Ribfest & Bash on the Grass This Friday in Watford City

The Ribfest 2014 Planning Committee has set Friday, August 8th for this year's event on Main Street, Watford City.

This year's Ribfest is working together with the 1st Annual Bash on the Grass Concert Series featuring a concert by Travis Tritt.

Concessions and the Street Fair will start at 10 a.m. and the rib contest will take place at 5 p.m. Main Street will be open for the public to enjoy lunch, music, kids games and inflatables, and ribs until 9 pm.

Travis Tritt will perform at 8:30 pm at the McKenzie County Fairgrounds. Gates open at 6:30 pm.

"Working with Bash on the Grass is an exciting addition to an already popular event," said committee chair Jessie Scofield. "This is the first time Watford City has hosted such a big name performer and the two events will work great together!"

A $1,000 prize sponsored by Barrett Pharmacy will be awarded for the team with the best ribs. Second place (sponsored by MBI) will receive $500 and there will be a $250 prize (Sponsored by Whippin' Stitch) for booth showmanship.

The day will be filled with live music from local talent Jessie Veeder, Lonesome Willy, Getting' Outta Dodge and others. Other events include inflatable kids' games, a dunk tank, a children's "Diaper Derby" and a children's "Showdown" at noon where prizes will be awarded for the best western wear.

The public will also enjoy the Classic Car Show and a few friendly rounds of Bingo during the day. There will be street vendors and several ping pong drops that will offer special deals from Main Street businesses.

"Ribfest just gets bigger and better every year," said Janel Lee, committee member. "It's a great way to bring the community together and celebrate the best parts of summer--music, friends, and food!"

The Best of the West Ribfest is limited to 20 teams. If you're interested in registering a team, sign up today as space is limited.

Tickets for the Travis Tritt Bash on the Grass Concert are available to purchase online at www.bashonthegrass.com or at Badlands Hardware, Cash Wise Foods, McKenzie County Bank, Dakota West Credit Union and First International Bank & Trust.

In Honor of Brodie

Shane Gorder (left) and his daughter Brielle auctioned off this steer at the 4H Livestock Auction held during the Richland County Fair on August 2 in memory of Gorder's son Brodie. Brodie Gorder past away last year. This 1200 lb. steer was sold to Barry and Nancy VanHook for $41 per pound. The VanHooks donated the beef back to then be sold again to XTO Energy for $35 per pound. The money raised will be used for a scholarship in Brodie Gorder's memory for youngsters of the 9 and 10 years old to build on as they move up through their school careers.

Sidney Tractor Pull Aug. 23

Submitted by LaVanchie Starkey

As we begin to see the summer wind down there are still many activities planned in our community. Following the Richland County Fair & Rodeo is the Lone Tree Gun Show and the Sidney Jaycees Demolition Derby. And we mustn't forget the 7th Annual MonDak Harvest Fest Tractor & Pickup Pull, scheduled for August 23rd at the Richland County Fairgrounds. Hosted by the Sidney Area Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture, this event continues to grow as we see more competitors wanting to test their "metal".

New this year is the Full Pull sled provided by Full Pull, Inc of Mandan, ND. In the past we have had a percentage pull with the winner being determined by the percentage of their own weight pulled. A Full Pull is determined by footage, making it much easier for fans to see who the winners are and cheer their favorites on. Tractor classes consist of: Farm Stock No Modifications, Improved and Modified. Pickup categories are 4x4 & 2x4 Stock, Heavyweight/Diesel and Modified.

An ATV and Lawnmower pull will again be provided by Marvin Varner of Terry, MT. Classes will include ATV's under 500cc, 500 to 700, over 700, steering wheel class, along with lawnmowers.

Weigh-in for participants begin at 3:00 pm. Registration fees are $25 and will be added to the purse to be awarded to our top finishers.

The grandstand gate will open at 5:00 pm with the pull beginning at 6:00 pm. A beer garden and concessions are available on the grounds. Call 406-433-1916 for more information.

Landowners Offered New Wolf Management Tool

MT Fish & Wildlife

The Montana Fish & Wildlife Commission recently adopted rules and an annual wolf quota completing the process necessary to allow private landowners to take a limited number of wolves per year that potentially threaten livestock, domestic dogs or human safety.

The rule was adopted to comply with Senate Bill 200, a new state law passed by the Montana Legislature last year.

The annual quota allows landowners or their agents to take up to 100 wolves a year without a hunting license. The statewide quota for this effort will be examined in four 25-wolf increments. Each time the number of wolves taken nears 25, 50, and 75, the commission must approve the next increment toward the 100-wolf quota.

“This approach offers another tool landowners can use if it’s needed,” said Jeff Hagener, director of Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks in Helena. “One of our top priorities is to minimize livestock losses and we’re continuing to make a positive impact there.”

Montana’s verified wolf population remained stable last year at minimum of 627 wolves, compared to 625 in 2012.

The rule, which doesn’t apply to public lands, comes as confirmed wolf depredations on livestock took a significant drop in 2013 and follows a trend of fewer overall agency control actions.

Confirmed livestock depredations due to wolves in 2013 were down 27 percent from 2012 losses. Cattle losses were the lowest recorded in the past seven years and reflect a general decline in wolf depredations that began in 2009.

A variety of nonlethal predation deterrents are also employed in Montana in cooperation with landowners to reduce the risk of wolf attacks. FWP collaborates with landowner communities on range-rider projects and with individual landowners to provide fladry—a century’s old technique of attaching colorful flags or fabric on fence lines to flap in the breeze to keep wolves at bay—and advice on keeping wolves out of livestock areas.

In all, 75 wolves were removed via lethal control in 2013, down from 108 in 2012. Of the 75 wolves removed for livestock depredations, eight were taken by private citizens with permits to take offending wolves or under Montana’s defense of property laws.

Landowners also have the right to take wolves in the act of attacking livestock without affecting the 100-animal quota.

To learn more about Montana’s wolf population, visit FWP online at fwp.mt.gov. Click Montana Wolves.

Sidney City Beer Lottery

Submitted by Jessica Burbank

The Montana Department of Revenue, Liquor Licensing announces the availability of one (1) Montana Retail On-Premises Consumption Beer License(s) for the Sidney area as a result of the 2013 population estimate. The Sidney area includes the incorporated city/town of Sidney and that portion of Richland County situated within five (5) miles of the incorporated city/town limits.

In the case where more applications are received than there are available licenses a lottery drawing will occur. Any person intending to apply for one of the licenses is required to send a Lottery Application, Form LOTAPP. On this form please state the name of the applicant(s) including all potential owners, corporate stockholders, all partners of a partnership, and all members of a limited liability company. This application is due to the Department no later than 5:00 PM on the 2nd day of September, 2014. Late, unsigned or incomplete applications will not be considered.

Only one (1) Lottery Application will be accepted per person for this area. A “Person” as defined in the Administrative Rules of Montana is any individual, firm, partnership, limited liability company, corporation or association. When applying for a “floater” license you may only apply for one area per year.

If a lottery is necessary, the drawing will take place in Helena to determine who has the opportunity to apply for this license. Applicants will be notified of the date, time and place where the drawing will take place. Applicants do not need to be present to be chosen.

Those successful in the lottery drawing will be required to send a License Application within 30 days. The License Application needs to have identical ownership information as to what was provided on the Lottery Application.

All new licensees are required to meet the legal criteria of a license as outlined in the Montana Alcoholic Beverage Code and the Administrative Rules of Montana.

The license cannot be used to conduct any gaming or gambling activity on the premises.

Application forms may be obtained from our website at revenue.mt.gov. Questions? Call toll free (866) 859-2254 (in Helena, 444-6900). Mail or fax your completed Lottery Application to: Montana Department of Revenue - Liquor Control Division, PO Box 1712, Helena, MT 59624-1712 or Fax: 406-444-0722.

Girl Scouts Seeks Leadership in Sidney

Submitted by Christina Dock

Girl Scouts of Montana and Wyoming is in need of volunteers and troops leaders in Sidney! Girls scouts of Montana and Wyoming covers over 245,000 square mile, 79 counties and in out council area there are over 128,000 girls that need a positive role model in their lives!

As a volunteer, you'll introduce girls to new experiences that show them they're capable of more than they ever imagined. You'll be their supporter, guide, and mentor, helping them develop skills and confidence that will last long after the meeting is over. Imagine the smiles, the excitement, the memories made—those are the moments you'll share at Girl Scouts.

Girls Scouts is the number one leadership organization for girls and women in the world. This premier leadership organization has been building girls of courage, confidence and character, who make the world a better place for over a century. The girls of our community want to be part of this amazing journey but they volunteers and troop leaders to guide them.

Every girl has the ability to lead, but only one girl in five believes she can. A lack of role models, unhealthy images of beauty, peer pressure to not stand out, and a mean-girl culture are just some of the obstacles that stand between girls and their full potential. You can be the difference in bringing girl one-step closer to breaking down the barriers.

Volunteering opportunities with Girl Scouts are tailored to fit your schedule, your skills, and your interests. Your time as a volunteer will provide girls with courage and vision to pursue whatever interests, causes, and leadership roles that are most important to them. With your support, girls will stand up, stand out, and stand tall!

Montana Highway Patrol Promotes Seat Belt Safety

By Richland County Injury Prevention Team

In partnership with the Montana Highway Patrol the Richland County Injury Prevention Team brought the “Seat Belt Convincer” to the Fairview Festival this past weekend to bring awareness and educate on seat belt usage. The event was part of the Partnership for Promise activities for youth. The “Seat Belt Convincer” gave the opportunity for individuals to feel what it is like to crash at a low speed. Trooper Nyle Obergfell spoke with adults and youth about the importance of wearing seat belts and proper placement of the seat belt.

There were brochures provided by the Montanan Department of Transportation available for all ages which provided the following information:

If you are in a crash, a seat belt will increase your chances of survival by at least 50%. When a vehicle suddenly stops, your body continues moving forward at the original rate of speed. In a collision at only 30-mph, an unbelted adult of 160 lbs. will strike an object with a force equivalent to 2.4 tons. A child weighing 60 pound traveling in the rear seat would exert a force of approximately 1,800 lb. into the front seat in a head on crash at 30-mph. The impact of a crash at 30-mph is like falling from a 3rd story window.

Most fatal crashes in Montana involve only one vehicle and a rollover. These are the crashes most likely to result in ejection. If you are unbuckled you will have impact with the interior of the vehicle or other passengers. Could be thrown through the windshield, have impact with the ground or another object and possible be crushed by the vehicle. If you are only partially ejected, you sustain injuries upon impact with both the vehicle and other surfaces as it continues to travel. Ejected passengers are not likely to survive. You are 4-times more likely to receive fatal injuries compared to occupants who remain inside their vehicle in a crash.

Unbelted passengers pose an enormous threat to belted passengers. The chance of injury to a belted person increases 90% if there is an unbelted occupant in the vehicle at the time of a crash. A crash can happen to anyone at any time. With the increase in traffic in our area even low speed crashes can be fatal. Please be a role model and help ensure the safety of everyone in your vehicle.

For more information on how to stay safe contact Mary Sundheim, Richland County Injury Prevention Specialist at the Richland County Health Department 406-433-2207.

Liquor License Availabilities for Billings, Sidney, Dillon, Plains and Broadwater and Jefferson Counties

Submitted by Ted Brewer

The Montana Department of Revenue announces the availability of additional liquor licenses in six Montana communities and is now accepting applications for them.

After reviewing this year's population estimates from the U.S. Bureau of Census and state area quotas, we have added two all-beverages floaters licenses and one beer license to Billings, one beer license to Sidney, one city beer license to Dillon, one city beer license to Plains, two all-beverages floater licenses to Broadwater County and four all-beverages floater licenses to Jefferson County.

Every year at this time, we adjust the number of licenses available in each quota area based on population estimates.

"The availability of liquor licenses is significant to a community, because it usually means that a community may be getting a new business," says Shauna Helfert, Liquor Control Division Administrator. "This can only be good for the Main Streets in these communities."

The initial applications for the license are due by 5 p.m., September 2, 2014. Once we receive the application, we will review it to determine if the applicant is eligible for the license. If there is more than one eligible applicant for any of the licenses, we will hold a lottery drawing in Helena in mid-October for the license. Once the drawing is complete, we will notify the successful and unsuccessful applicants.

Lottery applications can be downloaded by visiting: revenue.mt.gov/home/liquor/liquor\_lottery and clicking on "Forms."

An All-Beverages license allows an establishment to sell liquor, beer and table wine at retail for on- or off-premises consumption. A floater license allows the successful applicant to purchase a license from a license quota area over the quota limit and use that license in a town or county where the quota has been raised -- Billings, Broadwater County, and Jefferson County in this year's case. Montana law requires that the gambling allowance tied to an All-Beverages license be removed when it floats into another county. A floater All-Beverages license also can't be mortgaged, nor can it be transferred to another owner for five years.

There are currently 1453 All-Beverages licenses in Montana, 106 of which are currently in Billings, four in Broadwater County and 12 in Jefferson County.

The available beer licenses allow establishments to sell beer for on- or off- premises consumption. Licensees may add a wine amendment, allowing them to sell wine. There are currently 436 beer licenses in Montana, 55 of which are in Billings, six in Sidney, five in Dillon and one in Plains.

For more information about the state Liquor Control Division, please visit revenue.mt.gov/home/liquor.

Richland County Partnership for Promise Back to School Anxiety

Submitted by Missy Smies

The thrill is in the air, calendars are out, enrollment is approaching and the school supplies are ready to be purchased! For many, it is a great time of year, but for others it is an anxiety- ridden ride for parents and children. There are many reasons back to school can be hard for a lot of people. Homework, busy schedules, teachers, bullies, athletics; it can all be stressful.

Am I good enough to play this year? Will I always be in trouble for my homework again?

I don't want to be next to that other kid in my class because he always makes fun of me or hurts me.

Will I have the right clothes this year? Will anyone talk to me?

Parents want to eliminate all these stressors for their kids, but there really is no way to take care of everything, and a lot of kids never say anything. So talking to your kids, planning and practicing may add some relief to those what if questions many have.

-Explain that it is normal to be concerned and feel nervous.

-Take advantage of opportunities of open houses to visit the school so the child knows their new environment.

-Be realistic and optimistic about your expectations for your child during the next school year.

-Start "practicing" the school year schedule by discussing it, planning and then implementing the hours a few weeks before school to ensure no one is tired the first few stressful days of school.

-Encourage your child to participate in a sport or extra-curricular activities based on their interests, not your own.

-Help build your child's self-esteem by praising and encouraging and letting them know they are loved, valued and safe and that they matter.

-When it comes to drugs, tobacco and alcohol, remind your child they are their own person and they make their own decisions and that you want them to make the best decision for themselves, not because others do it. This time of year is when your kids meet new friends and reconnect with old friends and peer pressure can be overwhelming.

These tips will help you keep the lines of communication open with your children and reassure them that they are not going to school without support and they have someone they can trust to talk to about their fears and anxiety. As with most things, planning, preparing and being able to discuss fears help people make good decisions and be more successful. (KNOW!, 2012)

The Richland County Partnership for Promise brings community members and resources together to provide a healthy and supportive environment for the youth of Richland County! If you are interested in being a part of the Partnership or would like more information, contact Missy Smies at 433-4097 or missysmies@outlook.com.

Charley Jenkins Headlining Act for Roosevelt County Fair

Submitted by Angela Miller

Charley Jenkins will perform at the Roosevelt County Fair Friday, Aug. 8 at 8 pm.

Out of 45,000 contestants Charley was a top 12 finalists on NBC's hit show, Nashville Star. However, Charley's career didn't start there and it dang sure didn't end there. Early on, folks could tell that this Eastern Utah farm boy had country music running through his blood. If you want to hear a true story on how he was raised just listen to his song titled "Country Music Made A Man Out Of Me". You can also get a deeper look into his upbringing and his passion for rodeo when you listen to his songs titled "Yippi Ki Yi Yo", "Rodeo Clown", and "Hold On". Charley pours his personality and life perspective into his music and you can't help but smile with songs like "Duct Tape and Bailing Wire" and "Right Where I Belong", and then connect personally with "Hero At Home" and "That Mountain". Because of Charley's love of life, God, Country and Country Music he has gained fans everywhere he performs. His passion and music have taken him from Music Row in Nashville, TN to the Today Show in NY, performing for tens of thousands along the way. He has an unusual ability to customize his show to fit the personality of any crowd. It will be clear to anyone who watches Charley perform, country music fan or not, that Charley is not just a great vocalist but an entertainer as well. Dan Truman of "Diamond Rio" says this: "Charley Jenkins?. He's great, He's real, and Country Music Needs Charley"

Oh -- if you want to find Charley and his band, just look for the big red bus with horns on it. He proudly admits that he bought it on e-bay. Yup, that's just how he rolls!

To purchase tickets call the Roosevelt Co. Fair office at 406-787-5881.

Halliburton Releases CYPHER<sup>SM</sup> 2.0 Seismic-to-Stimulation Service Lowers Operators’ Cost per BOE

Submitted by Cathy Mann, Global Marketing & Strategy

Halliburton (NYSE: HAL) announces the release of the CYPHER<sup>SM</sup> 2.0 Seismic-to-Stimulation Service, a proprietary and collaborative workflow that links geoscience and reservoir, drilling, and completion engineering to allow operators to better predict and produce unconventional reserves. The CYPHER 2.0 service builds on the complete full-field solution and provides enhanced capabilities through innovative software applications allowing operators to optimize the development of their unconventional reservoirs and reduce their cost per barrels of oil equivalent (BOE).

Powered by Landmark’s DecisionSpace® next-generation earth modeling solution, the workflow is unique to the industry in that it is capable of updating dynamically and iteratively with the seismic and well data required to model the structure, rock and fluid properties. Halliburton’s petroleum systems modeling technology defines the distribution of hydrocarbons in the unconventional reservoir to aid well placement, while the company’s integrated formation evaluation module identifies the sweet spots for optimizing the spacing of perforation clusters.

Key scientific and technological advances in the CYPHER 2.0 service include modelling the interaction of the reservoir’s natural fracture networks with the fractures induced by the hydraulic fracturing process. This results in a more accurate fracture network model with which to simulate the production performance of the completion design. Critical operational factors can then be adjusted in real time between stages during the fracture treatment to further optimize well performance. Another advancement is the ability to evaluate, predict and alter perforation cluster efficiency. Leveraging these models to rapidly evaluate the production performance of different well placement and completion design options, Halliburton is able to quickly and iteratively optimize the development plans for operators’ shale assets.

“Since we released the CYPHER service in September 2013, we have seen tremendous customer interest and uptake,” said Jim Brown, Halliburton’s President of the Western Hemisphere. “Projects on shale assets in several North American basins have delivered a 35 percent production increase on average. The CYPHER 2.0 service is a step-change improvement in our ability to deliver better wells for our customers at a lower cost per BOE.”

Devon Energy first applied the CYPHER service in the Grasslands Area of the Northern Barnett Shale. After seeing improved production results and EURs with far less production variations between wells, Devon has chosen to incorporate the CYPHER service in the Eagle Ford Shale as part of their technology efforts to help them better understand the reservoir and also aid in the stimulation design to help improve their fracture efficiency and effectiveness.

Synergy Resources Corporation’s Chief Operating Officer Craig Rasmuson had this to say after using the CYPHER service: “Halliburton increased the 30 to 90-day production rates with its CYPHER service through prior planning and diligent management of the drilling processes, ultimately increasing the EURs and reserves for Synergy which is why we wholeheartedly endorse the CYPHER service.”

The CYPHER service is deployed to all major shale developments in North America and many key international markets through multi-disciplined technical teams, with more than 300 technical professionals trained on major elements of the workflow.

Menards to Build Large Home Improvement Store in Williston

By Barbara Peterson

Williston Economic Development

A popular home improvement store has unveiled plans for a new store in Williston.

Menards officials submitted building plans for a new 209,630 square foot retail store on Tuesday, July 29, 2014.

"We literally just got the plans by UPS an hour ago," said Kelly Aberle, City of Williston Building Department, at 2:30 p.m.

Menards will be located at the Sand Creek Town Centre, a regional shopping district located in west Williston. Sand Creek is being developed by the Granite Peak Development Company.

"This is a huge step for retail development in Williston," said Terry Metzler, Granite Peak Development. "We have had a lot of retailers waiting for Menards to pull the trigger and now we expect many of them to begin construction in the very near term."

City officials said they were pleased with the progress that was being made by Menards.

"This is kind of like our field of dreams. If you build it they will come," said Williston Mayor Howard Klug. "Now we need to support it."

Plans indicate the home improvement store will be approximately 209,630 square feet with an additional 72,596 square feet for a lumber yard and cold storage. The site will also include parking space for about 420 vehicles.

"I am just glad that retail in that area is developing," said Klug. "Construction on 32nd Avenue will be completed soon and that will provide good connectivity between the residential and retail developments in west Williston."

Aberle said it typically takes 4 to 6 weeks to process the building plans and permit application. In the meantime, she believes Menards has applied for a site grading permit and could begin moving dirt this summer.

MSU Extension Offering Summer Sale on ‘Range Plants of Montana’ Book

Submitted by Jen Blessum
MSU Extension Montana State University Extension is offering a sale on its book “Range Plants of Montana.” A color guide to identifying rangeland plants, the book is designed to be a useful reference for ranchers, land management personnel, students and nature enthusiasts. About two-thirds of Montana, 62 million acres, is classified as rangeland, which supports a large diversity of animal and plant species on varying geography. “Rangelands provide much of what makes Montana special – open space for ranching and recreation, clean air and water and abundant wildlife,” said Jeff Mosley, MSU professor of range science and Extension range management specialist. “The color photographs and non-technical language in Range Plants of Montana will help you discover the plants that inhabit our rangelands and enable you to more fully appreciate the beauty, diversity and complexity of these native ecosystems.” “Range Plants of Montana” reviews 96 common grasses, forbs and shrubs, including characteristics, site and habitat, management considerations and notes on the plant’s response to grazing. Color photos of each plant and drawings are included to assist in identifying grasses, as well as an illustrated glossary and index. The 124-page, spiral bound book is on sale for $9.99 through August 30. “Range Plants of Montana” and many other publications can be ordered online www.msuextension.org/store or by calling the MSU Extension Distribution Center at (406) 994-3273.

MT FSA: USDA Sending Acreage History and Yield Reports to Help Producers Prepare for New Farm Bill Programs

Submitted by Kent Politsch
U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) Farm Service Agency (FSA) Administrator Juan M. Garcia announced today that farmers should start receiving notices updating them on their current base acres, yields and 2009-2012 planting history. The written updates are an important part of preparing agricultural producers for the new safety net programs established by the 2014 Farm Bill.

“We’re sending these reports to make sure that farmers and ranchers have key information as they make critical decisions about programs that impact their livelihood,” said Garcia. “It’s important that producers take a few minutes to cross check the information they receive with their own farm records. If the information is correct, no further action is needed at this time. But if our letter is incomplete or incorrect, producers need to contact their local FSA county office as soon as possible.”
Verifying the accuracy of data on a farm’s acreage history is an important step for producers enrolling in the upcoming Agriculture Risk Coverage (ARC) program and the Price Loss Coverage (PLC) program. Later this summer, farmers and ranchers will have an opportunity to update their crop yield information and reallocate base acres.
“We’re working hard to prepare and educate farmers on the new programs created by the 2014 Farm Bill,” added Garcia. “I encourage producers to bring their USDA notice to any scheduled appointments with the local FSA county office. This will help ensure they have the information they need with them to discuss the available program options.”
By mid-winter all producers on a farm will be required to make a one-time, unanimous and irrevocable election between price protection and county revenue protection or individual revenue protection for 2014-2018 crop years. Producers can expect to sign contracts for ARC or PLC for the 2014 and 2015 crop years in early 2015.

Covered commodities include barley, canola, large and small chickpeas, corn, crambe, flaxseed, grain sorghum, lentils, mustard seed, oats, peanuts, dry peas, rapeseed, long grain rice, medium grain rice (includes short grain rice and temperate japonica rice), safflower seed, sesame, soybeans, sunflower seed, and wheat. Upland cotton is no longer a covered commodity.

Wolf Hunting Licenses Available

Montana’s wolf hunting licenses will be available beginning Aug. 4 for the state’s 2014-15 regulated wolf hunting season.
For the 2014-15 wolf seasons, hunters will have the opportunity to pursue wolves throughout Montana beginning Sept. 6 for archery hunting, Sept. 15 for the general rifle season and Dec. 15 for trapping.
Licenses will be valid within 18 specifically defined wolf management units. Hunters must obtain permission to hunt on private lands.
Wolf licenses will be available for purchase online at fwp.mt.gov, or from any FWP license provider. Hunters must have, or also purchase, a valid 2014 conservation license. Wolf hunting licenses are $19 for residents and $50 for non-residents.
Hunters can purchase up to five wolf licenses. A trapping license, and the successful completion of a wolf trapping certification course, is needed to trap wolves in Montana.
To learn more about wolf hunting and trapping in Montana, visit FWP online at fwp.mt.gov. Click Hunting, then click Wolf Hunting & Trapping Guide.
