63rd National Hard Spring Wheat Show Comes To Williston

Submitted by The Williston Wire

Williston Economic Development (WED) has announced it will be a major sponsor of the 63rd National Hard Spring Wheat Show Feb. 2-4 in Williston.

The long-running Wheat Show brings experts and exhibitors to Williston to share cutting-edge information with producers. WED will have a booth at the event showcasing its programs that benefit agricultural business opportunities.

Farming and ranching has historically been the leading industry in northwestern North Dakota; although in recent years, it has shared the media spotlight with the booming Bakken Shale Oil and Gas Play. "Technological advancements in the oil and gas industry gave us a wild ride these past several years and made Williston the fastest growing small city in America," said Williston Economic Development Executive Director Shawn Wenko. One of WED's strategic goals continues to be providing support for new and current businesses that process, market and distribute crops and livestock in the Williston region. "It's important that the Williston Economic Development Office continues to acknowledge the contributions made to our region by the ag-industry and assist where we can to help foster innovative agricultural development for the future," said Wenko.

WED offers a variety of resources to help agricultural businesses get started or existing businesses expand including business plans, financial incentives, market research and site selection.

The National Hard Spring Wheat Show will be held Feb. 2-4 at the Grand Williston Hotel and Conference Center. The show is organized by the Williams County Extension Service. The annual Bread Fair for area 5th graders will take place on Tue., while the trade show, seminars and meals will be held on Wed. from 7:30 a.m. until 7:30 p.m. and Thur. from 7:30 a.m. until 4 p.m. For more information call the Williams County Extension Service at 701-577-4595 and ask for Danielle or Desire'e.

"Attitude" by Artist Pat Schermerhorn

Submitted by Trish Stevenson

Artist Pat Schermerhorn employs an unusual technique to portray her subjects. It is called pointillism, which means simply that the artist uses hundreds of small dots of color to render her paintings. She normally uses pen and colored inks, but also works with pencils, scratchboard, pastels and acrylics.

Her subjects vary but lean to the area she is lives in, surrounded by wildlife, horses, western people and places.

She has participated in many national shows, including the CM Russell Auction in Great Falls, MT the Roughrider show and sale in Williston, ND, The Western Heritage show in Great Falls, Mt, Western Spirit Museum show in Cheyenne, Wyoming and Women Artists of the West shows around the country. She has done Quick Draws at most of these shows.

Pat is one of the founding members of the Blue Buffalo Artists and the Cody Art Show in the Historic Irma Hotel. She has lived in Cody, Wyoming since 2003, moving to Wyoming from 25 years in Heart River Country of North Dakota.

Pat's work is included in the Blue Buffalo Artists exhibit at the MonDak Heritage Center now through February 13, 2016.

Public Hearing On Navratil Channel Migration Easement

Submitted by Sheridan Martin

On Wed., January 27th, at 7 p.m., Mike Backes with Montana Fish, Wildlife and Parks (FWP) and Tom Hinz with Montana Aquatic Resources Services Inc. (MARS), invited the public to comment on a proposal to fund the purchase of a perpetual channel migration easement (CME) on 89.5 acres in Richland County along the Yellowstone River near Sidney, MT. The CME is a conservation easement that includes land bordering a stream or river where the Landowner (The Navratil Family) agrees not to riprap or otherwise stabilize the riverbank, allowing the river's natural erosive processes to continue. The easements include important habitats provided for fish and wildlife species, in part by prohibiting rip rapping and dumping along the riverbank within the easement area. Montana Land Reliance (MLR), the state's largest land and trust, will hold in the easement in perpetuity.

Western Area Power Administration (WAPA), a member of the Upper Basin Pallid Sturgeon Governing Board, provided seed money to FWP in 2008 to do one or more sloughing easements. FWP later selected MARS to help develop the pilot sloughing, or CME, easement with the Navratils. WAPA also helps with other Pallid Sturgeon recovery projects, including research and management of the fish.

If the expenditure of FWP fund for the CME is approved, there would be 11 practices that would be prohibited throughout the easement. Some of these practices include bank stabilization, dumping, mineral extraction, placement of subdivisions, and camper and trailers, construction, roads, etc. The CME will have no negative effect on wildlife, land resources, water resources, and more. The purpose is to basically allow the river to migrate naturally by purchasing the right of the landowner to stabilize the river bank.

Public comments included complaints such as "It's a waste of money," and "If I can't dump on my land, I won't be able to irrigate my crops." Several citizens at the hearing were neighbors of the Navratil family, and did not like the idea of spending money on something that would happen naturally and not being able to prevent the loss of their own land.

Mike Backes, who has been involved with the project since 2008, will be paying close attention to the public comments. "We were hoping to make the decision to make the purchase on January 29th after all comments have been received, but after tonight I see we will have to revise the CME to better suit the public's needs."

Mondak Relay For Life Kickoff

Submitted by Andi Buckley

Start the Relay Season of 2016 off with a Kick! MonDak Relay for Life would like to welcome the community to join us for our Kickoff event at Meadowlark Brewery. Arien Waller (event chair) and Kelcey Fixen (event co-chair) are excited to get more community involvement, and think that extending this open invitation to join them for an exciting, passion lighting, meet and greet will be a great start.

"We had a great time planning and hosting last year's Relay as a new leadership team, and we have made it our goal as a committee to make this year bigger, better, and more fun for all," said Waller.

Community members of Richland County are invited to join the Relay Leadership Team on Feb. 10 from 6 p.m.-7p.m. for appetizers, beverages, and fun at Meadowlark Brewery. Fixen states, "This is a really great way to get to know your local Relay Committee, hear about their passion for the event, and fuel your own passion to find a Cure. We are truly grateful that we get to have such an impact with so many people and that Meadowlark Brewery has been so accommodating to our event. We hope that others want to join in on the fun with us."

The local relay has been busy, starting the year with a few other fundraisers as well. "We had a great turn out for our first major fundraiser, and have been asked to do it again next year," said Waller of the Black Tie Event.

The event leadership team would like to invite anyone wanting to know more about the committee, the event, becoming a sponsor, or getting more involved with Relay for Life. They would also like to extend a sincere Thank You to the sponsors of 2016, for helping them gain on their goal for the year!

Public Hearings Scheduled In Watford City For Two Separate Proposed Pipelines

Submitted by Julie Fedorchak

BISMARCK, ND – The North Dakota Public Service Commission (PSC) will hold two public hearings in Watford City on Tuesday, Feb. 9, 2016, regarding two separate pipeline proposals in McKenzie County.

ONEOK Bakken Pipeline hearing for the Garden Creek Loop NGL Pipeline Project will be Tues., Fe. 29 at 9 a.m. CST at Teddy's Residential Suites, 113 9th Ave. SE, Watford City, ND, 58854.

ONEOK Bakken Pipeline, LLC, has submitted an application for a permit for the Garden Creek natural gas liquids (NGL) Pipeline Loop Project. The new 14.4-mile long, 16-inch diameter steel loop pipeline and associated facilities would be built in McKenzie County. Looping a pipeline involves operating a shorter segment of pipeline in parallel with the existing pipeline. The loop is connected to the main pipeline to help reduce pressure drop and increase capacity of the system. The pipeline will parallel and interconnect with the existing ONEOK Garden Creek NGL Pipeline to expand its capacity from 74,000 barrels per day to 93,000 barrels per day. The pipeline would transport Y-grade NGLs, which is a mixture of ethane, propane, butanes, iso-butane mix, pentanes, and natural gasoline. Estimated cost of the project is $19.5 million.

The existing Garden Creek pipeline starts at the ONEOK Rockies Midstream Garden Creek Gas Plants near Watford City and proceeds generally west and south through McKenzie County. Approximately 12.8 miles of the proposed loop will be co-located with the existing pipeline right-of-way. (Note to the media: A map showing the pipeline route has been provided to you for use with any announcements or stories you print.)

Oasis Midstream Services hearing for the Wild Basin to Johnsons Corner Crude Oil Pipeline will be Tues., Feb. 29 at 1:30 p.m. CST at Teddy's Residential Suites, 113 9th Ave. SE, Watford City, ND, 58854.

Oasis Midstream Services, LLC, has submitted an application for a permit for the Wild Basin to Johnsons Corner Crude Oil Pipeline in McKenzie County. The pipeline would be a new 10.75 inch diameter crude oil mainline with one lateral pipeline totaling approximately 19 miles in length (the mainline is approximately 18.3 miles and the lateral is approximately 0.9 miles in length). The pipeline would have a maximum capacity of 75,000 barrels per day. Oasis also plans to build three above ground storage tanks at the Wild Basin Gas Processing and Crude Handling Facility with a storage capacity of 200,000 barrels. Estimated cost of the project is $13 million.

The mainline will originate at the Wild Basin Gas Processing Facility and extend southeast to terminate at the Tesoro Johnsons Corner Station, which is approximately 2.8 miles east of Johnsons Corner. The lateral would transport crude from the mainline to the proposed Dakota Access Pipeline. The hearings provide an opportunity for members of the public to contribute to the PSC's official record. Any comments from members of the public must be received at the hearings to be part of the record. People with concerns, questions or support/opposition for the project are encouraged to attend the hearings and present their information. Information received after the hearings will not be part of the official record and cannot be used as a basis for the Commission's decision unless certain additional procedures are followed.

The North Dakota Public Service Commission is a constitutionally created state agency with authority to permit, site and regulate certain business activities in the state including electric and gas utilities, telecommunications companies, power plants, electric transmission lines, pipelines, railroads, grain elevators, auctioneers, commercial weighing devices, pipeline safety and coal mine reclamation. For more information, contact the Public Service Commission at (701) 328-2400 or www.psc.nd.gov.

Richland Community Complex Moves Forward Based On Survey Results

Submitted by Joel Feldman, Project Manager of Conventions, Sports & Leisure International

The phase 1 analysis and survey results show a positive community interest for a recreation & event center in Eastern Montana. The results are a great step forward in making a recreation facility that will help to address the current needs in our community. The potential building analysis will be scaled back to the current needs, with the ability to grow in the future in stages. This stage 2 analysis will give us a better idea of what we can support here in our area. The survey showed a positive community interest for a indoor pool with the capabilities for water physical therapy, swimming lessons, and a family environment for recreation. Other positives were the need for more gym space for athletes and the ability to host events for our area which will help to bring an economic stability to our businesses. An indoor track and workout facility with more capabilities, meeting spaces, and outdoor spaces with soccer fields, along with drop-in daycare and space for fine arts/musical performances were also identified.

We are hoping to find a way to enhance what we currently have by putting the most important needs first and have a plan for the future. The 2nd phase of this analysis will give us a road map to move forward.

Please see the statement from the Convention, sports & leisure below:

Conventions, Sports & Leisure International (CSL) has completed a Phase I draft analysis that comprehensively evaluates the market demand for the potential development of a new multipurpose, recreation and event center in eastern Montana. The research involved in this Phase included a detailed analysis of: existing market conditions; industry trends and characteristics; and, competitive and comparable facilities.

Additionally, we conducted an extensive survey process to measure demand for recreation and event space in eastern Montana that included: conversations with local area leaders and stakeholders; state and regional organizers of rotating meetings and events; concert and other touring show promoters; organizers and representatives of amateur sports tournaments; meets and other competitions; and, outreach to the eastern Montana community residents, which resulted in nearly 400 completed on-line surveys. The results of these efforts were then synthesized and translated into a market supportable facility program for the potential development of a recreation and event center in eastern Montana.

The Richland Community Complex Board of Directors subsequently has requested that CSL continue with a Phase II evaluation of various key quantitative cost and benefit aspects, including financial operating, economic impacts and potential funding opportunities for a potential new recreation and event center. At the conclusion of this analysis, we will develop findings and recommendations as to how the community could best proceed in order to protect its priorities and to best integrate efficiencies that may be available through various partnership opportunities.

The Public is Encouraged to Comment on the Intake Diversion Dam Fish Passage Project on or Before Feb. 17

By Meagan Dotson

On Thursday, January 21st, the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and the Bureau of Reclamation held a public scoping meeting at the Dawson County High School in Glendive, MT to gather public opinion and answer questions about the alternatives being studied as part of an Environmental Impact Statement (EIS) for the Intake Diversion Dam fish passage project.

The EIS is being developed to better determine how fish passage, especially that of the endangered pallid sturgeon, can be improved with continued viable operation of the Lower Yellowstone Irrigation Project (LYIP). The LYIP provides water to over 50,000 acres of land from Intake into western North Dakota and is vital to agriculture in the area, with annual gross crop values currently between $25 million and $30 million.

However, the pallid sturgeon, native to the Yellowstone River, struggle to swim in the turbulent waters created by the dam, causing them to spawn below Intake. Newly hatched pallid sturgeon can't swim for the first 13- 15 days of life and drift downstream; it is believed that they then drift into Lake Sakakawea and die in the lake environment.

Over thirty individuals with the USACE, Department of Omaha, the BOR, and Tetra Tech, a company that has been contracted to develop alternatives and write the EIS, are working on the project. Alternatives include No Action which would mean the continued operation and maintenance of the existing project, permit for rocking, and Endangered Species Act Section 7 consultation; the Rock Ramp Alternative which would replace the existing weir with a concrete weir and a shallow-sloped, un-grouted rock ramp. The Bypass Channel Alternative which would construct a bypass channel around the existing weir and divert about 15% of total river flow. The High Flow Channel Alternative which would modify an existing side channel around the current weir to divert river flow. The Pumping Alternative that would include either pumping stations (surface water) or Ranney wells (infiltration galleries) to divert water into the existing irrigation canal and the Non-Weir Alternative which could include pumping, alternative energy sources and conservation. Finally, there will be consideration of other recommended alternatives identified during scoping.

The public is invited and encouraged to comment on the issues and alternatives at hand and may submit comments by mail to U.S. Army Corps of Engineers Omaha District: Attention CENWO-PM-AA, 1616 Capitol Ave., Omaha, Nebraska 68102 or email comments to cenwo-planning@usace.army.

mil. Comments must be postmarked or received via email by February 17, 2016. A draft of the EIS will be complete in May 2016 at which time the BOR will hold another public scoping meeting with another 45-day comment period. The final EIS will be complete in November of 2016.

For additional information, visit the project website at www.usbr.gov/gp/mtao/loweryellowstone or contact Tiffany Vanosdall at 402-995-2695 or by email, tiffany.k.vanosdall@usace.army.mil.

MFU Says Montana Farmers at Disadvantage When It Comes to Exporting Wheat to Canada

Submitted by Montana Farmers Union

Great Falls- Montana Farmers Union Board Secretary-Treasurer Erik Somerfeld visited with staff from all three of Montana's delegates in Washington D.C. this week regarding Canada's current wheat grading system. This comes on the heels of a letter Senator Tester sent to U.S. Trade Representative Michael Froman requesting the ambassador address the issue with the Canadian government.

Under the current system, when Montana wheat crosses the border it is automatically downgraded to feed, the lowest quality designation. However, the United States has made it a priority to fairly examine wheat imported from Canada. Somerfeld spoke on behalf of Montana producers during his visit with the senator. "This discrepancy leads to an unfair disadvantage for Montana farmers who work tirelessly to provide high-quality wheat. MFU is in favor of standards that don't unfairly discount Montana grain," said Somerfeld.

Paul Kanning, MFU Board Member and farmer in Flaxville, grows spring wheat. Currently he sells his wheat in state, but would consider doing business with Canada if it made financial sense to do so. "If the rules were more balanced, it would open up the options for us and put us on a level playing field," said Kanning.

Montana farmers export more wheat to Canada than any other nation, and contribute billions each year to the national economy. MFU President Alan Merrill: "Montana farmers depend on equitable grain pricing to put food on the table for people all over the world. We applaud Senator Tester's commitment to Montana agriculture."

Somerfeld was in D.C. to represent Montana on the National Farmers Union Policy Committee. With input from delegates and membership the committee will then submit a final copy of the policy at the national convention in March in Minneapolis.

DPHHS Offers ‘Health in the 406’ Messages

Submitted by Department of Public Health and Human Services

The Department of Public Health and Human Services (DPHHS) is introducing a new series of health messages called Health in the 406 that will focus on various public health topics designed to raise awareness and help Montanans live healthier lives.

There are numerous important public health issues that impact all of us, and the goal is to shed some light on those key areas where Montana is doing well, but also where improvements can be made, said State Medical Officer Dr. Greg Holzman. “Our state and local health departments, worksites, non-government organizations and private citizens work hard to enhance our quality of life in Montana,” said Holzman. “We want Montanans to know more about what is happening around our state to improve our quality of life. In addition, we’ll also highlight areas of concern so that improvements can be made in order to make Montana the healthiest place to work, learn, play and live.”

Holzman said public health enhances quality of life in Montana by helping to build healthy communities. From ensuring tobacco free public spaces to helping healthcare improve patient care, it touches everyone in Montana – from birth to death. Traditionally, public health brings to mind vaccinations, motor-vehicle safety, and control of infectious disease. “Public health is a partnership of individuals and organizations and all Montanans have a role,” he said. “We want Montanans to become more aware of issues that impact their daily lives so that they can improve their health and enhance their quality of life for themselves and loved ones.”

For example, did you know that falls cause an average of 3,400 hospital stays and 19,800 emergency department visits in Montana each year costing over $135 million? “Falls are a huge issue nationwide, and Montana is no different,” said DPHHS Injury Prevention Coordinator Jeremy Brokaw. “Fortunately, there are programs that can help and information available that can make a difference in people’s lives.”

Exercise focusing on leg strength and balance can prevent falls. And, there are free or low-cost exercise programs in Montana for adults with arthritis.

Anyone interested in receiving the Health in the 406 messages can go to www.healthinthe406.mt.gov.

There will be a wide range of topics such as chronic pain, mental health and tobacco use, birth defects, colorectal screening, and more. Comments or suggestions can be emailed to healthinthe406@mt.gov.

Affordable Housing Development Assistance Available To Rural Communities

Submitted by Sarah Mudder, ND Housing Finance Agency
BISMARCK, ND – North Dakota Housing Finance Agency is currently accepting applications for development assistance in rural communities through the state’s Housing Incentive Fund. “Development in rural communities poses some unique challenges,” said Jolene Kline, NDHFA executive director. “Having an adequate supply of affordable housing strengthens a community and by limiting a funding round to our state’s smaller communities, we are ensuring that rural communities have access to this very valuable state resource.”

During the 2015 Legislative Session, NDHFA was given the authority to issue $30 million in state tax credits to capitalize the program and was provided with $5 million from profits earned by Bank of North Dakota. An additional $5 million was provided when 2015 bank profits reached $130 million. The new money is set aside for communities with populations less than 12,500.

HIF program information is available online at www.ndhousingincentivefund.org. To be considered for funding, applications for assistance must be submitted by 5 p.m. (CST) on March 31. For more information, contact NDHFA at (800) 292-8621 or hfainfo@nd.gov.

Community populations will be determined using 2010 U.S. Census data. The program’s other allocation criteria will be unchanged.

Since HIF’s inception, NDHFA has allocated more than $84 million to projects, leveraging more than $424.5 million in construction financing to support the development of 2,500 new units statewide.

A self-supporting state agency, NDHFA finances the creation and rehabilitation of affordable housing in North Dakota. The North Dakota Industrial Commission, consisting of Governor Jack Dalrymple as chairman, Agriculture Commissioner Doug Goehring and Attorney General Wayne Stenehjem, oversees the agency.

Take Advantage of Brewfest's Early Bird Special Beginning Feb. 5 thru the 28

By Meagan Dotson
The 5th annual Brewfest will be April 14, 2016 from 7:00pm until 10:00pm for General Admittance (GA) and from 5:30pm until 10:00pm for VIP ticket holders. The anticipated event is one of three fundraisers for the Sidney Area Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture, and as usual, committee members are hard at work to make it a fun and unique event. Brewers from around the region are invited to Sidney where guests can look forward to an evening of brew sampling, complimentary food, and live music.

Be sure to take advantage of Brewfest's Early Bird Special, beginning February 5th through February 28th. VIP tickets will go on sale for $80 and include a 5:30pm early admittance, access to the heated VIP tent which will offer specialty beers and food, a 2016 Brewfest tasting glass, growler, and growler cozy.

On March 1st, VIP tickets will be available for $100 apiece and general admittance for $50, with eight-top tables for $1200.

The Meadowlark will be catering the event and Kyle Welnel will once again be designing the Brewfest T-shirts.

The Lil' Smokies from Missoula, MT will be performing traditional bluegrass and newgrass. The band has been playing together for six years and has shared the stage with acts like Steve Martin and the Steep Canyon Rangers, the Nitty Gritty Dirt Band, Keller Williams, and many more. The Lil' Smokies were the winners of the 2015 Telluride Bluegrass Band Competition and consist of dobro player Andy Dunnigan, mandolin player Cameron Wilson, Scott Parker on the upright bass, Matt Corrette playing banjo, and Matt Rieger playing guitar.

A few new elements are being added to this year's Brewfest including the VIP tent which will more comfortably accommodate VIP guests. The Brewfest committee is also renting a bus from the Sidney Wrestling Booster Club in addition to the Sidney Shuttle Service which will enable faster service and allow shuttle service to and from Fairview. VIP's can be picked up outside the Hotel Albert in Fairview at 5:00 and GA can be picked up at the same location at 6:15; shuttle service back to Fairview will be offered at 9:30 and 10:00pm. As another exciting addition, the back of all tickets will have 25% off voucher for Sidney Hotels.

Brewfest has been successful in the past due to the individuals who volunteer their time as beer pourers. Volunteers will receive a 2016 Brewfest T-shirt, a sampling glass, and are invited to enjoy food and entertainment, but do need to be serve-safe certified. The classes will be provided at no cost through District II Drug and Alcohol and the certification is good for three years. Only those who have been certified in the last three years and those that work as professional bartenders will be exempt from the class.

Anyone who would like to purchase tickets, volunteer, or would like more information about the event can contact the Sidney Area Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture at 406-433-1916 or can go online to purchase tickets at www.sidneymt.com.

NRCS Montana Extends Funding Application Deadline for Wetland Easement Program

Submitted by USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service

Bozeman, Mont., Jan. 29, 2016—The USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service in Montana has extended the funding application deadline for the Wetland Reserve Easement component of the Agricultural Conservation Easement Program (ACEP) from Jan. 15, 2016, to March 11, 2016.

Landowners interested in conservation easements to address natural resource concerns can submit applications at any time. Though signup is continuous, funding selections are made at specific times during the fiscal year. To be considered for funding in Fiscal Year 2016, applications for Wetland Reserve Easements need to be submitted by March 11, 2016.

NRCS provides technical and financial assistance directly to private landowners and Indian tribes to restore, protect, and enhance wetlands through the purchase of a wetland reserve easement. For acreage owned by an Indian tribe, there is an additional enrollment option of a 30-year contract.

To learn more about wetland easements, visit the Montana NRCS website at www.mt.nrcs.usda.gov or visit your local NRCS service center.

MT Department Of Revenue Mails Thousands Of Livestock Reporting Forms For March 1 Reporting Deadline

Submitted by Mary Ann Dunwell

Helena — The Montana Department of Revenue is mailing livestock reporting forms this week to Montanans who own livestock and need to meet upcoming reporting and payment deadlines.

About 21,000 Montanans who reported last year will receive reporting forms. To make reporting easier, the department pre-populated the forms with statewide livestock information that is organized by county.

All livestock owners need to report by March 1, 2016, any livestock they own as of February 1. You can submit the hard-copy form you receive or file online at ReportYourLivestock.mt.gov.

Livestock owners who have not reported in the past need to report online or fill out a reporting form available at revenue.mt.gov or pick up a form at their local Department of Revenue office.

Starting this year, a new law changes the payment schedule. Livestock per capita fees are due May 31 instead of November 30 to decrease the time between reporting and payment. Livestock owners are now able to report and pay online at the same time and track their reporting history. "The department wants to make it more convenient for livestock owners to report their livestock and pay their fees," said Director Mike Kadas, Montana Department of Revenue. "The online system is efficient and secure, which makes it easier for livestock owners to do business in Montana."

For more information, visit ReportYourLivestock.mt.gov or call toll free (866) 859-2254, in Helena 444-6900.
