Ross Rosaaen Donates “Cancer Battle Suit” To The 10th Annual Best Kept Secret Bra Auction

By Meagan Dotson

Every year since 2012 Ross Rosaaen has donated a unique bra for the Best Kept Secret Bra Auction, an event which raises money for the Cancer Coalition Relief Fund. This fund offers assistance to patients receiving cancer treatment through the Sidney Health Center and are specifically designated to assist with living expenses during treatment and provide cancer screening in Richland, McCone, Dawson, Wibaux, Prairie, and Fallon Counties. Rosaaen has taken the initiative to use his skills as a welder to fashion some of the most interesting and elaborate bras at the annual event.

In 2011 Donetta Asbeck came into Niehenke Welding needing his help with a bra she was working on for the event and after that Rosaaen decided to create one of his own.

This year he is dedicating his donation to Asbeck, Nikki Carda, and Mickyla Eide.

“They are the reason I got involved in the first place,” said Rosaaen. “They sparked my interest.”

Over the years, his donations have raised over

$55,000; two years ago, his “Superman” bra sold for $33,000 with the condition that Rosaaen try it on himself, which, being a good sport, he obliged.

“There have been a lot of great supporters,” he commented of the fundraiser. Having had family members with cancer, he added, “You never know when someone will need help. It’s great community support and the money raised stays local.”

This year, his donated creation, which is nothing short of artistry and is his biggest one to date, is entitled “Cancer Battle Suit” and is highly anticipated, promising to shock and awe. This year may be Rosaaen’s last Bra Auction for a while as business and family is keeping him quite busy and he is hoping to peak people’s interest with his to-be-donated bra weighing nine pounds and that’s not including the accessories which complete the “Cancer Battle Suit”.

Rosaaen, who was born and raised in Sidney, says he enjoys the challenge of building the bras and so far has put about twenty-four hours into welding the “Cancer Battle Suit” that will be unveiled at this year’s Best Kept Secret Bra Auction, Friday, May 1st at the event Center in Sidney with registration from 6:00 pm to 7:00 pm and the live auction from 7:00 pm until 9:00 pm. In addition to the silent and live auction, there will be appetizers, DJ music, and drinks available.

To donate a bra or attend the 10th Annual Bra Auction, contact the Richland County Health Department at 406-433-2207.

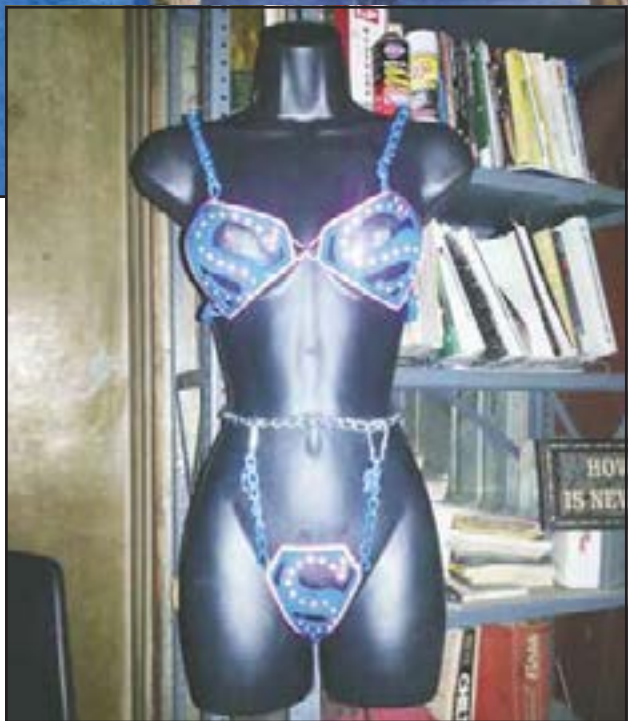

Rosaaen is hoping for a large turn out this year as it is the 10th Annual Bra Auction and would like to see regular supporters as well as those new to the event turn out. What started out as a fundraising event to help women get screened for breast cancer has become a huge success and the event has grown every year generating enough funding to aid those with all types of cancer.

“The ladies that put this event together are awesome,” he commended. “It’s a fun way to get involved and help the community.”

Recycled Art At Alexander Public School

Submitted by Regie Hill

Alexander Public School welcomed artist Jane Kalmback for a week long residency sponsored by a grant from the North Dakota Council on the Arts. K-12 and afterschool program students participated in art classes throughout the week which focused on “Recycled Art.” On Thursday March 26th Alexander Public School hosted a “Student Art Gala” to the community in conjunction with Family Fun Night and the school book fair.

This project is supported in part by a grant from the North Dakota Council on the Arts, which receives funding from the state legislature and the National Endowment for the Arts.

Public Notice

Barring unforeseen circumstances, the Lower Yellowstone Irrigation Project will begin filling and flushing the Main Canal on Monday, April 27 at 6 am. Please ensure that all children, livestock, and fences are out of the canals, ditches, drains, and harm’s way. Please unlock any gates along canals.

Yellowstone River Water OK For Irrigation

By Dianne Swanson

Lower Yellowstone Irrigation Project manager James Brower was happy to report to his board that The Center for Toxicology and Environmental Health (CTEH), along with an independent laboratory, have determined good water quality that poses no hazard in using the Yellowstone River water for irrigation. The testing was done as a result of the Bridger pipeline break January 18, 2015.

Brower reported that comprehensive water and silt samples from in front of the first, middle and last gates at the Intake Headgates had been taken on April 8. The independent laboratory had confirmed that no volatiles were found in any of the samples and only normal trace amounts of hydrocarbons had been found in the silt in front of the gates. These trace amounts were normal for navigable waters, similar to baseline readings upstream from the pipeline spill and way below threshold for reporting and MT DEQ screening level.

The Week of the Young Child

Submitted by Kathy Helmuth
Richland County Health Department

The Week of the Young Child™ is an annual celebration sponsored by the National Association for the Education of Young Children (NAEYC), the world’s largest early childhood education association, with nearly 80,000 members and a network of over 300 local, state, and regional Affiliates.

The purpose of the Week of the Young Child™ is to focus public attention on the needs of young children and their families and to recognize the early childhood programs and services that meet those needs.

NAEYC designates the Week of the Young Child™ dates and theme, but events are planned and implemented by local communities. Celebrations are organized and coordinated by regional, state, and local NAEYC Affiliates, and by individual early childhood programs and community organizations providing services to young children and families.

The Sunrise Child Care Association again celebrates the Week of the Young Child in 2015. We had a variety of activities including theme days in participating child care sites from April

The first baby born during Week of the Young Child is Elliot O'Brien. Pictured is parents Jason and Kristin O'Brien and Rowan O'Brien and Kathy Helmuth of the Richland County Health Department.

13th through April 17th. In Lambert, the school and the Lion’s Den joined us to invite preschoolers and their parents to walk a lap on the track and then have a meal at the Lion’s Den. The turnout was great! Sunrise Child Care Association also gave away a basket to the family of the first baby born during the Week of the Young Child. Congratulations to the O’Brien Family! Upcoming events include our Children’s Carnival on Sunday, May 3rd from 2 pm to 4 pm at the Richland County Fair Event Center and Provider Appreciation Day on May 8th. MNAXLP

Join Meadowlark Brewing For Their Dos De Mayo Fun Run, Proceeds To Benefit The Richland Community Complex

By Meagan Dotson

The Meadowlark Public House and Brewing will be holding the “Dos de Mayo Fun Run” Saturday, May 2nd with registration beginning at 8:30. It is a 5K or 10K family friendly walk or run that will raise funds for the Richland Community Complex (RCC). Since the RCC will benefit so many families in the area, the event is being promoted as a fun way to get everyone involved. The sign up cost is $40 for adults with $50 being a generous donation and $30 for children; kids can ride bikes as long as they have helmets and strollers are free.

“Community involvement is important to us because we truly believe where you live becomes great based on the individuals and businesses that make it up. We can put our efforts into building an enjoyable place to live or we can be bystanders,” stated owners Travis and Emily Peterson. “We chose to sponsor the Richland Community Complex for this run because of the range of people the complex will benefit. Families, rehab clients, sports team, daycare groups, individual athletes, the list is endless. We want this community to thrive well beyond the Bakken.”

Anyone interested in participating can still sign up at the Meadowlark Brewing or the Sidney Chamber of Commerce until the day of, though shirts cannot be guaranteed; everyone is invited to get festive in their sombreros and other party wear. A drink token will be donated to every runner to try our new Peach Wheat Ale. For non-drinkers the token can be used for soda and iced tea. The majority of the ticket sales will benefit the RCC with proceeds from water and Cinco de Mayo sales going to the complex 100%. Any donation over the price of the ticket sales will also go entirely to the RCC.

For anyone interested in making further donations to the RCC, individuals can donate on several levels: Platinum donors- $1,000,000 and over, Ambassadors- $500,000 to $999,999, Regents- $250,000 to $499,999, Pacesetters- $100,000 to $249,000, Founders- $50,000 to $99,999, Benefactors- $25,000 to $49,999, Patrons- $10,000 to $24,999, Builders- $5,000 to $9,999, and Friends- $1 to $5,000.

“Your level of support will proudly be displayed in the entry of this new building (RCC) and will leave a legacy that will last a lifetime. We are a non-profit entity and your support is tax-deductible. Please show your support in the form of a check to the Richland Community Complex, 1201 W Holly #1, Sidney, MT, 59270,” stated Lisa Gorder with the RCC committee.

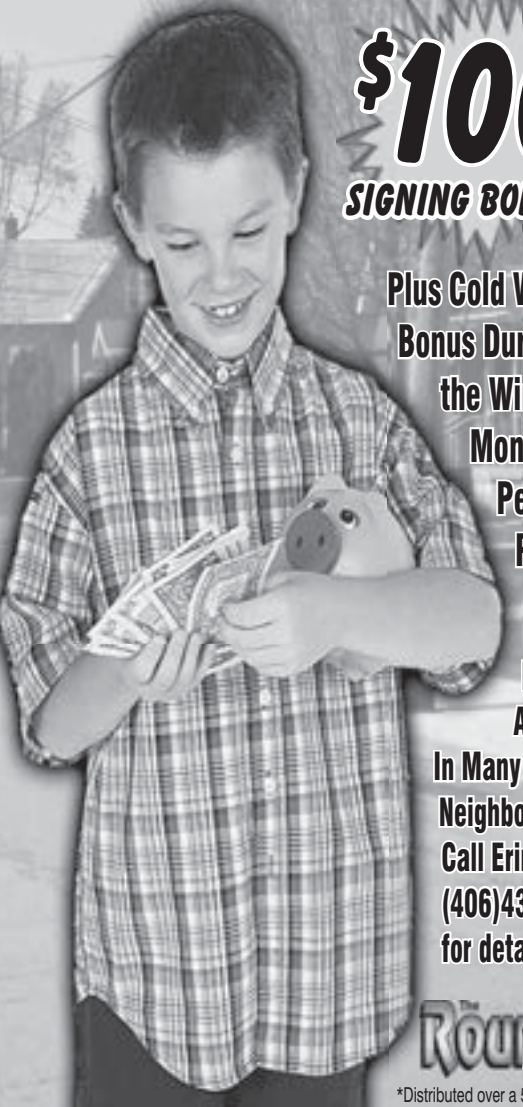

The Meadowlark will also be releasing their Peach Wheat Ale that day, an anticipated unveiling.

“Our customers love fruit beers and this will be a new spin on a Peach Ale that we are eager for people to try. It will be extra refreshing after a long run!” commented Travis Peterson.

There is no limit to the number of people that participate in this fun-filled fundraising event and the Meadowlark Brewery invites you to join them in helping support the RCC.

A Time To Remember Held In Fairview

The Fairview for our Youth committee was formed last summer after realizing a need for more youth activities during the Fairview Old Timer's Festival. The committee started, with the assistance and guidance of the Richland County Partnership for Promise and the hospitality of the Fairview Ministerial Alliance, with free monthly movies being held on the last Friday of each month. The group has started to receive donations and many people have shown interest in supporting and participating in this group. More activities will be planned throughout the year, such as a Mother Son Time to Remember in the fall. These activities give special moments to youth and their adult mentors, which show youth that there are caring adults in their lives and encourages time to be spent making memories and learning how to talk to and trust each other. This kind of relationship will help youth make better lifestyle choices in the future and to achieve success in their adult life. The Partnership for Promise follows the guidelines from America's Promise, a national program which believes there are five promises a community must provide to children and youth to encourage healthy choices in life to succeed. These are:

- 1) To provide caring adults to be part of their environment.
- 2) To give them a healthy start in their lives by having activities

America's Promise teaches that if four of these five promises are met, children and youth have a better chance in being successful and productive adults. The Richland County Partnership for Promise is an action group that is made up of many different organizations in the community that focuses on providing these promises to children and youth of Richland County. If you are interested in being a part of this group, the Fairview for our Youth committee, or would like to see this started in your community, please contact Missy Smies, 433-4097 or missysmies@outlook.com. You can find us on FB-Richland County Partnership for Promise!

No E-Rase Your E-Waste Event In May

Submitted by Beth Redlin

Members of the E-raise Your E-waste committee announced this week that there will be no e-waste collection in Sidney this spring, but that the event will be held as usual in the fall.

“Our e-cycler recently informed us that they would not be able to take televisions or CRT monitors at our annual spring collection event in May because of a backlog of those items in recycling warehouses across the country,” Committee Chair Jackie Couture noted. “We also heard the same thing from Montana DEQ (Department of Environmental Quality). Because those items represent a large part of what we collect at our events, we’ve decided to wait until September to hold another collection to give us and our e-cycler time to come up with options for local residents.”

The committee is hoping the backlog will be addressed by the time its fall event comes around in September, according to Couture. She added, however, that the group plans to go ahead with the fall event regardless so that residents can safely dispose of their other e-waste items.

If the backlog continues there may have to be a charge for recycling television sets and CRT monitors at future E-raise your E-waste events, Couture said. In cancelling the May event this year, organizers are hoping the backlog for CRT monitors and TVs will be at least partially alleviated by fall potentially curtailing the need for a charge, but if not, the committee will also have had time to consider other options to reduce the expense for area residents.

“When we started these collections more than a decade ago, there was a per pound charge for all the e-waste brought in for recycling,” Couture noted. “At that time, the city and the county contributed funds and we raised additional money from local businesses and individuals to help offset the charges for area residents to encourage them to recycle. We may have to do something similar again if the situation remains as is. To date, we’ve been lucky to be able to offer the event free since 2010.”

Couture encouraged local residents to hang on to their outdated electronics and other e-waste items until the September E-raise Your E-waste event in Sidney, or recycle them with other recycling businesses in the area. For example, in Sidney Pacific Steel & Recycling takes e-waste, and while they, too, are feeling the crunch in recycling televisions and CRT monitors, they can take other e-waste items and in some instances will pay you for them. They may also take some televisions and monitors for a charge, but before hauling those items, interested persons are encouraged to call ahead to see what items are being accepted and what if any charges exist for recycling those items (406-433-1301).

Couture also reminded residents, that one well-known local recycling business, Richland Opportunities Inc., DOES NOT handle electronic waste (just paper, cardboard, some plastics, etc.) so please do not drop your e-waste there. She also discouraged residents from taking their items to the Richland County landfill.

“Given the high lead content in TVs and CRT monitors - up to 4 pounds in the glass - the last thing we want people to do is to dump them in the local landfill,” Couture said, noting lead poses a human health hazard. “We’re hoping to have a solution by fall. In the meantime, we’re very disappointed not to be able to hold our spring event, but will work hard to ensure that September’s event goes on as planned.”

Stockman Bank Sidney Announces Staff Promotions

Submitted by Sheri Sukut
SIDNEY – Stockman Bank announces the promotions of Dana Jonsson, Wade Whiteman and Melanie Wadley.

Jonsson has been promoted to vice president, Ag loan officer for Stockman Bank in Sidney. Her responsibilities include developing and servicing agricultural loans and assisting clients with their lending needs. She will also be responsible for the day to day management of the Ag Department.

Jonsson has 14 years of banking experience and has been a great asset to the Ag Department at Stockman Bank since 2006. She graduated from the University of Minnesota – Crookston, where she obtained a Bachelor of Science degree with a double major in business management and marketing.

She is currently a Kiwanis Board Member and the President of SAVAGE, Inc. She resides in Savage with her husband Kjeld, and four year old son, Karsten. Jonsson may be reached at 433-8629.

Whiteman has been promoted to vice president, Ag loan officer. He joined Stockman Bank as an Ag loan officer in 2010. His responsibilities include developing and servicing agricultural loans and assisting clients with their lending needs. He will also be responsible for the day to day management of the Ag Department.

Whiteman, a Montana native, is a 1996 graduate of Richey High School. He graduated from Montana State University in 2000 with a Bachelor of Science degree in animal science–livestock management and also earned an associate of applied science degree in agri business in 1998 from Dawson Community College. His agri business knowledge and strong farming and ranching background will provide valuable resources not only for customers and potential clients, but for the community as well.

He is actively involved in the community and is currently involved with the Richland County Conservation District as a board member, and he also serves on the board of HealthWorks.

He resides in Sidney with his wife, Hannah, and their two daughters, Aubree and Ella.

Melanie Wadley

He enjoys spending his free time on the family farm/ranch in Richey, working on vehicles in his shop, or camping with his family at Fort Peck. Whiteman may be reached at 433-8630.

Wadley has been promoted to real estate loan assistant and real estate construction lender trainee. Melanie will eventually assist with in-house real estate loans including mobile homes.

Wadley has been in banking since 2012. “She has been a great addition to the real estate department working with Secondary Market loans”, stated Garth Kallevig, President of Stockman Bank Sidney.

She resides in Sidney

with her husband, Jeff and their two daughters, Cassidy and Mackenzie. She keeps busy with family activities, and also as a Zumba instructor.

Her office is located at 101 South Central Avenue and she may be reached at 433-8600.

2014 Richland County DUI Statistics

By Richland County DUI Task Force & District II Drug and Alcohol
April is ‘ALCOHOL AWARENESS MONTH’ and Richland County DUI Task Force and District II Alcohol and Drug Program work diligently throughout the year to bring education, awareness, prevention and treatment to the community, with focus on alcohol issues. Collection of data, awareness campaigns, trainings and policy development are all part of the effort to make Richland County a safe and healthy place to live.

In 2014 there were 319 DUIs, which was an increase of 104 DUIs over 2013, with numbers steadily increasing over the last four years. Why the increase? There are several factors that were discussed at the quarterly DUI Task Force meeting.
The community needs to look at the increase in vehicle traffic, and the increased residents and visitors alike from the Bakken oil boom. Local establishments are busier than they have been in years past.
The RADD (Report a Drunk Driver) program has given the community accountability and ability to report impaired drivers. The community is sending out the message ‘if you drink and drive you will be reported’.
Montana Highway Patrol, Richland County Sheriff’s Office and Sidney & Fairview Police Departments are putting emphasis on reducing DUIs in our communities. With changes the Bakken Boom has placed on our community, law enforcement has also been changing to keep up with increased area of needs. Increased staffing and training of officers has led to higher traffic stop rates. Training and diligence of judges and prosecutors has had a positive impact on DUI prosecution rates; DUIs are not being pled down but prosecuted as written.

It is important for the community to remember that when DUI rates go up, it is not always because of an increase in drinking and driving. It can be due to an increase in enforcement efforts, with more people being pulled over for drinking and driving. However with consistency in education, awareness and consequences, the DUI rates should decline. The community will slowly change and create a safer environment.
Creating a safer community will take all of us getting involved in education, awareness, safe choices, and enforcement. For more information or to become involved and make a difference call Richland County DUI Task Force 406-433-2207 or District II Drug and Alcohol 406-433-4097.

16th National Blue Sunday Of Prayer April 26

Submitted by Melissa Kostelecky
Blue Sunday Child Abuse Prevention Initiative is dedicated to helping communities reach out to the needs of abused children and to support those who rescue them. This initiative also believes that change can occur when the faith community accepts their role in the battle to raise awareness and bring relief for the victims of child abuse. Blue Sunday began 16 years ago when 20 churches took time during their worship service on the last Sunday of Child Abuse Prevention Month to pray for the victims of child abuse and those who rescue them. The effort has grown to include more than 2.7 million participants nationwide. April 26th marks the 16th national Blue Sunday, and the Richland County Family Resource Center is encouraging the churches of Richland County to partake in this event. Children that are subjected to abuse and neglect may feel like they have no voice, and need you to be one for them. Participation is simple; all we ask is that you take a few minutes out of your Sunday service to pray for the following three things: The children that are in situations of abuse and neglect, affected by these situations, and those who have survived the situation. The advocates that work hard to rescue and serve abused and neglected children. Our community to become active participants in the fight against child abuse. If your church is interested in participating, the event can be registered at www.blue-sunday.org. At this website, you can also find resources such as bulletin inserts, coloring pages, and videos to help explain the meaning of Blue Sunday. You can also contact Melissa Kostelecky with the Richland County Family Resource center at 433-4097 or richlandcountycfr@yahoo.com for more information.

Roosevelt Medical Center Will Say Good-Bye To ‘Jay’

By Jaimee Green
A long-time provider who has treated thousands of local youngsters, adults and elderly community members is leaving Roosevelt Medical Center after nearly a decade of service.

Jay Lambert, PA-C, at RMC since March of 2005, made the announcement last week that he and his wife, Kayleen, have made the decision to return to their home state of Utah to be near their aging parents, while enabling Kayleen to pursue and complete a degree in occupational therapy.

Lambert’s announcement will give RMC three to six months to aggressively begin the search for a replacement mid-level provider, a process that can be lengthy and challenging for frontier hospital systems.

“We will undoubtedly miss the community when we leave. They have been welcoming and accepting and have made Culbertson home for us,” Lambert said. “The decision to leave has been one of the most difficult decisions we have ever made,” he added.

Lambert and his wife grew up near Salt Lake City, Utah, and will relocate near the area, along with their six children. The organization will immediately begin recruiting for a mid-level provider through national medical recruitment agencies and will use traveling providers to cover patient needs while RMC locates a new provider. Lambert is currently putting plans in place to ensure that continuity-of-care for every patient will continue seamlessly, making the transition smoother for both patients and staff.

He will continue seeing patients for several months and hopes to be able to return to the area periodically to see patients. His ability to do this will depend on where he finds employment. “I am taking my time with this process because we are not in a hurry to leave. I want to find a place where I can envision myself staying for a long period of time, much like I did here at RMC. Those perfect-fit career paths take time to locate and I am being very selective,” he said.

Lambert first came to the area after graduating from

Jay Lambert

Samuel Merritt College in Oakland California in 2004. After receiving his degree, he returned to Utah to study for his Medical Boards and began searching for a job that could assist him with student loan reimbursement. Of the locations he was interested in, Culbertson was his first choice.

A community-wide celebration and good-bye event will be planned.

“We are not just losing a wonderful healthcare provider the community has grown to trust and love, but we are also losing a dear friend and colleague. We are sad and reluctant to see him go, but we wish him the very best in his future endeavors,” said Audrey Stromberg, Administrator for RMC.

Second Annual Ribbon Walk Set For June

Submitted by Toni Zieske, Ribbon Walk Committee Member

Sidney, MT – Planning is underway for the 2nd Annual Ribbon Walk event. The first annual Ribbon Walk was a success raising more than $72,000 for local cancer services. This fundraising event is put on by community volunteers, members of the local Cancer Coalition and the Foundation for Community Care. The focus of the event is to raise funds keeping the BEST cancer care close to home. This year's event will be held June 19, 2015 at the Sidney High School Track starting at 5:00 PM.

The Ribbon Walk raises money to honor cancer survivors, remember loved ones who have been lost, and help to ensure the continuance and quality of cancer care services for our community. Individuals are encouraged to form a team, participate in the Ribbon Walk, and make a difference in the lives of those affected by cancer.

"We had a fantastic turnout for the first Ribbon Walk held last year," stated Toni Zieske, Ribbon Walk committee member. "Our goal is to continue to increase participation each year and be able to contribute to the cancer services in the area."

All proceeds from this event will benefit the Richland County Cancer Coalition and Sidney Health Center's Cancer Care Center through the Foundation for Community Care. The Cancer Coalition offers assistance to individuals with a cancer diagnosis with non-medical household expenses; while the Cancer Care Center provides the latest and most up to date medical equipment and programs.

"Working with the Foundation for Community Care allows us to ensure that 100% of the proceeds raised are available to Sidney Health Center Cancer Care and the Richland County Cancer Coalition to directly impact the needs of those affected by cancer," continued Zieske. "No overhead costs are taken from the donation."

To sign up as a Cancer Survivor, or to register a team for the Ribbon Walk, please contact the Foundation for Community Care at 406-488-2595, stop by their office at 221 2nd St. NW in Sidney, or visit their website at www.foundationforcommunitycare.org.

Public Involvement Sought To Celebrate Fort Union's 50th Anniversary And The National Park Service's Centennial

Submitted by Lisa Sanden, Park Ranger Fort Union Trading Post NHS

Williston area residents convinced Congress to create a nation's park nearly 50 years ago. And to celebrate that accomplishment and the MonDak region's inspiration for "America's Best Idea," its national parks, the National Park Service seeks community input.

To share your thoughts and ideas for how the National Park Service could celebrate Fort Union Trading Post's 50th anniversary in 2016, join the park's staff for a public meeting at the Williston Public Library. The meeting will be Wednesday, April 29, at 7 p.m.

"The park exists because of the people of Williston and the greater MonDak area," Fort Union curator Fred MacVaugh said. "They inspired Congress to authorize the historic site in 1966. Then, despite NPS opposition, they convinced Congress to fund the post's reconstruction in the 1980s."

That same community enthusiasm and commitment is desired again to celebrate not only the park's 50th anniversary but also the National Park Service's 2016 centennial. "Without historic Fort Union," MacVaugh said, "America might not have national parks at all." It was after visiting Fort Union and the Upper Missouri in 1832 that the artist George Catlin first called for Congress to create a "nation's park."

In addition to seeking community input at the meeting, Fort Union's staff will introduce and solicit support for two anniversary-related proposals. The first is to collaborate with individuals and community organizations like the James Memorial Art Center to develop a museum exhibit that showcases the region's role in the park's creation. "Rather than us telling the story," MacVaugh says, "we'd rather invite local residents to share their stories and memorabilia of their own and the communities' involvement."

The exhibit would be displayed at Williston's James Memorial Art Center and Sidney's MonDak Heritage Center during the summer of 2016, MacVaugh said. At the meeting, park staff will outline the exhibit proposal and ask for interested community members to share their memories and help develop the exhibit.

The second proposal is for park art workshops. Because of the region's rich tradition of American Indian and Euro-American artwork, the park wants to develop art workshops for school-age children in collaboration with community partners such as the James Memorial Art Center. The hope is to inspire kids to explore the park and learn the area's history while developing their own skills as sketchers, painters, photographers, or storytellers. To help with this, the park wants to recruit interested local artists as volunteers to lead workshops either at the park or the heritage center.

Sisters Four

Sisters Four, from the Williston area, entertained the crowd at the Missouri-Yellowstone Confluence Center last Sunday with a mixture of religious and secular songs. The next concert is scheduled for June 28 with Clearwater Hot Club Jazz performing.

The Confluence Center provides a perfect venue for music, with excellent acoustics indoors, and the dramatic confluence of the Yellowstone and Missouri rivers outdoors.
