Watford City 100 Years and Counting

By Tie Shank

Watford City will celebrate its 100th year in June 2014 with a week-long Homefest Celebration. The celebration will kick off on Thursday, June 26th at 10 a.m. with many events planned throughout the week including: a Centennial Parade, an ice cream social, golf scramble & steak fry, Heritage Days, Art in the Park, Kids activities, Film Festival, Arts & Crafts, Food Vendors, Centennial Homefest Run and lots of Main Stage Events.

Per the Watford City Centennial website, "The mission and goal of all Centennial Events are to celebrate the lives of the city's residents, acknowledge the many regional and national contributions in agriculture and energy development and remember the heritage and culture of the area."

A Centennial Club was formed to honor folks born in or before 1938.

A Centennial Book is in the works and will be portraying many historical stories about families, business and organizations. Businesses, individuals or civic groups can place an advertisement in the Centennial book in memory of a family member or friend, honoring a loved one or acknowledging a current or past Watford City business. For more information on advertising in the Centennial Book, contact Doug Bolken at 701-444-5804.

Centennial merchandise will be available to purchase soon. If you'd like an updated schedule of the Centennial Homefest Celebration, log in to www.watfordcitycentennial.com.

Feb 16th is Through With Chew Week

Submitted by Jacklyn Damm

Over 14% of Montana men use smokeless tobacco, a rate that is more than twice the national average. Also more concerning, 22 % of Montana high school males use smokeless tobacco. These Montanans are fifty times more likely to develop oral cancer than non-users.

It's time to take back your good health and your life gentlemen by joining us for Through With Chew week. The Montana Quit Line is geared to help smokeless users quit through telephone counseling as well as pharmacological support. Please go to the Quit Line website www.QuitMontana.com or call 1-800-QuitNow.

Another website you may find helpful is MyLastDip.com an online cessation resource for those who are addicted to smokeless tobacco. The Richland County Health Department also has free "Quit Spit Kits" to help you quit. Whatever it takes, just take the first step. Spit/Smokeless tobacco is still tobacco and it will kill you just as dead as cigarettes. For more information please call the MTUPP program at the Richland County Health Department at 406.433.2207.

'Rollin' Out the Red Carpet' for the Second Annual Cattlemen's Ball

By Dianne Swanson

The premiere event of the season, the Cattlemen's Ball, will be held Saturday, February 22 at the Richland County Fair Event Center, Sidney. The social begins at 5 p.m. with a prime rib dinner catered by the Ranger Lounge being served at 6:30p.m.

After dinner, a live auction will feature some fantastic items up for bid. Those items include a handmade quilt by Sheree Albin and Judy Sondeno; a custom saddle by Jarvis Klempel of Klempel Saddlery; a saddle rack by Tyler Larson; a CM Russell painting donated by the Goss family; a STS leather coat and STS leather purse donated by The Lucky Buckle; a gun donated by High Caliber Sports; a Richland County Centennial Rifle sponsored by Hurley Oilfield Services and kid's chinks crafted by Wade McMillan.

The Teka Brock Band will begin at 8 p.m. for your dancing and listening pleasure. There will also be a men's and a ladies' raffle. Tickets are $20 for a chance to win a Big Tex Traeger grill with all the fixings which Montana Turf 'n Wheels helped to sponsor; or a 5 qt. Kitchen Aid mixer and a Dutch oven with all the fixings.

The Ball is a collaborative effort between the Montana Stockgrowers Association and the Foundation for Community

Care. Committee member Kristin Larson stated, "Our goal with the Cattlemen's Ball is to unite two very important industries and do it in a way that not only supports the community but makes it better. BEEF is part of a healthy diet and the nutritional benefits really do make it a powerful protein. We want to convey this message backed by our research to our medical community. We invite you to come enjoy dinner, dancing and an evening of fun."

"The Cattlemen's Ball is fun with a good cause behind it," added committee member Marci Albin. "It's fun to get dressed up for a great night out."

Last year, the event raised approximately $19,000 which was used to purchase a Life Pac for Sidney Health Center. They also sent a Sidney Health Center employee to a "Pasture to Plate" Tour to learn about the health benefits of beef.

The committee would like to extend a heartfelt thank you to their sponsors: Tri-County Implement, Nortana Grain Co., EPIC, Sietz Insurance Agency, XTO Energy, BNSF Railway, J&L Fencing & Pitliners Inc., Prewitt & Company, Stockman Bank, Bar JV Angus, Dynneson Ranch, M&C Beverage, Sidney Sugars, Wood Group/Mitchell's Oilfield Services, Sidney Livestock Market Center and Reynolds Market.

A limited number of tickets for this semiformal event are still available at The Foundation for Community Care, 221 2nd St. N.W., Sidney, 406-433-2273; or at The Lucky Buckle in the Shops at Fox Run, 433-5825. Tickets are $45 and you must be at least 21 years old to attend.

Foundation for Community Care Now Accepting 2014 Grant Applications

Submitted by Staci Miller

In May the Foundation for Community Care's volunteer Board of Directors will provide financial support for local healthcare. Each year the Foundation is able to offer grants by distributing a portion of the earnings from its Endowment Fund.

Ensuring the Continuance & Quality of Local Healthcare Services is the mission of the Foundation for Community Care. "Each year, we strive to achieve that goal", stated Staci Miller, executive director. "We are extremely fortunate to have great quality healthcare in our area and by providing grants for health and medical equipment, services, and programs we can help keep it that way."

Organizations with an immediate need directly related to quality health or medical care (present and future) of Richland County and surrounding areas are encouraged to apply for a grant by contacting the Foundation for Community Care at 406-488-2273. Applications are also available at the office or on our website at www.foundationforcommunitycare.org.

Requests for funding must be related to a project or equipment that will benefit healthcare for a large number of residents in the Richland County and surrounding area, not medical funding for an individual. Applications must be received by the Foundation by April 25, 2014, to be considered.

Letter to the Editor:
The week of February 10
through February 14 is VA’s
National Salute to Veteran
Patients Week.

Throughout the state of Montana, there are men and women who are currently serving or have served our county to preserve our way of life and the freedom we enjoy. Many of these Veterans come to the Medical Center at Fort Harrison or Community Based Outpatient Clinics (CBOCs) around the state for their health care. The employees and volunteers who work for VA Montana Health Care System are privileged to provide care to these Heroes.
During the week of February 10 through February 14, VA Montana would like to invite you to visit the Medical Center at Fort Harrison, our Community Living Center in Miles City or one of our Community Based Outpatient Clinics to visit with Veterans and show your appreciation for the sacrifices they have made for our country. The Veterans enjoy visits from individuals and groups and this can help brighten their day!
During National Salute to Veteran Patients Week, you can join our “Visit a Vet for Valentine’s Day” program during this week, by bringing valentines to the Veterans and I would invite you to explore the opportunity to volunteer as well. VA Montana has a large volunteer organization that assists our facility in many areas and this is a wonderful way to show your appreciation for all they have done.
If you would like to come to the Medical Center or one of our Clinics, please call our Voluntary Services office at 406-447-7345 to schedule a visit and be part of the VA’s National Salute to Veteran Patients.
Sincerely,
CHRIST GREGORY, FACH
Director, VA Montana Health Care System

Thank You

“Thank you” is the only thing I know to say for the amazing job done by the Savage EMTs, the Savage Ambulance, Dr. Council & the Sidney ER staff for the care they gave me. All the thoughts & prayers from family & friends were greatly appreciated. What a wonderful & caring community we live in!
Thank you so much,

MSU Extension to Celebrate Centennial Anniversary in 2014

Submitted by Sara Adlington

Montana State University Extension will celebrate its centennial anniversary in 2014 with special events around the state and continuing local education programs.

MSU Extension is a network of educators in all counties of the state and specialists on the MSU campus providing unbiased, research-based education programs and information to strengthen the social, economic and environmental well-being of Montana citizens.

MSU Extension has been educating in Montana's local communities for 100 years. It may show up as after-school or 4-H youth programs, a master gardener course, or in-person education and service through webinars on personal finance; testing for animal forages or crop health; or food preservation classes.

Extension was created through the Smith-Lever act in 1914, which provided for cooperative agricultural extension work at the land-grant colleges that were established with the Morrill Act of 1862. The educational partnership between the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the nation's land-grant universities extends research-based knowledge through a state-by-state network of Extension educators.

The original Smith-Lever charter statement remains true after 100 years, that the purpose of Extension is "better farming, better living, more happiness, more education, and better citizenship for the "entire country."

To celebrate the centennial, MSU Extension will have special events in May and October. County Extension offices may host open houses or events throughout the year to celebrate with communities by highlighting Extension's 100 years of extending knowledge and changing lives.

For more information on events and local Extension learning opportunities in 2014, visit <http://msuextension.org> or call your county Extension office.

North Dakota Earth Day Patch Contest

The state Game and Fish Department's annual Earth Day awareness campaign is accepting entries for design of a 2014 Earth Day patch. North Dakota students ages 6-18 are eligible to participate. The deadline to submit entries is March 15.

The Game and Fish Department will announce a winner in three age categories – 6-9, 10-13, and 14-18. Each winner will receive a pair of 10x42 binoculars. The final patch design will be chosen from the three winners.

The winning design will be used on a patch given to members of Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, 4-H clubs and any school participating in Earth Day cleanup projects on state-owned or managed lands in North Dakota in April and May.

The patch should incorporate some aspect of Earth Day – celebrated April 22 – or keeping North Dakota clean. It must be round and three inches in diameter. There is a limit of five colors on the patch, and lettering must be printed. Name, address, age and phone number of the contestant must be clearly printed on the entry form. Only one entry per person is allowed.

Earth Day contest rules and entry forms are available on the Game and Fish Department's website, gf.nd.gov. For more information, contact Pat Lothspeich by email at ndgf@nd.gov, or call (701) 328-6332.

Watford City Grapplers Get Ready for State Tournament

Last week the Watford City wrestlers ensured that they would be going to the State Tournament. They defeated Killdeer in a dual that clinched second place in the region dual standings and a trip to the Class “B” Dual Tournament this upcoming week in Bismarck. This past weekend, the Wolves put aside their team goals and got a little bit more selfish as they tried to qualify for the individual portion of the Class “B” State Tournament. Mission Accomplished- In all, nine wrestlers competed at the Region IV tournament in New Salem and all nine of them finished in the top four which qualified them for State. Wolves’ coach Mitch Greenwood was very happy with his team’s performance. “We talked about it Friday night at practice, that we thought all nine could qualify if we wrestled well. We told the kids that this was a business trip that we were going on, not a vacation. They stepped up to the plate and took care of business.”

Liam Shannon kicked off the action at 106 pounds on Saturday. He won a hotly contested match against New Salem’s Tayt Wolding. Shannon then dropped a semi-final match-up which set him up to take on Killdeer’s Dylan Tabor with a trip to the state tournament on the line. Shannon controlled the match throughout, but Tabor brought everything he had and made it a close contest. Shannon went on to finish in fourth place and went 2-2 on the day after dropping his last match to Bowman County’s Alex Madrigal.

At 113 pounds, Dakota Garmann received a first round bye and then faced off with a familiar opponent in Tyler Longland from Bowman County. The two had wrestled four times previously this season with Longland coming out on top in three of those encounters. Longland proved to have Garmann’s number when he was able to pin him in the second period. Garmann bounced back strong as he shut out New Salem’s Seth Johnson in the third place match.

The Wolves had their strongest performances of the day at 120 and 126 pounds from Jade Hepper and Logan Gumke. Each of them were the number one ranked wrestlers at their respective weight classes in the tournament and both of them lived up to their billing. Hepper picked up a pin in the Semifinals against Killdeer’s Zach Binstock. In the finals he squared off with Matt Carlson from Bowman County. Carlson beat Hepper early in the season, but Hepper avenged that loss later on. Carlson then went ahead in the series two to one in the third place match at the East/West Tournament. Going into the third period, Hepper trailed 1-0 before securing a takedown and two nearfall points. The four-point move was all he needed to become a two-time region champ with a 4-1 victory. Gumke scored a five-point spladle against Killdeer’s Cole Dukart in the semi-final round which proved to be the difference in a 10-5 decision. The win set up a finals match-up with Beulah’s Tyrell Mellmer. Gumke owned a 2-0 head to head record against Mellmer during the season and improved to 3-0 against the 2013 state place-winner by pinning him 53 seconds into the second period. “Jade wrestled very smart today. He beat a very good wrestler in Matt Carlson. I would fully expect to see both of them standing somewhere on the podium at the state tournament next week. Logan kept the momentum going in the finals. He wrestled like a champion today. He kept his poise and took advantage of the openings that were given to him. If he wrestles this way next week he will have a great opportunity to become a state place-winner too.”

Clay Jorgenson went 2-2 on the day, finishing in fourth place. He kicked off the tournament with a dominating win over Beulah’s Damien Eslinger. He then dropped a 13-2 major decision to Hettinger’s Trevor Abrahamson. The loss set up a loser-out situation against Bowman’s Tel Lardy. Lardy and Jorgenson have wrestled 3 times previously this year with Jorgenson winning the first two and Lardy winning the most recent match-up. Jorgenson got his offense going early in the regional match-up and cruised to a 10-1 major decision and advanced to the third place match against Killdeer’s David Arthur. Arthur was able to control the pace of the match and secured a 6-3 win. “Clay wrestled very well today. He is in a very tough weight class and this was easily the toughest bracket in the whole tournament. There were two very good wrestlers who did not make it out of this region and I’m proud of Clay for being one of the kids who did advance to state. He has worked so hard this year and deserved the opportunity to showcase what he can do next week at the state tournament.”

Kyle Cook competed at 145 pounds for the Wolves. Cook was the fifth ranked wrestler in the region, but came out on fire in the first round against the fourth ranked Lane Jeffers from Bowman. Cook built up a big lead through the first two periods, then stamped his ticket to the state tournament by pinning Jeffers in the third. Cook ended the day in fourth place after being defeated by Hettinger’s Christian Hughes and Beulah’s Mason Faut.

Coleton Jore wrestled to his ranking on Saturday as he came in the number two seed. He received a bye into the semi-final round where he squared off with Hettinger’s Dalton Shaffer. Jore initially struggled to get any offense going, but scored backpoints right at the end of regulation to tie the score and send it to overtime. Jore used the momentum to push forward and score two points from a single leg takedown in the sudden death period. The win propelled him to the Region Finals against Bowman’s Sterling Lee. The two battled back and forth, but Lee came out on top at the end of the match with a 10-7 decision.

At 195 pounds, Hunter Olson found himself in a meat-grinder of a weight class. There were only four competitors at this weight, however all three of them are ranked in the top eight in the state and all will compete for a spot on the podium. “Hunter wrestled very hard. He put forth a lot of effort and that’s all we ask of any of our kids,” stated Greenwood. “There is no shame in taking fourth when the top three are as good as these three are.”

Jake Belland rounded out the tournament for the Wolves. Belland opened with Bowman’s Mac Stuber in the first round in a battle of the fourth and fifth seeds. This was the fifth meeting between the two this season and Belland had won three of the previous four. Stuber, however, brought his best match for Belland at the Regional. The two were dead-locked 4-4 late in the third period when Stuber was penalized for applying a full-Nelson hold. Stuber had no choice but to let Belland go and attempt a take-down to tie the match, but time was on Belland’s side as he only had to defend the takedown for nine seconds and was able to hold on for a 6-4 win. The victory set up a semi-final match-up with Hettinger’s Brandon Ehlers. Ehlers was able to pin Belland in the first period on his way to a second straight Region IV Heavyweight title. Belland advanced to the third and fourth place match against Standing Rock’s Jade Standing Bear. After a very competitive first period, Belland slipped up a little in the second period and ended up getting pinned.

Hettinger was named the team champions with 223 points. Watford City wound up in fifth place with 120 points. Christian Hughes from Hettinger and Evan Mellmer from Beulah were named the Region IV Senior Athletes of the Year. Randy Burwick from Hettinger was awarded the Coach of the Year for Region IV.

Fight High Heating Costs

Look for Ways to Reduce Heating Costs

By NDSU Agriculture Communication

This winter's frigid temperatures and high heating costs are putting a big dent in North Dakotans' budgets.

For example, the cost of filling a 500-gallon propane tank jumped from about $750 to $2,250.

"Families struggling to pay for heating bills and keep up with other expenses shouldn't panic, but they should take steps to manage the hit their family budget is taking this winter," says Lori Scharmer, North Dakota State University Extension Service family economics specialist.

Scharmer recommends sitting down with a calculator to get a real picture of your finances: what money is coming in, what money is going out and where you can cut your spending.

"Heat is a necessity of life in North Dakota, so look for ways to reduce heating costs and for things in the budget that are nonessential or purchases that could be delayed until later," she says. "This may be a time when the whole family needs to sacrifice a bit and tighten up spending."

She also advises families not to stop making payments on their bills. Instead, families should call their creditors and explain that they are struggling to pay bills on time, then try to develop a payment plan that will work for them and their creditors.

An NDSU Extension publication, "When Prices Rise: Living on Your Income," can help families track their expenditures and reduce their spending. It's online at <http://tinyurl.com/whenpricesrise> or available from your local NDSU Extension office.

"Family Money Manager" is another Extension publication that can be helpful when adjusting the family budget. It's available at <http://tinyurl.com/fam-manager> or from Extension offices.

Rising heating costs also are encouraging homeowners to look for ways to make their homes more efficient to heat. Even taking small steps can make a difference this year, according to Ken Hellevang, NDSU Extension agricultural engineer.

One way to cut costs is to practice zone heating, he says. Zone heating is keeping some areas of the home warmer and others cooler. That can reduce heating costs because heat loss is related to the temperature difference between indoors and outdoors. Keeping the house temperature at 60 F rather than 70 F when the outside temperature is 0 F will reduce heat loss by 14 percent.

Reduce the house thermostat setting and use space heating in portions of the house. In homes with a central heating system, close heat vents or dampers and doors to reduce the amount of heat supplied to a room or area.

A 1,500-watt electric space heater produces 5,100 British thermal units per hour. The amount of heat produced is the same whether it is from an electric-resistance element or infrared bulb.

"Beware of some of the claims made for space heaters," Hellevang cautions.

The cost to operate the heater is the electric cost per kilowatt-hour (kwh) multiplied by the kilowatts (kW) of the heater. For example, the cost to operate a 1,500-watt (1.5 kW) heater with an electric rate of 10 cents per kwh is 15 cents per hour. Most electric heaters that plug into a common house electrical outlet are 1,500 watts or smaller. A 1,500-watt heater will draw 12.5 amps on the electrical circuit, which is nearly the maximum for most house electrical circuits.

Do not use unvented combustion heaters in a home because they produce numerous pollutants, including carbon monoxide and water vapor. Select only vented combustion heaters and follow manufacturers' guidelines for venting combustion gasses outdoors, Hellevang advises.

Comparing fuel costs and heating efficiency can help you chose the most economical heater. For example, electric resistance heat at 10 cents per kwh is equivalent to propane at $2.48 per gallon in a high-efficiency (92 percent) furnace and $2.02 in a 75 percent efficient propane furnace.

An NDSU Extension publication, "Fuel Cost Comparison Chart," can help you make comparisons easily. It is online at <http://tinyurl.com/fuelchart>. A smartphone app is available at <http://www.ag.ndsu.edu/energy>.

Air leakage causes a home's largest heat loss. A well-sealed house will have an air leakage rate of about 0.5 air changes per hour (ACH), while a poorly sealed house may have an air leakage rate that exceeds 1 ACH. The difference between a well and poorly sealed home - an air leakage of 0.5 ACH - will increase fuel use by about 500 gallons of propane for one heating season.

Hellevang suggests sealing openings in the walls and ceiling to reduce air leakage. Places to check in walls include between the sill plate and foundation, and around windows, pipe penetrations and electrical outlets. Look for openings, feel for a draft or use a lighted stick of incense to check spots for a draft. Use weather stripping or caulking to seal openings.

Windows with sliding parts typically have higher air leakage than windows that seal by compressing the weather stripping. Install plastic over the window to reduce air leakage. Reduce air leakage through doors by installing weather stripping and using a storm door.

Recessed lighting is the most common location for air leakage through the ceiling. Use approved enclosures or seals for recessed lights.

NDSU Extension has a series of publications to help homeowners make their homes more energy efficient. Check out the online resources at <http://www.ag.ndsu.edu/energy> or contact your local NDSU Extension office for the following publications:

"Top Ten Home Energy Checklist"

"No-cost, Low-cost Home Energy Saving Tips"

"Insulating to Reduce Heating Costs"

"Tips for Saving Energy and Money for Renters"

Also consider that you feel colder in a room with cold wall surfaces, even though the air temperature isn't lower, because of radiation heat loss from your body. Hellevang suggests closing draperies to create warmer inside surfaces, which increases the feeling of warmth.

Do not vent a clothes dryer into the home to save energy because this puts excessive amounts of moisture into the air, which normally will cause condensation and other moisture problems.

Sidney Boys Basketball Senior Night

Senior Night for the boys basketball was held last Thursday during the home game against Glendive. Seniors, with their parents, were acknowledged for their accomplishments and dedication to the team. This year's team consisted of four seniors and one senior manager including: Paul Brannan, Caleb Benson, Colin Moran, Rylee Peterson and manager Rietta Iversen.

Coach Dan Strasheim had the following to say about the four seniors:

Paul Brannan is in his second year as a varsity team member. Whether it is in a game or practice, Paul is always the hardest working kid on the floor. Because of this he gets a lot accomplished and also sets a very good example for our younger kids to follow. He has also put in a lot of time in the weight room during the off season. Paul has a wonderful attitude and has been a real pleasure to be around. He will be greatly missed next season. Paul is also a very good student with a 3.241 GPA.

Caleb Benson is in his third year as a varsity member. Caleb has tremendous athletic ability and together with his work ethic has been one of our top players the past couple of seasons. He plays with great energy and also has become a top-notch on-ball defender for us this season. Caleb is the type of kid that can always put a smile on everyone's face no matter how things are going. Caleb has been a real pleasure to be around the last three years and will be greatly missed next season.

Colin Moran is in his third year as a varsity member. Because of his length and overall ability, Colin has been the focal point for other teams' defenses this season.

He can play inside or outside offensively and sees the floor extremely well. Colin is currently at or near the top of many statistical categories on our team. He is also an excellent student, 3.705 GPA in the classroom. Colin has been a pleasure to be around the last three years and will be greatly missed next season.

Rylee Peterson is in his second year as a varsity team member. He is the ultimate team player who has a willingness to do with enthusiasm and is always cheering for his teammates when he is not in the game. He is currently one of our top rebounders and because of his off-season work, he has become a good ball handler for us this season as well. Rylee has been a real pleasure to have in our program and will be greatly missed next season. Not only is Rylee a good basketball player, but also a very good student 3.488 GPA.

Ag Producers Income Tax Filing Deadline Draws Near

By NDSU Agriculture Communication

Ron Haugen, NDSU Extension Service farm economist, has some items to note for your 2013 income tax preparation.

Agricultural producers have until March 3, 2014, to file their 2013 income tax returns without penalty if they have not made estimates.

"Producers have until April 15 to file without penalty if they have paid their estimated tax by Jan. 15," says Ron Haugen, North Dakota State University Extension Service farm economist.

Items to note for 2013 income tax preparation:

New for 2013 is an additional Medicare tax of 0.9 percent on wages and self-employment income in excess of a modified adjusted gross income of $250,000 if married or $200,000 if single.

New for 2013 is a surtax of 3.8 percent on net investment income (includes interest, dividends, capital gains, annuities, royalties, rents and pass-through income from a passive business). The tax is on the lower of net investment income for the year or the amount where the modified adjusted gross income exceeds $250,000 if married or $200,000 if single.

The 179 expense election for 2013 is $500,000. Generally, the 179 expense election allows producers to deduct up to $500,000 of machinery or equipment purchases for the year of the purchase. There is a dollar-for-dollar phase-out for purchases of more than $2 million. It is set to revert to $25,000 plus an inflation adjustment for 2014.

The additional 50 percent first-year bonus depreciation provision is in effect for 2013. It is equal to 50 percent of the adjusted basis after 179 expensing. It only applies to new property that has a recovery period of 20 years or less. It is set to expire after 2013.

The standard deduction is $12,200 for those who are married and filing jointly. The deduction is $6,100 for singles.

The personal exemption amount is $3,900.

Long-term capital gains and qualified dividend income is taxed at a 0 percent rate for individuals in the 10 or 15 percent tax brackets and at 15 percent for those in the middle brackets and 20 percent for those in the top income bracket.

The annual individual retirement account contribution is $5,500 for 2013 or $6,500 for individuals 50 or older.

The annual gift tax exclusion for 2013 is $14,000.

The 2013 Social Security wage base is $113,700.

The business mileage rate for 2013 is 56 1/2 cents per mile.

Crop insurance proceeds, if received in 2013, may be deferred to 2014 if you qualify. You must use cash accounting and show that, under normal business practices, the sale of damaged crops would occur in a future tax year.

A livestock deferral can be made by those who had a forced sale of livestock because of a weather-related disaster.

Remember that qualifying farmers can elect to compute their current tax liability by averaging, during a three-year period, all or part of the current year's elected farm income. This is done on Schedule J. North Dakota farmers who elect to use income averaging for federal purposes also may use Form ND-1FA, which is income averaging for North Dakota income tax calculations.

Information on agricultural tax topics can be found in the "Farmers Tax Guide," publication 225. It is available at any IRS office or can be ordered by calling (800) 829-3676. Any questions about these topics or further updates should be addressed to your tax professional or the IRS at (800) 829-1040 or <http://www.irs.gov>. Call the North Dakota Tax Department at (877) 328-7088 or go to <http://www.nd.gov/tax/> for answers to North Dakota income tax questions.

Froid Scholarship Tournament

The Froid Scholarship Tournament originated in 1984 as a tribute to Jeff Ryder. All profits from this tournament have gone into the Jeff Ryder Memorial Scholarship fund. The scholarships are given from the interest earned by the trust fund and will be a continuous and lasting fund.

Initially, scholarships were awarded to Froid High School students. As the tournament grew and sound base was built in the trust fund, the committee felt more scholarships could be awarded. Since we have received such tremendous support throughout the years from our surrounding communities, the committee felt that scholarships should be awarded to students in the surrounding areas that have supported the tournament through advertising and bringing teams to this event. Students from Bainville, Brockton, Culbertson, Grenora, Medicine Lake, Poplar, Plentywood, Sidney, Williston, Westby, or Wolf Point may apply for a scholarship also. The Scholarships are not limited to good athletes; the awards are based on academics and school involvement. Since inception in 1984, The Froid Scholarship Tournament has awarded over $50,000 in scholarships. The committee will be awarding up to $4,500 this year.

Also annually in conjunction with the tournament is the Rod & Gun Club's Annual Fish Feed! Both organizations are very appreciative of your continued support.

The FST has grown in size and quality each year. The first two tournaments were comprised of local area talent. Since then, teams from eastern & central Montana, western & central North Dakota, and other countries including Canada have gathered to play the third weekend in March! The purse has grown from $600 to $6,000. The 3-point contest was initiated in 1988. In 1989, a Calcutta Auction was added which has greatly enhanced the popularity and success of the 3-point Shootout.

If you have a team and are interested in participating call Dean Reiter at 406-765-2461.

Montana Has Made Tremendous Progress In Reducing Tobacco Use

By Steven Helgerson, MD, MPH, State Medical Officer

Montana health advocates are celebrating the enormous progress that has been made in reducing tobacco use over the past five decades, but also calling on all Montanans to take strong action to win the fight against what continues to be the nation's number one cause of preventable death. More than 1,000 Americans, including 3 to 4 Montanans die prematurely every day as a result of tobacco-related disease.

The first Surgeon General's report, issued 50 years ago, alerted Americans to the deadly consequences of smoking and was a historic turning point in the nation's fight against tobacco.

Since that time, Montana has made remarkable progress, cutting smoking rates by more than half and protecting Montanans from harmful secondhand smoke. Montanans went from smoking more than 120 packs of cigarettes per person per year in 1955 to approximately 45 packs per person per year in 2012, a decrease by almost two-thirds in total consumption.

Smoking among students has also decreased significantly due to several important evidence-based prevention strategies, such as the Montana Clean Indoor Air Act, cigarette tax increases, media campaigns denormalizing tobacco use, and community-based prevention programs. In 1999, 35 percent of Montana high school students smoked. In 2013, the still-too-high percent was down to 15.

But Montanans' battle against tobacco is far from over. The tobacco industry still spends an estimated $27 million per year to market its deadly and addictive products in our state, often in ways that appeal to kids. As a result, 700 more kids in Montana become regular smokers each year. Tobacco annually claims 1,400 lives and costs the state $277 million in health care costs.

Public health and medical organizations are calling for bold action by all levels of government to achieve three goals: 1) Reduce smoking rates to less than 10 percent within 10 years; 2) protect all Americans from secondhand smoke within five years; and 3) ultimately eliminate the death and disease caused by tobacco.

What can Montanans do to achieve these goals?

Almost three-fourths of Montana school districts are comprehensive tobacco free. Remaining districts can become Comprehensive Tobacco Free Schools of Excellence.

Owners and managers of apartment buildings can adopt smokefree policies in their buildings, to protect their residents from the deadly effect of secondhand smoke.

The Montana Tobacco Use Prevention Program is available to assist and educate on any of these topics. Please visit our website at www.tobaccofree.mt.gov.

Our country has made tremendous progress in reducing smoking. Montana should be the first state in the nation to reduce the smoking rate not just to under 10 percent but to less than 5 percent. This achievement would stop tobacco from continuing to addict, maim and kill Montanans. It would also yield enormous cost savings. Resources not spent on preventable disease and death could instead be used to enhance in many ways the lives of Montanans.

Remember, if you would like help quitting tobacco, the Montana Tobacco Quit Line is there for you. Over 70,000 Montanans have called into the Quit Line since 2004. Benefits include a FREE personalized quit plan; FREE coaching calls, FREE educational materials, and enrolled callers may be eligible for up to 8 weeks of FREE nicotine replacement therapy or discounted cessation medications. ## MSU Extension Offers a New Pesticide Performance MontGuide Montana State University Extension's Pesticide Education Program is offering a new MontGuide about pesticide performance and water quality. Poor water quality can significantly reduce the efficacy of many pesticide products.

Submitted by Sara Adlington

The MontGuide, "Pesticides and Water Quality," explains why pesticide applicators should always test their water for turbidity, pH and hardness prior to using a pesticide mixture. Because pesticide mixtures are often composed of greater than 95 percent spray solution, a slight variation in water quality can have a significant impact on pesticide performance. Water quality may vary due to acidity and alkalinity, minerals dissolved in water, or suspended soil particles (dirty water). The guide discusses areas of the state that encounter common water quality issues and solutions to overcome water quality limiting factors.

The four-page guide is written by Cecil Tharp, Extension pesticide education specialist in the MSU Department of Animal and Range Sciences, and Adam Sigler, Extension water quality associate specialist in the MSU Department of Land Resources and Environmental Sciences.

The MontGuide is free and is available from local MSU Extension offices. It may also be downloaded from the MSU pesticide education website at pesticides.

montana.edu by selecting "References." Printed copies are available for the cost of shipping from MSU Extension publications. To order a printed copy, call (406) 994-3273, write to P.O. Box 172040, Bozeman, MT, 59717, or email orderpubs@montana.edu.

The Art of Farming, WIFE Calendar Art Contest

Submitted by Gladys Walling

In recognition of National Agriculture Week (National Agriculture Day, March 25, 2014), WIFE (Montana Women Involved in Farm Economics) invites Montana's school children to express their ideas on farm life by participating in WIFE's twenty-eighth statewide calendar art contest. Winning entries grades K through 8th will be awarded a cash prize at the 1st place ($30), 2nd place (&20), and 3rd place ($10), levels in each grades division. Two Honorable Mention places in each grade will be awarded certificates. Only 25 pictures are used on the calendar. Those winners whose pictures are used will also receive a calendar.

All entries are to be done horizontally on 8 1/2 by 11 inch white paper with dark, black lead pencil or black pen (no markers please). Any aspect of agriculture that is of interest to the students may be drawn. Any depiction of alcohol or tobacco will not be accepted. Student's name, grade, school, address, town, zip, should be clearly printed in a corner on the back of their picture.

No entries can be returned, but WIFE may display or use student's artwork for various WIFE projects throughout the State. Entries must be postmarked on or before April 15, 2014.

Artwork will be judged on the basis of originality. Please send all art entries to: Gladys Walling, PO Box 55, Winifred, MT 59489. Phone 406-462-5330 for more information.
