Watford City Homefest Art In The Park Seeking Art, Craft, Food Vendors & Talent July 15

Submitted by Jessie Scofield, Long X Arts Foundation

The Long X Arts Foundation is keeping the Homefest tradition alive in Watford City on July 15 as a way to welcome those returning for a visit and those who have made Watford City home.

Grab your friends and family and shop artists, crafters, makers and bakers as well as a variety of food options on Saturday, July 15, from 10 a.m.-5 p.m. at the Watford City Tourist Park. The event will feature a Hands-On Art Tent for Kids and families where the public can enjoy being creative with free art projects conducted by the Long X Arts Foundation staff. In addition, artists and crafters will be selling their work in the First International Bank Gallery on Main Street during the same time frame as part of the Homefest activities.

In order to make this event a success, Long X Arts is seeking more artists, makers and food vendors to fill the park. Vendor booth registration is only $25 for a 10x10 space and any interested parties are encouraged to register soon before the spaces are filled.

"The best part of this event is that there is creativity and activity around every corner," said Long X Arts Foundation Director Jessie Scofield. "The Tourist Park is a perfect spot for families to spend time and enjoy the event together."

In addition to shopping, Beaver Creek Creations will be hosting the ever-popular Baby Pageant at 11 a.m. Enter your 0-13 month-old for prizes! At noon nationally touring family comedian and ventriloquist, Jeff Wedgwood will be taking the stage. Local talent is encouraged to register for the Homefest Talent Contest at 2:30 p.m. for a chance to win cash prizes and to perform on the Ribfest Stage in August.

For a full schedule and to register as a vendor, for the talent show or for the Baby Pageant, visit longxarts.com/events/artinthepark/ or contact Jessie at 701-770-8659 or longxart@gmail.com.

Richland Co. Jaycees Independence Day Celebration Returning July 4

By Jaymi Mozeak

The Richland County Jaycees are once again commandeering the Richland County Fairgrounds to throw a family-friendly celebration of our nation's independence. The 2023 Independence Day Celebration and Fireworks, on July 4, will be free of charge to the public with games, food, car show, music, and fireworks it is sure to be a fun time for people of all ages.

With the amazing attendance last year, the Jaycees have decided to change things up a little. From noon-6 p.m., there will be carnival games, prizes, an inflatable bouncy house and water parks, a dunk tank, and food trucks. Judging for the car show will be from noon-3 p.m.

The Jaycees will also be using the event center during these hours for craft vendors, a photo booth, seating, and Sunny's Family Restaurant's food booth.

The fun continues with a more adult theme from 6-10 p.m. The event will be alcohol-free but will include a band, patriotic costume contest, 50/50 raffle, and more. The fireworks at 10 p.m. promises to be bigger and better than ever.

The Jaycees also joined with Richey Public Schools this past year to teach students how to tear down and build a derby car in an after-school program. The completed car will be showcased at the 2023 Independence Day Celebration as part of the Car Show and raffled off at the Annual Derby, on Aug. 19. The Jaycees will be trying to bring the program to Sidney and Fairview schools for the 2023/2024 school year.

Since 1954, the members of the Richland County Jaycees have strived to achieve a positive community impact through public events, holiday donations to local families, student scholarship programs, and provide additional resources to Richland County residents. To hold this event, they still need volunteers, food, and craft vendors. Donation jars will be out in the community to help fund the festivities.

The Richland County Jaycees hold several events over the year. For more information on the 2023 Independence Day celebration and fireworks, check out their Facebook page, JCI Richland County, email; jayceesofsidney@gmail.com, or contact Shannon Wicks at 406-480-1041.

MaryAnn (Bieber) Peters, 89, Formerly of Fairview, MT, Rockford, IL, and most recently of Tucson, AZ

MaryAnn (Bieber) Peters, 89, formerly of Fairview, MT, Rockford, IL, and most recently of Tucson, AZ, passed away peacefully on Feb. 8, 2023, at Eternal Life Care Center (Care Home), Tucson, AZ, after battling dementia for many years. She was born on Dec. 2, 1933, Fairview, MT, the daughter of John and Pauline (Cook) Bieber. MaryAnn was a devoted daughter, sister, sister-in-law, wife, mother, mother-in-law, grandmother, aunt, friend, and colleague to all those who knew her and loved her.

MaryAnn graduated from Fairview High School and worked in various local shops before moving to Spokane, WA. She met her future husband, George J. Peters, 52, on a blind date when he was stationed at Fairchild Air Force Base outside of Spokane. George predeceased her on Jan. 5, 2007. They were married on Nov. 26, 1955, in Fairview, MT, and they moved to Milwaukee, WI where MaryAnn's husband attended college majoring in electrical engineering. Upon completing college, the couple relocated to Rockford, IL, where her husband became employed at Sundstrand Aerospace.

MaryAnn (Bieber) Peters

While raising two children, son, Stephen, and daughter, Susan, MaryAnn was a member of the Rockford Jaycees, and she participated in many volunteer fundraising campaigns serving as worker and chairperson in these local and national organizations. MaryAnn was a member of St. James and Holy Family Roman Catholic Churches, Rockford, where she again did volunteer work on committees assisting families in need. MaryAnn worked 15 years for American Express Financial Advisors attaining the position of office manager in Rockford's main office and helped to put her children through college; she retired in 1995.

MaryAnn loved spending time with her younger sister, Norma, and family in Montana. She also appreciated spending her life with her husband and visiting his side of the family. In addition, MaryAnn loved her children Stephen and Susan and her granddaughter, Brynna. MaryAnn often took her granddaughter with her on walks, going to the park and playground. She made her granddaughter feel very special and loved. MaryAnn also had a love of "forest critters" and collected figurines of them. Furthermore, MaryAnn enjoyed playing card games such as Bridge and Euchre. Moreover, MaryAnn enjoyed creating an oasis in her backyard, cultivating, and nurturing flowers and even raking leaves and shoveling snow. She was always active: enjoying things like taking walks after dinner, participating in miniature golf, bowling, and enjoyed polka dancing with her beloved sister, Norma. MaryAnn made lifelong friends and had a gift of hospitality. A fabulous cook, she took pleasure in entertaining and having family and friends over. MaryAnn's favorite foods were strawberries, watermelon, and ice cream; her favorite color was pink. MaryAnn also enjoyed watching football games with her husband and family rooting for the Green Bay Packers! Also, MaryAnn encouraged people to keep their faith by remembering Philipians 4:13 "I can do all things through Christ who strengtheneth me."

Reichenbachs Chosen As Fairview Festival Honorees

Gerhard (Gerry) and Beverly Reichenbach will be honored for their dedication to the community during this year's Summer Festival and Old Timers' Reunion, July 14-16, Fairview.

Bev (Biehl) is a Fairview native who graduated from Fairview High School in 1959. At the urging of her father to see more of the world, she moved to St. Paul, MN, where she worked at Montgomery Wards and at First National Bank, but soon returned to Fairview where she worked at the bank and met the handsome Gerry, marrying him in 1964.

Gerry immigrated from Germany with his parents, two brothers and two sisters in 1951, spending one and a half years in Oklahoma to satisfy the sponsorship debt by Church World Service before moving to Fairview. Another sister was born three months after the arrival in the U.S. He said the Oklahoma experience was good but the weather was just too hot for German immigrants so his father advertised wanting a place where his children could work. It was answered by Carl Langwald, Sr. and the family went to work in the beet fields. Gerry got in on the last few years of topping the beets by hand, hard dangerous work, as well as everything else involved on the farm. Two years after arriving, his dad bought his first farm, the Deming place, now owned by Ken Schlothauer, and soon rented additional land.

Gerry worked with his dad and, at the age of 17, hired out to neighbors. Mike Flynn was his steady employer for seven years.

Gerry, along with his mom and dad and brother Walt, became U.S. citizens in 1957 at a ceremony in Minot.

The boxing club headed by Bud Starr was in its heyday back then with National Golden Gloves Champs Boom Boom and Pel Mel Miller and many other talented boxers. Gerry boxed for three years with the club and took the North Dakota Golden Gloves Heavyweight Championship in 1963.

Bev and Gerry bought their current place in 1966 where they raised crops and sheep. They were blessed with five children; Bret, Lori, Lynda, Lisa and Brenda. In 1977, Lisa was born but didn't come home. They suffered heartbreaking loss when their daughter Lori passed away from cancer in 1983. Community support, emotional and financial, was tremendous and a Fairview High School scholarship was established which continues to this day.

Both Reichenbachs were very active in Jaycees and won lots of awards. Gerry was named Key Man in 1974-75 and received the Distinguished Service Award in 1976. Bev was named Outstanding Jayceen in 1972. Their children were involved in 4-H and Bev was a leader for 13 years, with Gerry a county director and helping with the sheep projects. Gerry also served on the East Fairview School Board for 12 years and received the honor of School Board Member First Class. Bev worked at the Fairview School and Sidney libraries with the "Green Thumb" program when she got old enough.

Bev and Gerry were charter members of the MonDak Sheep Association which created marketing opportunities for producers, hosted the annual lamb feed for many years, and hosted the "Make It With Wool Contest" which their youngest girls participated in. He was named North Dakota Master Commercial Sheep Producer in 1982. Both were very involved in the annual Feeder's Tour in the late '70s. Gerry was also a member of the National Targhee Association and served on the ASCS county committee.

Church has always been an important part of the Reichenbachs' lives. Gerry started at St. John Lutheran, Fairview, but became a member of Bev's home church, Zion Lutheran, when they were married. He consistently served as usher until just recently when his health would no longer allow it and also served on the council. They both helped serve communion on a regular basis. Bev was a member of the Altar Guild and the Sewing Guild, and was nominated by Zion for the Bethel Lutheran Foundation Salute for Moms award, which she won in 1998. She also sang in the choir along with Lynda.

After they quit farming, both Gerry and Bev worked harvest at the Fairview sugar beet pile grounds, with Bev in the scale house for 18½ years and Gerry at the pillars for 21. They both really enjoyed the work and all the interesting people they met there.

Reichenbachs have ten grandchildren and have spent the last many years traveling to North Dakota to attend sporting events and many other activities.

A real highlight in Gerry's life was a trip to Washington, DC about 15 years ago with his son Bret. He loved the history of the district and took in as many sights as possible. Bev also made it to DC for a Lutheran Church convention and enjoyed her stay as well. Bret took both parents to San Francisco, another trip they thoroughly relished. This trip was made so Bev could see the ocean, she giggled when she got to walk in the incoming waves!

All the kids and grandkids plan to be at the festival to celebrate Bev and Gerry. Watch for them in the parade which starts at noon on Saturday. And be sure to take in the program afterwards where this kind, generous, hard-working couple will be honored further.

MT Depart. Of Revenue Mailing Property Appraisal Notices

Public Meeting Scheduled July 18 in Sidney

Helena - The Montana Department of Revenue is mailing property classification and appraisal notices to all owners of residential, commercial, industrial, and agricultural land properties.

These notices are not tax bills. They include the department's determination of market or productivity value and the taxable value for your property that will be used by your county treasurer to determine the property taxes owed for tax year 2023 and 2024.

"It's important that Montana property owners review this information," said Brendan Beatty, Montana Department of Revenue director. "If property owners wait until property tax bills are sent in November, it will be too late for the department to correct property characteristics and make adjustments that may impact the value of the property for tax year 2023. So please review the notice as soon as possible and contact us if you have questions."

If property owners disagree with the department's determination of value for their property, they may submit a Request for Informal Classification and Appraisal Review (called Form AB-26) within 30 days of the date on their notice. Owners can electronically submit the form, download it, and find more information on the informal review process at MTRRevenue.gov.

In July, public meetings in cities and towns across the state will be held to help taxpayers understand the property valuation process and how the department determined the new values on their appraisal notices. Go to MTRRevenue.gov for the dates, times, and venues of the public meetings being held.

The public can find contact information for local Department of Revenue field offices by visiting MTRRevenue.gov/contact/ or by calling 406-444-6900, or Montana Relay at 711 for hearing impaired.

The meeting in Sidney is scheduled for July 18 from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. at the Richland County Event Center located at 2118 Holly St.

Century Of Rodeo Tradition In Killdeer

By Katelyn Sponheim

A hundred years is a long time to keep a great show going, but Killdeer has been doing exactly that as of 2023. Sam Rhoades started the event in 1924 with true wild horses off the Porter and McCloud ranches, but today Sparky at J Bar J Pro Rodeo, Circle, MT, and Pickett Pro Rodeo, Fairfield, TX, supply the roughstock. While the rodeo evolving from a wild show of cowboy ability to a professional rodeo on the PRCA Badlands circuit isn't a new change, there are plenty of new events this year!

Kicking off July 1 at 12 p.m. with the Killdeer Mountain Roundup Rodeo Queen Pageant, held at the High Plains Community Center, a full three days of activities is to follow! At 4 p.m., the "Buckin in the Bakken" BBQ competition will be heating up, with a live auction benefiting the KMMR after. At 7:15 p.m., Chancy Williams and Kolby Cooper will be performing live, free of charge. The Mud Butte band will close out the first night, starting their music at 10:45 p.m.

To celebrate 100 years,

they plan on 100 horses in the parade on July 4, at 2 p.m. The rodeo will light up the fourth with a cannon shoot and mounted deputies at its opening, and a firework display afterwards.

The Killdeer community businesses generously support the Killdeer Mountain Roundup, and have been vital to its improvements over the century. Originally held at the base of Spectator Hill, it has since moved to its current location and sports new covered grandstands and lights. The purse for contestants has also improved remarkably since its humble beginnings. Originally, the main event winner pocketed $75, $30 to $40 for the other events. Today, event winners will take home around $10,000 each! The rodeo will feature bareback riding, saddle bronc riding, bull riding, tie-down roping, team roping, steer wrestling, breakaway roping, and barrel racing.

When planning your fourth of July, don't overlook all the great entertainment that the Killdeer Mountain Rodeo Roundup has to offer in their four-day celebration! From the Long X Wagon Trail Ride, to the comedy show, cornhole tournament, live music and Cowboy Church on Sunday, a full holiday weekend can be found in Killdeer, ND!

USDA Offers Montana Producers Many Conservation Choices With Continuous CRP

Submitted by Tammy Lyseng, USDA Richland County Farm Service Agency Executive Director

Bozeman, MT - Agricultural producers and landowners in Montana interested in conservation opportunities for their land in exchange for yearly rental payments can find many possibilities through the U.S. Department of Agriculture's (USDA) Continuous Conservation Reserve Program (Continuous CRP). This option offers conservation benefits similar to others, like General and Grassland CRP, but also offers unique flexibility and several program choices.

"Creating sound conservation and climate-smart options for the agricultural community are top priorities for us," said Maureen Wicks, Montana USDA's Farm Service Agency State executive director. "Continuous CRP is one of the best ways we can do that because it offers so many options. Producers across the country are currently participating in Continuous CRP with more than 8.2 million acres enrolled, proving that agriculture and conservation can be strong partners."

The long-term goal of all CRP opportunities is to re-establish valuable land cover—helping to improve water quality, prevent soil erosion and reduce loss of wildlife habitat. Farmers enrolled in the program agree to remove environmentally sensitive land from agricultural production and plant species that will improve environmental health and quality in exchange for a yearly rental payment.

Under Continuous CRP, producers and landowners can enroll in CRP throughout the year. Offers are automatically accepted provided the producer and land meet the eligibility requirements and the enrollment levels do not exceed the statutory cap. The Climate-Smart Practice Incentive is also available in the Continuous sign-up.

There are several enrollment options within Continuous CRP, including:

- State Acres For Wildlife Enhancement (SAFE)

1. The initiative restores vital habitat in order to meet high-priority state wildlife conservation goals.

2. Highly Erodible Lands Initiative (HELI)

3. Producers and landowners can enroll in CRP to establish long-term cover on highly erodible cropland that has a weighted erodibility index (EI) greater than or equal to 20.

- Conservation Reserve Enhancement Program (CREP)

1. Working with conservation partners, CREP leverages federal and non-federal funds to target specific state, regional, or nationally significant conservation concerns.

- Farmable Wetlands Program

1. Producers and landowners can enroll land in CRP to restore previously farmed wetlands and wetland buffers, improving both vegetation and water flow.

USDA continues to improve conservation programs by looking for opportunities to broaden reach and accessibility for producers and landowners. The Department has enhanced Continuous CRP by expanding CLEAR30 from two pilot areas to nationwide availability and repositioning SAFE within Continuous CRP to give producers and landowners more opportunities to participate. In addition, the Department has improved CREP by creating flexibilities within CREP for partners to provide matching funds in the form of cash, in-kind contributions, or technical assistance, adding staff to work directly with partners, and partnering with three Tribal Nations, for the first time ever, to help conserve, maintain, and improve grassland productivity while reducing soil erosion and enhancing wildlife habitat.

To sign up, producers should contact the FSA at their local USDA Service Center.

More Information

Signed into law in 1985, CRP is one of the largest voluntary private-lands conservation programs in the United States. It was originally intended to primarily control soil erosion and potentially stabilize commodity prices by taking marginal lands out of production. The program has evolved over the years, providing many conservation and economic benefits.

USDA touches the lives of all Americans each day in so many positive ways. Under the Biden-Harris administration, USDA is transforming America's food system with a greater focus on more resilient local and regional food production, fairer markets for all producers, ensuring access to safe, healthy and nutritious food in all communities, building new markets and streams of income for farmers and producers using climate smart food and forestry practices, making historic investments in infrastructure and clean energy capabilities in rural America, and committing to equity across the Department by removing systemic barriers and building a workforce more representative of America. Tickets are $20 for adults, $15 for seniors (65+) and $10 for kids.

Purchase tickets at www.longxarts.com or call 701-770-8659. Veterans and military service men and women, ask how to get 50% off your ticket.

June's Power Hour Featured Sidney Transplants

By Jaymi Mozeak

June's Community Power Hour was Tuesday, June 20 and it featured some of Sidney's recent newcomers and allowed them to answer some basic questions about their experiences here.

Newcomer Hunter Simmons, AmeriCorp Chamber intern, moderated Bobbie Selensky, Roseburg, OR, Marley Manoukian, Malta MT, and Ryan Payne, Missoula, MT and South Carolina.

Selensky has always lived on the coasts. She moved her to be with the one she loved and they were married here. She said she missed her friends, family, and the much easier access to water she had left back in Oregon but appreciates the tightly-knit community. She works remotely but is very active in the Elks Club. Selensky and her husband golf in their spare time. She said that you can find everything you need in Sidney but she wishes there was a Costco or some kind of larger clothing store.

Unlike Selensky, Manoukian came to Sidney for work. She works for the Richland County MSU Extension in ag and horticulture. She is also involved in the MonDak Livestock Growers Association. She said a lot of her friends and family already live in the area and Malta, MT, is a lot like Sidney so there is not much to miss. She had gone to college in Missoula, though and she misses the high amount of entertainment opportunities there. She was surprised at how many opportunities there are in Sidney.

Both Selensky and Manoukian said their favorite event to attend in Sidney is the Richland County Fair.

Payne was used to a much different environment than Sidney. He said one of the things that stood out about Sidney is how flat it is. He came here from Missoula for work and now works at Netzer, Krautter & Brown, P.C. He enjoys running and exploring the area and events throughout the MonDak region. He said he wished there was live music more often in Sidney but his favorite events in Sidney have been the artist series at the MonDak Heritage Center and the Demolition Derby.

The Sidney Chamber of Commerce generally holds a Community Power Hour on the 3rd Tuesday of the month from 8-9 a.m. The location can vary from month to month so check out the Sidney Chamber of Commerce Facebook page for information on next month's Power Hour.

Can-Am Shootout

The Williston Basin Speedway held the Can-Am Shootout during the Upper Missouri Valley Fair June 23 - 24. On night one there was a $1000 prize for the IMCA Stock Cars and a berth at the B&B All-Star Invitational for the IMCA Super Nationals. Night two was a $1000 to win for the IMCA Modifieds and a qualifying berth for the Fast Shafts All-Star Invitational for the IMCA Super Nationals. Pictured above is IMCA Modifieds night one winner Travis Hagen, 14T, Williston. Hagen also won the IMCA Modifieds on night two. Visit roundupweb.com for full results.

REDC Tours PCS Insulation, LLC

By Leslie Messer, Executive Director, REDC

Jamey Buxcel and Linda Knutson were fantastic hostesses as they took several REDC directors and RLF committee members through the manufacturing business of PCS Insulation, LLC, in Sidney. PCS was the most recent recipient of the Revolving Loan Fund.

This emerging company creates, sews, packages, installs, and ships custom made insulation products. Everything from removable insulation for oil field sites, transport protection for vehicles and Ag equipment, blow-in insulation for homes, noise reduction, and so much more. The canvas product comes in various colors, which is handy for the oil companies. There is no asbestos in any of their materials.

PCS Insulation manufactures for other companies, as they are established as very trustworthy within the market. One of their top products is a fiberglass canvas, impregnated with silicone for protection. The company attains over 90% of all their materials within the US, remaining competitive in their pricing.

Jamey cares about her employees and supports them in a variety of ways. In addition to a competitive wage, she offers childcare options for workers that need it, and a community garden. She currently employs 13-16 people, and she could use more as her production increases.

The typical process for a product is to be drawn, cut, laid out, pre-sewn, stuffed, finished (final sewn) packaged, shipped, or delivered installed. Each step is meticulously managed by qualified staff to ensure the quality of the items.

Jamey and Linda will embark on an amazing trip to Prague in the Czech Republic to meet with potential international companies and forge business relationships. The MT Dept of Commerce awarded a competitive grant to PCS Insulation to make this possible.

In early June, Jamey was certified as a Thermal Insulation Inspector by the National Insulation Association. She is now qualified to inspect and verify that both the materials used, and the total insulation system are installed correctly, in accordance with project specifications. She can also identify areas of concern with previously installed insulation systems.

REDC was thrilled to learn more about this impressive company and wishes Jamey and her staff continued success for this unique manufacturing business located at 409 N. Central Ave., Sidney, MT.

Leadership MT Confluence Event Held In Sidney, Gracious Space Curriculum Available To Employers

By Meagan Dotson

The Confluence, which is a Leadership Montana Signature Event, was held in Sidney May 4-5. The Confluence was held at the Pella Lutheran Church and was organized by local leadership graduates Leslie Messer, Cami Skinner, Elaine Stedman, Paula Eberling, Kelly Reisig, Katie Dasinger, Jen Doty, Lorilee Norby and Michelle Frank. There was a total of 30 alumni from across the state in attendance.

The first concept was to provide transparency about oil and energy revenue, as well as correct the idea that everyone in Richland County has an abundance of oil money. Speakers for the Oil and Energy Review Panel & Discussion touched on how oil and energy revenue is being utilized in their specific areas. Some of those presenters included Mayor Rick Norby who spoke about how that revenue is being used to ensure public safety; Commissioner Shane Gorder discussed the new fire hall and Senior Center in Fairview, the Richland County Health Department, Law Enforcement Center, and upgrades to the fairgrounds. Superintendent of Schools Tim Tharp shared how revenue is being put to work differently in each school district to meet their specific needs, Lower Yellowstone Electric Coop General Manager Jason Brothen compared development in Montana versus North Dakota, and Melissa Boyer, Foundation for Community Care, shared their contribution to the Sidney Health Center's purchase of their own Care Flight.

The second concept of the two-day conference was a panel & discussion entitled "Pivoting in Agriculture". Speakers included Director of Science and IGS Operations Jackie Atkins who presented the newest developments in A.I., Sarah Degn who shared her experience moving back to Richland County and taking over the family business from her father, Mike Degn, and Don Steinbeisser Jr. who was there on behalf of the Richland County Farm Bureau and MonDak Beet Growers former president.

Additionally, there were social hours at the South 40 and Meadowlark, spin and yoga flow, tours around Sidney and a Gracious Space Presentation given by Richland Economic Development Corp's (REDC) Director Leslie Messer. Gracious Space is a course that works on communication, respect, accountability and civility in the workplace and is used as part of the Leadership Montana Curriculum.

Following the final day of the Confluence, Heather Nevins, Richland County

Health Department, inquired about Messer presenting the Gracious Space Curriculum to the Richland County Health Department, which happened May 24. One of the unique aspects of this course is that it teaches coworkers to disagree respectfully in a constructive manner.

"It was humbling to be able to share the training

I've had and utilize that to help businesses and employers in Richland County," Messer said, adding that the Gracious Space Curriculum is available to any business in Richland County that is interested.

Last month's events provided a realistic picture of the oil, energy and agricultural situation in Richland County to those who came from other parts of the state, and continues to provide resources for area businesses who are interested in strengthening their workplace through the Gracious Space Curriculum.

Any employer interested in the Gracious Space Curriculum can contact REDC at 406-482-4679.

There are roles for those students entering 1-8 grade. Approximately 50-60 local students will be cast to appear in the show with the MCT Tour Actor and Director. Up to four students will be cast as Assistant Directors. Those auditioning should arrive at 11:30 a.m. and plan to stay for the full two hours. Sidney Tiger Sharks In Roundup

Another weekend of some great swimming from the Sidney Tiger Sharks. They had a group of seven and 1/3 swimmers go to Roundup; the 1/3 being they were only able to swim 1 race because of other commitments. The majority of the age group swimmers had fantastic swims both days and cut some great times. The Sharks are rolling through the season with what seems to be very quickly. Harlem is this coming weekend and then Sidney will have its own meet July 8-9.
