Fairview Elects New Mayor

By Jordan Hall

Brian Bieber has replaced longtime Fairview mayor, Bryan Cummins. Winning with 143 votes against his opponent – who had only 60 votes - Bieber will be the first new mayor in Fairview in nearly 30 years. Bieber is a born-and-raised resident of Fairview, a 1983 graduate of Fairview High School, and owner of BB Electric since 2005.

"I was born and raised here," Bieber told the Roundup, "and I've seen Fairview remain the same and I think it's time to move forward. We've missed out on lots of big opportunities. I've got some good ideas and support from a lot of people in Fairview. I look forward to putting them in place."

When asked why he won the race with such an overwhelming margin, Bieber said, "It seems to a lot of people that change is good. A lot of things haven't changed that maybe should have. I think people were just ready for a fresh face."

Remembering East Fairview is important to Bieber, who explained that although the residents of East Fairview don't have a vote in Fairview elections and although the bulk of their services have to be provided by McKenzie County and Yellowstone Township, they are still important to the community, which doesn't necessarily stop at an imaginary line. Bieber said, "I have the support of people in East Fairview as well, and I don't want to leave them out. They are our friends and neighbors."

"One of the main concerns is funding for some of our infrastructure," Bieber continued, "and we've got saline water lines and saline streets that need repaired. Our water-lagoon situation is holding its own, but if there's any growth in Fairview that's going to be a problem. We have major infrastructure issues."

When asked how necessary infrastructure repairs would be economically feasible, Bieber responded, "We're going to have to get aggressive and get some funding. I'm currently on the city council. We're working on a special improvement district to make funding available. I don't know what's available as far as grants are concerned, but I intend to find out."

Bieber expressed fidelity and friendship with the nearby neighboring mayor of Sidney, saying, "I have the support of Rick Norby, and I think if we both team up, we can make sure the rest of Montana knows that the state doesn't stop at Billings." He also mentioned hopeful partnership with other elected officials, saying, "I think we need to be more in touch with the commissioners and also with McKenzie County. There is help available for us. We just need to aggressively go after it."

The new mayor wants the city of Fairview to know they can approach him to discuss anything related to city government. Bieber said, "I think I'm very approachable. I run a small electrical shop in Fairview and I am approached by people all the time. I'll take people's concerns and complaints and hear them out when it comes to concerns regarding the city."

Bieber has a son in Fairview, a daughter in Sidney and a grand-daughter on the way.

Sidney Health Center Earns Montana Quality Award

Sidney Health Center was honored this fall for successfully demonstrating high performance on several national quality initiatives. During the annual conference held by the Montana Hospital Association (MHA) in Billings, Sidney Health Center received a Hospital Quality Achievement Award from Mountain-Pacific Quality Health.

Sidney Health Center met several criteria to be considered for the award, including working on Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) Core Elements of outpatient antibiotic stewardship and taking steps to improve care transitions, medication safety, adult immunization rates and patient and family engagement and satisfaction.

Sidney Health Center's leadership team is committed to quality, and their health care team demonstrated that commitment to earn the Hospital Quality Award.

The pharmacy department was the driving force behind the antibiotic stewardship initiative and medication safety program. The antibiotic stewardship initiative involved tracking and educating staff and providers about the optimal use of antibiotics including not over-using antibiotics as well as prescribing them appropriately. The awareness of this initiative resulted in a decrease in unnecessary usage of antibiotics.

The pharmacy department also worked on a medication safety awareness report with a focus on outpatient opioid prescribing habits. The blinded report helped local providers identify their opioid pain medication prescribing habits compared to their colleagues. As a result, the Clinic Pharmacy noticed a decline in pain medication prescriptions that can potentially become addicting when prescribed on an "as needed" basis.

In addition, Sidney Health Center exceeded the recommended 85% compliance threshold of immunizing adults for influenza; 92% of the hospital patients and 93% of the employees received their flu vaccinations in FY2017.

Other criteria for the award included improving care transitions, sharing a patient experience with the Board of Directors and achieving at least a 3 star rating in the patient survey results.

"It's a great honor to be featured at a state level for our commitment to quality," stated Rick Haraldson, Sidney Health Center CEO. "I think it says a lot about the kind of people that work for Sidney Health Center, who ultimately put our mission into action."

Sidney Health Center was one of just seven hospitals in Montana to receive the quality award.

For more information about Sidney Health Center's quality improvement efforts or about this award, contact Peggy Kopp, Quality Improvement Director at 406-488-2289 or pkopp@sidneyhealth.org.

Rugby Homes & RV Center Expands in Williston

Kevin and Gary Kirchofner

Rugby Homes & RV Center has expanded into the former Coates RV location at 321 Gate Avenue in Williston. Owners Gary and Kevin Kirchofner are excited about the opportunity to offer full sales, parts and service to current and potential RV owners. The family owned company based in Rugby, ND has had a satellite lot in Williston for 11 years. "Coates RV was a full fledged dealer and with them leaving, we saw an opportunity to extend what we started in the past," Gary Kirchofner said.

The experienced Coates RV staff will stay, providing the best in sales, parts and service. Rugby Homes & RV Center has been an exclusive Jayco dealer for 39 years plus they carry Open Range and Forest River RVs. No homes will be placed on the lot at this time. However, they are available at www.rugbyhomesandrvcenter.com.

For your new RV, or for service and parts, stop by Rugby Homes & RV Center at 321 Gate Ave., Williston, call 701-572-2250 or visit their website.

Meat Madness November 18

Submitted by Daniel Farr

The Sidney Eagle Foundation had its beginning in 2001 with its first major project, bleachers and the announcer's booth at Swanson Field. Since that time, the Eagle Foundation has continued to help fund numerous K-12 school projects through fund raising and with generous giving from our school community. A project that remains unrealized is the construction of a Concessions area and Restroom Facility on the northside of Swanson Field. This facility serves the community as well as area schools for hosting of district/divisional track meets and other community events.

At present, the Foundation has approximately $30,623.35 raised and set aside for this project and this year, the Eagle Foundation is kicking-off a campaign with our corporate sponsor, Mid-Rivers Communication to see this projected completed. Interstate Engineering of Sidney has provided the Foundation with an estimated cost of $187,000.

The kick-off event is "Meat Madness" and will be held Saturday, November 18th at the Event Center. Meat Madness is a spin on the turn of the century beef-steak events that involved a lot of meat and bread and of course, No Fork, No Knives and No Spoons. Through the support of our primary sponsor, Mid-Rivers Communications, you will be provided with a dinner that includes beef, chicken, pork and potatoes, veggies and dessert for a mere $40 per person with all proceeds going toward the project.

The event will begin at 6:00 PM with a social hour and dinner to begin at 6:30 PM. Included in the evening is live music provided by Stumbling Free of Helena, Montana and both live and silent auctions. The live auction will include ½ a beef, cut and wrapped donated by Steinbeisser Farms, diamond stud earrings from John Stockhill Jewelers, a Henry Golden Boy 22 donated by DTF Educational Consulting in cooperation with High Caliber Sports, a 70 quart Pelican Cooler, a reclaimed wood and tin bar, and a week stay at a beautiful condominium at Whitefish Mountain. The silent auction will contain a variety of items donated by local business.

Come join Mid-Rivers Communications and the Eagle Foundation on November 18th for a great evening of dining, dancing and fun for a great cause. Tickets can be obtained at Stockman Bank, Central School, the Sidney Area Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture, and John Stockhill Jewelers. Join in the Madness on November 18, 2017.

Richland Economic Development Banquet

The Richland Economic Development Corporation held its annual meeting banquet on Nov. 7 at the Sidney Elks Lodge. The meeting included a recap of the year's events affecting the area's economy, letters from Montana politicians and the presentation of the president's award to Chip Gifford. This year's guest speaker was USDA Business Program Specialist Martin Dewitt. Dewitt presented information on grants and loans that can assist local business available through the USDA. Pictured above are the RED Directors. Back row (L-R) executive director Leslie Messer, Tami Christensen, Jackie Washechek, Pam Burman, Vanessa Pooch, Cami Skinner and program director Katie Dasinger. Front row (L-R) Blaine Rogers, Gary Schoepp, Shane Gorder, Randy Olson, Chip Gifford, Don Steinbesser, Alan Seigfreid and Leif Anderson.

Design Your Succession Plan

“Empowering families to get started on their succession plan.”

By Marcia Hellandsaas
NDSU Extension Agent, McKenzie County

How will your family farm or ranch business operate in the future when the owner retires or is gone? Are you currently working with another generation who may be questioning their role in the future of the farm or ranch business or are you yourself questioning your current role?

More than 80 percent of farm and ranch families hope to pass the family farm or ranch on to the next generation, but research shows only 30 percent of family farms and ranches survive to the second generation, and only 12 percent survive to the third generation. A successful transition to the next generation takes careful planning.

To help North Dakota farm and ranch families start their succession planning process, the North Dakota State University Extension Service has developed a new interactive program, Design Your Succession Plan. This program will provide tools and resources for North Dakota producers who want to begin the succession planning process.

Participants will have an opportunity to open the lines of communication with family to create a shared vision for the family business. They will also learn to choose and work with professionals such as attorneys, accountants, lenders, insurance agents and tax experts to construct a plan and documents that put the family's vision into action.

“The program will prepare you to envision, communicate, plan, write and shape the legacy of your family farm or ranch business, as well as save hundreds of dollars by completing these crucial planning steps before visiting with professionals,” said Marcia Hellandsaas, McKenzie County Extension agent.

This workshop will be offered as a 3 afternoon course in Watford City, ND at the McKenzie County Extension Office. The program will run from 1:30 to 4:30 pm CT on November 28, 30 and December 7. Please contact the Extension office for more information at 701-444-3451 or email Extension Agent Marcia Hellandsaas at marcia.hellandsaas@ndsu.edu.

Northwest Landowners Association to Host Land Use Plan Workshop!

Northwest Landowners Association will be hosting a Land Use Plan Workshop in cooperation with the Budd-Falen Law Offices. Karen Budd-Falen will lead the workshop that is specifically meant for county government officials. With her work at Budd-Falen Law Offices, Karen represents private property owners, ranching and farming organizations, and local governments. She has assisted local governments in asserting their rights of cooperation and coordination in federal agency decisions and private property owners in protecting their Constitutionally guaranteed property rights. Supporting the development of local land use plans is an activity that Budd-Falen specializes in. The Land Use Plan Workshop will be held on December 6, 2017 at the Grand Hotel in Minot.

The cost to attend is $115 per person and you can register online at nwlandowners.com/happenings.

Montana Department of Transportation Proposes Highway Rehabilitation Project for Montana Highway 200 Northeast of Richey

The Montana Department of Transportation (MDT) would like to notify the public and seek comments on a proposal to rehabilitate about 10.6 miles of Montana Highway 200 northeast of Richey in Dawson and Richland counties. The project begins in Dawson County at the junction with Secondary Highway 254 at reference post 27.8 and extends northeast for 10.6 miles, ending about a quarter mile west of the intersection with Richland County Road 126 at reference post 38.4.

Proposed work includes reconstruction of several sections of road to address poor roadway geometry, rehabilitating the existing pavement, widening the roadway to include 2-foot shoulders, slope flattening, new plant mix surfacing, installing rumble strips and finishing with a seal and cover (chip seal), upgraded pavement marking, signage and guardrail. The purpose of the project is to provide a safer roadway and reduce maintenance costs.

A target construction date will be determined upon completion of design activities and as funding becomes available. New right-of-way and relocation of utilities may be required. MDT staff will contact all potentially affected landowners prior to performing survey work on their land. Staff will again contact landowners prior to construction regarding property acquisition and temporary construction permits.

For more information, please contact Glendive District Administrator Shane Mintz at (406) 345-8212 or Project Design Engineer Steve Heidner at (406) 3458247. Members of the public may submit written comments to the Montana Department of Transportation Glendive office at P.O. Box 890, Glendive, MT 59330-0890, or online at: www.mdt.mt.gov/mdt/comment_form.shtml

Please note that your comments are for project UPN 9179000. Alternative accessible formats of this information will be provided upon request by contacting the Office of Civil Rights, P.O. Box 201001, Helena, MT 59620; (406) 444-9229; fax (406) 444-7243, or e-mail to aflesch@mt.gov. Those using a TTY may call (800) 335-7592 or through the Montana Relay Service at 711.

A Message from Partnership For Promise Coalition

By Kehanna Lessor, Member

November is all about giving thanks. What better way to do so than to serve your community? As a volunteer, I can say it is so rewarding to go and help when I can. There are so many ways to do so in our community, ranging from Meals on Wheels to joining a committee. On behalf of the Partnership for Promise, we would like to thank all of those who volunteer as well as all the services providers in Richland County.

There are many services in the community that are all done by volunteers. Northeast MT, R.S.V.P., for instance, serves in more than 75 northeastern organizations and agencies. Volunteers help mentor or tutor children and young adults in the classroom and in after-school programs, deliver Meals on Wheels and Harvest for Seniors, assist peers with SNAP and LIEAP applications, help with local events and fundraisers, and help package and distribute food at the food bank and senior commodities. There is so much more that they do as well. If you are interested in becoming an R.S.V.P. volunteer, Rita Jacobson and Jessica Gilbert will set you up to volunteer in anything that is of interest to you; they accept volunteers of any age! Rita and Jessica can be reached at the Richland County Health Department at 406-433-2207.

Richland County is also always looking for tutors to help out though the Learning Volunteers for Adults. This is a program to help people earn their HI-SET, also known as the G.E.D. Enrichment learning and tutoring in many subjects is also available. If you are interested in volunteering as a tutor or would like to become a student just give Bernie Braden a call at 406-480-1971.

The Sunrise Women's Clinic is in need of volunteers as well. The Clinic offers a program to clients called Earn While You Learn, which allows clients to earn points after each completed lesson to be put toward a gas card or baby supplies from their baby boutique. If you are interested in partaking in the earn while you learn or want to help out just give Dena Lake a call at 406-433-7772.

The Boys and Girls Club is an after school program for children. They are looking for volunteers to help with the activities they provide for the students. This is a great one if you love working with children. You can call Janelle Buxbaum at 406-433-6763. In Fairview, the Warrior Afterschool Program (WASP) is looking for amazing volunteers to work with elementary children after school. Contact Jenny Shriver at 406-480-9899 for more information.

If you are interested in joining a committee, the Partnership for Promise is always looking for new community members. The Partnership for Promise helps the community ensure the 5 promises: Caring adults, safe places, healthy start, marketable skills, and opportunities to serve. If you would like to participate or you would like more information, please call Michele Seadeek at 433-4097.

The Lost Art of the Thank You Note

By Lois Stephens

My generation grew up writing thank you notes. Whenever we received a gift from anyone, we sat down and wrote a brief note expressing our appreciation for the item in question. Sometimes it proved difficult to thank someone for a totally inappropriate or disliked present, but nonetheless, we wrote some sort of note anyway. Our mother saw to that.

In this day of texting and emails, the thank you note seems to have fallen by the wayside. Someone texts a thank you using a few unintelligible symbols that only the young people can decipher, or thinks that a “yo, thanks, man,” serves the purpose. It really does not.

I think it is time to bring back the thank you note, written in simple English and saying a little more than “gee, thanks for this gift.” I still do write thank you notes, and I try hard to make them fun, let the gift giver know I appreciate his or her thoughtfulness, and that I truly value the thought behind the gift.

For instance, I recently left my full-time job. Technically I called it retirement, but actually I think of it more as a change of direction. I am not retiring, I will continue to work my several part time jobs, but I choose to no longer work at that particular full-time job, and I choose to try something else and to expand on a few of my current part time job opportunities.

The Wednesday during my last week of work at my full time job, I did throw a change of direction party at the local bar, and my coworkers did gift me with wonderful items that they hoped I would enjoy. I did write a thank you note to them as a staff, and I did try to make it fun. Here it is, my idea of a proper thank you note.

Hi there,
I would love to say that I miss getting up and trudging off to work first thing in the morning, but I cannot lie – I don’t. However, I can say that I do miss my coworkers.

I want to say thank you to each and every one of you for your friendship and the opportunity to work with and learn from all of you. I also valued the jokes and banter that put a smile into the day.

I also want to thank you sincerely for the most unexpected but greatly appreciated farewell/retirement/good riddance gifts that you gave me. Rod and I will check out Deemo’s this week to redeem some tasty meat that we probably will choose with Thanksgiving and Christmas in mind. We have begun sampling the many treats in the Harry and David package. Of course, I snatched out all the chocolate items first and hid them from Rod. Ok, ok, so I am greedy and selfish when it comes to chocolate.

Chad, thank you for making the effort to ensure that I received a marvelous retirement cake. It was fabulous. I will share the remaining portion with my neighbors here on Lois Lane.

Mark, I enjoyed each and every kiss you gave me. (A note to the uninitiated. Mark always had Hershey’s chocolate kisses in his drawer at work, and I could count on him to see me through when I needed a quick fix of chocolate. Receiving kisses from Mark became an office joke.)

Jackie, after finishing my shift at the café on Sunday, I cashed in the drink chip you gave me. It hit the spot, and finished off the work day on a happy note.

Myrna, you are welcome for my drink that you took when you spilled your own. (Another note: Myrna knocked over her drink at my little retirement/change of direction bash. I happened to be at another table talking to someone else at the time, so Myrna dumped my wine into her now empty glass. I think it was Mark that replenished my glass of wine so I could come back to my place and find a full drink waiting for me.)

Brandy, thank you for your patience when I had a particularly dense day (or is this what they call senior moments?) and couldn’t seem to get a project completed to your satisfaction.

Thank you all, and I hope you have great careers and some fun along the way as you plod through your daily grind in this office. I hope all of you have nothing but smooth sailing.

Let me know, I can meet any of you at the Pioneer whenever the mood strikes you.”

So folks, happy thank you note writing. It really does mean something, at least it does to me, to receive a heartfelt thank you from someone that you have gifted or for whom you have done a kindness. A few words of thanks can go a long way to make someone’s day.

“Turning 65: Medicare Basics” Program Offered

By Marcia Hellandsaas
NDSU Extension Agent,
McKenzie County

Are you nearing the age of 65? If so, you have a lot of decisions to make as you may need to sign up for Medicare.

“Turning 65: Medicare Basics” program will be offered from 3 pm to 4 pm on Monday, November 20 at the NDSU Extension Service in McKenzie County (205 6th Street NW in Watford City.) Pre-registration is requested by Friday, November 17. Please e-mail marcia.hellandsaas@ndsu.edu or call the NDSU Extension Service/McKenzie County at 701-444-3451 if you are interested in attending.

This presentation will help you answer the following questions:

Should I keep/sign up for Part A?

Should I take Part B? When?

What about Part D? (review annually during the annual open enrollment period: October 15 to December 7.)

Do I need a Medigap policy?

Can I get help with Medicare costs?

Medicare terms will be explained, costs and coverages, how to sign up and options as well benefits for those who work past age 65 and those who retire before 65.

For complete information, please contact the NDSU Extension Service in McKenzie County.

Round Up Some Great Books At The West Side Book Fair Nov. 15-17

Submitted by Dawn Greenwood
West Side Elementary School will have its annual Book Fair, Nov. 15-17, at the West Side School Library, 1100 5th Street SW. The Book Fair will be open during regular school hours, as well as from 2-7 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 15, and 3-7 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 16. The fair ends at 10 a.m. Friday.
This reading event will offer students, parents and teachers the opportunity to see the latest works by popular authors and illustrators of books for children. Along with winners of state and national awards, the Book Fair will present hundreds of titles selected to excite and motivate students to become lifelong readers. Special attention is given to find books that will appeal to the emergent, the experienced, and the reluctant reader.
All parents of Preschool and younger children are invited to attend, as there will be selections just right for those age levels, too.
For more information, contact librarian Dawn Greenwood at West Side Elementary School, 433-2530.

Great American Smoke Out!!

By Jacklyn Damm

The American Cancer Society is marking the 38th Great American Smokeout on November 16th by encouraging smokers to use the date to make a plan to quit. By quitting — even for one day — smokers will be taking an important step towards a healthier life — one that can lead to reducing cancer risk.

Tobacco use remains the single largest preventable cause of disease and premature death in the US, yet about 43.8 million Americans still smoke cigarettes — Nearly 1 in every 5 adults.

About 36.5 million Americans still smoke cigarettes, and tobacco use remains the single largest preventable cause of disease and premature death in the world. While cigarette smoking rates have dropped, cigar, pipe, electronic devices and hookah — other dangerous and addictive ways to smoke tobacco — are very much on the rise. Smoking kills people — there's no "safe" way to smoke tobacco.

Quitting smoking has immediate and long-term benefits at any age. Quitting is hard, but you can increase your chances of success with help. Getting help through counseling or medications can double or triple the chances of quitting successfully. Call the Montana Quit Line today or on the Great American Smoke Out! Just call 1-800-QUIT-NOW or log onto www.Quit-NowMontana.com to learn more about the free counseling and benefits that are waiting for you.

Montana Facts and Figures

Four Montanans die every day from tobacco-related diseases.

- Every year, Montanans pay more than $277 million in medical expenditures attributable to smoking; and businesses pay more than $305 million in lost productivity due to illness and time off.
- Every pack of cigarettes purchased in Montana costs society about $4.44—half in medical costs and half in lost productivity.
- Sixteen percent of all adults in Montana smoke, and 46% of American Indian adults in Montana smoke. (ATS, 2009)
- Montana adult males use spit tobacco at a rate that is almost double the national average (13% compared to 8%). (ATS, 2009)
- The diseases caused by tobacco addiction remain the leading causes of death in the United States and in Montana, claiming the lives of an average of four Montanans each day.

Lonsdale Focus Group

Lonsdale is seeking to form a focus group of people ages 18-40 who are willing to talk with us about reinventing the church. Whether you have ties to Lonsdale or not, if you are willing to talk with us about what is important to you, what supports and encourages you and maybe even what you like about churches and what drives you crazy about them, we would love to hear from you!

Please contact Pastor Melanie at 433-3110, 406-560-6371 or at <mailto:lonsdalepastor@gmail.com>.

Sidney Lions Christmas Wreaths

It's the holiday season and the Sidney Lions will once again be selling their Christmas wreaths starting Monday, Nov. 20.

If a Lion doesn't make it to your door, you can call or message Raymond Carlson at 406-489-0944 to have a wreath delivered.

Thank You for your support!
