“Was a Farmer, had a ‘HOG,’ and BINGO was his Name O!”

Submitted by Pat McWilliams

Actually Sidney Gymnastics Center (SGC) will have 20 hogs, or one should say 20 hams PLUS door prizes, drinks, popcorn, and baked goods at its “Ham Bingo Night” gymnastics center addition fundraiser scheduled April 8, 2 p.m. at the Central School gym in Sidney.

SGC is a parent run 501 3c organization in Sidney, MT, dedicated since 1989 to providing Richland County and the surrounding areas with an opportunity to experience a high quality gymnastics experience. Beginning with its “Tumble Toddler” program for age walking to age 3, continuing with a 3 to age pre-kindergarten “Tumble Bugs” class, “Tumble Bugs BIG” for kindergartners, beginning-intermediate-advanced classes for elementary through high school age, and an award winning competitive team; SGC continually strives to provide gymnastics movement education at a very affordable price.

SGC is bursting at the seams with gymnastics students these days, and is looking to double its current facility size from 5,000 to 10,000 square feet with a 100 x 50 foot addition, costing $650,000. Coach Pat McWilliams talks about the enrollment history at SGC and the current need for the addition:

“In the 90s and through the middle 2000s, the gym had an enrollment of 150 to 160 students. In the late 2000s and into the early tens, the enrollment had slipped down to 60 to 80 students. When my wife Jan and I started teaching at SGC in 2011, only about 60 kids were taking classes. Over the last several years we have seen significant increase. SGC began hitting the 200s in enrollment with the school year 2014, and had over 300 students taking classes the 2015-2016 school year. We’ve had about 230 come through the program so far the 2016-2017 school year.”

With this growth has come crowding. With only 3700 of SGC’s 5000 square foot facility available for actual gymnastics equipment, things can get pretty tight, with some classes having over 40 students in them. Building an addition would have a number of advantages for SGC students and parents.

One of the greatest advantages would be the ability to open up more classes, and have classes available with a later start time to benefit those families with two working parents. Another advantage would be the opportunity to run several different types of classes simultaneously; for example a pre-school class, and elementary age class, and a team workout all operating at the same time.

Other advantages include the addition of locker rooms, an improved parent viewing area, and an area dedicated solely to pre-school gymnastics classes.

An additional significant advantage of the addition would be the ability to add new equipment such as a “foam pit.” A gymnastics “pit” is a large 6’ deep hole with a trampoline bed 3’ down, filled to the top with foam cubes. A pit would open up a lot of fun activities for all classes, pre-school through elementary, as well as provide the competitive team with the ability to train more difficult skills. If one visits a “Trampoline Gym” such as can be found in Minot and Billings, one will see foam pits in use by all age children.

SGC would like to invite all Richland County (and beyond!) to come to our Ham Bingo Night on April 8, 2 p.m. at the Central School Gym. Be prepared to enjoy a festive night of Bingo, door prizes, refreshments and all around good clean fun while helping SGC move closer to its goal of a 5000 square foot addition to its current facility.

For further information on Ham Bingo Night, or to sign up for a birthday party or enroll a student in a gymnastics class, call Sidney Gymnastics Club at 406-433-3008 or visit our “Sidney Gymnastics Club” Facebook page today!

Easter Egg Hunting Season Opens

By Stephanie Ler

You remembered to get your doe tags and fishing license this year, but did you remember to get your egg hunting license? Easter egg hunting seasons officially opens in the area in the next two weeks, and you can be sure there will be enough eggs to go around.

Everybody knows that rabbits don’t lay eggs, but nonetheless, Americans devote more than $1.9 billion each year to purchase Easter candy. The Easter bunny fable dates back as far as the 1500’s, and historians believe that the Easter bunny arrived in America sometime during the 1700’s, when German immigrants brought the traditional egg-laying hare, the “Osterhase”, with them. The “Osterhase” would lay its colored eggs in nests left by the children. On Easter morning, children would wake up and set off to find the eggs in the basket. Eventually, the tradition spread across America and blossomed into what we see today.

Whether filled with chocolates, jellybeans, coins or prize tickets, children are determined to find the hidden eggs and fill their buckets and baskets. If you are looking for a local hunt, check out the calendar below.

Watford City-The Watford City Lions Club is hosting an Easter Egg Hunt “Egg-stravaganza” at the Rough Rider Center on Saturday, April 15, from 11 to 2, Central time. The egg-stravaganza features an egg hunt, pictures with the Easter bunny, a bunny petting zoo, face painting, a bouncy house and prizes for all ages. The Rough Rider concession and coffee shop will be open during the event. The Rough Rider Center is located at 2209 Wolves Den Parkway in Watford City. Remember to bring an egg basket!

Sidney: Elk’s Club- On April 15th at 11AM, an Easter egg hunt for children under 12 will be at Veterans Park.

Moose Lodge - April 8 at 10 am, children through age 10 are invited to an Easter egg hunt at Moose Park.

Sidney-Richland County Library- Easter egg hunt will be during Story Time on April 14, at 10:30AM. The hunt is for toddlers and pre-schoolers, and takes place inside the library. The story that day will be Easter-themed.

Reynold’s Market- The Reynold’s Market aisles will be scattered with eggs for a hunt that takes place on Friday, April 14th at 11 AM. The hunt is for preschoolers to children up to third grade.

Mucho Si Mexican Restaurant- 600 eggs will be hidden at Mucho Si Mexican Restaurant in the Yellowstone Marketplace on Friday, April 14th, at 2PM sharp. Bring your own basket, and don’t be late!

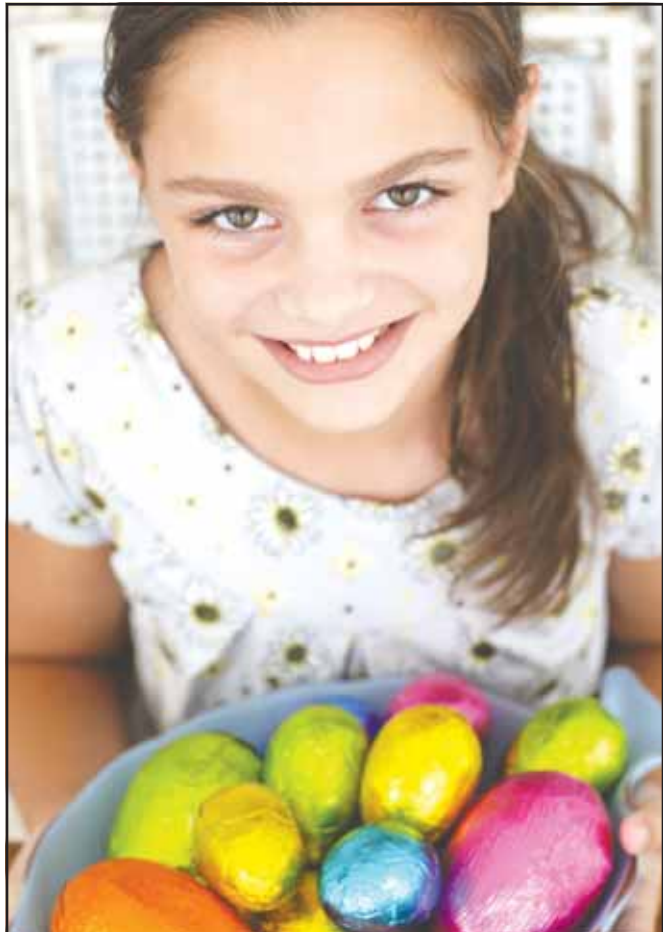

Williston-The Confluence Center/Fort Buford- An Easter egg hunt will take place on Saturday, April 8th, at 1PM Central time, for children up to 12 years old. Register for door prizes before the hunt, and purchase hot dogs prepared by the Mt. Moriah Lodge. The event will take place outside, and will be rescheduled if weather does not cooperate.

The Little Sprouts Egg Hunt at the Williston Visitors Center will take place on Wednesday, April 12th, from 10 to 3. Pre-school aged children and younger may collect 8-10 eggs and meet the Easter bunny. Eggs will be replenished every 30 to 40 minutes for more children to participate. The Visitor’s Center is located at 212 Airport Road.

Fairview: An Easter egg hunt will start eggs-actly at noon Thursday, April 13th at Sharbono Park. Prizes will be given for hunters who find special numbered eggs. The hunt is sponsored by the Fairview Chamber of Commerce.

Bees, Beekeeping Focus of ARS BrownBagger Friday

By Beth Redlin
Bees in your backyard and bees as a business are the focus of the next BrownBagger presentation at the USDA-ARS Northern Plains Agricultural Research Laboratory in Sidney this coming Friday, April 7. Ring in spring with this timely talk by Beth Eiring of the Montana Department of Agriculture. Eiring's presentation is entitled "Beekeeping From a Regulatory Perspective," and will include a look at beekeeping in Montana (numbers, sites, and the various types of beekeeping), the regulations and what they look like when applied on the ground. She will also discuss what she has found in the state as a regulatory official, as well as providing a bit of general beekeeping advice. Her talk will be held Friday from Noon to 1 pm at the Sidney ARS lab, 1500 N. Central Avenue. Eiring works in the Nursery and Apiary Programs for the state of Montana Department of Agriculture. Beekeeping is big business in Montana, which typically ranks in the top five states in the U.S. for honey production. The Montana Department of Agriculture registers all non-hobbyist apiary sites in the state. Registration for hobbyists is voluntary. Eiring has been with the state for the last 9 years but has been happily working in the green industry with plants for 20 years! She currently resides in Helena and loves any and all outdoor activities such as rafting, backpacking, gardening, skiing, and, of course, beekeeping. Please join us Friday, April 7, for Beth Eiring's inside look at beekeeping in Montana. Bring your lunch; we'll provide dessert! For questions or more information on the Sidney ARS 2017 Brownbagger Series, contact Beth Redlin at 406-433-9427 or beth.redlin@ars.usda.gov.

MSU To Host Annual Agricultural Research Center Field Days Across Montana

By MSU News Service
The public is invited to attend free annual field days across Montana to tour and learn about the people, places and projects involved with agricultural research at Montana State University's College of Agriculture and Montana Agricultural Experiment Station or MAES. Five research stations across the state and a local Bozeman campus farm will each host a field day this summer.

"Statewide field days are a longstanding tradition where we invite the public to tour our facilities, meet our faculty and staff and learn about trends and progress in agriculture research that hopefully makes a difference in their lives," said Barry Jacobsen, associate director of MAES. "What's most important about field days is that they serve as an opportunity for statewide producers, farmers, ranchers and agribusiness to share successes and challenges face-to-face with faculty scientists and learn about what the university is doing in response to those challenges and needs. It's a chance for faculty and stakeholders to engage as an agricultural community and for the university to get feedback on what we need to be focusing on."

Field days include facility tours, explanations of research projects and results and a chance for citizens, producers, legislators and agribusiness representatives to speak with MSU scientists and Extension agents.

Summer 2017 field days include:

Northern Agricultural Research Center, Thursday, June 29: The field day begins at 4 p.m. with tours before and after dinner. The center is located about seven miles southwest of Havre on U.S. Highway 87. (406) 265-6115.

The MSU Arthur H. Post Agronomy Farm, Thursday, July 7: The Post Farm will begin tours at 8:30 a.m. followed by lunch. The Post Farm is located eight miles west of Bozeman on U.S. Highway 191. (406) 586-6819.

Central Agricultural Research Center, Wednesday, July 12: The field day starts at 9 a.m. and includes a free lunch. The center is located 2.5 miles west of Moccasin on U.S. Highway 87. (406) 423-5421.

Northwestern Agricultural Research Center, Thursday, July 13: The field day begins at 2 p.m., with dinner following the tour. NWARC is located near Creston on State Highway 35. (406) 755-4303.

Eastern Agricultural Research Center, Wednesday, July 19: The field day begins at 9 a.m. The center is located one mile north of Sidney on State Highway 200. (406) 433-2208.

Western Agricultural Research Center, Thursday, July 27: The field day starts at 4 p.m. with dinner at 5 p.m. and a tour following. WARC is located at 580 Quast Lane, Corvallis. (406) 961-3025.

MAES comprises agricultural research of on and off-campus MSU faculty. The research centers are strategically located across Montana to allow research with different soil types, elevations, climate zones and landscapes, and a local advisory council guides the research at each station. The federal Hatch Act of 1887 authorized every national land-grant university to establish an agricultural experiment station, with research reflecting the university's curriculum and state needs. The Smith-Lever Act authorized the Extension Service in 1914. MSU College of Agriculture, Montana Agricultural Experiment Station and MSU Extension have been cooperatively serving the land-grant mission and the Montana public for the past 100 years.

For more information about the Montana Agricultural Experiment Station, visit <http://agresearch.montana.edu/maes.html>. For more information about the station's research centers, visit <http://agresearch.montana.edu/researchcenters.html>.

State Health Officials Offer Zika Prevention Tips For Travelers

This time of year, many Montanans will be traveling to and returning from Mexico, the Caribbean, and Central or South America after enjoying some fun in the sun.

State and local public health officials are reminding Montanans these are also areas where mosquitos that carry Zika virus are active.

Officials are reminding travelers to these areas to protect themselves from Zika virus and to take the necessary steps upon their return.

Risk of Zika infection, transmitted primarily by mosquitos and sometimes through sexual contact, can be minimized by following simple precautions when traveling to an affected area. Fortunately, Montana's mosquitoes are not capable of spreading the Zika virus.

"Savvy travelers know that preparation is essential for a great trip, and today that involves bringing mosquito repellent, dressing to prevent bites and using condoms if you are planning to have sex," said Department of Public Health and Human Services (DPHHS) epidemiologist Christine Mulgrew.

Most people who get infected by Zika virus will not get sick. Although rare, severe complications have been linked to Zika virus infection. Of primary concern are the cluster of birth defects that occurs in about 4% of babies whose mothers had a Zika infection during their pregnancy. Pregnant women and women wanting to become pregnant are advised to avoid traveling to regions where Zika infected mosquitos are common.

Public health officials state that pregnant women who traveled to an area with Zika are recommended to have a Zika test performed upon return, even if no symptoms occurred. Just like any medical test, the Zika test needs to be ordered by a healthcare provider. Testing at the Montana Public Health Department Laboratory is available at a minimal cost for all pregnant women who may be at risk of Zika. To date, no Montana pregnant woman has had a positive Zika test.

Since the identification of Zika in the Americas, over 200 Montanans returning from trips have sought testing for Zika. Of these, 10 Montana residents were diagnosed with a Zika infection after visiting a country where Zika infected mosquitos are common. They were diagnosed by their health care provider after developing symptoms of Zika infection that included rash, fever, arthralgia and red eyes.

"If you have these symptoms during or after your trip, see your healthcare provider to get a Zika test," Mulgrew said.

Although not common, Zika virus infection can be transmitted to sexual partners. If you have traveled to an area with Zika, use condoms for at least 8 weeks (women) or 6 months (men) after travel to protect your sex partners from Zika. If you have traveled to an area with Zika and have a pregnant partner, use condoms correctly every time you have sex, or do not have sex for the entire pregnancy.

The primary way to prevent Zika infection while vacationing is to use an EPA registered insect repellent to prevent mosquito bites. Zika virus is carried by certain species of Aedes mosquitos. These mosquitos tend to thrive in warmer and wetter climates than in Montana. They are aggressive, bite in the day and night, and can live indoors as well as outdoors.

For more information on Zika and how to protect yourself, visit the DPHHS Zika website at www.dphhs.mt.gov.

What are valid protest grounds? The protest may be based on the applicant's qualifications listed in 16-4-401, MCA, or the grounds for denial of an application in 16-4-405, MCA. Examples of valid protest grounds include: (1) the applicant is unlikely to operate the establishment in compliance with the law; (2) the proposed location cannot be properly policed by local authorities; and (3) the welfare of the people in the vicinity of the proposed location will be adversely and seriously affected.

How are protests submitted? Protests must be postmarked to the Department of Revenue, Office of Dispute Resolution, P.O. Box 5805, Helena, Montana 59604-5805 on or before May 8, 2017.

What happens if the license is protested? Depending on the number of protests and the protest grounds, a public hearing will be held in Helena or Bainville. All valid protestors will be notified of the hearing's time, date and location. Hearings typically are scheduled within 90 days. A protester's hearing testimony is limited to the grounds in the protester's letter. Following the hearing, the Department of Revenue will notify the public whether the license transfer is approved or denied.

How can additional information be obtained? The cited MCA statutes are online at leg.mt.gov/bills/mca_toc/. Questions may be directed to Michael Sell, Compliance Specialist for the Department of Revenue's Liquor Control Division, at (406) 444-3505 or MSell@dmr.gov.

Richland County Crimestoppers Crime of the Week

By Richland County Crimestoppers
Crimestoppers is asking for information on individuals or groups that are selling or providing illegal dangerous drugs, such as Methamphetamines (Meth), Marijuana, Heroin, prescription medication or any other illegal drug in the Richland County area. Law enforcement has report that even with the few number of people in our area, there is a large amount of selling of illegal drugs. Those under the influence of Meth often become agitated and feel "wired." Their behavior becomes unpredictable. They may be friendly and calm one moment, angry and terrified the next. Some are compelled to repeat meaningless tasks: others pick at imaginary bugs on their skin.

It is possible that you or someone you love is addicted to prescription drugs. Most of us take prescription drugs only drug activities lead to other crimes and problems in personal and family life. So, help us keep our community a safe place to live, work, and raise our children.

Crimestopper is working!!!
