Eden Atwood Quartet to Perform Oct. 4

The Northeastern Arts Network presents the Eden Atwood Quartet on Thursday, October 4th at 7:00 pm as part of their Big Sky Concert Series.

A fine interpreter of lyrics, Eden Atwood started off her jazz career with a series of excellent recordings for Concord Records. Raised in Montana, Atwood studied drama and musical theatre at college and also attended the American Conservatory of Music in Chicago. Although she worked as a model and an actress, Atwood has focused her attentions on singing; she made her debut in New York in 1992 and sings in a style somewhere between jazz and cabaret. Smooth, saucy, seductive, or soaring, describes just a taste of what Eden's rich vocal palette brings to the stage. Eden has performed all over the world sharing bills with Gene Harris, Joshua Redman and Toshiko Akiyoshi Big Band. She has been featured on NPR's Piano Jazz with Marian McPartland and Ms. McPartland appears on three tracks of Eden's CD 'There Again'. Starbucks Coffee, Eddie Bauer and Brooks Brothers have all put tracks of Eden's on their compilation CD's along side Billie Holiday, Sarah Vaughan, and Nancy Wilson.

USDA Announces Supplemental Revenue Assistance Payments Sign-Up Period for 2011 Crop Losses

Farm Service Agency Administrator Juan Garcia announced today the sign-up period for the 2011 crop year Supplemental Revenue Assistance Payments (SURE) program will open Oct. 22, 2012. The SURE program is part of the Food, Conservation, and Energy Act of 2008 (Farm Bill). Under the 2008 Farm Bill, SURE authorizes assistance to farmers and ranchers who suffered crop losses caused by natural disasters occurring through Sept. 30, 2011.

"Any eligible producer who suffered losses during the 2011 crop year is encouraged to visit a local FSA office to learn more about the SURE program and how to apply," said Garcia.

As of Sept. 30, 2011, the Department's authority to operate the SURE program expired along with four other, important disaster assistance programs: the Livestock Indemnity Program (LIP); the Emergency Assistance for Livestock, Honey Bees, and Farm-Raised Fish (ELAP); the Livestock Forage Disaster Program (LFP); and the Tree Assistance Program (TAP). Production losses due to disasters occurring after Sept. 30, 2011, are not eligible for disaster program coverage.

To be eligible for SURE, a farm or ranch must have:

At least a 10-percent production loss on a crop of economic significance; A policy or plan of insurance under the Federal Crop Insurance Act or the Noninsured Crop Disaster Assistance Program (NAP) for all economically significant crops; Been physically located in a county that was declared a primary disaster county or contiguous county by the Secretary of Agriculture under a Secretarial Disaster Designation. Without a Secretarial Disaster Designation, individual producers may be eligible if the actual production on the farm is less than 50 percent of the normal production on the farm due to a natural disaster. A "farm" for SURE purposes means the entirety of all crop acreage in all counties that a producer planted or intended to be planted for harvest for normal commercial sale or on-farm livestock feeding, including native and improved grassland intended for haying.

Producers considered socially disadvantaged, a beginning farmer or rancher, or a limited resource farmer may be eligible for SURE without a policy or plan of insurance or NAP coverage.

Farmers and ranchers interested in signing up must contact their local FSA county office for an appointment and complete the 2011 SURE sign up process before the June 7, 2013 deadline.

MicroTel Inn & Suites, Sidney Open For Business

MicroTel Inn & Suites 1500 South Central Ave., Sidney

MicroTel Inn & Suites, Sidney, welcomed its first guests on April 27, 2012. Since then the motel has been providing exceptional comfort and service to an almost capacity clientele. The motel, which is located at 1500 S. Central Avenue, features 76 rooms, 12 of which are suites, 46 are standard with two queen beds, 12 are singles, plus there is one handicap suite, a handicap single and three handicap standard rooms. MicroTel modeled its motels after the European style, with smaller rooms at a reasonable price. Twelve of those rooms are available, but the North American market demanded more space so the company as a whole decided to add standard rooms as well. Those rooms are spacious and include many amenities including high speed wireless internet and HD TVs with satellite.

A welcoming lobby provides relaxing space and includes a fireplace and television. A deluxe continental breakfast is served every morning and the coffee is always on.

MicroTel guests can relax in the pool or hot tub any time of the day, or get a workout in the fitness room. The pool is also available for parties with a room rental. Laundry facilities are located on the 2nd and 4th floors, and there is a sundries shop as well.

The Sidney motel has some unique features including the maroon exterior paint. Approval was required from Wyndam, and fortunately, they decided it would look good here. The motel also has a locker room for guests to store extra items, such as work clothes and boots. Each locker features a boot warmer. There are also washers and dryers in that room.

MicroTel is owned by Presidential Hospitality under franchise agreement with Wyndam Worldwide which is one of the biggest hotel groups in the world, encompassing many well known brand names. Guests can earn Wyndam Rewards points by staying at any of their hotels world wide.

MicroTel has recorded a fairly full occupancy rate of 80 to 100% Monday through Wednesday. Tuesday through Sunday is slower, with a 40-70% occupancy rate. Contrary to popular belief, rooms are available in Sidney, particularly on the weekends. MicroTel's week-end rate is $119 for a standard room with 2 queen beds. That rate is subject to availability.

New Temporary Exhibit, Montana's Seasons

The MonDak Heritage Center is pleased to announce the opening of Edith Freeman's Montana Seasons. The late Edith Freeman was an artist, teacher and rancher. Her lush and serene woodblock prints capture central Montana in all its varied seasons, evoking memories and reminding us of our region's beauties.

Born in 1913 in Broadview, Montana, Freeman moved to Billings in 1919, where she attended Billings public schools and received her B.A. and M.S. from Eastern Montana College (now MSU-Billings). Freeman taught in a number of elementary schools throughout her 30-year teaching career. Upon retirement, she began her second career as a printmaker. Few artists have been as deeply attuned as Edith Freeman to the austere beauty of Eastern Montana. Mastering reduction block woodcut printing, a challenging technique by which multiple, colored prints are achieved using a single block of wood, she based her strong compositions on study of the prairie and rimrocks, the river valleys and wildflower meadows, her backyard garden and household plants. Among many honors, Edith Freeman was the recipient of the Montana Governor's Award for the Arts.

This wonderful exhibition, on loan from the Yellowstone Art Museum, features her works through all four seasons in Montana. It has also been made possible by the Montana Art Gallery Directors Association.

Not A Record, But Very Close

By Beth Redlin

Altogether, more than 250 area residents, businesses, schools and government agencies recycled just shy of 29 Tons (57,939 pounds) of e-waste at this year's "E-rase your E-waste" events, organizers reported last week. The amount collected was just under last year's record breaking total of 59,630 pounds, which brings the program's 8-year total to over 266,000 pounds or 133 Tons of e-waste that has been recycled in Richland County.

"We just missed setting another record," Jackie Couture, co-chair of the local "E-rase your E-waste" Committee, noted. "So we were very pleased with this year's participation."

In particular, the group's four, summer month, mini-collection events attracted a lot of participation again this year, Butch Renders, another e-waste committee member noted. Overall, Couture and Renders reported that a total of 255 individuals, businesses and organizations participated in the group's 2012 collection events, including the four mini-collections and the final weekend event held Sept. 7-8. They brought with them hundreds of electronic items, including 381 monitors, 387 CPUs, 218 printers, 11 large copiers and 204 television sets. "And a lot of those TVs were huge!" Renders added.

Luckily the group had lots of help from loyal volunteers who return year after year to help out, as well as good support from county agencies. "The Richland County Solid Waste Department lets us use their shop space for all our events," Renders noted. "And they also let us store the e-waste there until it can be picked up, which we very much appreciate."

Renders and Couture thanked all the volunteers who came out to unload, load, palletize and shrink wrap the items, and once again pointed to the Richland County RSVP program as a major supporter of the effort. "So many of our senior volunteers return every year and several times in a single year....Stan Lindblom, Deek and Betty Risinger, Bill Forrester, Regina Schwindt and more ....they're there whenever we need them," Renders said. "Basically they're family now!"

Other volunteers helping out this year included the Juvenile Probation Office and their charges, Couture said, adding, "They worked hard and we really appreciate it!"

A number of local businesses also regularly step up to provide pallets, cardboard, shrink wrap and promotional support to aid the effort, Couture noted, for which the E-rase your E-waste Committee is very appreciative. They include Sidney Health Center, Sidney Sugars, Richland Opportunities, Inc, and the Montana Department of Environmental Quality.

Volunteer Butch Renders shrink wraps a pallet of oversized TVs for shipping during the September 7-8th "E-rase your E-waste" collection event at the Richland County Shop in Sidney.

Parent Café Meetings

A great offering for parents in the area is a Parent Café being held the first Wednesday of each month from 12:00-1:00 p.m. at the Public Library basement. This gathering allows time for parents to learn what’s going on at their schools, receive information and share ideas. You should bring your own lunch. The October 3rd meeting is a presentation called “You can’t stop what you don’t know,” by Sidney Middle School principal Kelly Johnson. This presentation provides information about the hidden drug and alcohol messages promoted in teen music, clothing, and other products. If this is the only presentation you attend this year, it will be worth your while. For more information, contact Diana or Nicole at (406) 433-4097.

Montana Public Media Presents Debates, Launches Website

Montana's public broadcasting services, Montana Public Radio, Yellowstone Public Radio and MontanaPBS, have joined with The University of Montana School of Journalism to launch an election year website and collaborate on broadcast debates and election programming.

The website, <http://montanapublicmedia.org>, will archive all the broadcast and online material produced by the partners. It also will provide links to other Web resources.

"The goal is to be a 'go-to' site for citizens who want to learn more about the candidates and the races," said William Marcus, a general manager of MontanaPBS and MTPR.

The partners also plan an ambitious lineup of broadcast debates, candidate profiles and interviews, special documentaries and "Equal Time" and "Ad Watch" segments. The debates will be broadcast live on public radio and TV at 7 p.m. on the following dates:

Monday, Oct. 8: U.S. Senate race.

Wednesday, Oct. 10: Governor race.

MontanaPBS will broadcast fact-checking segments produced by the UM School of Journalism following each debate, and MTPR will provide analysis for radio listeners.

MTPR's "Campaign Beat" and Jackie

Yamanaka's candidate interviews and call-in programs will be archived on <http://montanapublicmedia.org>, as will the "Ad Watch" and "Equal Time" segments from MontanaPBS. "Equal Time" allow candidates for Montana's four government administrative offices: secretary of state, state auditor, attorney general and superintendent of public instruction. It's an unedited opportunity to answer a set of pertinent questions. "Ad Watch" analyzes campaign advertising.

MontanaPBS will broadcast documentary profiles of the candidates for U.S. Senate, U.S. House of Representatives and governor. Another MontanaPBS program, "Billing Montanans," will examine how two Montana families' tax dollars are apportioned to sectors of local and state government.

The news staffs at MTPR and YPR will produce interviews and call-in programs with candidates as part of their regular news programming.

The coverage will culminate with live election-night reporting, coordinated with PBS NewsHour and NPR coverage, to bring viewers and listeners results from statewide races.

Montana Public Media's website and special reporting is supported, in part, by a grant from the Greater Montana Foundation.

Moen Speaks to Chamber Members

Curt Moen, Watford City Planner, spoke to Watford City chamber members last week about retail opportunities and other developments in the greater Watford City area. He reviewed issues concerning the oil and gas industry and quality housing, outlining the challenges of the past 18 months including dust, roads, wear and tear on infrastructure, and the cost of development. McKenzie County received $12 million from the state last year, which was spent in 6 months. This year, they are requesting $110 million which would be used, in part, to improve the water system and meet the growing demand for daycare. Plans include spring completion of a new daycare facility next to the Middle School.

Moen also talked about "taking a leap of faith" concerning the US 2, ND 23 bypass. The final hearing on that project will not be held until late 2012 or early 2013, with work hopefully in full swing by 2014.

Area Residents Urged to Have Appropriate Home Markings

In the event of an emergency, having a well-marked home may save a life.

Area residents are encouraged to check their house numbers and rural addresses and put up appropriate markings. With all the new law enforcement, fire department and EMS personnel, correct addresses are critical. The City of Fairview is in the process of replacing street signs. If you have a question concerning your correct address, contact Faye Carlson at City Hall, 406-742-5616.

Utilities File Natural Gas Rate Cases With PSC

Montana’s two largest regulated energy utilities this week filed requests for natural gas rate increases with the Public Service Commission (PSC).

Montana-Dakota Utilities and NorthWestern Energy filed separate rate cases with the Commission, which will review the requests and issue final orders in about nine months.

“Rate cases are the most crucial function of the PSC, and we’re taking an all hands-on-deck approach to these important proceedings,” PSC Chairman Travis Kavulla, R-Great Falls, said. “It is far too early to make any conclusions about what the utilities are asking for, but ratepayers and utilities alike should know that any request for rate increases will be closely scrutinized.”

The filings come amidst historic lows in natural gas prices. The average bill for a residential natural gas customer on NorthWestern’s system fell 39 percent in the last four years while the bill for MDU customers dropped 45 percent.

The rate cases filed by the utilities seek to recover the cost of infrastructure that delivers natural gas to customers, however, and not fuel costs.

MDU is seeking to recover increased investments in facilities and associated depreciation, operation and maintenance costs and taxes linked to the new investments, according to the company’s filing.

As proposed by MDU, a typical residential customer’s bill would increase by $3.37 per month as part of a $3.5 million, or 6 percent, annual increase over current rates.

MDU, which serves about 79,000 natural gas customers, last filed a gas rate case in April 2004. In that case, the Commission granted a $125,000 increase, or less than 1 percent.

The recent applications are available online under Dockets D2012.9.100 (MDU) and D2012.9.94 (NorthWestern). The Commission has taken no action on either filing.

Interested parties will have an opportunity to formally intervene in both cases and provide testimony on the reasonableness of the requests. The Montana Consumer Counsel represents ratepayers in matters before the PSC.

The commission will likely issue final orders early next summer.

Estate Preservation Will Be Focus of Upcoming Workshop

Thrivent Financial for Lutherans is hosting a free educational workshop on estate preservation. Called “Estate Strategy Essentials,” the 45-minute workshop will be held at 9:45 a.m. on October 14, 2012 at Pella Lutheran Church’s Education Wing Assembly Area, Sidney, MT. The workshop is presented by Ron Gebhardt, ron.gebhardt@thrivent.com, 406-433-5287 and Harvey Senn, Harvey.senn@thrivent.com 406-433-6143 CA/AR Insurance ID #58464 financial representatives with Thrivent Financial for Lutherans in Sidney.

The “Estate Strategy Essentials” workshop helps participants understand the three essential elements of any good estate strategy: wills, durable/financial powers of attorney, living wills/medical powers of attorney. As a result of attending the workshop, attendees will be better prepared to take action to protect their estates and pass them on according to their wishes.

“Having proper estate planning documents in place such as wills, trusts and powers of attorney can save families a great deal of financial and emotional stress,” says Senn. “This workshop offers tools to help people make smart, informed decisions about protecting their estates according to their wishes.”

Thrivent Financial for Lutherans and its respective associates and employees cannot provide legal, accounting, or tax advice or services. Work with your Thrivent Financial representative, and as appropriate your attorney and/or tax professional for additional information.

DID YOU KNOW?

Drowsy Driving
will put you and others at risk!

By Richland County Injury Prevention Coalition
In general, since all humans require sleep on a daily basis, any driver can be affected by fatigue putting them and you at risk of a crash... Learn who is at risk, what factors increase the risk, the signs of fatigue and what can be done to reduce the risk.

The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration conservatively estimates that 100,000 police-reported crashes are the direct result of driver fatigue each year. This results in an estimated 1,550 deaths, 71,000 injuries, and $12.5 billion in monetary losses. These figures may be the tip of the iceberg, since currently it is difficult to attribute crashes to sleepiness.

According to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration the following groups are at higher risks:

- Young people, especially males under 29
- Shift workers and people with long work hours, working the night shift. The National Sleep Foundation reports it “increases your risk by nearly 6 times”.
- People with undiagnosed or untreated sleep disorders.
- Other factors that could put you at risk:
  - Working more than 60 hours a week “increases your risk by 40%” reported by the National Sleep Foundation.
  - Working more than one job and your main job involves shift work
  - Drinking even small amounts of alcohol
  - Driving alone or on a long, rural, dark or boring road
  - Sleep-deprived or fatigued, “6 hours of sleep or less” triples your risk” reported by the National Sleep Foundation.
  - Driving long distances without appropriate rest breaks
  - Driving through the night, mid-afternoon (for older adults) or when you would normally be asleep
  - Taking sedating medications, antidepressants, cold tablets, antihistamines, and other prescribed or over the counter medications

Do you know the signs?

- Difficulty focusing, frequent blinking, or heavy eyelids
- Daydreaming; wandering thoughts
- Trouble remembering the last few miles driven
- Yawning repeatedly or rubbing your eyes
- Trouble keeping your head up
- Drifting from your lane, tailgating, or hitting the rumble strip
- Feeling restless and irritable

What can you do?

- Get adequate sleep before driving
- Healthy eating habits and consuming caffeine drinks
- Schedule breaks every 100 miles or every 2 hours
- Arrange for a driving companion
- Avoid over the counter and prescription medications that cause drowsiness...NEVER DRINK & DRIVE
- Seek medical attention if you suspect undiagnosed or untreated sleep disorders
- Educate yourself or seek information on shift-work measures that may help reduce the risk of fatigue while driving

With the increase of traffic in Richland County and surrounding communities we all need to be aware of the dangers of driving.... Your best protection and defense is a seat-belt. BUCKLE UP each and every time...whether it be short or long distance and make sure you passengers BUCKLE UP....they could injure your in a crash.

For more information please contact Mary Friesz, Richland County Injury Prevention Specialist at the Richland County Health Department 433-2207.

Guest Opinion: 25 Reasons Not to Vote for Obama

1. Unemployment over 8% since Obama took office despite trillions in bailouts and stimulus. Actual unemployment 14% counting underemployed, part-time employment and those who have simply stopped looking for a job. Obama's unkept promise 5%. 23 million Americans unemployed—the most since the depression of the '30s.

2. National debt under Bush 5 trillion. National debt under Obama 16 trillion. That exceeds the combined debt of all the so-called bankrupt countries of Europe. It would be impossible to pay off this debt in our lifetimes, so we are passing a 16 trillion debt to our children and grandchildren courtesy of Obama. $136,000 for every American family.

3. Obamacare. The single most intrusive, most expensive and most reviled law ever passed. The worst parts not in effect until 2014 (how convenient). Doctors warn the cost of medical care will increase sharply while the quality of care declines precipitously. While concentrating all his effort on getting Obamacare passed the President totally ignores an economy in deep recession.

4. Obama becomes a dictator using "executive orders" to supersede laws passed (or not passed) by Congress (e.g. requiring churches opposed to birth control to pay for that coverage as a part of Obamacare). When Congress refuses to pass the "Dream Act" Obama uses "executive orders" to permit illegal aliens special status in the U.S.

5. Obama raids Medicare to the tune of 670 billion to finance his Obamacare.

6. Obama does have success in one area—he has succeeded in dividing this Country as it has never been divided. Haves versus have-nots, old versus young, White versus non-Whites, conservatives versus liberals, insureds versus non-insureds. Bitterness and antipathy are at a zenith under Obama's mean-spirited leadership.

7. Failed bank bailout. Taxpayer money wasted—again.

8. Failed stimulus. Quoting a uniquely honest Obama administrator "We still don't know where the money went."

9. Obama refuses to enforce immigration laws, but he fights to keep Arizona and Texas from enforcing those same laws. (Remember the Latino vote could determine the outcome of the election, especially if Obama successfully eliminates the picture I.D. requirement—thus permitting illegals and dead people to vote—sometimes several times.)

10. "Obama transparency"—executive privilege claimed by Obama for "Fast and Furious". A. G. Holder the first A.G. in history to be cited for Contempt of Congress for withholding thousands of documents on "Fast and Furious".

11. Obama clamps down on private businesses costing thousands of private sector jobs while hiring 16,500 new I.R. S. "enforcers" to police Obamacare.

12. Iranian nukes. Obama sits on his hands while Iran builds nukes capable of reaching our troops in Afghanistan and in Europe. Obama turns his back on Israel when asked by them to help rid the mid-east of Iranian nukes.

13. Terrorists. Obama continues to treat them with kid gloves and tries to permit them to be tried in civil courts—something not even his Democratic allies approve of.

14. Energy. Obama succumbs to pressure from environmental extremists to virtually halt all coal and oil development in America although we have gigantic untapped natural resources. Obama refuses to O.K. the Keystone XL Pipeline which would bring oil from Canadian oil shale to the U.S. Tens of thousands of jobs are lost as a result. Not surprisingly, fall gasoline price is the highest in this nation's history—quickly approaching $4/gallon.

15. Obama, the "food stamp President", increases food stamps by 45% and uses another "executive order" to eliminate the work requirement for food stamp recipients. 45 million Americans on food stamps.

16. Obama refuses since his election to provide a budget as required by law and spends whatever he wants on whatever he wants.

17. Those receiving "entitlements" jumps from 6% in 1962 to 35% in 2012. This virtually assures that the vast majority of these recipients will vote Democrat to assure continuation of the "entitlements".

18. Intelligence leaks. Obama's Whitehouse staff leak national security secrets and Obama refuses to allow his staff to be interviewed by Congressional Investigators.

19. Joe "Big Mouth" Biden—a heartbeat from becoming President. Part of this frightening package.

20. Obama refuses to compromise on tax increases scheduled to begin in 2013—increases that will substantially raise taxes on middleclass Americans. C.B.O. estimates failure to extend these tax increases will raise unemployment to 9% and cost 2 million jobs.

21. While kissing the ring of a Saudi Prince Obama, declares that "America is not a Christian nation". Obama and his family do not attend Christian worship services. Obama seems to have lost his zeal for the Christian religion since he left the fold of Rev. Jeremiah (God Damn America!) Wright—his last real pastor and confidant.

22. Obama begins his term by apologizing to Europeans for being "imperialists" when in fact we saved the bacon of Europe from Nazi terrorism and Asia from Japanese dominance. Perhaps we could forgive Obama's nescience (remember he wasn't even born then), but he is obviously not a student of world history. America came out of WWII as the unquestioned superpower and savior of the World. Now insignificant countries thumb their noses at the U.S. and trash our embassies knowing it's a "paper tiger" under Obama.

23. "You didn't build it." The now infamous quotation from Obama in a speech in which he deprecates private enterprise entrepreneurs and suggests the government can do everything better—the definition of socialism.

24. Afghan retreat. Obama labeled Iraq as "Bush's War". Afghanistan is definitely "Obama's War". Now unpopular, Obama is attempting to surrender to Al Qaeda and our troops are being killed by Afghan security forces trained by us. The Afgan war accomplished nothing and left us with many casualties—some with no limbs and many with traumatic brain damage.

25. "If I don't get this done in three years, then this is going to be a one-term proposition." (Barack Obama, 2009) Let's make his prophecy our hope and reality. America cannot survive another four years of Obama.

HUNTING EDITION

Local Hunters Hunt Elk in Canada

Jim Zueger with his Canadian elk he shot with a 300 Winchester.

Blake Olson with his Canadian elk he shot with a 338 Ruger.

Local Hunters Jim Zueger and Blake Olson hunted elk in Canada September 12-16 east of Lloydminster by Turtleford. The elk pictured above weighed approximately 1,100 lbs. each and both are considered to be in the 390 class. Olson was able to set up this hunting trip by searching online for guide services. “ You can get a hunting guide through an outfitter book or other ways would be word of mouth, talking about hunting with other hunters about where to go, then keep inquiring about it,” Olson stated.

Miller Hired as New Game Warden

Sidney native Jim Miller has returned to Richland County as the game warden for Montana Fish, Wildlife and Parks. The Sidney High School graduate brings a wealth of experience with him having been stationed in Missoula, Glendive, Forsyth, West Yellowstone, Livingston and Gardiner. His transfer to Richland County was effective July 1. Miller will also be responsible for parts of McCone County and will help out statewide wherever he is needed.

Miller's main focus will be to work on and maintain landowner/sportsman relationships. He wishes to build on those relationships and make sure they are positive. He also wants the public and the MT FWP to have a good relationship and make sure the public is receiving the services they need.

FWP transfers are voluntary and Miller is happy to be in Richland County. "I love to bird hunt and fish, and Richland County is just a great place to live," he said. Miller and his wife Kathy plan to live in Crane.

Miller encourages the public to contact 1-800-TIP-MONT to report any violations of game laws. He is also available at 406-853-7272 or email him at jimiller@mt.gov.

FWP Urges Hunters To Check Fire Status Before Heading Afield

With many Montana counties operating under emergency fire restrictions, hunters need to know that some private landowners and Block Management Area cooperators may be reluctant to offer hunting access until weather conditions improve.

Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks urges hunters to check in with the nearest regional FWP office before making final plans. Meanwhile, all hunters must be prepared to prevent wildfire statewide.

"Hunters have a responsibility to be fire conscious," said Ron Aasheim, FWP spokesman in Helena. "It is a matter of human safety and it's our civic duty to be ready to protect the public and private lands we all enjoy."

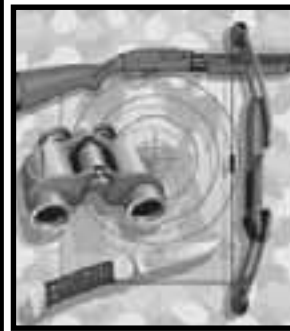

Be aware that conditions remain volatile in many areas. Hunters should:

- " drive only on established roads.
- " avoid roads with tall vegetation in the middle track.
- " never park over dry grass or other vegetation.
- " carry a fire extinguisher-or water-filled weed sprayer, shovel, axe and a cell phone for communications in addition to other outdoor safety gear.
- " restrict camping activities to designated camping areas.
- " not build campfires.
- " smoke only inside buildings or vehicles.

Being able to respond is essential in the first few seconds of a fire start when it is small and easily extinguished.

For up-to-date details on fire and drought-related restrictions and closures, visit FWP's website at fwp.mt.gov. Click Drought & Fire.

Tip-Mont Works 24-7 To Stop Poachers

Montana's outdoor crime-stopper help line, TIP-MONT, has a new online option to report poachers and other hunting-season violators.

Now alert citizens can report poaching and violations of hunting regulations by going to the FWP website at fwp.mt.gov. Click "TIP-MONT" to use the online report form.

"TIP-MONT online is best used to report observations that might help solve a violation that has already occurred," said Brian Shinn, FWP's TIP-MONT coordinator. "The TIP-MONT toll-free number-1-800-TIP-MONT or 1-800-847-6668-is the best way to report crimes that are in progress, or where immediate assistance is needed."

Shinn said that while the online service isn't a real-time TIP-MONT connection, the reports are checked several times a week. Online TIP-MONT reports remain confidential and are managed under the same guidelines that protect all crime-stopper callers.

TIP-MONT callers most often report violations of Montana's hunting rules and regulations. Other important calls pertain to vandalism at Montana state parks and on public lands.

Here are some of the most common hunting season violations reported:

- " failure to obtain permission from landowners before hunting on private property.
- " wasting any part of a game animal suitable for food.
- " failure to properly validate a license or tag, or securely fasten it visibly to a game animal immediately after it is taken and before it is moved or transported from the kill site.
- " taking game from the wrong hunting district.
- " using someone else's tag on a harvest game animal.
- " failure to leave evidence of sex attached.

Callers to 1-800-TIP-MONT, and those who file reports online, may remain anonymous and may be eligible for a cash award of up to $1,000 if the information leads to a conviction.

New Access Opportunities For Game Bird Hunters

This time of year, it's often hard to tell who's more "birdy"-hunters or their dogs. And now, with the advent of Open Fields for Game Bird Hunters opening gates for up to 17,000 acres of walk-in game bird hunting, it's clearly a tossup.

Open Fields for Game Bird Hunters is a pilot program that targets productive game bird habitats enrolled in the Conservation Reserve Program for access and habitat protection. Landowners receive payment for allowing walk-in hunting for game birds during fall seasons on tracts of up to 160 acres of CRP and, in some cases, adjacent land. Tracts are signed, so hunters can simply park and walk in with no further permission required.

For 2012, 55 tracts are enrolled in north central, northeastern and eastern Montana. Contracts extend for a minimum of five years, with many tracts enrolled for up to 10 years. Funding for this 2012 program was included in the 2008 federal Farm Bill, delivered through Farm Service Agency to Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks via a federal grant award.

FWP officials say response from landowners has been excellent, with more applying to enroll than funding could accommodate. Initial reports from hunters are similarly enthusiastic, as hunters express appreciation for new access opportunities to hunt game birds in the fall.

Because many Montana

counties have adopted emergency fire restrictions, hunters need to know that some private landowners may be

2012 Upland Game Bird Season Update

Most of Montana's upland game bird hunting seasons are underway, but many experienced hunters-and their trusty retrievers and pointers- are hoping for good shooting and cooler days ahead.

In most areas of Montana, Montana wing-shooters should find the state rather accommodating with fair to good game bird populations and some pockets of very good hunting potential.

Montana's upland game bird hunting seasons generally run through Jan. 1, 2013. The exception is the sage grouse season, which closes Nov. 1.

Montana's pheasant season opens Oct. 6 and runs through New Year's Day. For more information on upland game bird hunting in Montana, visit FWP's website at fwp.mt.gov, click "Hunting" then click Hunting Guide.

Here's a look at what upland game bird hunters can expect this season

Region 7-Southeastern Montana

"Last winter was among the mildest on record, so over-winter survival of upland game birds was high. Sharp-tailed grouse production was good with excellent numbers throughout the region; sage grouse should be found in fair numbers; turkey populations are good but still below long-term averages. In general, upland game birds have begun to recover from declines due to several harsh winters. Dry conditions this summer probably enhanced brood survival since young chicks easily succumb to the elements in cold, wet weather. While drought conditions and emergency haying of CRP will take a toll on fall hunting, hunters can nonetheless expect to see more upland game birds this fall compared to the past few years.

"Pheasants look to be in good supply. Overall, spring nesting conditions were favorable, thanks to plentiful moisture in spring-summer 2011, which translated abundant residual cover for nesting birds this spring.

reluctant to make access commitments until weather conditions improve. FWP urges hunters to check in with the regional FWP office before making final plans and to be prepared to prevent wildfire statewide.

For more information, visit FWP's website at fwp.mt.gov and click "For Hunters ". Then click "Open Fields for Game Bird Hunters" to find county maps, search the FWP Hunt Planner for enrolled properties, and to take a hunter comment survey.

If You Care About the Outdoors & Hunting, Volunteer

By Marshall Johnson
Regional Director - Mule Deer Foundation

There sure is a lot of gray hair. I just attended a recent habitat dedication with my family and the first thing my boys stated when we got into the car was, "Wow, everyone is so old!" Of course to them, 30 is old, but the boys are right, besides my wife and I only one other couple was there that was under the age of 50. I work with many conservation and hunting organizations throughout Montana and unfortunately, I see a lot of gray hair and very few people under 40.

Recently, as reported in the Billings Gazette, a survey was conducted and the findings showed a 9% increase in hunting, 11% increase in fishing and 36% of Americans participate in outdoor recreational activities. Yet, very few volunteer to ensure that their outdoor passion and our hunting legacy will be there in the future. In fact only 2.3% of our population volunteers for conservation organizations and 3.8% for shooting sports, according the Bureau of Labor Statistics (9/2011)

The #1 reason I hear when a person is asked to volunteer is "I am too busy". If you are passionate about the outdoors, hunting and/or the shooting sports, you should NEVER be too busy. If you think that someone else will do it, you are terribly mistaken as the culture of our country shifted from a "Best for Us" culture to a "Best for Me" culture and a lack of responsibility. So, if you are concerned, complain about the current outdoors situations, then take time to do something about it and introduce others including our youth. Introducing youth and young adults to giving back and volunteering, will improve self esteem and a sense of responsibility. Self esteem will come from being a part of something important, accomplishment and the importance of teamwork.

If you enjoy the outdoors it is time to give back by volunteering with an organization whose mission is to ensure conservation, shooting sports, outdoors and our hunting legacy. What a great way to bond with your family and create family memories that benefit what we are passionate about for future generations. But, if you are going to leave it to the gray hairs because you are too busy, the future of conservation, hunting and other outdoor activities will die with them.

LOOK BEFORE YOU SHOOT

One of the rules for any hunter is "be sure of your target and beyond." This is certainly true when power lines are in the area, or using an insulator as a target. The effects are far reaching if an insulator is broken. A lineman's life may be at risk, a person's life support equipment may fail and several families over a large area may be without power.
