New Events Added to MonDak Ag Days This Thursday & Friday

Pitchfork Fondue, Live Music and "Government in Agriculture" Panel Added This Year

By Kali Godfrey
Sidney Area Chamber of Commerce & Agriculture Director

The Sidney Area Chamber of Commerce & Agriculture brings the MonDak Ag Days & Trade Show to the Richland County Event Center March 7-8.

MonDak Ag Days offers nearly 50 agribusinesses in their tradeshow as well as education sessions throughout each day.

The Sidney FFA Club hosts a free-will lunch both days of the tradeshow. Breakfast will be provided by the Sidney Chamber on Thursday and by Farm Bureau on Friday.

Marley Voll, our Richland County MSU Extension Agriculture agent coordinated 2 full days of education sessions including local topics such as bioenergy from sugar beets, a seed crushing plant update from Buckshot Seeds, courses to provide a pesticide point and more.

There will be a "Government in Agriculture" panel with an update from our local legislators and discussions with 2024 candidates on agriculture-related topics.

Rather than a formal banquet, the tradeshow will open to a pre-social and pitchfork fondue. The Pitchfork fondue is a ticketed event at $25/ticket. The Pitchfork fondue features live music from local artist, Judd Burman and a cash bar from the Ranger Lounge Casino & Eatery. Tickets are available online, at the Sidney Chamber, and at the door of the event.

The Sidney Chamber is grateful to our sponsors for their continued support in bringing this event to town: Tri-County Implement, EGT, C&B Operations, Stockman Bank, Butler Equipment, Farmers Choice, Mon-Kota and Sidney Livestock Market Center.

Jazzmaine Smith & Baby Frankie Benefit Sat., March 9

A benefit for Jazzmaine Smith and her baby, Frankie, will be held on Saturday, March 9, at 3 p.m. at the Sidney Elks Lodge, 123 3rd St. SW.

A silent auction, will be held from 3-6:30 p.m. with a dinner of chili and cinnamon rolls starting at 4 p.m. for a free will donation. The live auction will start at 7 p.m.

Last year, shortly after having Baby Frankie, Jazzy was diagnosed with stage 4 cancer.

At only 22 years old, Jazzmaine has fought long and hard but it has since become terminal.

We live in a wonderful community and they say "It Takes a Village to Raise a Child"...

Many are aware of how quickly medical costs add up and the cost of caring for a baby! Let's rally around this amazing Mom and her son and do our part in helping ease the financial burden. All donations will go toward current and final expenses.

Monetary donations can be made to the Jazzmaine Smith Benefit account at Stockman Bank. Donations for the auction can be dropped off at the Sidney Elks Lodge on March 8 or 9. Please have items in by 2:30 p.m. on March 9.

For more information call or text Michelle, 701-609-2581.

Alexander School Students Participate In State Lego League

By Robin Heck

Most schools in today's society have some kind of STEM program. STEM stands for science, technology, engineering, and math. It is an umbrella term used to group together those distinct but related technical disciplines. STEM curriculum blends those subjects in order to teach "21st-century skills," or tools students need to have if they wish to succeed in the workplace of the "future".

Alexander School takes it one step farther. As part of their STEM program they participate in ND FIRST. This is their 5th year of competition. ND FIRST stands for Inspiration and Recognition of Science and Technology. ND FIRST is a competition divided into 3 different levels of competition. Alexander competes in the basic level, which is FIRST Lego League. Alexander's team is made up of 4th–8th grade students. At competitions, students create a robot out of legos and have to program it to do specific assigned functions.

At the district level, 3 teams qualified for state. Two out of the three teams this year, were from Alexander!

The "Alexander Blot Bots #44658 placed 4th.. Members are: Taylee Hunsaker, Annabel Abell, Parker Schmidt, Barrett Kangas, Lydia Helminen, and Robert Hunsaker.

The Alexander Master Minds #44659 placed 2nd overall. Team members are: Luke VanWhy, Patrick Bailey, Jordyn Thorgramson, Xoe Stoner, Juliana Jones, Brooklyn Frye, and Lincoln VanWhy.

Neither team placed at the state level, but both Coach Erica Turnquist and Coach Drew Lebrun were proud of the students. "This is the first year that we have had both teams progress to the State competition. We are looking forward to next year and are excited to see what next year's season will bring," said Coach Turnquist.

3rd Minnow Tank Business Plan Competition Business Plan Deadline Approaching

Submitted by Quincy Walter, Small Business Development Center regional director

Northeastern Montana - Great Northern Development Corporation (GNDC) and the Small Business Development Center (SBDC) are excited to announce the commencement of the 3rd Minnow Tank Business Plan Competition. This transformative initiative is set to unfold across the seven-county region of Northeastern Montana, including Valley, Garfield, McCone, Richland, Roosevelt, Sheridan and Daniels.

Fostering Economic Development:

The Minnow Tank Competition aims to unite communities with a common goal of economic development by attracting new entrepreneurs and supporting existing businesses. Through the generous sponsorships of local businesses and chambers of commerce, GNDC will award two prize packages of $5,000 each, one to a startup and one to an existing business.

Showcasing Entrepreneurial Potential:

This competition provides a unique platform for startups and expanding businesses to showcase their potential, with the opportunity to win one of two $5,000 cash awards. The vision is to strengthen and support the existing businesses that form the backbone of local communities.

Educational Initiatives:

To empower entrepreneurs, SBDC Director Quincy Walter has organized free business plan development classes in each of the seven counties. These classes cover crucial topics such as Business Plan Basics, Marketing, and Small Business Financials. Entrepreneurs planning to compete in the Minnow Tank Business Plan competition are strongly encouraged to attend these classes.

Congressional Candidate Joel Krautter Visits U.S. Southern Border

BILLINGS— Eastern Montana Republican congressional candidate Joel Krautter recently returned from visiting Eagle Pass, TX, to survey the crisis at the U.S. southern border and meet with local officials and learn about the current status of the crisis. “The U.S. southern border crisis is an issue Montanans want to see fixed because it’s a national security issue. The crisis on the southern border is a result of the chaos we have in Washington that has been derailing congressional efforts to find a solution to this problem,” said Krautter.

In Fiscal Year 2023, the U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) recorded more than 2.4 million encounters at the southern border, including 169 individuals who are on the terrorist watchlist and were trying to enter the country illegally. The CBP also seized 240,000 pounds of drugs at the southwest land border, including an estimated 1.1 billion doses of fentanyl in fiscal year 2023. Krautter said, “While some of the drugs are being seized, we also know drugs that originated at the southern border are still coming into our communities along with crime, which is putting a strain on local law enforcement, and on Montana taxpayers who have to pay for public safety. This is all due to the federal government’s failure of leadership to secure the border.”

Krautter is a 36-year-old former state legislator, Montana attorney and small business owner in Billings and Sidney, who is campaigning for the 2nd congressional district covering eastern and central Montana. He is emphasizing the need for a new generation of leadership in Washington that will crush chaos and restore stability to America.

Hunters Will See Changes To Antelope, Moose Seasons In SE Montana

Antelope licenses available for Region 7 north and south unit; Region 7 now has a moose season

HELENA – As hunters prepare for the license year beginning March 1, they should be aware of some regulation changes to antelope licenses in FWP Region 7, as well as a new moose season.

Changes to antelope licenses for Region 7

For hunters looking to pursue antelope in FWP’s Region 7, either-sex and doe/fawn licenses are no longer valid region wide. In December, the Fish and Wildlife Commission voted to divide Region 7 into a north and south unit using the Yellowstone River as the boundary for antelope hunting. The commission also passed a regulation to have separate either-sex and doe/fawn antelope licenses for the north and south units.

Antelope hunters will not see new hunting districts in the 2024 Deer, Elk and Antelope Regulations now posted on FWP’s website, but will instead see different licenses valid in either north or south of the Yellowstone River.

North tags will be: 007-21 (either-sex) and 007-31 (doe/fawn)

South tags will be: 007-20 (either-sex) and 007-30 (doe/fawn)

Archery only either-sex tags are the same: 900-20 (first and only choice as well)

Hunters who are used to hunting both sides of the Yellowstone River will need to pay particular attention to this change.

The deadline to apply for antelope licenses is June 1, though you may apply beginning today. Antelope licenses are drawn later in the summer after biologists complete their summer surveys of antelope populations.

Additional doe/fawn tags (available sometime in August):

Will only be available to those who drew 007-20 (no longer those who drew any R7 antelope tag)

License number has changed to 705-30

Licenses will only be valid in HD705 (no longer both 704 and 705)

New in 2024, hunters can apply to hunt moose in Region 7, with one either-sex tag available, valid anywhere in the region.

MSU Extension To Host Free Feral Swine Education Tour In NE Montana

From the MSU News Service
BOZEMAN – Montana State University Extension will host a feral swine education tour March 7-8 in northeast Montana, with stops held for landowners, farmers, ranchers and anyone else interested in attending. Registration is not required, and there is no cost to attend.

Tours will be held Thursday, March 7 in Scobey, 10 a.m. Ambulance Room, 106 Railroad Ave.; and Plentywood, 2 p.m. Cousin's Family Restaurant, 118 S. Main St.; and Friday, March 8 in Sidney, 10 a.m. Richland

County Event Center, 2118 W. Holly St.
Montana residents can report suspected sightings of feral swine to the Montana Department of Livestock at 406-444-2976.

Feral swine, also referred to as wild pigs, can cause significant landscape and agricultural damage, according to Jared Beaver, MSU Extension wildlife specialist. While feral swine are not currently present in Montana, the risk of feral swine is a serious concern, he added.

"Wild pigs are not native to the United States and are a highly effective invasive species," said Beaver. "They have been declared one of the biggest threats to terrestrial biodiversity in the world and are expanding across the United States and Canada."

According to Beaver, the ecological and economic impacts of feral swine could be significant in Montana if they were to establish a population. He regularly emphasizes the threat when working with Montana landowners.

"They can live just about anywhere, eat just about anything and are prolific breeders," said Beaver. "Wild pigs have few natural predators and are intelligent, mobile animals that are highly pressure sensitive. They are extremely difficult to control and eradicate once established."

MSU Extension agents will host the tour stops and provide continuing education and resources to local communities. Representatives from the Montana Department of Livestock and the U.S. Department of Agriculture Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service will also present information.

"This program is working to inform producers and the public on what these impacts are and how best to respond and manage wild pigs," said Marley Voll, MSU Extension Richland County agent.

"Montanans should be prepared before wild pigs enter the state."

Rancher Held Throws Hat In Ring To Represent Montanans In Congress

BROADUS
Fourth-generation Montana rancher and businessman Steve Held is running for U.S. House of Representatives in Montana's 2nd Congressional District as a Democrat. Held is running for office to get things done, clean up corruption, pass a farm bill that supports family farmers and ranchers, and be an actual representative for Montanans in Washington, D.C. He welcomes the opportunity to challenge any of the potential Republican nominees on his home turf, particularly either self-serving carpetbagger Matt Rosendale or career politician and lobbyist Denny Rehberg in the general election.

"I'm running to bring actual representation back to Montanans living in the eastern congressional district and passing a farm bill that works for family farmers and ranchers, not just big agribusinesses and corporations. Whenever you can't tell the difference between a rodeo clown and your elected representative it's time for a change. Let's take Montana back from the self-serving corrupt politicians in order to protect our family farms and ranches, seniors, children, businesses, and our way of life," said Held.

He agrees with the vast majority of Montanans and Americans on privacy, solving the immigration crisis, keeping politicians out of the doctor's office, lowering prescription drug prices and healthcare cost, addressing climate change, putting an end to the middle class tax burden, helping each other as neighbors, and finally, to leave a clean, safe world for future generations.

Held recognizes and celebrates the diversity of Montana by promising to be a strong advocate and partner to our state's tribal nations and Native American communities. At 63, he had never registered with a political party until, frustrated with American politics, he filed to run as a Democrat. He understands we can disagree without hating each other.

"It's called the United States of America for a good reason. We respect the Constitution and the rule of law. We aren't afraid of anything and we're all in it together. Protect your freedoms by supporting Montana Held," concluded Held. Those interested in learning more and supporting Steve Held can donate through his website at MontanaHeld.org.

Steve is a fourth generation Montana rancher and businessman, and the father of twins. His daughter, Rikki, is currently serving in The Peace Corps in Kenya and was one of the youth plaintiffs demanding our government follow the Constitution and restore Montanans' constitutional right to a clean and healthful environment in Held v. Montana. His son, Jaeger, is a military historian currently working for the Department of Interior. Steve's late mother, Jean Hough, was Woman of the Year for the Montana United Church of Christ and his late father, Cap Hough, was the mayor of Broadus. In his first rodeo at age 3, the best times of Steve's youth were hunting with his dad and working livestock.

Before returning to Broadus in 2005, Steve served on the National Board of Directors for the Screen Actors Guild Union in Hollywood where he was among the 12% of actors who actually made a living. He is also a licensed pilot and certified scuba diver, with a CDL and parachute jumps. He traveled to every state in the Union before age 23 and knows Montana will always be his home.

Elicia Reads 100 Books Before Graduation

SRCL celebrates the first teen to complete this new program

Submitted
Hi! My name is Elicia Snodgrass and I am a freshman in high school. I read because the authors I like share so much history and you can learn. My favorite book is probably Bendigo Shafter by Louis L'Amour. I love this book because there is lots of history, it is not completely made up, and you can also learn many things by the struggles they had to overcome. I am currently reading lots of books. I prefer old westerns, complete fantasy, or new westerns. My future dreams and goals are pretty simple. I want to stay on our family's ranch and help run it with my aunt. My hobbies are reading, working on 4-H projects, and working on the ranch. My parents' names are Amanda and Caleb Snodgrass.

To encourage a love of reading in teens, the Sidney-Richland County Library is promoting the 100 Books Before Graduation program. Research continually shows that children and teens who read for pleasure will do better academically and see improvement in their emotional health and well-being. And, of course, at the library we strive to introduce, nourish and grow a love of reading in the community that we serve.

Participants receive a prize when they read 10, 25, 50, and 75 books, and at the end of the program they earn a certificate and t-shirt for successful completion. This program is free

MonDak Heritage Center To Host Community St. Patrick's Day Celebration on Saturday, March 16

The MonDak Heritage Center is celebrating St. Patrick's Day and Irish history Saturday, March 16 from 1-4 p.m. with a free event for the entire family.

The day will begin at 1 p.m. with a walk-in ceramics workshop. There are numerous ceramics pieces to choose from including many new spring related items. Each ceramics piece will be $15 and available on a first come first serve basis. This is a great opportunity to create a unique work of ceramic art while listening to Irish melodies. At 2 p.m., artist, historian, and musical talent Stephen Glueckert will begin a free performance of Irish themed music and share the story of the famous Irish immigrant Thomas Francis Meagher.

Glueckert's art exhibition "The Odyssey of Montana's Thomas Francis Meagher" is currently on display in the MDHC's Center Gallery. As you spend time with Stephen Glueckert's expressive oil pastel drawings you will feel the danger, energy, and emotion of Meagher's odyssey. Glueckert's 24 colorful vignettes are filled with the celestial, earthly, and man-made symbols that governed Meagher's life: His birth and privileged upbringing in Waterford City, Ireland in 1823. His leadership in the

Town Hall Meeting For Infrastructure Safety Action Plan To Be Hosted March 20

WILLISTON.—A Town Hall meeting to discuss the Williston Infrastructure Safety Plan will be held at the Williston Community Library on March 20 from 4:30-8 p.m.

The City of Williston, with assistance from SRF Consulting and Interstate Engineering, has received funding from the Federal Highway Administration (FHWA) to create the Infrastructure Safety Action Plan, which will combine data about crashes and other transportation information with community input. This information will be used to prioritize transportation infrastructure projects that address safety challenges for those traveling in the Williston area and to support future funding opportunities for safety projects.

This community meeting will provide opportunities for the community to participate in the planning effort and see visualizations of data informing recommendations. There will be an opportunity for comment and prioritization of recommended safety strategies. The majority of the meeting will be open house format, with a brief presentation at 6:30 p.m. to give an explanation of the planning effort.

Williston residents are encouraged to stop in, as this is the time for citizens to further help define areas of concern and identify their preferred safety recommendations.

This plan is especially intended to identify and eliminate fatalities and serious injuries from vehicle crashes for everyone. The plan will focus on people and communities most affected by traffic-related injuries and fatalities—including pedestrians, bicyclists, and underserved segments of the city population—to improve safety for all users. The plan will apply to all transportation systems (roads, sidewalks, and trails) within the city limits. This meeting is open to the public.

For more information on this release, please contact Scott Harmstead, Consultant Project Manager at SHarmstead@srfconsulting.com or 701.354.2405.

Young Irishman Rebellion of 1848. His imprisonment in Van Diemen's land and escape to the United States in 1852. As a commander on the bloody battlefields of the American Civil War. And finally, his mysterious and tragic death at Fort Benton, MT, in the churning waters of the Missouri River in 1867. Though Meagher's time in Montana was short, he remains a source of Irish pride in our state and his story continues to capture the imaginations of Montanans of all types.

At the Community St. Patrick's Day Celebration, Glueckert will explain his exhibition in an artist talk and perform Irish themed music, songs related to Meagher's life, and melodies of Irish history in Montana during this interactive artist lecture and performance.

Throughout the day, soup and snack refreshments will be available for people to enjoy as they listen to Stephen Glueckert's Hurdley Gurdley instrumentals, guitar melodies, and original Irish tunes.

Doors open at 1 p.m. and this event is free, family friendly and open to the public!

 Long time secretary/ treasurer Vicky Cayko is excited about bringing Yellowstone Township into the 21st century with its well designed, easy to navigate website. Click on www.yellowstonetownshipnd.info for everything you need to know about this beautiful slice of North Dakota. Yellowstone Township sits right on the border of Montana and North Dakota, stretching north along the Yellowstone River in McKenzie County. As a township, they have had to deal with massive development issues over the past several years. The new website provides an easy tool for anyone needing to research zoning and ordinance issues. A map, board meeting dates, and a link to the North Dakota township handbook site are also included. Yellowstone Township taxpayers also provide maintenance for Sundheim Park. Park information is on the new website as well. Contact information for chairman Tim Cayko and board members Scott Buxbaum, Darrell Finsaas and Jon Dunbar is available on the site as well.
