Sidney/Fairview/Lambert Wrestlers Finish 2nd at State

The Sidney/Fairview/Lambert wrestling team finished the MHSAA State All-Class Wrestling Tournament in 2nd place in Billings Feb. 9-10. The Eagles had 9 state placers including state champion Tyson Syth at 103#. Placing 2nd were Gordon Knapp (113#), Brenner Mullin (126#), Aaron Schmitz (132#) and Brody Keysor (138#). Finishing 3rd was Ty Schepens (160#) and 4th was Reece Graves (145#). Sixth place finishers were Thor Fulgham (205#) and Caleb Kleinke (285#).
Eagles head coach Guy Melby was proud of this young team's performance at the tournament. "I think it went awesome," Melby stated. "Our coaching staff thought we had it in us, nobody else did. When you walk in there with all those young dudes." The team had 10 wrestlers that were 8th graders or freshmen. The Jan. 17 Montana state coaches poll ranked the team 7th prior to the Class A Duals in Butte.
"We knew these guys were coming up. We have been grooming them for a lot of years," said Melby. "I'm really pleased with how they performed. Just how they fought. I told the guys at the beginning of the tournament its hard to beat a guy that fights for six minutes."

Some of the events at the tournament defied even the coaching staff's expectations. "We always thought we could get six (wrestlers) in the semi-finals. We got seven in the semis and we got five in the finals," stated Melby.
With the help of the wrestlers in the consolation rounds the team was able to remain in the running on the second day of the tournament. Entering the consolation semifinals the team was in first place with a small lead ahead of Laurel, the eventual Class A team champions. "Any time you can go to the state tournament and be in it going into the placing rounds its a pretty successful tournament," stated Melby.

The Eagles definitely had an outstanding semifinal round. "I'm not going to say it was perfect but it was so close to perfect. I felt really good about it. I was so proud of our younger guys," said Melby. "We had two 8th graders and two freshmen in the finals at the state tournament. It's unbelievable."
Coach Melby has great pride in this year's team and is excited for years to come. "I was very pleased with the performance. What I kinda really liked was if they got beat they were upset about it. This crew loves wrestling and they even like conditioning. It's pretty bazaar," stated Melby. In the years ahead the team is poised to be even more dominate as the wrestlers mature, improve and upcoming wrestlers join their ranks. "Anything lower than second will be a huge disappointment," said Melby. The Eagles have set a high bar with this year's performance. "I think we will be deeper next year. We will have a few more kids out. Instead of bringing 12 (wrestlers) to state I think we will bring 17."

"Forty nine counties challenging this issue with the Department of Revenue, the governor, budget director and going all the way over to the Supreme Court has definitely got their attention. Now, the governor has formed a property tax task force. I really feel there are going to be some changes this next legislative session," stated Commissioner Shane Gorder.
The commissioners will send out a letter to taxpayers with their next tax statements. The letter reads as follows:
Dear Richland County Tax Payer,
The Montana Supreme Court determined that the Department of Revenue has the authority to direct counties to levy above the current mill levy calculation limitation each year if reserved mills are deterred to be available. The Department has verified that the school equalization mills—under the statutory limitations that adjust mills down when taxable values increase—are reduced from 95 mills to 77.9 mills for this tax year. However, the Department of Revenue under the direction of the Governor's Budget Office and Governor Gianforte is directing the County to levy extra mills they hold to reserve to generate additional revenue from property taxpayers in Montana. The Supreme Court ordered counties to comply, therefore your second half taxes will necessarily be increased to comply with the request from the Department of Revenue as directed by the Governor and the Order from the Montana Supreme Court. Please remember that the local county employees and Department of Revenue employees did not play a role in this decision and the work they do is centered on complying with laws passed by the Legislature.
Sincerely,
Duane Mitchell, Chair
Loren Young, Commissioner
Shane Gorder, Commissioner

Ellingson Named Fitzgerald Pharmacist Of The Year

Erin Ellingson, RPh, was recognized as the Fitzgerald Pharmacist of the Year by the Montana Pharmacy Association. (Submitted Photo)

Sidney – It is with great pleasure and immense pride that Sidney Health Center extends congratulations to Erin Ellingson for being honored with the prestigious Fitzgerald Pharmacist of the Year award by the Montana Pharmacy Association. This recognition was awarded to Ellingson during the 2024 Winter Conference held in January, where her outstanding contributions to healthcare were acknowledged and celebrated.
As the primary pharmacist at Sidney Health Center Cancer Care, she collaborates with the medical oncologists and the care team to ensure high-quality patient care. Her dedication is evident in her contributions, from advising on medication for cancer treatment to shaping effective treatment plans. Her commitment extends beyond her role, as she actively seeks growth by attending oncology conferences. In the past year, she participated in events in Denver and Washington, DC, enhancing her skills alongside the Cancer Care team. From direct patient care to learning new skills, She puts her heart and soul into ensuring our cancer patients receive high quality care, specific to their needs.
The Fitzgerald Pharmacist of the Year Award is awarded annually to a Montana pharmacist who makes a difference by actively supporting their profession and demonstrates going beyond the professional call of duty.
Steve Case, Sidney Health Center pharmacy director, submitted the nomination to the Montana Pharmacy Association. "I am honored to have nominated Erin for this prestigious award," stated Case. "Her dedication and compassion in helping each and every patient, always going above and beyond, is truly remarkable. Erin puts her heart and soul into her work, and I wanted to share her inspiring commitment with others, hoping it will encourage everyone to give a little bit more. We are so fortunate to have her as a apart of our team."

Erin has been a pharmacist at Sidney Health Center since 1999 starting as a hospital pharmacist working in all aspects of the organization including inpatient, ER, Extended Care, and Oncology. In 2012, she transitioned to working mainly at the expanding Cancer Care Suite. Since that time, the number of patients cared for daily has increased with the addition of full-time oncologists and expanded IV therapy. Outside of work, Erin is an equally dedicated hockey and rodeo mom to Rowan and Drew.

Lola Fay Hansen

Heaven gained a whole lot of sparkle on Feb. 9, 2024, when Lola Fay Hansen, 79, passed away following a brief hospitalization at Sidney Health Center. She was welcomed into the arms of Jesus with her daughter and son-in-law at her bedside.

Lola was born while her father was stationed in Temple, Bell County, Texas, on Nov. 10, 1944. She was the oldest of 3 daughters born to Sidney natives Orvald Norgaard and Hazel Blair Norgaard Peterson.

Lola grew up on a farm in the Mount Pleasant community west of Sidney. She was educated in Mount Pleasant and Sidney schools, attended Dawson Community College, and studied business at Montana State University in Bozeman.

She married Arnold G. Hansen on March 25, 1961. Following their education, the couple moved home, to Sidney. Arnie took a teaching position at the high school and Lola started her business career.

By age 34, Lola had started and was running six businesses in Sidney. Her first venture was the Montgomery Ward catalog store. She began as a clerk and soon became the youngest Ward's manager in the country, winning awards for increased sales and her exceptional management skills. She bought the Ward's store in 1972 and added a health food department. In 1977, she built the connecting South 40 complex, which housed the award-winning South 40 Restaurant and Lounge, Homestead Clothing, The Book Loft, and Homestead Shoes. In the 1980s, she continued to expand, adding The Flair, Macho Man, and Kids' Corner clothing stores in the Village Square Mall. In 1997, the Winner's Pub Sports Bar & Casino was opened. Lola loved making people happy and giving them the best shopping and dining experience possible. This was her passion and the key to her success. She never retired, staying involved in the businesses' daily operations until the last days of her life.

Lola was active in community affairs on both the local and state levels. During her lifetime, she served in the following capacities: Director of the local Chamber of Commerce, Secretary and founding member of the Richland Co. Tavern Assoc., Chairman of the Richland County Democratic Central Committee, Charter member and Secretary of the Xi Alpha Beta Sorority, Director of the MT Retail Association, Board member of the Montana State Board of Regents, and on the Governor's Board of Montana Ambassadors to promote Montana's economy. She was named Woman of the Year for the Sidney Chapter of the Business and Professional Women of America in 1985. Lola was incredibly charitable and an active supporter of all Sidney Eagles activities.

Lola loved spending time at their cabin on Lake Sakakawea. She didn't like the water but loved spending time with family, cooking, reading, and playing card games, especially Pinochle and Squeak. She was particularly fond of Squeak, playing with such speed that her opponents would pause to watch in amazement, often securing her the win. She tried to learn to crochet once and spun a starting chain so long it could have competed for a record, humorously dubbing it a work of art. It may not have been a record or art, but it did symbolize her fortitude to succeed at whatever she set her mind to.

Lola is survived by her husband of 62 years, Arnie; daughter, Heather (Ray) Johnson; son, Raymond Hansen; three grandchildren, Cody (Megan), Jace (Kylee), and Liliana Johnson; one great-grandson, Brooks Johnson; and two sisters, Rita and Jeanette.

If there are superhumans among us, Lola was undoubtedly one of them. She was intimately familiar with life's many challenges, having faced head-on every type of life's pain and sorrow. Yet, she turned these struggles into a source of strength for herself and everyone she inspired, especially other women. Her resolve made the impossible seem possible. Her legacy is a profound narrative of resilience, hope, and endless possibilities.

In lieu of flowers, memorials in Lola's name may be made to the Mon-Dak Heritage Center or a charity of one's choice.

Alton Vernald Hillesland

10, 2024, at the Sidney Health Center surrounded by family. He was born on July 2, 1928, to Ted and Lottie Hillesland, Calmar, IA, and grew up on the family farm with three brothers, Dalos, Glenn, and Harvey. He married Harriet Ohnstad and they enjoyed 62 years of marriage. He later married long-time family friend Ruthann Knutson. His 95 years were filled with the love of learning and his unwavering, steadfast faith in God. He earned his bachelor's degree from Luther College, Decorah, IA, and Master of Divinity from Luther Seminary, St. Paul, MN. He served as pastor in Spring Grove, MN; Willow City, ND; country churches around Parshall, ND; Mondovi, WI; Culbertson and Bainville, MT; Sidney, MT; and Watford City, ND. Upon retirement as pastor, he was asked to be the building inspector for the city of Sidney and Richland County and served in that role until age 89. His desire to help others and love of medicine led him to become a certified EMT. He served in that role through age 85. His list of hobbies continued to grow through the years. He taught himself to play the guitar, banjo, mandolin, violin, and most recently the piano. He also taught himself Norwegian rosemaling, oil painting, wood carving, sketching, wood turning, fine woodworking, and house building. He also authored daily devotions for Christ in Our Home. He made space for his ever-growing wood shop in each of their homes. His woodworking skills included building a pull-behind camper complete with a kitchen on one side and wardrobe on the other side that was used for annual summer camping vacations. One of the biggest woodworking challenges Dad tackled in his shop was his History Clock. It was a project that took him just over 20 years. It is a testament to his drive and determination. He was an active member in Kiwanis for many years. He met Monday-Friday for over 30 years with his Coffee Buddies ('the grandpas') and was always up for a game of Pinochle. Philanthropy and giving back to the communities he lived in was something he felt very strongly about. As a result, he enjoyed supporting many different organizations in the communities where he lived, including serving as a founding member of the McKenzie County Heritage Park, Watford City, ND. Alton is survived by his wife, Ruthann; four children, Tom (Marie), Jeff (Sally), Chris (Billie), and Sana (Ken) Keller; five stepchildren, Chad (Brad) Knelson, Joe (Jeni) Knutson, Sandra (Mark) Fetting, Marty Knutson (Jenifer Grau), and Bethany (Erick) Spiegel; 23 grandchildren and 18 great grandchildren. Adding to the family, reconnecting with long-lost relatives, and discovering new family was a joy throughout his life. One of his greatest joys was spending time with all his grandchildren and great grandchildren. He is preceded in death by his parents, brothers, first wife, and grandson Jade. If desired, memorials may be made in Alton's name to the Foundation for Community Care, Pella Lutheran Church, or Martha's Place in Sidney.

Kurt Anderson

Kurt David Anderson was born Aug. 10, 1964, in New Haven, CT, to Kathleen Joyce and Paul S. Anderson, Jr. Kurt grew up in Oklahoma City, OK, playing football and basketball, driving fast cars, and enjoying movies and comic books. He worked hard from a young age to support his "fun." He grew up close to his family and seven cousins who live in Connecticut and Arizona. Kurt graduated from John Marshall High School in Oklahoma City, OK, and went on to get his Bachelor of Science and master's degrees in education from Oklahoma City University. He started his teaching career immediately after graduation and it was the passion of his life. Teaching began in Oklahoma and took him to Texas, Georgia, Florida, and even Korea. When he traveled to Montana to teach, it became his home. Kurt was a loving son, wonderful brother, and committed, lifelong friend. He loved walking into his classroom every day to teach about history, politics, and pop culture. His students were "his kids" and he affectionately nicknamed most of them. He was committed to reaching each one individually and helping them believe in what they were capable of. He found his heaven on earth in the community of Lambert, MT. His colleagues and friends in Lambert were added to his chosen family and he loved them dearly. Kurt passed away on Friday, Feb. 2, 2024, at the St. Vincent's Health Care Center in Billings, MT. Kurt is survived by his two cats Duke and Tempest; his sister Nancy Osmundson; brother-in-law Chris "Oz" Osmundson; nephew Thomas Taaca; niece Tiffany Taaca, and all of Bozeman, MT. He is also survived by his beloved cousins and friends across the country. Part of Kurt will live on as his corneas have been donated to a matched individual. Kurt will give this person the gift of sight. Donations in lieu of flowers may be given to the Kurt Anderson Foundation. These funds will be used in his honor for high school scholarships at Lambert High School. Donations are tax deductible and may be mailed to: Kurt Anderson Foundation, care of Nancy Osmundson at 4602 West Dry Creek Road, Belgrade, MT 59714.

He has worked for NDSU-WREC for 15 years and in those 15 years has done a lot of research on soybean production and continues to see expansion of soybean acres throughout the MonDak region and the important role that they have in our cropping system. He also farms and ranches in western North Dakota and soybeans have become an important rotational crop in his operation both irrigated and dryland.

Following lunch at 1 p.m. Charlie Lim will present on Herbicide Modes of Action and Injury to Crops. Lim is Williston Research Extension Center NDSU Extension weed specialist where his research is focused on weed control and integrated weed management, the mitigation of herbicide-resistant weeds, and other topics related to weeds. Wrapping up the day will be Dr. Weaver discussing Best Practices for Management of Insect Problems in Stored Grain. In addition to wheat stem sawfly, Dr. Weaver's other key research focus is on pests of crops and stored grains.

Discovery of 100-Year-Old Signed Quilt Blocks Prompts Questions

By Dianne Swanson
 Pristine quilt blocks crafted 100 years ago were discovered recently in an old trunk, which belonged to life-long Girard resident Mary Helen (Daniels) Arneson. She was born in 1921 and hadn't made a block so they must have been in the company of her mother Junia Cole Daniels. Junia was married to George who homesteaded the current Arneson place in 1908.
 Girard Homemakers plan to create an authentic period quilt out of those blocks and place it in the Baue exhibit at the MonDak Heritage Center. Baues were also homesteaders in the Girard area. It is unknown what the purpose of the blocks might have been but the club is thankful that they were dated. They have been undisturbed since 1925 and remain in pristine condition.

 Each block is signed by its seamstress, with many of those names unknown to current residents of the area. Some may not have lived in the Girard area. The club would like to gather brief information on each of those individuals to include with the quilt. Anyone having such information on Dorothy Elliott, Blanche Boltus, Phebe Kirkland, Mary Klute, Bessie Moore, Sadie Johnson, Sara Fletcher, Agnes Lloyd, Ina Richardson, Alvina

Post, Iver L. Post, Pearl Forsyth, Rachel Mann, Agnes LaBonte, Ethel Moore, Anna Rabe, Ellen Bowden, Clytie Elliot, or Mrs. Maude Glenn is asked to please share. Information should include a maiden name, who they were married to, children, and where they lived, but any information would be appreciated.

Please contact Linda Simonsen at 406-798-3672, pullet27@midrivers.com or Becky Daniels at 406-798-3647, countrygal1953@gmail.com with any information or questions you may have.

Ranger Bantams – Putting in the Work

By Brenda Filler
Ever wonder what is going on in a hockey player’s head when they step on to the ice? Is it the smell of freshly jammed ice, is it the fans in the stands, is it the work they put in to get to this moment? Whatever it is that they think many players have been here before them and many will be here after them putting in the work. Well, let me tell you, your Richland Bantams have been putting in the work and it shows.

The Rangers met up with Mandan Mayhem on Sunday, Feb. 11 for their 11th league game of the season. The Bantams worked hard both offensively and defensively proving they have what it takes. In the end that hard work paid off giving your Bantams a winning score of 7-4 over Mandan and giving the Ranger Bantams their 11th straight league win!

Adding points to their season standings were Korbyn Johnston, Cooper Thiel, Jake Schlothauer, Avery Schantz, Chloe Harmon, and Brody Verhasselt. Goalie, Paxton Berry saved an incredible 45 shots this past weekend against Mandan.

Next up for your Ranger Bantams, they will travel to North Dakota to face the Williston Flyers on Saturday, Feb. 17 for a game at the Agri Complex at 1:45 p.m. (MST). Then, return to home ice on Sunday, Feb. 18 at 8:30 a.m. to face off against Bismarck Red.
If you have not made it down to the Richland Ranger Hockey arena to see some incredible hockey do not wait any longer. There are just two weekends of home games left as the Ranger hockey season is winding down.

Guest Opinion
A Lesson from Sven and Ole

By Joel Krautter
Some readers, especially those with Scandinavian heritage, may be familiar with the stories of Sven and Ole. I grew up hearing them from my late grandfather. One story comes to mind in the context of our current political climate.

Sven and Ole, were two farmers with neighboring farms who had always been very competitive. Ole's father had always been a Ford man, and the bigger the better, especially the F-350s. So, of course, Ole grew up as a Ford man, too! Sven's father had always been a Chevy man, and he loved those big Silverados. Sven kept up the tradition as a Chevy man, too.

One day, as Sven and Ole were both attending the local livestock auction, they argued about who had the strongest, toughest truck. They finally decided to settle the dispute by hooking a towrope up to the hitch of each pickup, to see who could pull the other guy in his direction. Once in position, they each gave their trucks the gas.

Of course, we know who won. It was the local parts dealer who sells ropes and transmissions.

Much like Sven and Ole, today we have politicians pulling our country apart.

Traveling around eastern and central Montana, people tell me they're frustrated with the dysfunction in Washington, D.C. ABC News recently reported the "118th Congress (was) on track to become one of the least productive in US history." And Republican Congressman Chip Roy of Texas took to the House floor to challenge "One thing: I want my Republican colleagues to give me one thing—one—that I can go campaign on and say we did. One!"

That resonates with all Montanans, regardless of one's political stripes.

How do we move away from today's chaos and return to the stability that has powered American prosperity? One of my political heroes pointed the way. In 2017, the late Republican senator, war hero and political maverick, John McCain, called for a return to regular order, compromise and open legislative processes.

Count me in on that. Regular order in Congress would require a bill to go through the normal committee process, hearings, amendments, and then the full legislative body for additional debate. That is the way our democratic system of separation of powers and checks and balances is designed to work. That is why we elect representatives.

Another solution for our U.S. Congress is something already done at the Montana legislature, thanks to our Montana Constitution, single subject legislation. Single subject legislation ensures greater transparency and can limit the growth of government, by allowing bills to pass or fail on their own merits, rather than having lawmakers try to work on multiple bills packaged together into a massive Omnibus bill.

However, returning to the stability of the past ultimately depends on whom we elect. Candidates who follow the example of Sven and Ole, of spinning the tires, burning out the motor, and giving off a lot of point-less smoke and noise will only add to the chaos. To find stability again we must choose candidates who put the Constitution first, reject chaos and extremism and will work for the good of all their constituents.

Joel Krautter is a Republican candidate for Congress in Montana's 2nd congressional district, covering eastern and central Montana, who is an attorney and small business owner in Billings and Sidney and a former State Legislator. (Submitted Photo)

Letter
To The Editor

February 4-10th is National Boy Scout Week. This week is set aside to celebrate Boy Scouts and the great things that they do for their communities. Scouting has benefitted the Sidney community in a variety of ways. The Boy Scouts are often called on to do service projects to help the elderly, needy or other organizations that are short on volunteer man power. Scouting has instilled great values into a lot of boys in Sidney. These core values of scouting are Trustworthy, Loyal, Helpful, Friendly, Courteous, Kind, Obedient, Cheerful, Thrifty, Brave, Clean and Reverent. Scouts are trained to be leaders. These core values act as a compass throughout a scout's life and many scouts are now serving the Sidney community in a variety of leadership occupations including the military, doctor, judge, teacher, attorney, policeman and business owner just to name a few. If you know a boy ages 11-18 that would like to be a part of Boy Scouts, please contact David Christensen at 406-489-7502. Thank you.

DPHHS Urges Consumers To Dispose Of Recalled Dairy Products; FDA Conducting Listeria Monocytogenes Outbreak Investigation

Department of Public Health and Human Services (DPHHS) officials announced Feb. 9 that Rizo Lopez Foods, Inc. has issued a nationwide voluntary recall of multiple dairy products due to possible Listeria monocytogenes contamination.

The recalled products were sold at Costco, Albertsons, Safeway, and Whole Foods stores in Montana. A complete list of recalled products can be found at www.fda.gov/food/outbreaks-food-borne-illness/outbreak-investigation-listeria-monocytogenes-queso-fresco-and-cotija-cheese-february-2024#products

“Our message to Montanans is to take time to check if these products are in their possession, and if so, discard them,” said Dr. Maggie Cook-Shimaneck, DPHHS Public Health Physician.

Listeria monocytogenes is an organism that can cause serious and sometimes fatal infections in young children, frail or elderly people, and others with weakened immune systems. Healthy individuals may suffer only short-term symptoms such as fever, muscle aches and fatigue, headache, nausea, abdominal pain, and diarrhea.

Listeria infection can cause miscarriages and stillbirths among pregnant women and serious illness or death in newborns. A consumer with symptoms of listeriosis should contact their health care provider to report their symptoms and receive care.

Twenty-six illnesses have been linked to the recalls nationwide, including 23 hospitalizations and two deaths. There are no confirmed illnesses or deaths in Montana linked to these recalls.

The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) has been notified of additional recalls for products made with or containing recalled dairy products from Rizo Lopez Foods, Inc.

Recalled food items confirmed to have been sold in Montana stores are summarized below:

Simply Fresh Rojo’s Black Bean 6- and 7-Layer Dip 2-20 oz. Club were sold at Costco stores in Montana. www.fda.gov/safety/recalls-market-withdrawals-safety-alerts/simply-fresh-llc-voluntarily-recalls-rojos-black-bean-layer-dip-220oz-product-because-possible

Fresh Creative Foods cremas, everything sauces, cilantro cotija dressing, poblano Caesar dressing, cilantro dressing, and one taco kit were sold at Costco, Albertsons, and Safeway stores in Montana. www.fda.gov/safety/recalls-market-withdrawals-safety-alerts/fresh-creative-foods-announces-voluntary-recall-dressings-and-taco-kit-due-risk-listeria-ingredient 365 Whole Foods Market ricotta whole milk cheese and ricotta part skim milk cheese were sold at Whole Foods stores in 15 oz. packages. All dates through 04/2/2024 have been recalled.

A sample of Rizo Bros Aged Cotija tested positive for Listeria monocytogenes during sampling conducted by the Hawaii State Department of Health’s Food and Drug Branch in January 2024. In response to that finding, Rizo Lopez Foods, Inc. voluntarily recalled one batch of Rizo Bros Aged Cotija Mexican Grating Cheese (8 oz) on Jan. 11, 2024.

The Centers for Disease Control (CDC) and FDA reopened the investigation in January 2024 after new illnesses were reported in December 2023. Whole

Letter to the Editor

My name is Brandon Ler. I am the seated Representative for House District 35, which covers all of Richland County. Due to recent redistricting, I am running for House District 33, which covers Richland County south of Highway 200 and all of Dawson County.

As a State Legislator, the topic I receive the most questions about is by far property taxes. Why are Montanans paying so much in property taxes? What’s behind the recent property tax hikes?

I believe that property taxes have gone up because of Montana’s lack of natural resource development in recent years. Montana is abundant in natural resources and each of these resources plays a fundamental role in the State’s economy. A good piece of the taxes collected from the production of coal, timber, oil and natural gas is used to fund key budget items throughout our state, like county infrastructure and local schools. So what happens when production in these industries decline or stop all together? The burden for the current budget, and planning for future needs, is shifted to other taxable entities and individuals.

While natural resource production has declined, the State’s budget has not. In fact, with the growing number of new residents, there is an increased demand for more school funding, road maintenance, and improvements to other infrastructure. The increases we’ve seen in property taxes can be directly linked to the decrease we’re seeing in natural resource development, and loss of taxable land we’re seeing in our state.

A diverse mix of industry is essential to a strong tax base, and by benching some of our strongest players through never ending litigation for permitting, restricting logging, and shuttering oil and gas production, we’re guaranteeing an increase in the demand on other tax paying entities, including our friends and neighbors. The impact of these actions is far reaching, and the increase in property taxes is only part of the impact these reductions have had on Montana taxpayers.

While natural resource development is only one part of a complicated answer, I will continue to support the development of our resources in Montana, and other proposals that will keep your taxes lower.

Representative Brandon Ler, House District 35, 406-480-5687

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor and Fellow Constituents,

Montana’s election process belongs to the people. We want to facilitate open and fair discussions during our primaries. The National Republican Senate Committee-Chairman Daines- does not need to choose the Arizona candidates or the candidates for Montana... Montanans can pick our own candidates, we do not need rich establishment politicians spoon feeding us our choices for Federal or State offices. We want fair and honest Elections not Selections.

Now is a time for the Grassroots of Montana to Stand up and Let your voice be heard. As we know, elections have consequences.

Sincerely,
Lana Tibbetts Billings, MT

Congressman Rosendale Launches U.S. Senate Campaign

Helena – Feb. 9, Congressman Matt Rosendale (MT-02) officially declared his candidacy for the United States Senate at the Montana Secretary of State's office in Helena. The announcement event was attended by numerous American First state legislators and supporters.

"For decades, Mitch McConnell and the Washington Establishment have sold the American people short," said Rep. Rosendale. "They've been the architects of a $34 trillion debt, the invasion taking place at the southern border, allowing China to spy on Americans and emerge as the global superpower, all while enriching their friends with the Green New Deal, at the taxpayer's expense."

"Montanans are sick and tired of having Washington work against them, which is why you sent me to Congress to be your voice. Since I've been elected, I've kept my promise to fight for you and stand up to the Uniparty.

"Having served in the Montana State Legislature, I know what a functioning governing body looks like, which is why I was proud of the work a handful of my colleagues and I did last January to restore regular order to the U.S. House of Representatives. Those changes included single-subject legislation, 72 hours to review bills, and offering amendments on the Floor. These changes allowed us to pass legislation to secure our border, restore America's energy dominance, hold China accountable, and reduce spending.

“Unfortunately, Mitch McConnell and the Uniparty in the Senate killed every single one of these measures and continue to use swamp tactics to add to our $34 trillion debt and allow the invasion at our borders to continue.

"Over the last several months, I have been humbled by the overwhelming support I received from Montanans across the state to challenge Jon Tester. While it has truly been an honor and a privilege to represent Montana in the U.S. House of Representatives, it is difficult for me to stand by and allow Mitch McConnell to select our next senator who would be another voice for the Uniparty and another vote for every pork-filled omnibus that comes through the Senate, which is why I am running for the U.S. Senate. "Our republic is tattered and torn, but it is not defeated. We need to send a shock to the system to restore it. So today, I am asking for your support to run for the U.S. Senate so together we can rebuild this great nation."
