McKenzie County First Hospital in Region to Invest in UVC Disinfection Robot

Tru-D device to help keep patients and staff safe and germ-free

Watford City, ND—McKenzie County Healthcare Systems, Inc. is the first hospital in the region to invest in Tru-D SmartUVC to help keep patients and staff safe from germs and hospital-acquired infections (HAIs). The grand opening of McKenzie County Healthcare Systems, Inc.'s new medical facility took place on June 22, 2018. This state-of-the-art, $76.3 million facility features a brand-new hospital and clinic as well as updates to the connected Good Shepherd Home (long term care facility) and nearby Horizon Assisted Living. The facility is comprised of 24 inpatient rooms, nine emergency room bays and two operating rooms.

"We are excited to have this innovative technology in our hospital, which will help maintain the cleanest, safest environment possible for our patients and staff," said Dan Kelly, CEO of McKenzie County Healthcare Systems, Inc. "As a new facility in the region, we hope to offer best-in-class care and service for residents in the area, and Tru-D will help elevate the level of care that we provide."

Tru-D is a UVC disinfection robot that is deployed after the environmental services staff cleans a room using traditional protocols. Operated from a remote control outside the room, Tru-D administers a single, lethal dose of UVC energy from one, central placement in the room, killing up to 99.9% of germs and pathogens that can be left behind. Once the cycle is complete, the operator is notified via audio and/or text message that Tru-D can be moved to the next room.

"Tru-D is deployed in hundreds of hospitals throughout the U.S., and we are thrilled to expand our footprint into North Dakota," said Chuck Dunn CEO of Tru-D SmartUVC. "McKenzie County's investment in Tru-D demonstrates its commitment to innovative strategies to help reduce hospital-acquired infections."

Tru-D's technology has been validated by more than 15 independent, third-party studies including the first and only randomized clinical trial on UVC disinfection. The Benefits of Enhanced Total Room-

Disinfection (BETR-D) study proved that Tru-D can reduce the risk of acquisition and infection of four major superbugs not only from patient to patient, but throughout an entire hospital, facility-wide. Conducted throughout nine hospitals in the Duke Infection Control Outreach Network, the CDC-funded BETR-D study is the most comprehensive study on UVC disinfection to date.

For more information on Tru-D's technology and/or to watch a video on the power of one placement and one cycle, visit tru-dpowerofone.com.

Sidney Mercantile Makes Local Shopping Better and Easier

By Dianne Swanson

Owner Chris Entzel is providing an outlet for all the talented people in eastern Montana to display their wares with the opening of Sidney Mercantile in the Yellowstone Marketplace, downtown Sidney. It's also a year round opportunity for shoppers to purchase all those wonderful items they usually had to wait for a craft show to find.

With 27 vendors and more coming, the store is chock full of items, from the practical to whimsical, perfect for your own use or as gifts, and constantly changing. Check out the artwork, kitchen items, clothing for all ages, furniture, metal and wood signs, stuffed animals, candles, bath and body, plants, doll clothing, wreathes, photography, quilts, blankets, pillows, jewelry, agate items, paintings, horseshoe items, bags, skull art, soaps and essential oils and more. 96% of the vendors live within 60 miles of Sidney, with the remainder in central Montana offering items not available locally.

Entzel also plans to host various classes in the common area of the Yellowstone Marketplace as well as other events.

Entzel said she has always wanted to open a store featuring all the talent in Eastern Montana. "There's so much here!" she exclaimed. She believes it is important to shop locally, and Sidney Mercantile will make that shopping even easier.

Entzel also believes in giving back to the community. She hosts two fundraisers a year at the Elks and gives the profits to local entities. "I really like this community and want to be a bigger part of it," she said. "I feel really grateful to live here."

She extended a big thank you to Phil Johnson for his valuable advice, April Boehler and Elk River Printing for their help, Jake and Tara Carlsen for blowies and flooring work, Julie Lander for 'everything', her husband Judd for his support and all the vendors for believing in this dream.

Upcoming events include a special sale on September 21 with 20% of all sales going to the Jason Cayko Memorial scholarship fund and a sidewalk sale September 22 from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. A grand opening is planned for September 28 from 1 to 8 p.m. West Main will be closed from 5:30 to 8 p.m. with fun family events including a bale maze and petting zoo. Door prizes and refreshments will also be available.

Sidney Mercantile is open Wednesday through Friday from 4 to 7 p.m., Saturday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Sunday from noon to 3 p.m. with extended days and hours during the Christmas season. For more information, contact Entzel at 406-480-3319.

Deer Season for Young Hunters Opens Sept. 14

By ND Game & Fish Dept.

Friday, Sept. 14 at noon signals the start of a nine-and-a-half-day deer hunting season for youth, and hunters are reminded that a 2018 general game and habitat license must be purchased before the state Game and Fish Department mails the youth deer license.

Hunters are encouraged to purchase the required license early, since it takes a couple days to receive the deer license in the mail.

Licensed residents ages 11, 12 and 13, and 10-year-olds who turn age 11 in 2018, are allowed to hunt statewide, but only for antlerless white-tailed deer.

Resident deer gun hunters age 14 or 15, and 13-year-olds who turn age 14 in 2018, with a “youth season” license, can hunt statewide for any deer, except antlerless mule deer in unit 4A. In addition, a special license is required to hunt antlered mule deer in units 3B1, 3B2, 4A, 4B, 4C, 4D, 4E and 4F.

After opening day, hunting hours are one-half hour before sunrise to one-half hour after sunset. Solid daylight fluorescent orange vests or coats, and hats, are required for all young hunters and their adult mentors.

Each youth deer hunter must be under direct supervision of an adult while in the field.

The youth deer season closes Sunday, Sept. 23.

Youth Waterfowl is Sept. 15-16

North Dakota’s two-day youth waterfowl season is Sept. 15-16. Legally licensed resident and nonresident youth waterfowl hunters age 15 and younger may hunt ducks, geese, coots and mergansers statewide.

The daily bag limit and species restrictions for the youth season are the same as for regular duck and goose seasons. Exception: the additional two blue-winged teal allowed during the first 16 days of the regular season are not allowed during the youth season.

Resident and qualifying nonresident youth waterfowl hunters must possess a general game and habitat license and a fishing, hunting and furbearer certificate. Nonresidents from states that do not provide a reciprocal licensing agreement for North Dakota residents must purchase the entire nonresident waterfowl license package.

In addition, all youth hunters must be Harvest Information Program certified, and youth ages 12 and older need to have passed a certified hunter education course. Hunters age 15 and younger do not need a federal duck stamp.

Hunters who do not HIP certify when they buy a North Dakota license, can add it by visiting the Game and Fish website at gf.nd.gov, or by calling 888-634-4798 and recording the HIP number on their printed license.

Shooting hours for the youth waterfowl season are one-half hour before sunrise to sunset. An adult of at least 18 years of age must accompany the resident youth hunter into the field, and a licensed adult is required to accompany a nonresident youth hunter. The two-day weekend hunt does not count against a non-resident adult hunter’s 14-day regular season waterfowl dates.

Smoke Free Hunting Season

Fall weather and hunting season are in the air, if we are not careful smoke can be as well. Firefighters want to remind you that vegetation is dry and wildfires can occur. Do your part to ensure that you do not start a wildfire.

Before constructing a fire, check local fire restrictions and weather conditions. Be responsible and incorporate these tips to have a safe and enjoyable fire:

Constructing your warming fire:

- Clear away all leaves and other combustibles from your fire circle.
- Do not build a fire underneath overhanging branches, against a stump, or directly on organic matter.
- Stash your firewood a safe distance upwind of your fire.
- Never leave your fire unattended.

Extinguishing your warming fire:

- Drown the fire with water. Make sure all embers, coals and sticks are wet.
- Stir the remains, add more water and stir again. Be sure all burned material has been extinguished and cooled. If you do not have water, use dirt. Mix enough soil or sand with the embers. Continue adding and stirring until all material is cooled.
- Feel all materials with your bare hand. Make sure that no roots are burning. Do not bury your coals.

If you used charcoal briquettes, “dunk ‘ em!” Don’t sprinkle them around. Soak the coals with water; stir them and soak again. Be sure they are out cold. Carefully feel the coals with your bare hands to be sure they are cold to the touch.

Be prepared and responsible.

We can all make a difference in reducing human-caused wildfires.

District II Alcohol & Drug Program in Sidney Welcomes New Counselor to the Staff

Sara Perrault is the newest counselor to join District II. Sarah was born in Bozeman, Montana, and was raised in Eastern Montana. She is joining District II with a Bachelors in Psychology, a Masters in Clinical Rehabilitation and Mental Health Counseling, and has completed additional coursework focusing on chemical dependency related issues. Sarah moved back to Sidney in 2015 with her husband and two children. Much of her free time is spent being involved in her children's activities, but she also enjoys painting, writing, photography, reading, and traveling. "I see life as a journey involving life-long learning, a quest for contentment, an appreciation for what makes moments unique, and I have a strong desire to make a positive contribution to our community and society as a whole." Much of her career has been spent working with children and families. However, she also has a hope to provide supportive services to veterans as both her father and brother are combat veterans with a service connected disability. We welcome Sarah Perrault to our growing family at District II Alcohol & Drug Program and Prevention Services.

Sara Perrault

"We are very excited to have Sarah join our team here in Sidney. As part of our long-term strategic plan, District II has been transitioning to better serve all ranges of clientele within our community. There is a stark need for more awareness on what living happy and healthy really means and Sarah's education, experience and great personality fit that strategy to provide even more comprehensive treatment and mental health benefits to our clients," said Michele Seadeek, Interim Executive Director. Come and meet all the District II staff at 106 2nd St, Sidney, MT or call us at 406-433-4097 to learn more.

Williston Seeks Volunteers for Citywide Cleanup Sept. 29

The City of Williston is calling on families, friends, co-workers and colleagues to help clean up Williston on Saturday, Sept. 29.

The citywide cleanup will be headquartered in the parking lot at Davidson Park and Aafedt Stadium. Visit the park between 8:30 a.m. and 1 p.m. to pick up free cleanup supplies, dispose of recyclable items and enjoy free food and drinks. This fall there will be roll-offs for scrap metal, cardboard and used residential tires (limit four tires per household.)

Clean Up Williston is held two times per year to promote community spirit and pride. JMAC Resources, West Dakota Water and IHD Environmental have been loyal supporters of past campaigns and they look forward to the fall cleanup. A company official says the projects help newcomers take ownership in the community's appearance.

"Many of our employees are from cities across the US," said Judy Billehus, JMAC HR/Marketing Manager. "The cleanup events are a satisfying way for them to give back to Williston, a community which has provided many opportunities for our employees and their families."

Volunteers are encouraged to register for a CleanUp Zone online. The zone map is available on the City of Williston website or visit http://www.cityofwilliston.com/news_detail_T18_R60.php. Volunteers who register for a specific zone will be expected to pick up trash in the designated area on or before Sept. 29.

The city appreciates all of the hard work volunteers give to make Williston a welcoming place to live and visit.

"Williston has evolved into a beautiful city because of companies like JMAC Resources," said Billehus. "With their commitment, Williston will continue to be a special, unique city for so many to call HOME!"

The cleanup is organized by the City of Williston and supported by local businesses such as JMAC Resources. If your business, organization or family would like to become a sponsor, or to learn more about the project, contact Patty Fiorenza or Jim Haga Jr. at 701-577-6368.

End of Summer Blues

By Lois Stephens

The thought of approaching winter leaves me cold – no pun intended. Labor Day, in my opinion, denotes the most depressing holiday of the year because of the many events it signifies have come to an end. Hot languid days have come and gone for another year, summer has packed her bags with the intention of departing while winter lurks gleefully just around the corner. We have beautiful autumn to enjoy before winter truly arrives, but the season between summer and winter can prove finicky as well. To make matters worse, we never know what to expect with the arrival of old man winter. We may see a cold, harsh few months, or a season that brings somewhat milder temperatures but a boatload of snow, or a combination of everything we have come to expect from the short dark days of wintertime. In short, all those nasty weather features I do not look forward to with any sense of cheerfulness will show up long before I have mentally prepared myself for their arrival.

I adore summer and just about everything that comes with it, with the exception of ticks and mosquitoes. The long warm days, the feel of sunshine on my shoulders, chirping birds that awaken me at five in the morning, the freedom provided by shorts and t-shirts, mucking in the garden and enjoying the delicious produce it provides, delighting in the warm breeze that tickles my face, tramping around outside in bare feet, sitting on my deck with a good book in one hand and a glass of wine in the other – the list of summer goodness continues on indefinitely.

I can't say the same for winter. I like the cold season to a certain extent; it just continues far too long for my taste. The first snowfall thrills me, the exclamations of pleasure I utter at the first sight of those silent white flakes falling from the sky turn to words of irritation by the third or fourth snow of the year. I have trouble with long dark nights and very short days with little daylight, I detest excessive cold and piles of snow, ice proves very treacherous, I hate pulling on clunky boots whenever I need to venture outside, plus I abhor dealing with less than pristine roadways and snow-packed streets. The list could continue but I see no value in depressing myself any further than I already have just by making this list.

To me, the Labor Day weekend signifies the end of everything I treasure: the last of the garden, the approaching end of biking, no more soothing, warm sun on my cheeks, and of course the loss of daylight along with the impending frost and cold. I think the loss of daylight hits me the hardest, as I have a lot of trouble dealing with no sunshine and overcast days. Way back when the world was young and I still attended school, Labor Day also meant the loss of freedom with the return to the classroom. We kids hated the thought of Labor Day as it meant back to school, homework, and a daily grind. We faced that holiday with bittersweet emotions.

Sure, today when I have retired from working at a year-round job, Labor Day no longer means much as far as a paid day off and a long weekend goes, but it still epitomizes the loss of wonderful, magnificent, cherished summer days. Nothing beats summer in my estimation.

Labor Day had its origins in 1882 when on September 5, labor unions staged the first ever Labor Day parade in New York City. Organizers chose the first Monday in September for the occasion as this date falls halfway between July 4 and Thanksgiving. After a series of labor riots in 1894, President Grover Cleveland signed a declaration into law proclaiming the first Monday in September as Labor Day, to honor the working men and women of this country. With a stroke of a pen, he formally set a date that has depressed school-aged children for decades and discourages most of the rest of us by reminding us in no uncertain terms that summer has passed by in a whirl and long, slow-moving dark cold winter skulks just around the corner, ready to pounce with all claws bared and ready for action.

Yes, we get together as families for Labor Day barbecues, most of us get the day off, and enjoy the company of family and friends. However, I get together with family and friends all year long, and we barbecue as late into the year as possible and fire up the barbecue again as soon as weather permits in the early spring. Last year my barbecue disappeared under a snow drift by the first of December and didn't emerge from underneath the white crap until March. Hopefully this year won't give us as much snow, but even if it doesn't, the passing of Labor Day reminds me in no uncertain terms that I face long, dark days in the months to come.

At least I have my husband's October Halloween birthday to celebrate, two November special days, and Christmas holiday to look forward to, but I would give up all of these special days in an instant for an extra month of summertime and all the pleasures summer season has to offer.

Williston Area Chamber of Commerce Names Voll President

The Williston Area Chamber of Commerce has announced Heather Voll as the organization's new President, effective September 10th. Voll has served as the Events & Convention Services Coordinator at the Williston Convention & Visitors Bureau since January 2018.

"I am very much looking forward to the wonderful opportunity to work with the Williston Area Chamber of Commerce, their amazing staff and dedicated board," said Voll. "My passion is to serve Williston and its business community."

Heather came to Williston from Naples, Italy where she specialized in Community Recreation for Morale Welfare Recreation which maintains a high level of morale for the military community, civilian government employees, and their families. While working with the Military, Voll served on the Naples Support Activity Command Assessment Task Force which advocates for Military members and their needs. She plans to use the same skillset here in Williston.

Mitzi Bestall, Chairman of the Board for the Chamber shared, "Heather was selected from a strong slate of candidates and the Board is excited to have Heather take the reins and guide our organization in greater service to our business members. Our economy is strong and still we need to advocate for our businesses and help in every way to improve the business environment. The Board is anxious to assist Heather in fulfilling our commitment to the Community!"

Voll follows Janna Lutz, President of the Williston Area Chamber of Commerce since 2015, who left earlier this year to serve as Foundation Director of CHI St. Alexius Health Williston Foundation.

Pheasant and Partridge Numbers Similar to Last Year, Sharptails Down

By ND Game & Fish Dept.
North Dakota's roadside surveys conducted in late July and August indicate total pheasant and Hungarian partridge numbers this fall are similar to last year, while sharp-tailed grouse numbers are down.

R.J. Gross, upland game management biologist for the North Dakota Game and Fish Department, said the survey shows total pheasants observed per 100 miles are down 2 percent from last year. In addition, broods per 100 miles were unchanged, while the average brood size was up 27 percent. The final summary is based on 278 survey runs made along 101 brood routes across North Dakota.

"Even though survey data suggests pheasant production was certainly better than last year, hunters will still notice the lack of production from 2017 in the overall population," Gross said.

Statistics from southwestern North Dakota indicate total pheasants were down 32 percent and broods observed down 29 percent from 2017. For every 100 survey miles, observers counted an average of six broods and 45 pheasants. The average brood size was 5.2 chicks. Despite the population decline, Gross said the southwest still holds the most pheasants in the state.

Results from the southeast show birds are up 63 percent from last year, and the number of broods up 77 percent. Observers counted five broods and 40 birds per 100 miles. The average brood size was 5.8. Gross said while some areas of the state show a large increase in percentages from last year, such as in the southeast, it is important to keep in mind this is based off a low population in those areas in 2017.

Statistics from the northwest indicate pheasants are up 9 percent from last year, with broods up 4 percent. Observers recorded three broods and 26 pheasants per 100 miles. Average brood size was 6.5.

The northeast district, generally containing secondary pheasant habitat with lower pheasant numbers compared to the rest of the state, showed two broods and 19 pheasants per 100 miles. Average brood size was 5.8.

Sharptails observed per 100 miles are down 49 percent statewide from 2017, while partridge are up 7 percent.

"Hunting will be slower than last season in most of the state, and all indications are that hunters will see significantly lower numbers of grouse statewide," Gross said. "There will be localized areas of good hunting opportunities, but in general hunting will be fair at best."

Despite increases in sharptail lek counts this spring for eastern North Dakota, brood survey results show statewide declines in number of grouse and broods observed per 100 miles, and a slight decline in average brood size. Observers recorded 0.8 sharptail broods and 6.8 sharptails per 100 miles. Average brood size was 4.55.

Although partridge numbers have shown a slight increase, Gross said the majority of the partridge harvest is incidental while hunters pursue grouse or pheasants. Partridge densities in general, he said, are too low to target. Observers recorded 0.4 partridge broods and 4.4 partridge per 100 miles. Average brood size was 7.03.

The 2018 regular pheasant season opens Oct. 6 and continues through Jan. 6, 2019. The two-day youth pheasant hunting weekend, when legally licensed residents and nonresidents ages 15 and younger can hunt statewide, is set for Sept. 29-30.

The 2018 grouse and partridge seasons opened Sept. 8 and continue through Jan. 6, 2019.
