High Caliber Sports And Main Appliance Open

Clint and Sherry Hecker have opened High Caliber Sports and Main Appliance at 214 S. Central Ave. in Sidney. High Caliber Sports fulfills a long time dream for Clint and Sherry is very supportive of his dream. They added the appliances to fill a need, and also to supplement the sporting goods.

High Caliber Sports stocks an extensive array of firearms, plus the ammo and all the accessories such as scopes, holsters, gun cleaning equipment and much more. They buy, sell, trade, consign and are happy to fill special requests. They also carry hunting and fishing supplies, paintball supplies and self defense products. Archery equipment will arrive soon.

Main Appliance provides a full line of GE appliances. They are working with GE to provide service in the near future.

Clint and Sherry welcome everyone to come and

Comments Sought Regarding Watford City Bypass

Watford City, McKenzie County and the North Dakota Department of Transportation, in cooperation with the Federal Highway Administration, are proposing a highway bypass/reliever route around the corporate limits of Watford City, North Dakota connecting ND Highway 23 and US Highway 85.

The project consists of developing an Environmental Assessment (EA) which would analyze the potential environmental, social, and economic impacts of constructing a bypass/reliever route around Watford City, North Dakota. Alternative highway bypass/reliever route alignments would be analyzed within the identified study area.

The project is anticipated to include right-of-way acquisition and is expected to be constructed during the 2014 construction season.

To ensure that all social, economic, and environmental effects are considered in the development of this project, they are soliciting your views and comments on the proposed project pursuant to Section 102(2) (D) (IV) of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969, as amended. They are particularly interested in any property which you or your department may own or have an interest in, and which would be adjacent to the proposed roadway improvement. They would also appreciate being made aware of any proposed developments that are being contemplated in the areas under construction for the proposed roadway facility. Any information that might help them in their studies would be appreciated.

There will be a public input meeting in June or July 2012.

Information or comments relating to environmental or other matters that you might furnish will be incorporated into an "Environmental Assessment" when prepared.

Any comments or information can be forwarded to the office of Kadrmias, Lee & Jackson at P.O. Box 9767, Fargo, ND 58016.

KB's Bubbles Open For Business In Sidney

By Jaimee Green
There's good news for oil workers and RV dwelling residents who don't have the convenience of personal washing machines and dryers in their homes. The opening of KB's Bubbles at 115 9th Ave NE along the truck route is providing a place where people can wash their clothes in coin operated machines or take advantage of the wash and fold service that enables laundry goers to drop off their clothing and pick it up the next day.

Wash and fold services will be available within the next week.

Kelly Bahls, 39, a life-long Sidney resident hopes his newest business venture will create a retirement security net for himself while helping fill a growing need in the community. "With all of the people coming into the area I wanted to start a business that would be sustainable that I could plan on for my retirement when the time comes. I saw a need for additional laundry facilities and by doing this I have created a future maintenance job for myself," he said.

With 32 new stainless steel washing machines humming along and the smell of fresh linen and fabric softened clothing wafting the air, Bahls' business dream has become a recent reality. Inside, black tables and chairs are available for folks to pull up a seat and relax and in a matter of days a couple of television sets will be installed to help keep patrons entertained. The building is also equipped with Wi-Fi capabilities for those who want to stay plugged in. Several washing machines are strictly designated as greaser machines for oil splattered clothing.

With coin operated services available 24 hours a day, patrons with varying work schedules can use the laundry facilities at their convenience.

Jacob Phillips, a patron, said he is using the facility until he is able to get a washer and dryer hooked up into his RV. "This is a really nice facility. Everything is new and the washers are a really good quality. I will still come here to wash my linens because the washers are so big," he said.

An anonymous patron from Idaho said he was most excited about the wash and fold services available because he doesn't have the time or the desire to wash his own laundry. "This place is definitely catering to the oil field and I think it's great to have these services available," he said.

Originally, Bahls planned to only offer coin operated services but his entrepreneurial thinking grew the business before the doors ever opened. While including the wash and fold services, he also plans to add an attached convenience store that will carry snacks and other travel friendly foods. Hiring several employees, he plans to lean on the expertise of Kellie Hart to help manage the convenience store and Deb Huft, of Sidney, to help him iron out the details of the wash and fold service.

Bahls currently owns his Kelly's T n T, a drywall company and has been in business for nearly 10 years.

KB's Bubbles is named after his seven year old daughter, Kaylee Bahls.

Bahls started searching for a piece of property a year ago that could potentially house his laundry facility. He chose the location along the truck route because potential customers pass by continually and it would be convenient and accessible to truckers driving large semi trucks. Once he acquired the land he used his carpentry skills to build the business literally from the ground up and used local contractors for the heating and plumbing. He broke ground last August and poured concrete in September admitting that it could have been completed faster if he had not traveled to Alaska for his annual moose hunting trip.

For design inspiration, he traveled to places like Billings, Mont., and Dickinson N.D to look at other established facilities. Once he came up with a layout for his own business he received some additional help and suggestions from Dexter, the company he purchased the washing machines through.

"One of the good things about building something yourself is that you can control costs better. This entire process has been an exciting adventure. It's a big step for me and I'm nervous but everyone seems to really like it," he said.

Locally, Bahls contracted with B & J Heating and Mike Potts of Sidney and Quality Concrete and Quinnell Electric, of Savage.

Bahls said he still has more concrete to pour to increase the size of the parking lot and anticipates completing the convenience store by the end of summer.

The laundry facility is open 24 hours a day and the next-day, wash and fold services are tentatively scheduled for 5:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m.

Sidney Health Center Upgrades To A 4D Ultrasound System

Sidney Health Center now has a 4D ultrasound system from Philips Medical Systems, providing advanced diagnostic imaging capabilities for patients and clinicians.

The Philips 4D (or real time, 3D) imaging technology allows patients to view the fetus and internal organs as if they were being held in the hands. Because it can be used in the most delicate conditions without major side effects, ultrasound has become one of the most popular diagnostic methods among both patients and physicians. Ultrasound uses high-frequency sound waves to produce moving images of the body's internal soft tissue structures. It provides a safe, fast and relatively painless means of diagnostic imaging on an outpatient basis.

The system's powerful imaging capabilities support a variety of common exams, including OB, blood vessels, thyroid, and testicular exams. It also offers advanced imaging capabilities specifically beneficial in the evaluation of breast masses.

"It's exciting to offer 4D imaging for our patients," commented Linda Labatte, Radiology Manager. "Ultrasound imaging offers a relatively low cost and non-invasive way to look inside the body. By upgrading to a 4D system, we now have the ability to acquire a higher level of diagnostic information that may reduce the need for a more invasive procedure."

The system's revolutionary workflow features greatly benefit the ultrasound technician and their patients. The Philips 4D ultrasound machine is referred to as an "intelligent" system because it is designed to adapt to the technician's exam needs, making their job faster and easier.

The new ultrasound machine features an adjustable, articulating flat screen LCD monitor that can be positioned so that it can be viewed from almost any direction. This allows patients the ability to see images during scanning, as well. The system can be operated by intelligent voice-command. A highly moveable control panel increases the technician's flexibility to work around the patient, and the system's sleek profile makes it easy to move to wherever it is needed.

With this new upgrade at Sidney Health Center, the Philips 4D intelligent ultrasound system has the potential to:

Make ultrasound exams much faster

Help patients and their physician better visualize and understand their condition

Help identify the nature of suspicious breast lesions sooner utilizing new, higher resolution, higher frequency transducers

Enhance diagnostic capability, thus reducing or eliminating the need for more expensive or invasive tests and procedures

Provide clearer ultrasound images, especially in difficult-to-image patients

Guide catheters and needles in 3D space without radiation exposure

Sidney Health Center is pleased to be able to offer this significant improvement in radiology services to the patients of the MonDak region. Sidney Health Center has been providing quality healthcare services to the area since 1907.

Governor for 2012
Jim O'Hara and Scott Swingley

After putting up 70 billboards in 56 counties, I am willing to bet I am "The Hardest Working Governor Candidate"

Myth: It is impossible to run a statewide campaign unless you spend hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Fact: Jim O'Hara has shown, you can run an effective statewide campaign with a few thousand dollars and a lot of hard work.

Myth: You can't run a statewide campaign without a lot of paid staff.

Fact: Jim O'Hara runs his own campaign with minimal staff and hard work.

Myth: Politics is all about how much money a politician can raise to get elected.

Fact: Jim O'Hara believes politics is about how hard a politician is willing to work to serve the people!

Fact: The more money a politician raises, the more favors that politician owes.

On June 5th, I would appreciate your vote for the hardest working candidate for Montana's Governor 2012.

PSC Warns Of National Scam Targeting Utility Customers

The Montana Public Service Commission is warning state residents of a nationwide scam that promises assistance with paying utility bills.

The scam claims President Barack Obama has authorized credits or payments to utility bills. The program does not exist, however.

The con artists are posing as utility representatives to make their pitch, which comes with a request for personal information such as Social Security, credit card and bank account numbers, putting customers at risk for identity theft.

In other instances, victims were given a fraudulent bank account number and asked to use the account when paying residential utility bills.

Victims in other states were contacted by phone, text message, through social media or in person.

The scam has not yet reached the Treasure State, but the PSC reminds Montanans to be cautious if contacted about utility payments.

Stockman Bank Donates $5,000 To Richey Booster Club

Stockman Bank recently donated $5,000 to the Richey Booster Club to help support the Richey town park fund.

The booster club has been raising money to build a beautiful park for the town of Richey which will include building a pavilion, walk ways, moving in playground equipment from an abandoned playground and doing in-depth landscaping. They have been soliciting funds for the materials as the labor is mostly volunteer labor from community members.

"I am very excited Stockman Bank can be a part of this project, as I know it will bring many great benefits to our community," comments Della Kenny, assistant branch manager for Stockman Bank in Richey.

Stockman Bank was established in 1953 and is Montana owned and operated with 25 full-service banking locations throughout Montana. Stockman supports strong education, health care and both economic & cultural development in the communities they serve. Supporting the Richey park fund is just another way Stockman Bank gives back to their local communities.

Documentary Project Moving Forward

A documentary project, seeking to document the lives of six brothers growing up in McKenzie County during the Great Depression, World War II years and beyond, has been progressing.

"We've raised enough financial support to begin the interview process," says Daniel Stenberg, a grandson of one of the six brothers, who is co-producing the documentary preliminarily titled 6 Brothers with Prairie Public Broadcasting. "Thanks to the generous support of over 70 individuals and businesses, a grant from the North Dakota Humanities Council and support from Prairie Public, the project has raised approximately $61,000 of the nearly $75,000 budget." The project, which will be based on the six Stenberg brothers—Arnold, Casper, Christian, Henry, Raymond and Selmer (all deceased)—will be told through interviews with neighbors and relatives. Additionally, community leaders and humanities scholars will also be interviewed to include more information about the activities of the surrounding area and state. Stenberg says the goal is to appeal to those viewers interested in how local, national and international events—primarily during the 1920s-1950s—affected a common North Dakotan family. Filming of interviews will begin in June, and the project is hoped to be completed sometime in the middle of 2013 provided sufficient funding is raised in time.

Any business or individual wanting to make a donation to the project and get their name in the credits can make a tax-deductible donation to the "Pioneer Museum of McKenzie County" with "6 Brothers project" in the memo line. Checks can be dropped off at the museum, or mailed in to the museum at PO Box 699, Watford City, ND 58854.

Montana CattleWomen To Hold Mid-Year Meeting May 31 In Lewistown

The Montana CattleWomen (MCW) will hold their Mid-Year Meeting on May 31 at the Yogo Inn in Lewistown beginning at 9 a.m. The Montana Beef Council will give a factual presentation on "lean finely textured beef" which has received national media attention as "pink slime." The group is also kicking off its 60th Anniversary Celebration.

To mark their 60th anniversary, the CattleWomen are putting together a brands quilt with the help of Linda Logsdon who created a special brands quilt to mark the 125th Anniversary of the Montana Stockgrowers Association. "I'm sure this one will be as spectacular as the one she did for the Stockgrowers," said Vicki Olson, MCW president. "Anyone wanting a brand on the quilt must contact us by Mid-Year to get a spot reserved." MCW President-Elect Wanda Pinnow is heading the quilt project.

To learn more about MCW's Mid-Year Meeting, visit www.montana-cattlewomen.org. Registration forms and the $10 registration fee can be sent to Conni Ahlgren, Box 56 Grass Range, MT 59032. Questions can be emailed to cahlgren@midrivers.com.

Candidate Public Forum Scheduled

On June 12th, voters will be heading to the poles to cast their ballots for several city and county positions. To allow voters the opportunity to ask the candidates questions and to allow the candidates to state their viewpoints, the Williston Area Chamber of Commerce Governmental Affairs Committee has organized a Candidate Public Forum. The forum will be held at the Williston Community Library on Saturday, June 2nd from 10:30am-12:30pm. Candidates from the Park Board, City Commission, County Commission, and School Board have been invited and will be available to answer any questions you may have. The public is encouraged to attend and refreshments will be served.

Letter To The Editor

I am writing in response to the nauseating negative campaign tactics one of our candidates for legislature has decided to mount against his opponent. Any candidate who has to resort to organizing and encouraging an underhanded derogatory letter campaign against his opposition ought not to receive even one single vote from Richland County residents. The sanctimonious rhetoric spewing from the pens of these individuals who have chosen to go along with these questionable ethics is enough to gag a maggot. For the record, Tami Christensen happens to be a card carrying member of the National Rifle Association. She strongly supports second amendment rights, despite what her misinformed opponents claim. I also very much appreciate the fact that Christensen strongly supports women's rights. Women's rights need to be defended against those who would see them stripped away one right at a time, and kudos for Christensen for having the courage and the foresight to defend those rights. Christensen has lived in this area all her adult life. She has raised a family here, and she operates an important agricultural business in Sidney. She understands Richland County, she has involved herself in many ways to better this county, and she will serve ALL residents, not cater exclusively to the fringe element. Her opponent, on the other hand, moved back here simply to run for Legislature. He's out of touch with Richland County, and he brings with him big city campaign tactics that warns us in advance of how he will continue to behave if elected. We sorely need moderate Democrats and Republicans in office, rational people who have beliefs and values but who understand that their way isn't necessarily the only way or even the best way; people who will reach out to find workable compromises with members of other parties and accomplish in a civilized, intelligent manner what best serves the people they were elected to represent. When it comes to the vote in June, I for one will remember who ran her campaign with integrity and ethics, and I certainly won't forget which candidate ran his campaign trying to discredit his opponent, rather than focusing on the issues. -Lois Kerr

Spill Prevention, Control & Countermeasure Deadlines

Montana State University Extension has been fielding numerous questions about confusion over deadlines required by the Environmental Protection Agency's program for Spill Prevention, Control, and Countermeasure (SPCC).

Seeking to prevent oil spills in the waters of the United States and adjoining shorelines, the program calls for farms and other facilities to have an oil-spill prevention plan, or SPCC plan, with a deadline for filing that plan set to expire next year.

The EPA definition of a farm is "a facility on a tract of land devoted to the production of crops or raising of animals, including fish, which produced and sold, or normally would have produced and sold, $1,000 or more of agricultural products during a year."

Many questions concerning SPCC regulations regarding farms has been related to public notices about a compliance deadline extension for farmers.

Farms that started operations after August 16, 2002 are entitled to an extended deadline of May 10, 2013, for filing their SPCC plan. Farms in operation before August 16, 2002, should maintain or amend their existing plan by May 10, 2013. Farms in operation before August 16, 2002, that do not already have a plan should not wait until May 10, 2013, but should prepare and implement one as soon as possible.

The SPCC regulations under the EPA have been on the Federal Register since 1972.

"There is widespread misunderstanding that these are new regulations; when in fact, SPCC rules were authorized under the Clean Water Act of 1972 and made effective in 1974," said Adam Sigler, Water Quality Associate Specialist in the MSU Department of Land Resources and Environmental Sciences.

Under the regulations, a farm falls under SPCC only if it meets certain criteria. Those covered by SPCC are farms that store, transfer, use or consume oil or oil products — diesel fuel, gasoline, lube oil, hydraulic oil, adjuvant oil, crop oil, vegetable oil or animal fat — and store more than 1,320 U.S. gallons of those products in above-ground containers or more than 42,000 U.S. gallons in completely buried containers, with a reasonable risk that they might spill into waterways of the U.S. or adjoining shorelines of interstate waters, intrastate lakes, rivers and streams.

The law specifically applies to "navigable waters," which has been and continues to be a matter of legal dispute.

Although there has been anticipation about possible changes to the SPCC legislation, MSU Extension cautions farmers that they are responsible for determining if their farm falls under the criteria in the SPCC rules.

Guidance for inventorying and documenting oil storage capacity and determining reasonable risks for spills into applicable waters are available on webpages maintained by MSU and North Dakota State University — <http://waterquality.montana.edu/docs/SPCC.shtml> and <http://www.ag.ndsu.edu/waterquality/spcc-1>, respectively.

MSU Extension recommends that farmers keep a record of their findings, although it is not necessary to file findings with the EPA. While the EPA does not actively seek violators, it does have the authority to inspect farms, and failure to comply with SPCC may result in a fine. Both university websites provide links to templates and EPA websites to help insure an inspection will meet EPA requirements.

Those without Internet access, or with further questions, can contact county Extension agents for assistance, or call MSU Extension Agent Mark Rude in Sheridan County, at (406) 765-3406.

Sidney Health Center To Host Cancer Survivor Celebration

Sidney Health Center is hosting a Cancer Survivor Celebration open house for area survivors, family and friends on Tuesday, June 5 from 4:00-6:00PM in the Cancer Care Suite.

Each year, National Cancer Survivors Day is observed on the first Sunday of June. This year marks the 25th annual celebration of life for hundreds of communities worldwide. Cancer survivors, caregivers, family members, friends and healthcare professionals unite to show that life after a cancer diagnosis can be meaningful and productive.

The general public is invited to attend the open house at the Cancer Care Suite, located at 214 14th Avenue Southwest in Sidney. There will be tours of the radiation therapy area as well as updates on the construction of Phase II, which entails relocating chemotherapy to the Cancer Care Suite.

"It's a great opportunity for us to honor area cancer survivors and share the exciting news regarding the construction of Phase II," commented Judy Carda, Cancer Care Manager. "We can hardly wait to see this project to completion. Our patients will see the benefits first hand from improved privacy to personalized care."

According to a 2011 as-essment, Phase II of the Cancer Center was a high priority for cancer survivors. In fact, the majority of focus group members wrote down Phase II as the number one action step for Sidney Health Center to become a cancer center of excellence. Many focus group members raved about the care they had received through the chemotherapy department despite the location, referring to the designated space in the ER area.

Phase II involves renovating Suite 103 in the clinic and building a private entrance to the Cancer Care Center. Upon completion of the project, all outpatient cancer care services will be centralized, enhancing and streamlining patient care for those going through treatment. The renovation includes adding four chemotherapy and IV therapy infusion rooms with a centralized nursing station as well as providing designated clinic space for the medical oncologist.

Anyone living with a history of cancer – from the moment of diagnosis through the remainder of life, is a cancer survivor, according to the National Cancer Survivors Day Foundation. Nearly 12 million Americans are now living with and beyond a diagnosis of cancer. In the United States, men have a slightly less than a 1 in 2 lifetime risk of developing cancer; for women, the risk is a little more than 1 in 3. Learning about this disease is crucial, because many forms of cancer can be prevented and most cured if detected early.

Major advances in cancer prevention, early detection, and treatment have resulted in longer survival, and therefore, a growing number of cancer survivors. However, a cancer diagnosis can leave a host of problems in its wake. Physical, financial and emotional hardships often persist after diagnosis and treatment. Survivors may face many challenges such as hindered access to cancer specialists and promising new treatments, inadequate insurance, financial hardships, employment problems and psychological struggles. In light of these difficulties, our community needs to focus on improving the quality of life for cancer survivors.

"Despite the adversities, cancer survivors serve as an inspiration to all of us," stated Dr. Lyle Harrison, radiation oncologist. "I've been serving the MonDak region for 15 years and it never ceases to amaze me the strength and courage that many cancer patients display through the course of their treatment.

Boat Validation Decal Reminder

Don't be embarrassed this summer by that old green decal on your boat!

Remember, owners of motorboats, sailboats or personal watercraft must have the new, free orange 2011-2014 validation decals on their watercraft. The new decal is good until 2014.

Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks boating law enforcement coordinator Ron Jendro reminds boaters that even when they have permanently registered their boats, sailboats, or PWC they must still obtain two free boat validation decals every three years at FWP regional and area offices, or by going to the FWP website at fwp.mt.gov at Boat Validation Decals.

Owners who order validation decals on the FWP website will receive the decals in the mail. A current boat registration receipt issued by the County Treasurer is needed to obtain the decals.

For new boat or PWC owners, the County Treasurer's office will provide the first set of validation decals when the watercraft is registered. Boat owners will obtain subsequent sets of validation decals at a FWP regional or area office, or online.

Recreationists Reminded To Check Stream Access Rules

Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks reminds Montanans planning camping, fishing and float trips to check the rules and regulations governing stream access. Montana's 1985 Stream Access Law enables water-related recreation, including fishing, floating, swimming, and boating on rivers and streams even if they flow past private land—but only up to the ordinary high water mark.

With the passage of Montana's bridge access law in 2009, FWP is working with landowners, counties and other agencies to provide safe and legal access to rivers and streams at bridges.

When waterways are running at full flow there may be no dry land available below the high water mark to walk on. Montana's laws do not allow recreationists to enter private lands bordering streams or to cross private lands to access streams without permission.

"At high water, aside from being careful, recreationists should either avoid the area until water levels drop or get landowner permission to cross private land," said Jim Kropp, FWP Enforcement Chief. Kropp said recreationists using bridge crossings for stream access must also be able to stay within the high-water mark during high flows and not cross private property.

Recreationists must ask for permission to use private land to access public waterways.

"Irrigation ditches are generally private property and no access is allowed without the permission of the landowner. But with a little advance planning, those wishing to use Montana's streams have huge opportunities to float, fish or just enjoy," Kropp said.

Deer Application Deadline Is June 6

North Dakota deer hunters are reminded the deadline for submitting applications for the 2012 gun season is June 6. Hunters are encouraged to apply online at the State Game and Fish Department website, gf.nd.gov.

The deadline applies to muzzleloader, regular gun, gratis and nonresident landowner, and youth antlered mule deer applications (specifically for antlered mule deer in units 3B1, 3B2, and 4A-4F).

The deadline for regular statewide youth licenses is Sept. 1. In addition, the deadline for submitting an antlerless white-tailed deer gun application for ages 12 and 13 is Sept. 1. Hunters are reminded that completion of a hunter education course is required before applying.

Hunters who choose not to apply online can print out an application to mail at the Game and Fish Department website. Applications are also accepted by calling (800) 406-6409, and paper forms are available at county auditors, license vendors and Game and Fish offices.

Anyone mailing applications to the Game and Fish Department is advised to mail early because some post offices use the following day's postmark for mail received after regular hours. The department's online application feature will be deactivated June 6 at midnight.

First Fish Certificate

The North Dakota Game and Fish Department is reminding parents to capture their little angler's first catch on a specially designed First Fish certificate.

First Fish has no qualifying weights or measurements. The only requirement is the successful landing of a North Dakota fish. Certificates are available to all who request them, and have ample room for all the important information, such as name, age, lake and a short fish story, plus a blank space for a photograph big enough to contain the smile of the happiest little angler.

Free certificates are available by contacting the Game and Fish Department at (701) 328-6300, or send an email to ndgf@nd.gov.

FSA Allocates Additional 400,000 Acres For Wildlife Enhancement Initiative

USDA North Dakota Farm Service Agency (FSA) Executive Director Aaron Krauter has announced that FSA has allocated an additional 400,000 acres nationwide to the State Acres for Wildlife Enhancement (SAFE) program that improves habitat for high-priority wildlife species.

"SAFE is a voluntary conservation initiatives that provides an opportunity for grassroots conservation partners to develop related projects to address high priority wildlife needs through habitat restoration," said Krauter.

Various conservation practices currently offered under the Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) are fine-tuned through the SAFE proposal to improve, connect or create higher-quality wildlife habitats by promoting healthier ecosystems in the project areas identified as essential to the effective management of high priority wildlife species.

Krauter added, "Once a project proposal is approved and acreage allocated, the SAFE program is implemented through a continuous CRP signup allowing USDA to accept producer acreage offers year-round."

As with other Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) initiatives, the land and producer must meet certain eligibility requirements. Once approval of the SAFE project is announced, interested landowners can submit offers to voluntarily enroll qualifying acres in a SAFE project/CRP contract for a term of 10-15 years. In exchange, SAFE/CRP program participants receive annual rental payments, project incentives and cost-share assistance to establish habitat-enhancing natural covers on eligible land.

For additional SAFE project area details or other questions, please contact your local FSA Office or visit the web site at: <http://www.fsa.usda.gov>; click on "Conservation Programs."

Free Fishing June 2-3

North Dakota anglers are reminded they can fish for free June 2-3.

That is the weekend North Dakota residents may fish without a license. All other fishing regulations apply.

Refer to the 2012-14 North Dakota Fishing Guide for season information.

Non-game Check Off Funds Put To Work

Every year at income tax time many Montanans contribute to the income tax check-off fund for wildlife. Annually these donations contribute on average about $27,000.

Proposals for putting this funding to work include: $15,000 for work to identify the most critical habitats for non-game, threatened or endangered species and identifying and monitoring any threats to these critical habitats.

$15,000 for inventory, monitoring and conservation work on species of concern including bald eagles, common loons, bats and amphibians.

$5,000 for a stipend for a student to perform non-game species research.

This work supports elements of FWP's overall non-game management program. The tax check-off funding is used with State Wildlife Grant funds for high priority habitat, survey, inventory and conservation needs.

Crops & Weeds Field Day July 18

Montana State University's Post Research Farm west of Bozeman will host a crops and weeds field day July 18 from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Pest control advisors, farm managers, chemical company cooperators, and students can learn about on-going crop and weed research programs at MSU. Attendees can receive Certified Crop Adviser credits, and commercial and private applicator pesticide recertification credits.

Staff will share information about research plots and demonstrate weed management techniques, pesticide application strategies, nutrient dynamics, cropping systems, insect management, and crop traits. Weed, nutrient, entomology, and cropping systems specialists will discuss field trial results.

Several field experts will share updates on their research projects.

Included in the event:

- Weed management

presentations by Fabian Menalled, Ed Davis, Jane Mangold, Judith Barroso, and Patrick Lawrence

- Spring wheat breeding expert Luther Talbert

- Soil nutrient management Rick Engel

- Integrated insect pests management with Kevin Wanner

- MSU Diagnostic Services: Toby Day, Hillary Parkinson and Linnea

Skoglundon

Registration is $10 and covers refreshments, lunch and a handbook.

Please pre-register by July 14. Contact Hilary Parkinson at (406) 994-6297 or by e-mail at hilary.parkinson@montana.edu. You can also register at the Post Farm July 18. The Post Farm is located eight miles west of Bozeman on Highway 191.

Starr Foundation Scholarship

On behalf of the Bud and Hennie Starr Foundation scholarship, Kim Syth presented a $1200 scholarship to each of the following Fairview High School students: Ashley Skorpil, Jenna Finsaas, Jorden Cotter, Shelby Norby and Tiffany Kittleson.

Barbara Kittleson Scholarship

Leslie Tveit of Merchants Bank presented Shelby Norby and Tiffany Kittleson each a $500 scholarship from the Barbara Kittleson Scholarship at the Fairview Awards Day.

Merchants Bank

Merchants Bank purchased First Security Bank-West in Fairview in October 2011. The new owners decided to continue the scholarship program through the bank. Brent Torgerson, president, awarded Alyxandra Hardy and Ashley Skorpil each with $750 and Jenna Finsaas with $1,000.

“Ride To The Top” Horsemanship Clinic

Young Women between the ages of 10-25 looking to improve their horsemanship skills or to prepare for rodeo queen competition are invited to the 3rd Annual Miss Rodeo Montana Horsemanship Clinic, June 15th – 17th, at the Harrison Land and Livestock horse facility in Belt, Montana.

The “Ride to the Top” clinic is designed to help young women improve their skills and learn what it takes to compete in rodeo queen pageant horsemanship competition. Participants bring their own horses and receive one-on-one instruction from an experienced group of clinicians.

Topics to be covered will be: how to work the rodeo arena as a rodeo queen, how to work cattle, and how to prepare for the horsemanship portion of a rodeo queen pageant competition – including basic horsemanship, mounting & dismounting, patterns, arena runs, carrying flags and gaining a better relationship with your horse.

The registration cost for the clinic is: $85 for Miss Rodeo Montana membership holders and current 2011-2012 title holders; cost for non Miss Rodeo Montana, Inc. members is $95.

Registration includes: Friday night in-class instruction with Miss Rodeo Montana 2011 Lorissa Harris, with a potluck meal. Breakfast and lunches are included for participants, RV Hook-Ups are available and there is no fee for stalling.

For more information please contact Linda Rest, event coordinator: (406) 373-9823 home or (406) 672-5495 cellular, or email blinglmc@yahoo.com
