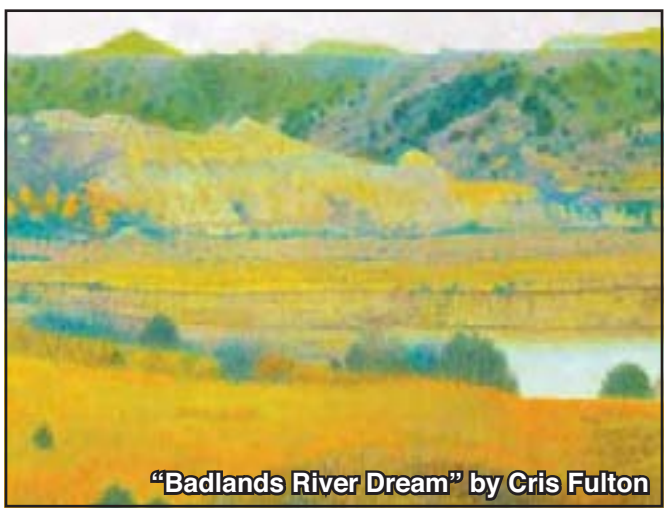
Confluence of Creativity Coming to the MDHC

Invitational Art Exhibition, June 4 - July 27

Local artists Trish Stevenson and Afton Ray have gathered a treasure trove of local and regional artists to the "Confluence of Creativity" at the MonDak Heritage Center in Sidney. The show, which runs June 4 through July 27, will feature about 14 different artists including painters, a book illustrator, a glass artist and more, plus musical acts. An opening reception will be held on Friday, June 7.

The Roundup will be regularly featuring artists from the show.



"Badlands River Dream" by Cris Fulton

Cris Fulton grew up in Bowman, North Dakota, and from an early age she enjoyed drawing and taking photographs. She received a B. A. in Art from the University of North Dakota in 1973. After graduation from college, Cris spent a year as a VISTA volunteer at Pierre Indian School in South Dakota. Then she taught basic skills and art in Slope County, North Dakota. Following that, Cris lived in Minneapolis, Minnesota and Taos, New Mexico, where she pursued a career in fine art. Starting with pencil drawings of cowboys and Indians, she went on to pastel drawings of Indian powwow dancers, Aztec dancers, and mythological figures. She moved back to Bowman in 1993, and began to photograph and draw the prairie country of southwestern North Dakota.

She enjoys photographing the countryside with a small digital camera and then making paintings with watercolor pencils and crayons on Aquabord. Fulton plays with the colors of this high plains terrain, creating a body of work that celebrates the dreamlike beauty and mystery of her home on the range. Her work has been exhibited at many places throughout the region, including Bismarck, Jamestown, Fargo, Dickinson, Medora, Spearfish, Bowman, Hettinger, Mott, and Miles City.

Cris loves the grasslands and badlands country of southwestern North Dakota and southeastern Montana. She considers the magnificent prairie landscape of the Little Missouri and Powder rivers to be her own artistic backyard. As a child, she made many trips on Highway 12 with her grandparents to visit an aunt in Miles City. She and her sisters named one of the tree-studded hills "Freda's Hat" after a woman they knew in Rhame. Fulton's father grew up in Amidon, and she remembers the rides to visit her grandparents there, especially the drives at night past the mysterious shapes of Black Butte and White Butte, and the sky loaded with stars. The Burning Coal Vein area was a favorite place of her family for picnics and fun, and also for comfort and strength when times were sad.

Cris Fulton

The land of my birth seems like a magical place, with rolling hills, magnificent skies, massive buttes, herds of cattle and sheep, and fields of sunflowers and wheat. These rugged plains encase the ancient remains of dinosaurs, crocodiles, camels, gigantic ferns, redwoods, and palm trees. Southwestern North Dakota is a vast and truly awesome territory where you can still experience buffalo herds, bighorn sheep, elk, eagles, rattlesnakes, jackrabbits, coyotes, meadowlarks, prairie dogs, mule deer, antelope, horses, and hawks.

This country is like some mythical Kingdom of the West, with fantastic place names like Little Missouri River, Medora, Prairie Dog Creek, Coyote Creek, Rainy Buttes, Elkhorn Ranch, Killdeer Mountains, Black Butte, White Butte, Medicine Pole Hills, Table Mountain, Pretty Butte, Post Office Butte, and the Cave Hills. I thank my lucky stars for having such an enchanted realm for a backyard.

My subjects include the grassy slopes and contours of the country, sagebrush, cottonwoods, and junipers, rivers and creeks, clouds, trails, buttes, and badlands. It is my desire to share the serenity, the exuberance, the liberation, the reverence, the wonder, the beauty, and the joy that I have experienced in this prairie paradise that is sometimes called "God's Country."

Richland County Commissioners File Opposition to MDU Rate Increase

On May 14, Loren Young, Shane Gorder and Duane Mitchell as individual rate payers and Richland County Commissioners filed public comment with the Public Service Commission opposing the application for a rate increase by MDU.

At a recent listening session held in Sidney by PSC Randy Pinocci, MDU stated the increase was for wind farm electric generation in North Dakota. Meanwhile, MDU has announced plans to retire the coal fired units at Lewis and Clark Station in 2020. Although MDU stated that wind powered electricity was less expensive, the Commissioners stated that no uncontested information has been provided comparing the total cost of electric power by wind farms in North Dakota versus electric power generated from coal at Lewis and Clark.

The Commissioners also voiced their concerns at the economic impact to Richland County, including the school system, which would result from the Lewis and Clark closings, with the ripple effects on the Savage Mine and Sidney Sugars.

The public comment states:

"The closure of the Lewis and Clark Station in Montana in favor of yet another rate hike for subsidized wind farms in North Dakota may look better in North Dakota, but it looks bad for Montana and especially for Richland County. The closure of the Lewis and Clark Station is economically the same thing as closure of the Savage coal mine, which in turn puts tremendous pressure on Sidney Sugars."

"The total consumer cost and consumer interest in this plan has not been adequately studied or accounted for. At present, we are flying blindly into a probably bleak future, unless we slow down and get the complete picture of what granting the Application and closing the Lewis and Clark Station will do."

Vendors Can Now Register For The 29th Annual Sunrise Festival Of The Arts Scheduled For Saturday, July 13, At Veterans Memorial Park

The Sunrise Festival of the Arts, presented by XTO Energy, is always one of the highlights of the summer season as residents enjoy viewing homemade items from vendors throughout the area, a variety of entertainment and great food from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. during a traditionally beautiful day in the city's downtown park.

Cost for vendors is $45 for a 10 by 10 booth. The fee increases to $55 after May 31. In addition, there's a special low $25 charge for authors taking part in the festival.

Food vendors representing non-profit groups are also wanted. Registration fee is $75, or $85 after May 31.

To register, contact the Chamber at 433-1916, director@sidneymt.com or visit www.sidneymt.com.

This year's celebration will include an expanded Kid's Korner being held in honored of the late Arch Ellwein.

Purchase a Sunrise Festival button and redeem discounts offered by local merchants and enter to win prizes, including the annual grand prize: a piece of art from the featured artist of the year.

Sandra LaRoque, an artist from Alexander, has been selected as this year's featured artist for the Sunrise Festival of the Arts.

Her creations out of the agates from the Yellowstone River include beautiful lampshades and suncatchers. She noted the art can be enjoyed in your window to let the sunshine of them and show their beauty.

East Fairview School Students Were "On the Move!"

Where could you learn about healthy eating and exercise this spring? East Fairview School would have been an excellent location!

Recently Britney Barnett with NDSU Extension/McKenzie County completed five weeks of classes with second grade children. On the Move Junior, a program designed to help children learn more about dairy foods, fruits, vegetables, grains and proteins, was shared along with healthy snack samples made from foods in each food group. During the program, participants were encouraged to chart and increase their consumption of foods from each of the five food groups. Story books and activities helped make classes fun and interactive. During the program, teacher Mrs. Steitz noted that students made healthier eating choices at lunch, asked questions about food, tried new foods and brought healthier snacks to school.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Danielson's fourth grade class was also working on increasing their intake of fruits, vegetables and calcium-rich foods through "On the Move to Stronger Bodies." This six-week curriculum was taught by NDSU Extension Agent Marcia Hellandsaas. These students learned about key nutrients, healthy beverages, menu planning and much more. They conducted "weight-bearing exercises," played "fitness bingo," and found out exactly how much food they should eat everyday (from each food group!)

Mrs. Danielson shared that "students were really dedicated to applying what they learned."

Finally, Mrs. Bieber's fifth graders were engaged with "On the Move (Senior.") These students learned about healthy lifestyle topics like fruit and vegetable consumption, calcium needs and physical activity. They would chart their progress on maps and earn tokens for meeting nutrition and fitness goals.

By Anna Dragseth

This year will be the first-ever Firefighters Convention hosted by the Watford City Fire Department. The 135th Annual North Dakota State Firefighters Convention will take place at the Rough Rider Center located at 2209 Wolves Den Parkway, Watford City. The convention will start at 8 a.m. on Thursday, May 30 and conclude on Saturday, June 1. Attendees will consist of North Dakota Firefighters Association members which comprises primarily of all the fire departments in the state of North Dakota, approximately 300 firefighters including spouses are expected to attend. The convention will begin with a golf scramble at the Fox Hills Golf Course on Thursday, May 30. There will be registration followed by a Fire Chief's meeting and a social and barbecue. On Friday, May 31, the convention reconvenes with a Memorial Service honoring members of the North Dakota Fire Department that have passed away since the last convention. Various other reports and business will be conducted as well as Keynote Speaker, Robert J. Darling Lt Col USMC (Ret) who will be presen: 24 Hours Inside the President Bunker; 9-11-01: The White House. At 4 p.m. there will be a parade on Watford City's main street which the Watford City Fire Department encourages the general public to attend. Friday evening there is a banquet and entertainment for the attendees. On Saturday, June 1, an election of officer positions as well as final reports will conclude the convention. "The purpose of the convention is to conduct the business meeting of the North Dakota Firefighters Association and provide an opportunity to socialize with other firefighters from across the State," said Chairmen of the Convention Committee, Jeff Gronos. The North Dakota Firefighters Association has had an annual convention each year that rotates between host cities throughout the state of North Dakota. "In 2016, the Watford City Fire Department attended the North Dakota Firefighters Annual Convention in Bottineau, ND and submitted their nomination and was unanimously elected to host the 135th Annual Fire Convention in 2019," explained Gronos. The Watford City Fire Department is looking forward to hosting its first ever North Dakota Firefighters Annual Convention and is excited to showcase all that the Watford City area has to offer.

Arnegard's Puts New Fire Hall Into Service

The new fire hall located in Arnegard, ND.

The Arnegard Fire Department recently put their new fire hall into service. The previous fire hall was located behind the city hall for the past 30 years. Over the past six years call volume in the area increased by 1200%. This signaled the need for an expanded facility to handle the needs of the quickly growing community and oilfield activity. The new $1.5 million facility was paid for in large part by private donations. The project took two years to complete and gives the department the ability to grow in the future.

The all-volunteer Arnegard Fire Department consists of 15 core members that cover an area of 212 square miles. That's four times larger than the city of Fargo. They are trained fire, rescue, medical first responders and are Emergency Medical Responder (EMR) certified. They can handle any situation that first responders deal with in some of the largest cities in the country.

The hall has room for three additional trucks, giving the department plenty of room to grow in the future.

Sidney Health Center Nurses Received Advanced Training To Treat Burns

By Philip C. Johnson

Sidney Health Center is better able to treat burns after two Sidney nurses recently underwent advanced medical training at the Shriners Hospitals for Children Burn Center in Galveston, TX.

Registered Nurses Kay Hatter and Christa Veltman said they look forward to sharing the information that they received during a week of intensive training at the world's premier burn center with other nurses and doctors at SHC.

With this region's abundance of agricultural, industrial and oil-related jobs there is always a high risk of injury from burns, and they don't all come from fire, Veltman said. Chemical burns are also a concern. Prevention is the first step.

"The best way to treat a burn is to prevent it. We need to teach our children about the dangers of burns," Veltman said. "We can do a lot more for burns now. The chances of surviving critical burns over most of the body have improved through the work being done by the Shriners Hospital in Galveston."

The Shriners Hospitals for Children Burn Center in Galveston is the preeminent world leader in pediatric burn care and has been the world's leading pioneer in the advancement of pediatric burn research.

"The healing advances made possible by our medical and research staff have improved pediatric burn treatment and dramatically increased survival from burn injuries, improving patient outcomes beyond imagined expectations," said Angel Martinez, outreach coordinator for the Shriners Hospital for Children in Galveston.

The trip to Galveston was made possible through generous donations from two local Shrine clubs. The Richland Shrine Club in Sidney, along with a grant from the Sidney Health Center's Foundation for Community Care, contributed to the expense, but the bulk of the funding came from the Glendive Shrine Club.

Sandy Stinnett, President of the Glendive Shriners, said his club decided to help pay for the burn training after learning about a group of nurses from Billings who had made the trip. Stinnett wanted children and residents of eastern Montana to also benefit from the training.

"I'd like to see more nurses from our area undergo the training," Stinnett said in offering his club's financial support for future trips by area nurses.

The Shriners Hospitals for Children is a network of 22 non-profit medical facilities across North America. Kids with orthopedic conditions, burns, spinal cord injuries, and cleft lip and palate are eligible for care and receive all services in a family-centered environment, regardless of the patients' ability to pay. The Shriners Hospitals for Children is supported solely through private donations raised by Shrine Clubs throughout the world. The Shriner organization raises more than $2.6 million per day to support the 22 hospitals in three countries. "This is what we do," said Tim Hert, Potentate of Al Bedoo Shrine Temple in Billings. "We help children. That's why we became Shriners."

"If you have money to give, give it to them, "Veltman said. "The work they are doing is incredible and it is helping children all around the world."

Sidney VFW Post Helping Fellow Veterans And Our Community

VFW Post 4099 was awarded All American Post in our district. Without any officers this would not be possible. They include: Past Commander, Les Poland; New Commander, Bill Henderson; Senior Vice, Gene Ronningen; Junior Vice, Troy Garza; Quartermaster, Everett Crum; Chaplain, Larry Troudt; Adjutant, Stan Rosaaen. Others include Randy Severson, Dennis Albrecht, Butch Renders, Danny Albrecht, Bill Linder and Dennis Welnel.

Our goal is to help our veterans in any way possible. We honor our veterans by giving them a military funeral and are in need of volunteers to help with this. We will furnish uniforms for this.

We will pay first year dues for new members. We are active in our community. We are not just a bar, but a VFW Post to help our fellow veterans and our community.

The VFW Post 4099 awarded a $1,500 scholarship to Kayla Nelson from Savage, an outstanding individual. (Photo submitted)
