Would you like to meet a talking dog? Join us in Watford City on Wednesday, February 13 at 7 p.m. as Todd Oliver and his canine comedy partner, Irving the Talking Dog take the stage at the Watford City High School Theater for an evening of family friendly comedy!

Comedian Chad Prather to Perform at MonDak Ag Days

By Stephanie Ler

Comedian Chad Prather returns to Sidney to entertain at the MonDak Ag Days on Friday, March 8th.

The "supernaturally articulate" Georgia native-turned Texan graced Sidney to perform at Ag Days in 2017, and will return with a few more years' experience under his belt, as well as countless viral Facebook videos.

Prather is known for his fast-talking "armchair philosophy", most often portrayed in his viral Facebook video rants from the front seat of his pickup. His viral videos have hundreds of millions of views, and his Facebook page has more than 1.7 million followers. On social media, Prather refers to himself as an "observational humorist," posting commentary on today's hot topics such as "Phony Feminism," and "Let's All Try Socialism!" with his cowboy hat on and backseat cattle dog, Prather just calls it like he sees it.

Though ordinarily politically-fired, Prather's Sidney performance will include commentary on family life and other family-focused hilarity.

Prather has numerous appearances on Fox News, CNN, The Blaze, and A&E in his repertoire, as well as features in Southern Living and Nash Country Weekly magazines. He is the host of Ride TV's "It's My Backyard," and "Chad Prather's Comedy Shootout." Prather is currently amidst his "Star Spangled Banter Comedy Tour."

The event begins with a social hour at 5:00 p.m. at the Richland County Event Center. Prather takes the stage at 6:00 p.m. Tickets are available at the Sidney Chamber, Tri County Implement, Stockman Bank, and at SidneyMT.com. Banquet tickets are $45 each, and include one free drink during the social hour, dinner and entertainment.

Note that the banquet will be held on Friday, rather than Thursday as in years past.

Visit www.watchchad.com for more information on Prather.

Roosevelt County Extension Offers Many Opportunities

By Stephanie Ler
The Roosevelt County Extension Office, located in Culbertson, has a full schedule of learning opportunities coming up in the next few months. The office is staffed by just two agents—4-H and FCS Agent Ardis Oelkers, and Agriculture Agent Jeffrey Chilson. The agents are tasked with collaborating with other regional Extension agents to offer educational outreach programs for community members. Early 2019 offerings include many programs for teachers, ag producers, and community members.

One of the first opportunities is the “Solid Finances” webinar series. The series is “a whole bunch of information on financial management and estate planning available through Extension,” said Oelkers. The webinars are recorded, and community members can access them from home. Viewers can contact the Extension office for additional information on the content, or guidance on putting knowledge into practice. “We have wonderful specialists. They have such good knowledge,” said Oelkers. “The webinars are a good way to get that knowledge into the community.”

An additional financial management course is the Farm Management workshop on the 13th and 14th of March at the Roosevelt County Extension office in Culbertson. The two-day workshop covers financial analysis, enterprise budgeting, risk management, crop and livestock production, agricultural leases, policy issues, and farm and ranch succession. The workshop is led by MSU Extension economists Kate Fuller and Joel Schumacher.

ServeSafe courses are available to the community quarterly, with courses alternating between Poplar and Wolf Point. ServeSafe is a national food safety curriculum approved by the Montana

Department of Public Health and Human Services to meet the food safety certification requirement for licensed establishments, such as bars, restaurants, schools, and hospitals. The course offerings include the full Certified Food Protection Manager, as well as the shorter Food Handler course. The longer, 8-hour course concludes with the paper certification test. The course offerings are a collaboration with the Northeast Montana Health Services.

In June, the Extension office will be offering continuing education courses with approved credits for teachers. “We provide 16 hours of education,” Oelkers explained. “They’re usable, hands-on activities. Our goal is to provide renewal credits that are at an economical cost, that are appealing to a variety of teachers.” Information on specific course offerings is forthcoming.

For information on any of these exciting opportunities, contact the Roosevelt County Extension Office at 406-787-5312, or follow them on Facebook at <https://www.facebook.com/MSU-Extension-Roosevelt-County-228003977239894/>.

Legislative Report

By Steve Hinebauch

Greetings from Helena! We have finished 20 days of our 90-day session. The three committees I am on are real important committees, but they can be emotional at times. In Fish and Game, we heard a bill (SB70) to remove Headwaters State Park from the primitive list. The bill did not have any opponents. This seemed a little odd to me because most groups that come in to the Fish and Game Committee want to make everything primitive, whether it is a conservation easement, a wilderness study area or a monument. Do they want more land to be primitive or do they have another agenda? Everything in Health and Human Services Committee is emotional, and important, because it deals with people’s lives and DPHS, which takes the biggest chunk of the state budget, over $2 Billion a year. In Judiciary Committee we discussed bills from requiring an ultrasound before an abortion to stiffer penalties for DUIs, both emotional topics. There is always the urge for government agencies to take more of our money and chip away at our freedoms. The State government has plenty of money, it just needs to be prioritized. To paraphrase Benjamin Franklin, those who give up freedom for security might lose both. The State of the State was this past week. The Governor reassured us that he wants to start government funded preschools, continue Medicaid expansion, have a $300 Million ending fund balance (slush fund), and other programs that take money. To cover his want list, he needs to raise taxes $160 Million. Things seem to be getting busier all the time. We will be seeing more bills come through our committees and onto the floor as we get closer to the transmittal date. It was good to see US Senator Steve Daines in the Capitol this week. He spoke at the Montana Federation of Republican Women’s Legislative Luncheon and on the House floor. I always like to see people from my district, which I did again this week. If you are coming please let me know. I look forward to hearing from you regarding your questions or concerns. You can contact me by phone 406-989-1372, by e-mail stev.hinebauch@mtleg.gov, or by regular mail Senator Hinebauch Capitol Building PO Box 200500 Helena, MT 59620-0500.

Landowners Have Until March 15 To Apply For Access Tax Credit Program

Landowners have until March 15 to submit applications to Montana Fish, Wildlife, & Parks for enrollment in the Unlocking Public Lands Program. This program is designed to provide recreational public access to state or federal (Bureau of Land Management or United States Forest Service) land where no legal public access currently exists. In exchange for access across the private lands, landowners will receive a tax credit in the amount of $750 per agreement and up to a maximum of $3,000 tax credit per year. Landowners decide how the public may cross their private property and may limit access to foot traffic only. “Offering a tax credit in exchange for allowing public access across private land is a unique and innovative way to increase public access,” said Ken McDonald, FWP wildlife division administrator. “We hope these new opportunities and incentives may appeal to landowners throughout the state.” The Unlocking Public Lands program is a product of the 2015 Legislature, which expanded a program called Unlocking State Land passed by the previous legislature. While Montana contains nearly 31 million acres of BLM, USFS, and state land, much of this land requires landowner permission to cross private land to reach the adjoining state or federal land. More information about the program, including enrollment criteria and the application form, can be found at <http://fwp.mt.gov/hunting/hunterAccess/unlockingPublicLands/>.

The MonDak Heritage Center Announces The Pure Quill Exhibition, February 5-April 27

The MonDak Heritage Center announces the Pure Quill exhibition by Barbara Van Cleve, on display from February 5 to April 27 at the MonDak, 120 3rd Ave SE, Sidney. Sponsored by the Sweet Grass Arts Alliance and brought to MDHC by the Montana Art Gallery Director's association, the photography exhibition spans Van Cleve's career and showcases her passion for ranch life in the West, women in ranching, photography by moonlight, rodeo as dance, the Spanish Missionary Trail in California and Mexico, and women and horses.

In the vernacular of the West, the term pure quill means "authentic, real, through and through". Barbara Van Cleve's gripping photographs of the West she knows and loves give vision to that term. Born and raised on a working cattle and horse ranch in Montana's Crazy Mountains, for seven decades Van Cleve has focused her lens on land and sky and the men, women and animals who animate it. In riveting compositions and captivating textures, her photographs dispel the Hollywood myths associated with the West, while conveying its true adventure and vibrant personalities.

Van Cleve, who lives in Big Timber, Montana, has chosen to tell her stories in black and white photographs that speak to the mind and heart. The photographs in this exhibit are part of her lifelong work included in a new book Pure Quill: Photographs by Barbara Van Cleve, published in 2017 by University of New Mexico Press. In February 2017, the National Cowboy and Western Heritage Museum announced that Pure Quill won the Western Heritage Award for Outstanding Photography Book.

For more information contact MDHC at 406-433-3500 or visit mondakheritagecenter.org. The MonDak Heritage Center is open Tuesday-Friday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Saturday from 11 to 4 p.m.

Through With Chew Week, Feb. 18th – 22nd

“Through With Chew” is an effort to call attention to the use of smokeless tobacco. Smokless tobacco includes chewing tobacco products like Skoal, Snus, RedMan, and are often flavored to appeal to young users. According to the Youth Risk Behavior Survey in 2015, 25.2% of male high school seniors in Montana use smokeless tobacco. This public awareness campaign is designed to reduce the use of smokeless tobacco among young people. Smokeless tobacco is not a safe alternative to cigarettes or vaping, as some young people believe, and it is even more habit forming because it contains a higher concentration of nicotine than cigarettes. Smokless tobacco can cause oral cancer, especially in the cheeks, gums and throat. In addition, smokeless tobacco is addicting. It can also lead to other problems, from heart disease and pancreatic cancer, to other dental problems, such as mouth sores, gum recession, tooth decay, bad breath, and permanent discoloration of teeth. Through With Chew week is sponsored by the Richland County Health Department and the Partnership for Promise Coalition. Are you ready to call it quits from smokeless or spit tobacco or any other type of tobacco? The Montana Tobacco Quit Line is a free service available to all Montanans who would like to quit using smokeless or other tobacco products. Once enrolled by phone or on line, coaching can be done each week through texting or by phone. Call the Quit Line, it’s toll-free at 1-800-QUIT NOW (1-800-784-8669) or visit the website at www.QuitNowMontana.com to enroll.

Beef-It’s What’s For Breakfast?

By Stephanie Ler

You’ve heard the timeless slogan, “Beef-It’s what’s for Dinner,” but have you considered how eating beef can support your overall health and well-being all day long? A large body of scientific evidence shows that many people would benefit from eating more protein at every meal, not just dinner. The majority of protein is consumed at dinner, at 42%, then lunch, at 28%, and the least at breakfast, at just 16%. Increasing your protein intake at each meal, including breakfast, may help you meet your daily protein needs, build a strong and healthy body, and contribute to weight loss. Adding more heart-healthy beef at each meal, even breakfast can help. Lean beef cuts have less than 10 grams of fat, and some cuts of beef are as lean as a 3-ounce skinless chicken thigh. Beef contains vitamins B6 and B12, which helps to maintain brain function; zinc, which helps to maintain a healthy immune system, and riboflavin, which helps convert food into fuel. Aim for 25-30 grams of protein at each meal, which will keep you feeling full and may prevent overeating. One 3-ounce serving of beef provides about 25 grams of protein, the equivalent of 3 cups of quinoa, or almost 2 cups of black beans. Thanks to better breeding and feeding, as well as improved trimming practices and a focus on health, more than 60 percent of whole muscle beef cuts in the grocery store are considered lean. When choosing lean cuts, look for the words “round” or “loin” in the name of the cut, as this is a telltale sign of lean cuts, according to the industry resource “Beef. It’s What’s for Dinner”. Popular lean beef cuts are top sirloin, top loin steak, round roast, and 95% lean ground beef. Choose beef products with the least amount of visible fat, called marbling, and trim visible fat before cooking. Incorporating beef into every meal can be a daunting task. However, there are lots of healthy, hearty recipes for adding beef to breakfast, lunch, and dinner. Beef roasts and other large, lean cuts can be put on salads, sandwiches, wraps, and tacos for lunch throughout the week, paired with fruits, vegetables, and low-fat dairy. Ground beef can be made into muffin-tin mini meatloaves for perfect portions, slow-cooked with beans for chili, or mixed with broth and vegetables for hearty soup. For breakfast, try steak and egg tacos, or beef cornbread muffins. For a snack, test out different brands of beef jerky. # Montana’s Missouri River Country Cooperative Marketing Funds

Missouri River Country has Cooperative Marketing funds available for communities in Northeast Montana, designed to promote an area or event on a cooperative basis with a nonprofit tourism-related organization. The intent of this program is to encourage the development of new or expanded marketing projects that attract visitors outside the local community, thereby increasing the tourism travel to the region and extending the traveler’s stay in Missouri River Country.

Projects that we have helped fund in the past are brochures for different communities and museums, billboards, signage and advertising events.

For an application and guidelines, please visit our website at www.missouririver.visitmt.com or contact the Missouri River Country tourism office, 1-800-653-1319 or write to P.O. Box 118, Fort Peck, MT 59223.

Missouri River Country is Montana’s northeastern tourism region. It covers Garfield, McCone, Phillips, Valley, Sheridan, Daniels, Richland and Roosevelt Counties along with the Fort Peck Reservation. A Board of Directors appointed by their respective County Commissioners manages the organization. For more information on Missouri River Country, please call 1-800-653-1319.

The cooperative marketing funds are a 50/50 split between Missouri River Country and nonprofit tourism organizations. The funds are made possible by bed tax dollars generated in the Missouri River Country tourism region and are offered annually by Missouri River Country through an application process.

Heather and Liliana Johnson near the Tower Bridge.

With the Tower of London and the Tower Bridge right next door to their hotel, Liliana Johnson and her mom Heather enjoyed a whirlwind tour of London while Liliana was there to perform in the New Year's Day parade. Liliana was one of 800 All-American cheerleaders chosen from across the country by Varsity Spirit.

"It was a really amazing experience," Liliana said. "It was way more than I expected." During the parade route, her group performed about eight times, including in front of the VIP section complete with a huge TV screen and confetti.

While in London, Liliana was able to tour with her own small group and with her mom. They took in Westminster Abbey, Buckingham Palace, Windsor Castle and attended "Wicked" which Liliana thought was really cool.

Phone and Internet Discounts Available to CenturyLink Customers

The Montana Public Service Commission designated CenturyLink as an Eligible Telecommunications Carrier within its service area for universal service purposes. CenturyLink's basic local service rates for residential voice lines are $23.50 per month and business services are $32.00 per month. Specific rates will be provided upon request.

CenturyLink participates in a government benefit program (Lifeline) to make residential telephone or broadband service more affordable to eligible low-income individuals and families. Eligible customers are those that meet eligibility standards as defined by the Federal Communications Commission and state commissions. Residents who live on federally recognized Tribal Lands may qualify for additional Tribal benefits if they participate in certain federal eligibility programs. The Lifeline discount is available for only one telephone or broadband service per household, and can be on either wireline or wireless service. Broadband speeds must be 18 Mbps download and 2 Mbps upload or faster to qualify.

A household is defined for the purposes of the Lifeline program as any individual or group of individuals who live together at the same address and share income and expenses. Lifeline service is not transferable, and only eligible consumers may enroll in the program. Consumers who willfully make false statements in order to obtain a Lifeline discount can be punished by fine or imprisonment and can be barred from the program.

If you live in a CenturyLink service area, please call 1-855-954-6546 or visit centurylink.com/lifeline with questions or to request an application for the Lifeline program.
