Western North Dakota Native Seeking To Co-produce Documentary

Daniel Stenberg, in cooperation with Prairie Public Broadcasting, is seeking to create a video documentary based on the lives of six brothers, one of whom is his grandfather, who were born to homesteading parents in rural McKenzie County, North Dakota.

"This isn't a story of 'rags to riches' or 'the rest of the story' of someone famous," says Daniel Stenberg, "but rather it would document the lives of those whose experiences would be similar to many other North Dakotan families who grew up around the same time." The brothers came of age in the Great Depression. One died during military service during World War II, another died at age nine from a burst appendix. The remaining brothers spent their years in, and around, McKenzie County with professions such as a brand inspector, a gas station owner, a farmer/rancher, and a handyman.

Through interviews with the brothers' relatives and neighbors, documentary viewers would get to know the personal side of a North Dakotan family. Through interviews with humanities scholars and current community leaders, the documentary viewer will learn of the larger historical context surrounding their stories. As the personal stories and scholarly facts are placed together among pictures, informative statistics and background footage, the goal is to create a piece that is compelling, interesting and informative. Dr. David B. Danbom (retired NDSU Professor of Agricultural History) and Richard Stenberg (Williston State College Assistant Professor of History and a son of one of the six brothers) have agreed to participate as humanities scholars.

As the landscape and economy of western North Dakota is undergoing some drastic changes, Stenberg sees this documentary as an important opportunity to help us reflect on "North Dakota's past, not to dwell on it, but to be cognizant of the changes that have taken place over the past 80-100 years." Stenberg grew up in Western North Dakota, and then moved out of state for about five years. While away, he came to realize that stories of North Dakota are unique, and deserve to be preserved more. Since moving back, he began working on this idea to create the 6 Brothers documentary. He first approached Bob Dambach, Director of Television for Prairie Public Broadcasting, about a year ago with his idea, and since that time with some more iterations of the draft, Prairie Public has agreed to help produce the documentary provided that sufficient funding is raised. In a letter of support for the project, Dambach says, "Prairie Public is excited about the prospect of working with Daniel Stenberg… [He] is an extremely organized and motivated person with a passion for getting this story told."

The cost of production is budgeted at approximately $75,000. Provided that requisite financing is raised, Prairie Public Broadcasting has agreed to provide approximately $35,000 worth of that in-kind services. The McKenzie County Pioneer Museum has agreed to serve as fiscal agent for this project. The project was recently awarded a $15,000 grant from the North Dakota Humanities Council. Additionally the project will be seeking funding from businesses (there are three "Major Contributor" slots available), and is currently running an online "crowd-funding" campaign, allowing anyone to contribute between $10-$500 and in return get various project related rewards. This crowd-funding opportunity is available from now through April 29. Crude Pipeline Announced Along NGL Pipeline Moving Forward

By Jodi McPherson

Oneok Partners representatives Steve Johnson, Government Regulations, and Megan Lewis, Corporate Communications, met last Wednesday in Sidney to discuss progress of the future Bakken Natural Gas Liquid (NGL) Pipeline. Construction on the pipeline is set to begin mid-May of this year.

Oneok Partners, a Tulsa, Okla. based company, announced last year plans to build the multi-million dollar natural gas liquids pipeline through the region. The 500-mile Bakken Pipeline, starts near Sidney and travels south through Wyoming into northern Colorado. The Bakken NGL pipeline is expected to deliver 60,000 barrels per day (bpd).

"With the 500 mile, 12 inch pipeline, it will be able to increase up to 110,000 bpd," said Johnson.

The pipeline will transport raw, unfractionated natural gas liquids from natural gas processing plants in the Bakken Shale area to the company's 50-percent owned existing Overland Pass Pipeline which travels to Kansas where natural gas liquids are processed.

The company also announced last week plans to invest $1.5 billion to $1.8 billion between now and 2015 to build a 1,300-mile crude-oil pipeline with the capacity to transport 200,000 barrels per day (bpd).

The Bakken Crude Express Pipeline will transport light-sweet crude oil from the Bakken Shale in the Williston Basin in North Dakota to the Cushing, Okla., crude-oil market hub.

"As producers continue to aggressively develop crude oil from wells in the Bakken Shale, more crude-oil pipeline takeaway capacity will be required," said Terry K. Spencer, Oneok Partners president, in a recent press release. "This proposed pipeline will provide producers with efficient and reliable transportation of their product directly to one of the largest crude-oil market hubs in the U.S."

This project represents the partnership's entry into crude-oil transportation which currently is transported by rail or truck. Many of the supply commitments under negotiation are with the same producers in the Williston Basin that Oneok currently serves.

"We are fairly confident in gaining the supply commitments," said Johnson.

Supply commitments for the proposed pipeline are in various stages of negotiation. Construction is expected to begin in late 2013 or early 2014 following receipt of all necessary permits and compliance with customary regulatory requirements and be completed by early 2015. Based on supply commitments prior to construction, the capacity of the pipeline can be increased.

The proposed pipeline route is expected to parallel more than 80 percent of the partnership's existing and planned natural gas liquids pipelines. It will be designed, constructed and operated using proven technology, pipeline control systems and continuous safety monitoring.

The partnership has previously announced that it is investing $2.8 billion to $3.5 billion through 2014 in growth projects.

Sidney Country Club Welcome Party April 20

The Sidney Country Club is hosting a Welcome Party this Friday evening, April 20 at 7 p.m. for all new and prospective members. Anyone who has joined the club in the last year, as well as those who might wish to join is welcome to attend. Jay Frank, PGA pro and club manager will provide information on how to join the Country Club, as well as how to better use a membership and what is expected of members. With the increase in walk in traffic, it has been difficult for Frank to individually visit with new and prospective members. The Welcoming Party will give people his undivided attention and the opportunity to ask questions.

The Sidney Country Club provides quality, affordable recreation for all ages. "It's a good thing for folks to do in their free time," Frank said. Interest in membership has increased with the influx of people to this area. In the history of the club, the membership has never eclipsed 300. Currently there are 350. The bylaws of the club allow for 450 playing memberships and Frank is confident that they will reach that goal within the next couple of years. "Our goal is to obtain as many members as we can," Frank stated. Because of that, prospective members may have a wait before they can join and there may be a little less access for those just wanting to play casually. He encourages anyone who is interested in joining the club, including those who have lived here for many years, to do so within the next 2 years to ensure availability.

The Sidney Country Club also offers lunch and dinner options at The Fringe, which is open to the public seven days a week. The lunch menu includes juicy burgers, sandwiches and soups as well as refreshing salads. The lunch menu continues all day offering lighter options for evening diners, along with sumptuous seafood, steaks and more. Reservations are not required but are encouraged. Private parties, large or small, can be accommodated with advanced notice. The dining room is also available for banquets and events, including holiday parties. People are encouraged to book early to ensure availability.

Sidney Country Club is located on Hwy 16 NW. The Pro Shop can be reached at 406-433-1894 and The Fringe number is 406-433-7460.

Siren Tests Scheduled For Friday

In conjunction with Montana's Severe Weather Awareness Week, the Richland County Disaster and Emergency Services (DES) will conduct siren tests in both Sidney and Fairview on Friday, April 20 at 10 a.m. The tests will consist of ensuring that the alert signal and the fire alarm signal both work properly. If the hookup is completed, Sidney residents will also hear a third test, that of the curfew alert.

"We're holding these tests to make sure the sirens work and also as a way to educate people so they know the difference between the siren alert and the fire siren," says DES coordinator Butch Renders. "We also want to test the curfew siren in Sidney, and if it works, we will resume sounding the 10 p.m. curfew siren each night."

Renders explains that Sidney has different siren signals for a reason. People need to know the difference between the alarms so they can take appropriate action in an emergency. "The fire alarm signal has a wavering tone, and it goes up and down in pitch," Renders says. "The attention or alert signal is a steady blast or tone that lasts from three to five minutes. When people hear the alert siren, they need to listen for emergency alerts on radio and TV. This alert sounds for tornadoes or other life threatening incidents."

He continues, "If an emergency warning is necessary, upon hearing the sound of the alert siren, tune to 660 AM, the official EAS station, and also listen to a weather radio or any of the local radio or TV stations for instructions and information, then proceed as instructed."

The tests will begin at 10 a.m. on Friday, April 20. The Sidney alert siren will sound for one minute. There will be a thirty second pause, then the Sidney fire siren will sound for one minute. Following another thirty second pause, the Sidney curfew siren will then sound, provided it has been hooked up.

People with questions about the tests or who want to know more about emergency procedures may contact Renders at the DES office, 406-433-2220

Mrs. Kimberly Kauffman Selected To Represent Sidney In The 2012 Mrs. Montana Pageant

Sheree Lynch, Montana's State Director for the Mrs. Montana Pageant, is announcing that Mrs. Kimberly Kauffman has been selected as Mrs. Sidney-America 2012. She will represent her community in the 36th Annual Mrs. Montana Pageant to be held on April 21, 2012 at the Petro Theatre in Billings. The winner of the pageant will receive a prize package valued at over $8000 and will advance to compete in the national Mrs. America Pageant.

Mrs. Kimberly Kauffman

Celebrating its 36th year, the Mrs. America Pageant is the only nationally televised beauty competition to recognize one person who contributes so much to modern family life…. America's married woman!

From Mrs. Kimberly Kauffman: I am excited to be representing the community of Sidney in the Mrs. Montana Pageant. I was born and raised in Montana. I married my high school sweetheart, Joe Kauffman. We will be celebrating our 20th Anniversary this August. We have four wonderful children, one boy and three girls. Our children receive an education at home with a Biblical foundation. Also, we own Big Sky Surveying, PC here in Sidney.

I decided to run for in the Mrs. Montana Pageant after reading a book by Joyce Meyer and from talking to a friend who ran two years in a row for Mrs. Montana. I really felt like then, God put it on my heart to run. I feel that I will make a good finalist in the pageant based on being a great example of wife with almost 20 years of marriage and being blessed to be at home and raising our four children. The pageant will be based on interview, swimsuit and evening gown.

I love to bake and cook. My family enjoys having homemade bread. I make all our meals from scratch. I am a very health and holistic conscience person. I strive for a healthy family. I enjoy reading religious, health and nutrition books. I also enjoy hunting, swimming, camping, traveling and spending time as a family. My daily talents are to strive to be a Godly woman, wife, mother, teacher, doctor, referee, problem solver, comforter, cook, taxi and secretary.

Thank you to all the businesses who helped sponsor me in my adventure to run as Mrs. Sidney America. This community has been very supportive and a blessing to our family in helping to off-set pageant expenses.

For information, please contact Sheree at the Mrs. Montana Pageant at 907.674.0944 or mrsmontanaamerica.com

Paddlefish Snagging Season Opens May 1

North Dakota's paddlefish snagging season opens May 1 and is scheduled to continue through the end of the month. However, depending on the overall harvest, an early in-season closure may occur with a 36-hour notice issued by the state Game and Fish Department.

Snaggers need to be aware that Sundays are now included in snag-and-release-only days. Therefore, snag-and-release of all paddlefish is required on Sundays, Mondays and Tuesdays. Those planning to participate during snag-and-release-only days need to have in their possession a current season, unused paddlefish snagging tag. Use or possession of gaffs is prohibited on snag-and-release-only days, and, if it occurs, during the snag-and-release extension period.

Mandatory harvest of all snagged paddlefish is required on Wednesdays, Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays. On these days, all paddlefish caught must be tagged immediately. The use or possession of a gaff hook within one-half mile in either direction of the Highway 200 bridge on the Yellowstone River is illegal at any time during the snagging season.

Legal snagging hours are from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. daily. One tag per snagger will be issued. Snagging is legal in all areas of the Yellowstone River in North Dakota, and in the area of the Missouri River lying west of the U.S. Highway 85 bridge to the Montana border, excluding that portion from the pipeline crossing (river mile 1,577) downstream to the upper end of the Lewis and Clark Wildlife Management Area (river mile 1,565).

If the season closes early because the harvest quota is reached, an extended snag-and-release-only period will be allowed for up to seven days immediately following the early closure, but not to extend beyond May 31. Only snaggers with a current season, unused paddlefish snagging tag are eligible to participate. Only a limited area at the confluence of the Missouri and Yellowstone rivers is open to this extended season snagging opportunity.

All paddlefish snaggers must possess a paddlefish tag in addition to a valid fishing license and certificate that may be required. Cost of a paddlefish tag is $3 for residents and $7.50 for nonresidents

Sexually Transmitted Diseases (STD) Awareness Month

A healthier community begins with reproductive and sexual health. Sexual health is defined as a state of physical, emotional, mental and societal well being related to sexuality; it is not merely the absence of disease, dysfunction or infirmity. Sexual health requires a positive and respectful approach to sexuality and sexual relationships, free of coercion, discrimination and violence. Sexual health is also about open communication, acceptance of individual differences and having realistic expectations and an understanding of sexuality. April is Sexually Transmitted Diseases (STD) Awareness Month, an annual observance to call attention to the impact of STDs and to promote STD testing across the country. Adolescents and young adults are particularly vulnerable to STDs. In fact, young people between 15 and 24 years of age account for nearly half of all STD cases. The need for more information and better decision-making in sexual relationships is apparent in Montana's young adults. In 2009, 81% of all reported Chlamydia cases and 77% of all Gonorrhea cases occurred in those between the ages of 15-24. Almost half (44%) of all pregnancies in Montana are unplanned.

You can participate in Sexually Transmitted Diseases Awareness Month by talking with the young adults in your life and ensure that they are well-equipped with the knowledge to make positive choices when it comes to their sexual health. Richland County Family Planning is encouraging everyone to take care of their sexual health by getting routine STD screenings, discussing sexual health concerns with their health care providers, and planning for healthy pregnancies. For more information or to schedule an appointment for STD testing, please call Lesley Thiessen, RN at the Richland County Health Department at 433-2207.

Tragic Loss Of Carlie Ann And Ty Anderson

On April 8, 2012, the angels came and chose two very special people to carry home to heaven, Carlie Ann and Ty Anderson.

A gathering in celebration of their lives [for family, invited friends, and others who cannot attend the service on Saturday] will be held at 7 p.m. Friday, April 13 at Froid Lutheran Church. Pastor Clarice Beery will officiate at Memorial Services at 1 p.m. Saturday at the Froid High School, with interment of cremated remains in Kvile Cemetery, just north of Froid. Afterward, all are invited to the Froid Community Center for refreshment and sharing.

Friends are invited to visitation and viewing all day Wednesday at Fulkerson's in Plentywood; cremation will take place on Thursday. All are welcome to pay their respects and sign the book at Fulkerson's until Saturday morning.

A precious cowgirl, Carlie, was born to Tony and Tiffani Anderson on May 20, 1993, and on October 11, 1995, a charming wrangler, Ty, joined the tribe. They enjoyed life to its fullest and never needed all the sparkle and glitz, just a piece of twine, spurs, and each other and they were off to the arena.

Carlie and Ty had a love for sports; active in volleyball, football, basketball, track and golf. They were in band and choir and were long-time members of the Up-N-Atom 4-H club showing sheep, pigs, steers, heifers, dairy cattle, and even a goat. Both kids were awarded a NILE Merit Heifer which they were extremely proud of.

This love of animals ran deep in their veins as after graduating from Froid High School in 2011, Carlie found her niche at Miles City Community College where she was enrolled in the Equine program. Carlie hauled her horses from Miles City to home and referred to them as shuffling kids back and forth. Often called Mabel, Carlie was right by her dad's side on every roundup and ride.

Ty transferred to Medicine Lake High School in 2011 where he was excited to be a member of an FFA chapter and was showing his first FFA steer this summer in Plentywood. Ty was proud of his roping skills which were seen during the summer brandings at the neighbors. Known as Wilber by his dad, Ty was Tony's right-hand man, whether it was swathing, baling, stacking, he was always willing to get the job done without complaining.

Tiffani always instilled family traditions in her kids, whether it was family reunions or fishing trips, and made sure they were involved in the community and encouraged and supported them through all their extracurricular activities.

They were preceded in death by Grandpa Lonny Davidson and Grandma Carol Anderson. They are survived by their parents, Tony and Tiffani Anderson, sister Chelsie, and brother Jordan; Carlie's special friend Bailey Berntson; Grandma Lauria Davidson; Grandpa Jim Anderson; and numerous aunts, uncles, and cousins. They were very blessed to have a large family whom they loved dearly.

Williston Gets A New Recipe For An Old Favorite; The Burrito!

By Theresa Yockim

Located at 1007 Main St. in Williston, this establishment is full of design, design, design. While the name 3 Amigos is intended to tell you this is Southwestern inspired cuisine, it's also to tell you there are three owners, Cam Holt, Aarron Parker and Mike Triska. There is over 31 years combined restaurant experience among these talented young men.

Amigo, Spanish for friend is exactly what they are. They grew up together in Bismarck, ND. , then migrated to Bozeman after a visit to Triska's sister caused them to fall in love with the mountains. Putting their business acumen to work, they joined forces co-owning Paulie's and Frank's Gourmet Restaurant. In Williston, Triska and Parker will trade places every so often, the first time this summer. "Our focus is to provide a quality family dining experience and go above and beyond what's expected by others and also what we anticipate when we go out to eat," he says with enthusiasm. "We are three home state boys looking to help out Williston by adding another outstanding dining experience to the area."

Their intention for burritos is rather conceptual too. On the board is a base menu. After selecting a style, you walk down the line with your artist and add to its contents with items from a selection full of veggies and sauces and that are made fresh and cut daily. Parker has trained his staff well. Nothing is ever frozen, the bill of fare is extensive, also offering rice and pasta bowls and salads for lunch and gourmet cheese steaks for evening. A plan of opening at 7:00 am for breakfast burritos is coming in the near future.

The design for the interior is Modern Industrial with several tricks hidden behind the walls and under the floor. Specially protected by a hidden barrier and covered by corrugated stainless steel, its purpose for easy cleaning allows the crew to use a power washer every night to make sure it's extra clean! The upper wall colors were deliberate, especially green, known as a color that makes one hungry. They've also incorporated bright red and yellow. "We wanted something that wasn't plain, but not crazy either," Holt adds.

Never relying on outsiders, they used their own ideas and expertise to put the restaurant together. In September of last year, Holt, a commercial real estate expert, found the building and immediately recognized that their scouting was over. Knowing they wanted to take part in Williston's oil boom, once they found it, everything began to fall into place. With furniture purchased in Denver from a restaurant liquidation warehouse, they have a nice atmosphere. In the attached dining room, picture windows lend themselves to bar style seating, allowing customers to watch the bustling traffic go by. Knowing immediately they would take advantage of them, its effect is chill with a cool vibe.

Open daily from 11:00 am – 9:00 pm they have a website which allows you to peruse 3 Amigos and Franks Custom Catering. www.3amigosgrill.com Or you can reach them at 701-577-7755.

Members Recognized At Watford City High School FFA Banquet

By FFA Reporter Allison Monsen

On April 10, the Watford City FFA Chapter held their 53rd annual banquet. Chapter officers presented the opening ceremonies. Nearly 200 parents, members and guests were in attendance. Ryan Taylor was the special guest speaker this year. He spoke about how his FFA experience as chapter president in Towner, ND, led him to serve in the state senate and now run for governor. Cody Folden, Northwest Region vice president, brought greetings from the State FFA Officer Team. Taylor Dwyer, Sam Jorgenson and Allison Monsen introduced the slide show recapping the year's events. Members were presented with both production and agribusiness proficiency awards for their Supervised Agriculture Experience (SAE) projects. With over 85 members, the Watford City FFA Chapter continues to develop its members through premier leadership, personal growth and career success.

The 2012 STAR Greenhand was Kari Berg, daughter of Kelly and Donna Berg, and a very proud and determined FFA member. She has been the top fruit seller in each of her first two years as an FFA member where she has sold over $5,000 in fruit and meat so far. Kari has volunteered to help at concessions on many occasions. She wears her FFA jacket with pride at every FFA meeting and has set a high standard of respect for FFA for others to follow. Kari has certainly started out her first two years in FFA at a very high level.

The STAR in Agribusiness this year is Jennifer Levang. Jennifer is the daughter of Dean and Carolyn Levang. She is currently our chapter secretary. Jennifer has been very active in FFA since her freshmen year. She has attended District Leadership twice, where she earned silver in Parliamentary Procedure this past year. She was a top fruit seller each of her four years of high school and was named top Senior Salesman this year. Jennifer has served our FFA well with her strong work ethic.

The STAR Farmer and recipient of the Casey Johnson $500 memorial scholarship is Hayes Feilmeier. Hayes is the son of Lonnie and Marcy Feilmeier. Hayes is currently our chapter president, where he has shown outstanding leadership. He has attended District Leadership twice and has won numerous chapter proficiency awards in the last few years. He was also the recipient of the Dekalb Agriculture Accomplishment Award at the banquet. Hayes always has such a great attitude and will go far in life.

The FFA chapter also awarded plaques to the outstanding member of each grade. Members earn points for participating in activities, volunteering their time, entering projects in the fairs, and fundraising. The Outstanding Freshmen were Erick Leiseth and Shania Rolla. The Outstanding Sophomores were Kari Berg and Joseph Meuchel. The Outstanding Juniors were Taylor Dwyer, Allison Monsen, Brandon Taylor, Madison Brown and Sam Jorgenson. The Outstanding Senior was Jennifer Levang.

Members were also recognized and presented leadership awards for their FFA accomplishments. The retiring officers included President Hayes Feilmeier, Vice President Saige Feilmeier, Secretary Jennifer Levang, Treasurer Taylor Dwyer, Reporter Allison Monsen, Sentinel McKayla Haugeberg, Parliamentarian Nate Egeberg, Historian Davis Zubke and Student Advisor Clay Billing. Other awards included Cody Johnson for the Creed, Sam Jorgenson in Job Interview, Tara Loomer in Public Speaking, and Joseph Meuchel and Andrew Sampsel in Demonstration.

Receiving an FFA jacket as part of the Blue Jackets Bright Futures program were Clay Jorgenson and Shania Rolla. Representing our chapter at the Greenhand Conference this year were Keegan Thompson, Erick Leiseth and Hunter Olson. Attending the 360 Degree Conference were Sam Jorgenson, Kalen Hartel, Nate Egeberg, Kelli Linseth, Madison Brown and Cassidy Chapin.

The top young salesmen were Freshmen Jonathan Dunn, Cody Johnson, Wyatt Staal and Shania Rolla and Sophomore Kari Berg. Other top salesmen included Jordan Pokrzywinski, Reese Frick, Cole Rolfsrud, Kalden Heggen, Hayes Feilmeier, Davis Zubke, Tara Loomer, Allison Monsen, Fallon Maston and Brandon Taylor. Kari Berg was the leading seller. The top senior salesman receiving a plaque was Jennifer Levang. It included the fruit and meat sales for all four years.

Every year the chapter honors local people who support the FFA by presenting Honorary FFA degrees. This year's recipients were Rocky Prestangen, Gerry Transtrom and Justin Johnsrud.

Gerry has always been a strong supporter of the FFA. In fact, he was one of the very first FFA members of the Watford City FFA Chapter. He has been an agricultural leader of our community throughout his life, but has especially helped our FFA Chapter over the past six as custodian and head groundskeeper for our school district. He has taken the time to help haul our grill to the football field, unloaded fruit and was helpful in anything we asked of him. Rocky has graciously served on the Agriculture Education Advisory committee for the past 11 years. While working at McKenzie Electric, he has provided a great supervising station for many FFA members. Because of his support, it has been one of the most sought after training stations among our co-op students. Justin was a former Watford City FFA member and a graduate of the class of 1994. He has been an agriculture education teacher and FFA Advisor here for the past four years. He has been a great addition to our school district and leader of our FFA chapter. He has driven the bus to numerous FFA events, helped with judging teams, helped set up for many events including our banquet tonight, and is a great teacher of agriculture courses. This year, he has taught dual credit classes including welding and carpentry to give students in our school more opportunities. Justin has been an excellent addition to our Ag Education program and members are very excited to give him this recognition. "Honorary membership" - farmers, school superintendents, principals, members of boards of education, chapter advisors, teachers, business people and others who are helping to advance Agricultural Education and the FFA, and who have rendered outstanding service, may be elected to honorary membership by a majority vote of the members present at any regular meeting or convention.

The FFA Chapter would like to thank the community for once again showing such support to our FFA program this year and special appreciation is also given to the 1st Lutheran women of Keene for once again serving an excellent meal. Members are looking forward to their State Convention June 4-8.

Stockman Bank Employees Help Students Learn Financial ABC's For National Teach Children To Save Day

Stockman Bank will be giving a savings and financial lesson to all of the second grade classes at West Side Elementary School on Tuesday, April 24, as part of National Teach Children to Save Day.

Using materials developed by the American Bankers Association, Stockman staff Jamie Malsam and Wade Whiteman will trade in their balance sheets for blackboards to help fill the need of financial education. Their presentation will include games and activities about the concept of saving, how interest makes money grow, how to budget and determining financial wants and needs.

"Studies show that kids are in need of the skills to make smart financial decisions as adults," comments Garth Kallevig, president of Stockman Bank, Sidney. "Bankers are working with today's youth to help prepare future customers for financial success."

Stockman Bank offers the following tips to help parents make every day "Savings Day":

" Help kids open up their own bank savings account and make deposits regularly.

" Kids love to get mail, so encourage them to keep an eye out for their quarterly statement.

" Talk to your child about the family budget. Include a discussion on wants and needs. Reinforce this by budgeting for a family outing or purchase.

" While children know that money does not grow on trees, they may think it comes out of a wall. Show them how an ATM works and explain that to take money out of the bank you must first put it in.

" Give your kids positive feedback. As they get older, give them responsibility over how they spend their money.

Stockman Bank is once again proud to participate in National Teach Children to Save Day and help educate students on the importance of saving for their future.

The schedule is as follows:

Mrs. Romo's class from 10:50am – 11:20am

Mrs. Berube's class from 12:10pm – 12:40pm

Ms. Kim Hermanson's class from 1:30pm – 2:00pm

Mrs. Tammy Hermanson's class from 2:20pm – 2:50pm
