Ribfest 2017 in Watford City Friday

One of the biggest events in Western North Dakota takes place on Main Street Watford City. The Best of the West Ribfest, Street Fair and Classic Car show is set for August 11, 2017 and it just keeps getting bigger and better than ever with three-time Grammy nominated country act, Little Texas headlining the free concert on Main Street.

The event kicks off with a fundraising breakfast for the local Boy Scouts served on Main Street from 8-10 am. The Street Fair opens at 10 am with lunch being served at 11 and rib teams cooking up ribs on the street all day, serving them to the public at 5 pm.

And as always, the Best of the West Ribfest, Street Fair and Classic Car Show is free and open to the public, with live music and fun throughout the day, but back again this year is the option for guests to purchase a VIP Ticket where they can enjoy drinks and ribs under the shade of a tent and also score the best seats in the house for the evening concert. Minneapolis based Johnny Cash Tribute Band, Church of Cash, will be opening for Little Texas.

"Ribfest is one of the most anticipated events of the year," said Mary Gumpke with the Watford City Chamber. "We want to make sure everyone has the date on their calendars and makes plans to participate, whether as a guest, VIP, sponsor or rib competitor. We can't wait to see you on Main Street in August!"

As the event grows bigger and gains more state-wide attention each year, team spaces and vendor slots fill up quickly. Get your team signed up today at www.watfordcityribfest.net.

Burgum Orders Reinstatement Of McKenzie County Sheriff

Statement from ND Governor Doug Burgum's office released Aug. 4

Gov. Doug Burgum ordered the reinstatement of McKenzie County Sheriff Gary Schwarzenberger to the position of sheriff, as recommended by Special Commissioner Karen Klein.

On Nov. 23, 2016, then-Gov. Jack Dalrymple placed Schwarzenberger on interim suspension upon the recommendation of Attorney General Wayne Stenehjem after the McKenzie County Commission voted in favor of a petition for removal. Klein found no substantiated ground for removal of Schwarzenberger and recommended he be returned to the elected office of sheriff.

Schwarzenberger's reinstatement is effective immediately.

Order Dismissing Complaint For Removal

Upon reviewing the file, the transcript from the hearing on July 18-19, 2017, and the report, findings and recommendation issued by Special Commissioner Karen Klein, it is apparent this removal proceeding has divided McKenzie County. The Special Commissioner's report identifies various "power struggles" between the McKenzie County Commission and the Sheriff, demonstrated, as an example, by the Commission's attempt to bring the Sheriff's Department in line with other county offices, and the Sheriff's desire to operate autonomously.

Special Commissioner Klein noted evidence of heavy-handedness, crude and unprofessional behavior, and non-collaborative actions by Sheriff Schwarzenberger. And while these actions may not manifest optimal outcomes or performance, Commissioner Klein further concluded that none of these actions singularly, or in total, meet the high burden of proof threshold required for removal of a duly elected official from office.

Therefore, reinstatement of Sheriff Schwarzenberger presents a crossroads for McKenzie County. Either it will be an opportunity for a fresh start, or a continuation of local conflict, angst and contention.

Understandably, a fresh start will be difficult and will require introspection, humility and forgiveness by many parties. As elected officials, each Commission member and the Sheriff must remember the fundamental purpose and responsibilities inherent in their respective positions – to serve and protect the citizens and resources of McKenzie County.

Sheriff Schwarzenberger's reinstatement and return to his elected position is his opportunity to lead with humility, integrity and respect -- and to treat every employee, every elected official and every citizen with fairness.

If these opportunities are acknowledged, appreciated and pursued with empathy and determination, McKenzie County will become a stronger and more vibrant community in which to work, live and prosper.

NOW, THEREFORE, by the power vested in the Governor pursuant to Article V, North Dakota Constitution and Chapters 44-11 and 54-07, North Dakota Century Code, the Special Commissioner's report and recommendation is adopted in its entirety.

IT IS HEREBY ORDERED:

The Complaint for Removal is hereby dismissed;

The suspension of Gary Schwarzenberger from the position of McKenzie County Sheriff is terminated;

Gary Schwarzenberger is reinstated to the position of McKenzie County Sheriff, to resume the duties of the office to which he was elected.

OBITUARIES

Montana Jane (Goodson) Finnicum, 90 Culbertson, MT

Montana Jane (Goodson) Finnicum passed peacefully embraced by the love of her family at her home on July 27. A memorial service will be held on August 12 at 11 a.m. (Mountain Time) at the Community of Christ Church, Broadway (Main), Culbertson, MT.

Montana was born on March 21, 1927 in Culbertson, Montana, the third child of Isaac and Annie (Thompson) Goodson. She first attended school in Dugout, then junior high and 2 years of high school in Sidney where she made a lifelong friend Louie Dawley who preceded her in death on June 2017. Her last two years of high school were in Culbertson where she worked for room and board with the Tucker Moore family. She helped with his milk business and it was Tucker Moore who taught her to drive a stick shift and get her first driver's license for 25 cents. She never took a driver's test and never let her license lapse.

While in high school, she met Bernie Finnicum. They were married in Wolf Point on May 18, 1944. To this marriage were born Butch, Bill, Paul, Diane, LaVonne, Nancy, Susan and Bonnie.

They started their married life on the farm in Richland County. They lived for a short time in Troy, Montana and then the remainder of their lives in Culbertson where Bernie managed the Gambles Store. Montana eventually had the opportunity to work as a telephone operator, which she enjoyed. She made lifelong friends who still meet for breakfast once a month. When the telephone company went to dial, Montana helped at the Gambles Store until she went to work at the Skogmos. Skogmos eventually became the Other Place when it moved down the street. Montana managed the store for many years and enjoyed visiting with her customers.

Montana, besides being a busy mother and wife, was a gracious host to the many people who came to her home. Everyone was welcome in her home and no one ever went away hungry. She enjoyed cooking and sewing, visiting with old friends and new people she just met. She liked to take trips, from business trips with Bernie to wrecker calls with Paul. Montana was a long time member of the Culbertson Saddle Club and looked forward each year to getting her motorhome out to the camp to take care of registration for the trail ride.

In her last years, as she dealt with health issues, she showed what she was really made of. Three trips in the air ambulance, weeks in the hospital and dialysis three times a week, her strength of character and absolute faith in God showed as the perfect example to all who knew her. She never gave the nurses a hard time but befriended each one and knew them all by name.

She was very instrumental in planning her 90th birthday party in March. She bought over 100 stuffed animals to give away to all the little kids, her dialysis family, and anyone she thought about. Her birthday was a very memorable day for her.

She was a lifelong member of the Community of Christ Church. Her unquestioned faith in God and the Lord Jesus Christ was never more evident than when she chose to end her dialysis, place her trust in God and walk through death's door unafraid.

Montana was preceded in death by her parents, her husband Bernie, brothers Steve and Donnie, sisters Jo, Thelma, Lucy, Nellie, Nettie, and Carol.

She is survived by her brother Glenn Goodson, her sister Effie Rinke, her children and their spouses, Butch and Chris, Bill and Vicki, Paul and Lynne, Diane and Steve Hampton, LaVonne and Jack Scotson, Nancy and Tom Hansen, Susan Finnicum, and Bonnie and Jack Hellweg, twenty-one grandchildren, and a bunch of great-grandchildren and great-great grandchildren. Friends may visit www.eversoncoughlin.com to share remembrances of Montana or leave condolences for her family.

The Everson-Coughlin Funeral Home of Williston is caring for the family.

Savage's Emily Reynolds Attends Journalism Conference in Washington, DC

By Stephanie Ler
Savage High School senior Emily Reynolds has laid the footwork for a career in journalism at the 2017 Washington Journalism and Media Conference at George Mason University.

Reynolds was nominated for the conference by her art teacher, Cassandra Moos. Teachers are encouraged by the program to nominate students in grades 9 through 11 who show strong academic performance and an interest in journalism and media. At first, Reynolds was not aware that she was nominated. "When I got the letter, I thought it was spam. But I called the number and they said it was real!" Reynolds explained. Reynolds explained that Ms. Moos had nominated her based on several factors—one being that she "got a glow" when talking about writing, and had written one particular essay that was "brilliant, in a unique style of writing", Reynolds said Ms. Moos told her.

nervous." The trip came at the perfect time to meet with Congressman Gianforte, as Emily penned and gave him a letter asking for his support in saving the Intake Dam. "They both listened to everything I said," and Gianforte later visited the Dam himself.

The six days of the conference were quick, but the lessons Reynolds learned will last. "A lot of people say journalism is a dying business, but it's not. I definitely saw a more political side of journalism. This was something I needed. I created a network of people that have the same interests. It was amazing," Reynolds said of the experience.

When asked if she will pursue a career in journalism, Reynolds' answer is a "most definitely", and she will be utilizing opportunities in the community as a spring board. Reynolds asked Savage School to be involved in the regular newsletter and the school website, and has made contact with both the Sidney Herald and the The Roundup

Reynolds speaks of her experience at the conference fondly, and inserts that "It put in perspective that small town kids can go big city, as long as you put in the hard work," a lesson that should help her achieve her goals as a journalist.

11th Annual

NORTH DAKOTA

CHOCHECHERRY FESTIVAL

HARMON PARK      WILLISTON, ND

The Williston Convention & Visitors Bureau along with the North Dakota Chokecherry Festival Committee is excited to bring this family friendly event back to Harmon Park for its 11th annual year this August 11-12. The festival celebrates the chokecherry as the North Dakota state fruit and honors the accomplishments of youth.

Prior to 2007, North Dakota had not named a state fruit. Williston students in Nancy Selby's sixth grade class reached out to state lawmakers as part of a persuasive letter writing assignment, which in turn led to legislation designating the chokecherry as the State Fruit of North Dakota. Senator Stanley Lyson and Senator Nick Hacker sponsored Senate Bill 2145, and Governor John Hoeven signed the bill into law on March 29, 2007. Williston held the first North Dakota Chokecherry Festival August 18, 2007. The celebration has continued to evolve and grow each year.

Longtime festival supporter Nemont will kick things off at 4pm with the 1000 Burger Feed (free burgers for as long as they last!) and another annual sponsor, American State Bank, will be offering free ice cream sundaes with chokecherry syrup while supplies last. This year, North Dakota native Cody Charles and The Cody Charles Band will play live at the Virgil Syverson Performance Center beginning at 5pm. Festival attendees are encouraged to browse vendor stalls and enjoy the music, then return to the park with blankets and sleeping bags for an outdoor family movie at 10:30pm.

The festival continues on Saturday with a variety of events. Enjoy a free pancake breakfast served by local Lions members and Community Builders, 7:30-10a.m. Runners of all ages are encouraged to take part in the Chokecherry 5k and 1 mile fun run; registration will begin at 8a.m. with the race starting at 8:30a.m. More live music fills the stage on Saturday, featuring local favorite Brian Salvesson, Teddy Talent Trek winners and North Dakota natives Lexi Wyman followed by Tigirlily in the afternoon.

Kids will love participating in the popular Chokecherry Stroll on Saturday. All children are encouraged to dress up however they like and decorate their bikes and wagons. The stroll will begin at 9:30 a.m. and end in Harmon Park with a short program on the stage. Kids who participate in the stroll will receive a raffle ticket for fun prizes! The Kids Chokecher- ry Pit will open at 10 a.m. It features face-painting, balloon twisting, a chokecherry pit-spitting contest and other free family activities.

The Ultimate Air Dogs, a nationally-acclaimed dock dog jumping organization (www.ultimateairdogs.com), will return to the ND Chokecherry Festival on both Friday and Saturday with demonstrations by their own dogs and competitions for the public throughout the day. For the first time, the North Dakota Chokecherry Festival will be regional qualifying event for the Ultimate Air Dogs National Championships in the fall. The top 5 dogs in each division (Distance Jumping, Fetch It, Catch It and Chase It) will qualify to compete at National Championship event at Purina Farms this October. Each division will also have $500 in prize money.

All ages love watching the Ultimate Air Dogs. The public is encouraged to bring their water-loving, people friendly furry family members to participate at the festival. All sizes, breeds and ages are welcome, as long as they can swim!

Bear Hollow Wood Carvers will be offering live chainsaw carving demonstrations on Friday and Saturday. Their finished artwork will be available through a silent auction in the park, with proceeds going to support the festival. This year, the event will also feature an expanded car show at the south end of Harmon Park!

The North Dakota Chokecherry Festival is supported the Williston Convention & Visitors Bureau as well as many business and individual sponsors. Events like the ND Choke- cherry Festival could not happen without public support and sponsorship. If you are interested in being a festival supporter, contact the CVB at 701-774-9041.
