“Kick It Up” At The McKenzie County Fair

By Jaymi Loobey

This year, from July 5 through July 8, Watford City is going to “Kick It Up” with the 60th annual McKenzie County Fair at the McKenzie County Fairgrounds in Watford City.

The McKenzie County Fair Board has put together an astounding amount of fun events to enjoy this year. Besides the usual events you would see at a fair, such as a rodeo and 4-H show, the McKenzie County Fair will also have the Olaf Leiseth Jr. Memorial Draft Horse Competition, a magician, carnival, and demolition derby. The fun starts with a parade, Thursday the 5th, at 4 p.m. There will also be a free Beef BBQ at 5 p.m. The Memorial Draft Horse Competition will be after the parade and after the BBQ. The competition was named for long-time McKenzie County resident, farmer, and rancher Olaf Leiseth Jr who passed away in 2007. He had loved working with horses, was the Wagon Master for Long X Wagon Train for several years and would have undoubtedly enjoyed the competition. Keith Raymond, the strolling magician will be performing Thursday, Friday, and Saturday. He does magic and illusions and has performed throughout the four state area. North Star Amusements Carnival will be at the fair only Friday and Saturday as well as the 4-H animal shows, Young Guns Wild West Fun Park and music by Buckin’ Beats Entertainment. The demolition derby will be Friday at 6 p.m. The pit gates will open at 2 p.m. The entry fee is $100 and will be due the day of the derby. Saturday is rodeo day. Earlier in the day, the 4-H livestock sale will be held but later on and into the evening is the eagerly awaited NDRA rodeo. Sunday, July 8th wraps up the festivities with the youth rodeo.

With 60 years under its belt, the McKenzie County Fair preparers have quite a bit of experience behind them. “It all started in a field. I know that much because my father told me, said fair board member Carolyn Levang. That field so long ago is where the fairgrounds is now. This year during the rodeos 75 to 100 participants are expected to vie for top standings. Several volunteers from around the community will be flocking to the fairgrounds to prepare for and assist during the fair. Traditionally, the fair board also hires a group in need of fundraising such as the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts or local church groups to help out with the fair as well.

The McKenzie County Fairgrounds is located at 4th Avenue Southeast and 12th Street Southeast in Watford City. More information can be found on the McKenzie County and Watford City webpage, <http://mckenziecounty.net/>. Carolyn Levang can be contacted for general questions at 701-770-6938 or emailed at levang4@restel.com. She can be called for demolition derby entry information and rules by the same number or by email at levang4@ruggedwest.com. For demolition derby car technical questions Cody can be contacted at 701-368-0072 and those wanting information on the youth rodeo can contact Kadie Sorenson at 701-570-6407.

Wolf Point Wild Horse Stampede July 11 - 13

By Jaymi Loobey

Once again, the second weekend of July, the town of Wolf Point, situated on the beautiful Missouri river will explode. The Rodeo Committee and Stadium Committee are banding together to bring the Wolf Point Wild Horse Stampede to life. It will be held July 11, 12 and 13 this year at the Marvin Brookman Stadium, 6265 Rodeo Rd in Wolf Point Montana.

The Wild Horse Stampede actually started out as a competition in 1920 for a few local cowboys and native Americans in roping and riding events. Now, 98 years later, it has evolved into 3 days of official PRCA rodeo events, an endurance run for humans, golf tournament, parade, art in the park and an open team roping event. About 200 of the world’s best PRCA cowboys and cowgirls consistently come to compete on Brookman rodeo stock every year in the Wild Horse Stampede. Last year, it was estimated that 12,000 came to watch the three-day event. This is huge for Wolf Point and several local individuals flock to the fairgrounds to volunteer their time. There are several mundane jobs you would expect like mowing, spraying weeds, ordering the concession food and cleaning the area before the event. The stadium also is fixed up and painted but there’s more that goes into it. In order for the Wild Horse Stampede to be sanctioned by the Professional Rodeo Cowboy’s Association, several phone calls must be made and mountains of paperwork must be completed. During the rodeo alone, over a hundred volunteers are working in plain sight and behind the scenes to make this work.

I asked Rodeo Chairman Clint Long why he and the other volunteers continue to put this event on. He said, “I guess it is because we love our community and our rodeo, it is a heartfelt effort to do something that makes a difference in our community which supports the event wholeheartedly.” He also said that all the class and family reunions in the area are timed to happen the same weekend as the Wild Horse Stampede. He said, “You see people that you get a chance to visit with once a year.”

The ticket booth opens June 20 from 11 a.m. - 6 p.m. Monday - Friday and can be contacted at 406-653-1770. General Admission Advance tickets are $15. At the gate, they are $17. Buckaroo Advance tickets are $20. At the gate, they are $22. Kids 6 and under get in free to the rodeo. For more information visit the event’s Facebook page or the Wolf Point Chamber of Commerce’s website, www.wolfpointchamber.com, and click on the Wild Horse Stampede’s icon.

Trista Hovde, a 9th-grade student at Sidney High School has earned a position on the North Dakota state/provincial National High School rodeo team and will be traveling with fellow teammates to Rock Springs, Wyo., July 15-21 to compete at the 70th annual National High School Finals Rodeo (NHSFR) in the Barrel Racing competition.

Featuring more than 1,650 contestants from 43 states, five Canadian Provinces, Australia and Mexico, the NHSFR is the world’s largest rodeo. In addition to competing for more than $200,000 in prizes, NHSFR contestants will also be competing for more than $350,000 in college scholarships and the chance to be named an NHSFR World Champion. To earn this title, contestants must finish in the top 20 – based on their combined times/scores in the first two rounds – to advance to Saturday evening’s final round. World champions will then be determined based on their three-round combined times/scores.

Again this year, the Saturday championship performance will be televised nationally as a part of the Cinch High School Rodeo Tour telecast series on RFD-TV. Live broadcasts of each NHSFR performance will air online at www.RidePass.com. Performance times are 7 p.m. on July 15, and 9 a.m. and 7 p.m. each day thereafter.

Along with great rodeo competition and the chance to meet new friends from around the world, NHSFR contestants have the opportunity to enjoy shooting sports, volleyball, contestant dances, family-oriented activities, church services sponsored by the Fellowship of Christian Cowboys, and shopping at the NHSFR tradeshow.

To follow your local favorites at the NHSFR, visit NHSRA.com daily for complete results. For ticket information, visit www.SweetwaterEvents.com.

Dasinger, 2018 Woman Of The Year

By Jordan Hall
Katie Dasinger, the program coordinator for Richland Economic Development Corp, has been selected as the 2018 Woman of the Year by the Montana Young Professionals, a coalition of roughly a dozen local chapters across the state. Dasinger has worked for Richland Economic Development Corp for five years and has been instrumental in various initiatives to help assist the economic flourishing of Richland County.

The Roundup spoke with Dasinger and also with Leslie Messer, the Executive Director of Richland Economic Development Corp, about Dasinger's award and the work and effort that she has put into her efforts.

Speaking of the 2018 Conference where she received the award, Dasinger said, "This is the third conference over-all for the Montana Young Professionals and second one that I have attended, and it was held up in Butte. Every year a different city in Montana gets the summit and they put together two days of networking, keynote speakers, and small breakout groups to help with networking, leadership, civil engagement or whatever you choose in order to help meet other young professionals so we can continue to help Montana grow east, west, north and south. This year they did awards and I was lucky enough to be nominated and chosen for Woman of the Year."

Regarding the award selection process, Messer explained, "The Montana Economic Developers sent out a Google poll and they asked, since we are the ones helping with community development and working with entrepreneurs and working for economic development, to please vote for young professionals. And so, I nominated Katie for Young Professional of the Year. I explained that Katie wanted to do something different."

Much of Dasinger's work has been through Richland Economic Development Corp, an organization that was founded in 1987. It is designed to help business owners and entrepreneurs in the county, and is funded by a combination of county and city funds, as well as from private businesses and individuals with a vested interest in the long-term economic health of the region.

Messer went on to explain that Dasinger has worked faithfully in their organization for nearly five years, that she saw there was a need to connect young entrepreneurs and professionals together, how she worked with young professionals in Montana and North Dakota to establish their own network in Richland County, and how she spearheaded the taskforce that created the Sidney Young Professionals and now serves as the President of the Sidney Young Professionals.

Messer said, "Dasinger has been instrumental in leading all of these different things in the last two years, like winter clothing drives, entrepreneurial business panels where young professionals can speak to experienced entrepreneurs, speed-networking, mayoral debates, candidate forums, round table topic discussions, work force empowerment forums and several different area tours like Sidney Sugars, the Irrigation Project and the hospital. Those are just a few of them."

Dasinger, who is originally from Denver, is married to local resident Kaleb Dasinger, and has been in Sidney for about seven years.

Dasigner said, "It's been fantastic. Sidney and Richland Economic Development have been fantastic about really supporting our organization as we've gotten it off the ground and tried to make a positive impact."

Sidney Swim Team Competes in Plentywood

The TigerSharks competed in Plentywood this weekend. We had 45 athletes go to compete and 18 relays. The sharks took 2nd place overall and 1st in the relays. Earning Top Boy for the 9-10 year olds was Parker Wunder from the Tiger Sharks. This is his first time since being a shark that he has earned Top Boy. Corben Holler also earned enough points to get Top Boy in the 11-12 age group. Next weekend we compete in Glendive and then we are home in Sidney for some Shark Infested water competition. Go to roundupweb.com for results. (Photos submitted)

The Roundup SUMMER EDITION

Sunrise Festival Of The Arts July 14

As the sun rises on the Sunrise City, tents stand tall, merchandise shines on tables, and friends stop to say hello. Sunrise Festival of the Arts celebrates 28 years in Veteran's Memorial Park, Sidney Montana, on July 14 from 8 a.m.-4 p.m., presented by XTO Energy.

Sunrise Festival of the Arts connects local and regional artists, craftspeople, and authors along Writer's Row with shoppers and enthusiasts. The Sidney Area Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture Sunrise Festival Committee works tirelessly to plan and execute a full day of shopping, demonstrations, live entertainment, food options and kid's activities including the Kid's Korner and Child Safety IDs. Purchase a Sunrise Festival button and redeem discounts offered by local merchants and enter to win prizes, including the annual grand prize: a piece of art from the featured artist of the year.

Every year the Sunrise Festival of the Arts committee chooses a featured artist, recognized for their talent and unique style. This year the committee selected photographer Sean R. Heavey from Glasgow, Montana. Heavey earned the nickname "Weather Paparazzi" for his relentless storm chasing to capture the perfect image. Publications such as the New York Post, Boston Globe, Popular Science, USA Today, and National Geographic printed his impressive photographs. This year's chosen art piece, "The Mothership" showcases a massive supercell rolling across the plains at sunset, capturing the terrifying beauty of a Montana storm in striking clarity.

On Friday July 13 at 6 p.m., enjoy the Sunrise Festival's Free Kick off Concert featuring The Sound Exchange, a five member a capella group based in Minnesota's Twin Cities. The group kicks off Sunrise Festival as entertainment for the "Light the Park" cancer care fundraising event. The Foundation for Community Care will erect a VIP tent in Veterans Memorial Park for the performance. Admission to the VIP tent is $30 and proceeds benefit Sidney Health Center Cancer Care. Each VIP admission ticket includes food, drinks, and a lantern hung in the park in honor or memory of a loved one affected by cancer.

Tickets for the VIP tent are available at the Sidney Area Chamber of Commerce or the Foundation for Community Care. For additional information or to make a donation to the Sidney Health Center Cancer Care call 488-2273 or visit foundationforcommunity-care.org.

To learn more about this year's festival, including vendor information, contact the Sidney Area Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture at 406-433-1916, visit their website at sidneymt.com, or refer to their Facebook page: Facebook.com/SidneyMTChamber.

An aerial photograph of a school campus. The central feature is a large, rectangular green lawn. A paved path runs vertically through the center of the lawn, leading to a circular paved area at the bottom. This circular area contains several small, colorful circular markers. To the right of the lawn is a large, light-colored building with a flat roof. A parking lot with several spaces is located in front of the building. The entire campus is surrounded by a grey road. There are several green trees and shrubs planted around the perimeter of the lawn and building.

Families enjoying the water at Gartside Reservoir.

By Jordan Hall

Families on a budget this summer can still have lots of affordable fun at many of the free camping, fishing and swimming locations available in the MonDak. From Richland and Dawson Counties in Montana, to Williams and McKenzie Counties in North Dakota, there are plenty of opportunities to take advantage of public outdoor locations that offer access to water and wildlife for free or little charge.

For those in the Richland County area, free camping can be found at Seven Sisters Wildlife Management Area. Comprised of 560 acres along the Yellowstone River near the town of Crane just south of Sidney, the area offers river access to swimmers, anglers and boaters. A popular hunting area in the fall, the summer months make the destination popular among those wanting a peaceful and more secluded camping environment. Campers need to beware, however, that the site offers no restroom facilities or power. Not far from Seven Sisters, also south of Sidney, is Gartside Reservoir, a popular fishing access site. Along with fishing and swimming, the site allows camping for up to seven days. There is a toilet facility for campers, although there is no electricity available and non-motorized boats only are allowed on the water.

North of Sidney in Richland County is Richland Park, located down County Road 128, 2 miles east of MT State Highway 200. The free park has boat access to the Yellowstone River, camping spots, pavilions, and relatively new playground equipment, including a "zip cruise" for children. There are eight primitive campsites and also a wood-fired BBQ and smoker that can feed between 50 and 100 people, free for use to the public.

In Dawson County there are two locations that are particularly popular in the pursuit of budget-minded recreation. Hollecker Lake is managed by Dawson County Public Works and is available in the daytime only. Toilets are available, however, and it is open all season. There is also a picnic area available that hosts a life-size triceratops.

Makoshika State Park is the other popular destination, and although inexpensive, is not free. The park hosts opportunities for archery, hiking, picnic spots and 16 camping spots (which are available for an additional fee). Using the park for the day is $5 dollars for resident vehicles.

Near Williston, North Dakota, residents can enjoy Spring Lake Park, which is built around a fishing and swimming pond that is about 15 acres in size. Located on Highway 2 North, the site boasts a beach for fishing and swimming, volleyball courts, a dog park and keelboat rental. Not far from Williston in the town of Trenton, families can enjoy the wooded Trenton Lake Recreational Area, which is centered alongside the lake that is 662 acres large and is known for its northern pike, walleye and white crappie fishing. This location has a boat dock, and its camping spots have electricity. RV spots are also available, along with shower and restroom facilities. The campground has a basketball court, volleyball court, miniature golf, and horseshoe pits. Parking has a small fee, and camping is an additional, but reasonable, addition.

Also near Williston is Blacktail Dam, a park with 5 pavilions, 32 camping sites, a boat ramp, and swim beach. Camping at this location is affordable, at $10 dollars per site, and an additional $15 for power.

In McKenzie County, North Dakota, free recreation and water access can be found at Sather Dam. The lake itself is 37 acres in size and carries fish like bluegill, brown trout, largemouth and smallmouth bass, and an occasional rainbow trout. The pet-friendly site has camping available for $6 per night, with more than 20 campsites offered. Toilet facilities are also available. Use of fishing docks is free, and the site is handicap accessible.

Other sites in McKenzie County also offer excellent fishing for low or no price. Arnegard Dam, located just 9.8 miles from Watford City, is 23 acres in size, and local residents have reported good Northern Pike fishing at the location so far this year. There is a gravel boat ramp at the site. For those inside Watford City, they might want to try the Watford City Park Pond to spend some time near the water. Because of its shallow water, however, almost all fish are lost to winterkill each year, but it is restocked during warmer months with adult channel catfish and rainbow trout. There is a fishing pier but no ramp at that facility. These sites are free to the public.

Seven miles from Beach, North Dakota, lies Odland Dam, which has 6.4 miles of shoreline and 116 acres of surface area. It is known for its bluegill, yellow perch, northern pike and walleye. This pet-friendly site offers primitive camping for free, boating access, and fishing.

Regardless of your location in the region, there is a spot nearby to enjoy affordable outdoor camping and water recreation. For more information, consult the official North Dakota and Montana state websites for information regarding free or inexpensive camping and recreation nearby.

DPHHS: Take Steps To Prevent West Nile Virus Infection This Summer

State and local public health officials are reminding Montanans to take steps to avoid mosquito bites and prevent infection with West Nile Virus (WNV). In Montana, WNV season usually begins in July and ends in October, as this is when the mosquitoes responsible for it emerge.

The best way to prevent mosquito-borne diseases such as WNV, or any other mosquito-borne illness, is to protect yourself from mosquito bites.

While mosquitoes found in Montana are unable to transmit other diseases like Zika virus, they are able to transmit WNV. The virus can also infect horses and birds, with birds serving as the source of infection for most mosquitoes who then pass the virus along to humans by biting them.

When infected with WNV, about 4 out of 5 people will not have symptoms and will develop immunity after clearing the infection. Among the 1 in 5 individuals who develop illness, they will generally experience mild symptoms that may include: headache, body aches, joint pain, vomiting, diarrhea, or a rash.

Serious symptoms can develop in rare cases with fewer than 1 in 100 of those infected developing serious infections in or around the brain, also known as neuroinvasive disease. Last year, Montana had 11 cases of WNV reported; 8 were mild cases, while 3 were neuroinvasive cases. Although no deaths from WNV were reported in 2017, Montana has had deaths in previous years. Currently, no vaccine or specific treatment exists for a person at risk or ill with WNV. If someone develops any of the symptoms listed above, they should see their healthcare provider for evaluation and care.

As mentioned above, humans are not the only ones that can be infected with WNV. Last year, Montana had 8 equine cases reported. A vaccine for horses is available and highly recommended.

The 4 D's of West Nile Virus prevention should be followed to reduce the chance of mosquito bites.

DEET: Use insect repellent such as DEET or picaridin

Drain: Drain standing water around your house to prevent mosquito breeding

Dawn/Dusk: Mosquitoes are most active during dawn and dusk. Stay inside or take precautions to prevent mosquito bites during these times

Dress: When possible, wear long sleeved shirts and pants to protect yourself from bites

"As we approach WNV season, we encourage everyone to take the proper precautions to prevent mosquito bites when outdoors," stated DPHHS epidemiologist Erika Baldry.

For more information about WNV, please visit the DPHHS website at: www.dphhs.mt.gov

Wildlife Management Area Regulations Prohibit Fireworks

By ND Game & Fish Dept.

The North Dakota Game and Fish Department reminds citizens that possession or use of fireworks on state wildlife management areas is prohibited.

The primary objective of a wildlife management area is to enhance wildlife production, provide hunting and fishing opportunities, and offer other outdoor recreational and educational uses that are compatible with these objectives. Only activities that would not disrupt the intentions of how these areas are managed are encouraged, and a fireworks display is not compatible.

In addition, the Game and Fish Department will lift the Tuesday-Wednesday no-camping restriction for the upcoming Fourth of July holiday on only those WMAs that have this two-day restriction in place. This waiver will allow overnight camping July 3-4.

Other WMA regulations include:

- An equipment registration number, or the individual's name, address and telephone number, must be displayed on all equipment requiring identification, such as ground blinds, tree stands, cameras and traps.
 - Use of drones, or any unmanned radio-controlled aircraft, is prohibited unless authorized by the Game and Fish director.
 - Construction or use of a permanent tree stand or permanent ground blind is prohibited. Portable tree stands are allowed.
 - Placing of bait for any purpose is prohibited.
 - Unless otherwise designated, motorized vehicles are restricted to established trails or parking areas.
 - Paintballing and geocaching are prohibited.
 - Disposal of waste materials is prohibited except in garbage containers.
 - Camping for longer than 10 consecutive days is prohibited.
- However, some WMAs are closed to camping, while others have further restrictions.
- Group activities involving more than 25 people require a permit.
- A complete list of the WMA regulations is available on the Game and Fish website, gf.nd.gov.

On Memorial Day, May 28, 2018, Beverly Salmen and one of her friends embarked on a marvelous North Dakota adventure. They packed up some food, water, sun-block and a first aid kit, then took an 8-day trek down the Maah Daah Hey trail in Billings County, North Dakota.

The Maah Daah Hey trail is 150 miles of badlands, vistas, and grasslands that stretch across private land, Little Missouri National Grasslands and a little of Theodore Roosevelt National Park. It is an exciting place to hike, bike or ride horses and is the host, during the summer, to several bike races and endurance runs. The Badlands Trail Run on July 28, 2018 is the next highly anticipated event.

Neither Bev nor her friend is from North Dakota. Beverly comes from Minnesota while her friend is from Michigan. She and her friend's husbands had worked together for the same employer and they both attend the same church. It was inevitable they discover their shared love of hiking. Beverly and her friend both had hiked often in their previous states but had not yet truly seen what North Dakota had to offer. Now was the time. In the evening of Memorial Day, they drove out to the CCC trailhead and started walking. They only went 5 miles that first night and their husbands met them at a campground with tents, sleeping bags, food and other gear they would need in the mornings and evenings but not while out on the trail, then left the women trekkers to their travels in the morning. Every night for the next week those men repeated this service for the hardy pair until Bev and her friend had finished the trail. They averaged 15 miles of travel a day, occasionally going further. Other than rain the first night and a run in with a mother cow, Bev and her friend were left in peace to enjoy the beauty of this natural wonder. The friends are in their fifties. I asked Beverly if she would do the hike again. She said, "In a heartbeat! The scenery is incredible." and "It's North Dakota's best-kept secret in my opinion."

Beverly Salmen owns Home Comforts in Williston but her and her friend's passion is the great outdoors. More information about the Maah Daah Hey trail, events and registration can be found at www.medora.com or www.mdhta.com.
