana state government for nearly 20 years; six years as a state representative and eight as a state senator, he is well connected.

During his time in government, Sam became fast friends with former Democratic Congress woman, Gabrielle Giffords. "The day that Gabby was shot, it was like that bullet went through my head too. I was glued to the television for the next four days," he says with a tearful expression. He is reading her book and maintains his friendship with her.

Life has come full circle for him now, as he has settled in Williston and brought with him a great industry that he's very passionate about; foot wear. Currently, there are no other retail outlets devoted solely to them. His secondary goal is to give excellent customer service. One comes in, is asked questions, is fitted and leaves with a product that will make them feel like they've been taken care of. "We're selling solutions here," he says.

During the process of opening his new space, several snags have had a definite impact. Because of delays with a local title company, Sam's Shoes will be forced to hold several soft openings as inventory continues to trickle in. "It's time for the flowers to bloom," he waxes poetically, "and yet they are still in the box."

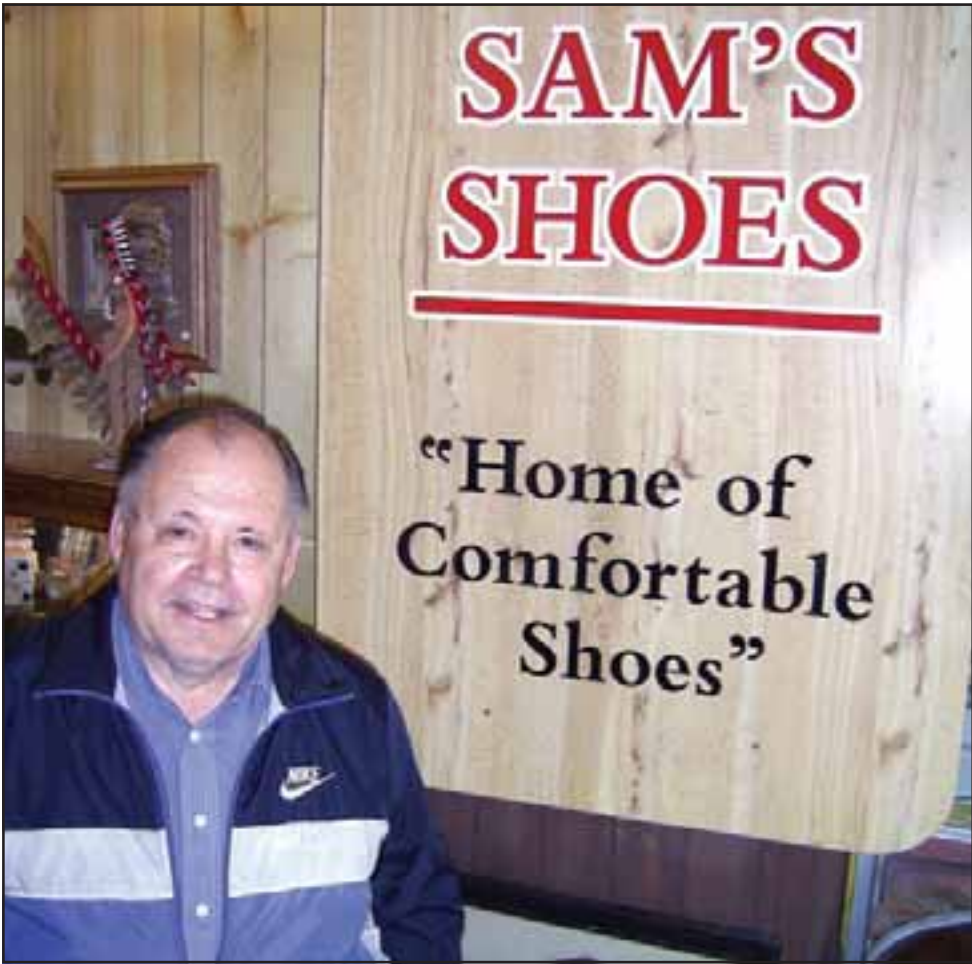

His line will consist of major brands such as American Eagle, Naturalizer, LifeStride and of course, SAS. Consequently, among the 15 quality brands you will eventually find, the foot wear presented on the first of three Grand Openings will be joined by others on the second and third.

Sam's Shoes will hold its first Grand Opening on Saturday, April 14 from 10 a.m.-5:30 p.m. His second date is Saturday, April 21 and finally, Friday, April 27. Regular store hours are 10 a.m.-5:30 p.m. Monday-Saturday.

Assistant Manager Megan, the daughter of Sam's accountant, is delighted for the experience that Sam is offering her. A student at Williston State College, she dreams of one day owning her own clothing store. Still looking to add team members, Sam is utilizing help wanted ads and is searching for several more talented persons to help him staff the sales floor.

Sam's Shoes is located at 120 Main St., Williston. You can also reach him at 406-263-4242 for employment opportunities and other questions.

Sign-Up & Re-Enrollment Deadline Extended For CRP General Sign-Up 43

U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) Farm Service Agency (FSA) Administrator Bruce Nelson today announced that the sign-up deadline for the Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) has been extended to April 13, 2012.

"Due to strong interest in CRP, the decision was made to extend CRP sign-up 43 for an additional week. I encourage all eligible farmers and ranchers to take advantage of this opportunity to participate in CRP," said Nelson. "Whether new enrollees or re-enrolling existing CRP contracts, producers who sign up for CRP help to conserve land and improve our soil, water, air and wildlife habitat resources."

After the CRP general sign-up ends on April 13, FSA will evaluate offers based on cost and the Environmental Benefits Index (EBI). The EBI takes into consideration variables such as wildlife habitat, water quality protection, soil erosion reduction, air quality protection and other enduring benefits. Accepted offers will become effective Oct. 1, 2012.

CRP is a voluntary program available to agricultural producers to help them use environmentally sensitive land for conservation benefits. Producers enrolled in CRP plant long-term, resource-conserving covers to improve the quality of water, control soil erosion and develop wildlife habitat. In return, USDA provides participants with rental payments and cost-share assistance. Contract duration is between 10 and 15 years. Producers with expiring contracts and producers with environmentally sensitive land are encouraged to evaluate their options under CRP.

CRP has a 25-year legacy of successfully protecting the nation's natural resources through voluntary participation, while providing significant economic and environmental benefits to rural communities across the United States. Currently, about 30 million acres are enrolled in CRP.

CRP continues to make major contributions to national efforts to improve water and air quality, prevent soil erosion by protecting the most sensitive areas including those prone to flash flooding and runoff. At the same time, CRP has helped increase populations of pheasants, quail, ducks, and other rare species, like the sage grouse, the lesser prairie chicken, and others. Highlights of CRP include:

- CRP has restored more than two million acres of wetlands and two million acres of riparian buffers;
- Each year, CRP keeps more than 600 million pounds of nitrogen and more than 100 million pounds of phosphorous from flowing into our nation's streams, rivers, and lakes.
- CRP provides $1.8 billion annually to landowners—dollars that make their way into local economies, supporting small businesses and creating jobs; and

• CRP is the largest private lands carbon sequestration program in the country. By placing vulnerable cropland into conservation, CRP sequesters carbon in plants and soil, and reduces both fuel and fertilizer usage. In 2010, CRP resulted in carbon sequestration equal to taking almost 10 million cars off the road.

In 2011, USDA enrolled a record number of acres of private working lands in conservation programs, working with more than 500,000 farmers and ranchers to implement conservation practices that clean the air we breathe, filter the water we drink, and prevent soil erosion. Moreover, the Obama Administration, with Agriculture Secretary Vilsack's leadership, has worked tirelessly to strengthen rural America, implement the Farm Bill, maintain a strong farm safety net, and create opportunities for America's farmers and ranchers. U.S. agriculture is currently experiencing one of its most productive periods in American history thanks to the productivity, resiliency, and resourcefulness of our producers.

Producers are encouraged to contact their local FSA service center or visit FSA's website at <http://www.fsa.usda.gov/crp> for additional information regarding CRP.

MT DOT Meeting

The MT Dept of Transportation (MT DOT) hosted an informational meeting on Thursday, April 5, at the Sidney High School Cafeteria. The MT DOT will be conducting a six month corridor study of the highway between Glendive and Fairview. (MT 16 / MT 200) The study does NOT include the city limits of Glendive, Sidney or Fairview. DOT officials provided information about the scope and purpose of the corridor study, present information about existing and projected conditions and listened to feedback from local community members. For more information on the study visit www.mdt.mt.gov/pubinvolve/mt16. Pictured is Sarah Nicolai, DOWL HKM Project Manager, presenting information.

MDHC Hosts "A Night To Remember"

April 14, 1912 has been called the end of an era with the sinking of the RMS Titanic. 100 years later to the night, we will learn about Montana's connections to the fateful ship, and also watch A Night to Remember, a 1958 film which is often called the most accurate dramatic portrayal of that night ever recorded. With over 60 Titanic survivors input in the book on which the film was based, and a surviving officer of the ship serving as technical advisor, it's easy to see why. This event is FREE and open to the public. Doors open at 6:30 p.m. The program will begin at 7. Evening wear and life-jacket optional.

Thanks to Blue Rock for helping make this event possible.

For further information please contact Leann at the MonDak Heritage Center, mdhc@richland.org or 406-433-3500.
