Ribfest 2015 In Watford City Friday

Ribfest 2015 takes place Friday, August 7th Main Street, Watford City.

Concessions and the Street Fair will start at 10 a.m. and the rib contest will take place at 5 p.m. Main Street will be open for the public to enjoy lunch, live music, kids games and inflatables, and ribs until 9 pm.

This year's Ribfest is working together again with the 2nd Annual Bash on the Grass Concert Series featuring a concert by Sawyer Brown and Chris Cagle.

Sawyer Brown and Chris Cagle will perform at 8:30 at the McKenzie County Fairgrounds. Gates open at 6:30.

"Bringing these big names to an already popular event is pretty exciting," said committee chair Jessie Scofield about working with Bash on the Grass. "We hope people will be able to take in both the street fair and ribfest and the concert in the evening."

The Ribfest Committee is currently taking registrations for ribfest teams, street fair vendors, and sponsorships.

"There's big prizes at stake and slots are filling fast, so get your registration in," said Scofield.

A $1,000 prize will be awarded for the team with the best ribs. Second place will receive $500 and there will be a $250 prize for booth showmanship.

The day will be filled with live music and entertainment from the Burning Hills Singers, Lonesome Willy and Jessie Veeder and Outlaw Sippin', among others.

Other events include inflatable kids' games, a children's "Diaper Derby" and a children's "Showdown" at noon where prizes will be awarded for the best western wear.

The public will also enjoy the Classic Car Show and a few friendly rounds of Bingo during the day. There will be street vendors and several ping pong drops that will offer special deals from Main Street businesses

"Ribfest just gets bigger and better every year," said Janel Lee, committee member. "It's a great way to bring the community together and celebrate the best parts of summer--music, friends, and food!"

The Best of the West Ribfest is limited to 20 teams. If you're interested in registering a team, sign up today as space is limited.

Teams, food and craft vendors and Classic Car Show participants may register online at www.watfordcityribfest.net.

Declarations Needed for LYIP

By Dianne Swanson

Despite over a decade of study of over 150 alternatives multiple times, millions of dollars spent by the Army Corps of Engineers, the Bureau of Reclamation and other entities and a determination of the best possible solution to ensure the survival of the pallid sturgeon in the Yellowstone and Missouri rivers, a lawsuit filed by the Defenders of Wildlife and Natural Resources Defense Council threatens to derail the entire process and put the survival of the fish and the communities along the rivers in jeopardy.

An administrative court hearing on the injunction will be held on August 12 in Great Falls. Prior to that, the Lower Yellowstone Irrigation project is seeking declarations attesting to the benefits of the irrigation project and the harms caused by any delays. Those benefits are endless and include the obvious such as the Sidney Sugars factory, the Busch Ag plant and the economic vitality of the communities along the Yellowstone. Other benefits may not be so obvious but are just as important. Those include the raising of the water table during irrigation which recharges our drinking wells and creates wildlife habitat, the increased tax base from irrigated land vs. dry land, the dollars generated by feed byproducts from Sidney Sugars and Busch Ag, the animal feed grown in the valley which has gone all over the United States, Japan, and Canada in times of drought, the extensive work conducted by both the EARC and the NPARRL, just to name a few.

Anyone wishing to make a declaration is invited to send it to Lower Yellowstone Irrigation Project, 2327 Lincoln Ave SE, Sidney MT 59270. Attorneys for LYIP will review the declarations and use what they deem is best to defend the project.

For those people who care about the pallid sturgeon, the lawsuit will delay, perhaps forever, the completion of the fish bypass, which has been chosen as the best solution to ensure survival of the prehistoric fish while not hurting the communities. The project has gone out for bid and construction is due to start this fall. It will take approximately 3 years to complete the concrete weir and fish passage. That is the time frame given the pallid sturgeon before extinction in the wild. Delaying the project, with no quick, viable alternate solutions, is imperiling the wild fish and virtually guaranteeing its demise. To date, the only solution proposed by the plaintiffs would include the removal of the diversion dam at Intake. Farmers would then be required to pump water for irrigation; a process that would generate pollution – harming all species, and that is financially unfeasible.

While many of the declarations in support of the lawsuit favor recreational activities, some ask USACE to change the flows of water from Fort Peck dam to help the pallid sturgeon. According to James Brower, manager of LYIP, studies prove there is not enough distance from Fort Peck to Lake Sakakawea to allow for larval drift, no matter what the flows are out of the dam. "That's why it makes even more sense for the USACE to do a fish bypass at Intake," he explained. He added that Fish and Wildlife could still get common sense changes to Fort Peck spills even with the changes at Intake. One is not dependent on the other. "The fish bypass at Intake gives the pallid sturgeon larval a much better chance at survival, and it doesn't hurt the farmers, ranchers and the communities in north eastern Montana and the rest of the river drainage," Brower stated. "

The State of Montana and MT Fish and Wildlife have filed an amicus brief in support of the fish passage at Intake. Governors, as well as senators and congressmen from both Montana and North Dakota have been asked for support of the Intake project and LYIP. Any help from the public in defending life as we know it in the MonDak region would also be greatly appreciated.

For more information, please contact Brower at Lower Yellowstone Irrigation Project, 406-433-1306.

Kennedy New Executive Director of Sidney Area Chamber

Kristin Kennedy began her new career as Sidney Area Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture's executive director on July 20. She plans to have a lot of fun while working with people improving the community and bringing new opportunities for members of the chamber. She also plans to help bring more events to Sidney and increase tourism, through the TBID and the Convention and Visitors Bureau.

Although Kennedy grew up in Gillette, WY, she always wished to move to Montana. Her parents lived and worked in Sidney for several years, then retired to Fort Peck, so Kennedy was well acquainted with the area. She was employed by St. Peter's Medical Group in Helena before moving to Sidney and working for Lunderby's. Although she enjoyed her position at Lunderby's, the desire to interact with the public prompted her to choose the chamber. She is married to Paul and they have a blended family of 6 children.

Kennedy is looking forward to meeting everyone, whether chamber members or not, and invites everyone to stop by the office at 909 S. Central Ave., Sidney.

Dare To Prepare At Richland County FAIR!

By Julie Brodhead

Montana Red Cross Media Volunteer

The American Red Cross's local Disaster Action Team (DAT) will be busy volunteering at the Richland County Fair this year, Aug. 5-8!

Everyone is invited to the agriculture building where the Red Cross booth will be located. It will feature a large Red Cross display board with lots of emergency information, including the promotion of two new apps: the Red Cross Emergency app and a children's game called Monster Guard. Both of these are free and promote emergency preparedness and prevention.

Volunteers will have quiz questions (four per day) and great prizes to give away! We are striving for a high level of interaction with the public on preparedness issues. They will hand out bags with some basic preparedness information inside that is good for all ages! They are looking forward to seeing you at the Richland County Fair this year!

Red Cross DAT members are prepared to assist our community in situations like home fires, natural disasters, or other emergencies. The team meets on the second Monday of each month at 5:30 p.m. at the Nutter Building, and the meeting is open to the public. For more information on volunteering with Montana Red Cross, join them at one of their monthly meetings or go to redcross.org/montana/volunteer.

You can help people affected by disasters like wildfires, as well as countless other crises at home and around the world, by making a donation to support American Red Cross Disaster Relief. Your gift enables the Red Cross to prepare for and provide shelter, food, and other emergency assistance in response to disasters. To donate, please visit www.redcross.org/montana, call 1-800-ARC-MONT (1-800-272-6668) or send a check to the American Red Cross of Montana, 1300 28th Street South, Great Falls, MT 59405.

Kat Perkins to Perform During Red Ribbon Week

By Meagan Dotson

During Red Ribbon Week, October 23rd through 31st, Checkers, Inc. will be hosting a special event in Richland County. On October 27th, Kat Perkins from "The Voice" and Dr. Gary Dale, a former Montana State Medical Examiner will be special guests in Sidney as part of the annual nation-wide drug-free campaign.

From 1:00pm until 3:15pm, there will be an assembly at Sidney High School for area students including Sidney, Fairview, Lambert, and Savage where Perkins will speak about "Dream it, Do it" encouraging students not to let anything get in the way of accomplishing their goals and the importance of self-respect. Dr. Dale will discuss the physical effects drugs have on the body, which can be long-term and often deadly. A community feed will be held at the Richland County Event Center beginning at 4:30pm catered by Judge Greg Mohr. At 6:15pm, Dr. Dale will address the community about the dangers of drug-use and Perkins will perform a 75 minute concert following that, performing hits such as Fearless. The goal of the committee is to provide the entire day free of charge. Free will donations are welcome.

The inspiration for this came when it was brought to Checkers' owner Janette McCollum's attention that findings from a 2015 Quest Diagnostics study showed that there had been a 9.3% national increase in the number of individuals who tested positive for drugs in the workforce, compared to a 4.7% increase in 2014. McCollum was then posed with the question of what to do. With Checkers as one of the workforce drug-testing agencies in the area, she felt the responsibility to get involved. With drug prevention weighing heavily on her, she began to brainstorm about what to do and when to do it.

"We knew we had to do something big to get everyone's attention; something that would stick in their heads to help them remember why we want and need to be drug free. Getting everyone in the community involved is a must; members of the community, the workforce, and our students," McCollum commented.

In 1988 the National Family Partnership sponsored the first national Red Ribbon Celebration, adopting Agent Camarena's belief that one person can make a difference.

Checkers, along with community officials, the DUI Taskforce, District II Alcohol & Drug, RSVP and the Richland County Health Department, the Foundation for Community Care, law enforcement, county and city officials, and local businesses are all working together to raise funds to cover the entire cost of the event, an estimated $30,000. Any extra funds available will be going to provide monthly awareness on through to the next Red Ribbon Week event in 2016 and to help with any prevention programs in the county.

There is still a lot to do in preparation for what will certainly be an inspiring and memorable event that carries such a powerful message. For anyone who would like to volunteer, contact RSVP at 406-433-2207; for anyone who would like to contribute, checks can be made out to the Foundation for Community Care but MUST be earmarked for Red Ribbon Week. Contributions can be dropped off or mailed to the Foundation for Community Care at 221 2nd St NW, Sidney, MT, 59270 or Checkers, Inc. at PO Box 899 Sidney, MT, 59270. All donations made to the Foundation for Community Care are greatly appreciated and are 501c3 tax deductible.

Boat Ramp Warning At Sidney Bridge Fishing Access Site

Anglers and boaters using the boat ramp at Sidney Bridge Fishing Access Site need to be advised of a potential drop off at the end of the concrete ramp.

River flows have receded to a point that may cause boat trailers to reach the end of the concrete ramp. When the Yellowstone River drops to or below 6,000 cubic feet per second, or a gauge height of 4.4 feet as measured at the USGS Gauging Station at Sidney, the end of the concrete boat ramp can be encountered when backing trailers into the water.

Use the following link to access river flow data for all USGS Gauging Stations in Montana before using local boat ramps: <http://waterdata.usgs.gov/mt/nwis/current?type=flow> River flows are also expected to be static or drop throughout August and September. For these reasons, boaters are advised to inspect the condition of this and all boat ramps before each and every use.

Richland Community Health Assessment Provides Valuable Information About Community Needs

By Meagan Dotson

On Wednesday July 29th and Thursday July 30th Retired & Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP) volunteers went door to door throughout randomly selected areas of Richland County conducting the Richland Community Health Assessment, which is a survey done every three years to determine the public health needs of the community.

There were a total of 43 volunteers, about half of them being new to RSVP, and ranging from 7 years old into their late eighties. These members of the community donated their time and energy beginning with a one hour forty-five minute training session and then went on to help with administrative work or go door-to-door gathering information.

The Health Assessment poses questions about health care in the area, education, housing, eating habits, community safety and emergency preparedness, and employment providing valuable information about the needs of our community. The process is to assess, identify needs, create a plan to address those needs, implement the plan, and then evaluate progress. The Communities in Action Steering Committee manages the process and many needs are addressed at the Community Conference held in March. Some of the accomplishments that have come from this assessment in the past are the founding of the Richland County Boys and Girls Club, the Family Resource Center, the VISTA program, the community garden, the Walk-in Clinic at Sidney Health Center, and planning for the Richland Community Complex.

Previous Community Assessments have been done via phone or mail, however having volunteers conduct door-to-door surveys is a more thorough and cost effective method. It is done in collaboration with the Sidney Health Center which is required to have an assessment done every three years to maintain a non-profit status and the information gathered will be available to the community to be utilized by businesses, educators, outreach programs, and organizations and individuals writing grants.

The Richland County Health Department, Sidney Health Center, and the Communities in Action Steering Committee would like to thank all of the individuals who gave their time and energy to making the Richland Community Health Assessment happen. The gathered information is an essential part of meeting the needs of the community and making a positive impact on those who call Richland County home.

Boys & Girls Club Backpack Program

2015 Ag Appreciation Golf Tournament Winners

The Boys & Girls Club of Richland County has partnered with IGA to help with the Backpack Program for the 2015-16 school year. We will be sending home sacks of easily-prepared food items on the last day of each school week to provide nourishment over the weekend for kids who may be depending upon the school lunch program for meals. Reese & Ray's IGA has set up a donation table in their store with two configurations of food. Shoppers at IGA may add the cost of a bag of food to their grocery bill at checkout to support this project. Monetary donations can also be sent to Boys & Girls Club, PO Box 416, Sidney, MT 59270. Any questions can also be directed to the Club at 433-6763 or e.stedman@richlandbgc.org.

The 2015 Ag Appreciation Golf Tournament, sponsored for the past 16 years by the Sidney Area Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture, was a huge success with 132 golfers enjoying a great day on the Sidney Country Club course. New this year was a sausage and pancake breakfast sponsored by Sidney Livestock Market Center and served by FFA alumni. The Chamber wishes to extend its deepest gratitude to everyone who helped make the event happen, including all the golf cart, hole, team and prize sponsors. The Chamber Ag committee, which is made up of members from various aspects of the agricultural community, worked hard coordinating the event. Anyone who is interested in joining the Ag committee, or one of several other chamber committees is encouraged to contact Marissa at 406-433-1916. New ideas and comments are always welcome.

Doris Steppler was the lucky winner of this beautiful piece of art by featured artist Anna Hoffman during the Sunrise Festival of the Arts held in Sidney July 11. Former ND First Lady To Place Additional Gubernatorial & Family Memorabilia In Lewis & Clark Museum

By Joyce Brown, Curator
Lewis and Clark Trail Homestead Museum

Earlier this year, our museum was privileged to enjoy a visit from the delightful Mrs. Grace Link. (Grace, 96, the widow of former North Dakota Governor Art Link.) She relayed that she would like to place some of their family items and possibly gubernatorial items in addition to the donations already in place at the Lewis & Clark Trail Homestead Museum, Alexander. We have cleared out an entire room for their artifacts and family memorabilia in anticipation of a very special exhibit in their honor. Once the room was cleared, we realized that more work was needed to bring it into a state of repair that would be appropriate for such a wonderful display. One of our part time employees, Sandra Pingel, said that her son Mark is in pursuit of becoming an Eagle Scout and thought that the Link Room would be a good project for him. Brent, Sandra's husband and former building contractor, came to look it over and decided that it would indeed be a good Eagle Scout project. The Museum Board of Directors have approved this project and we are on our way to aligning tasks for completion.

XTO Energy Makes $5 Million Contribution To Housing Incentive Fund

Single Largest Contribution in Program History Will Support Development in the West

XTO Energy Inc., a subsidiary of ExxonMobil last week presented North Dakota Gov. Jack Dalrymple with a check for $5 million as a contribution to North Dakota's Housing Incentive Fund (HIF). The check represents the single largest contribution to the fund since its inception.

The energy company's $5 million contribution will support affordable housing projects in western North Dakota.

"Thank you to XTO Energy for this generous contribution to the state's Housing Incentive Fund and for their support of affordable housing development in western North Dakota," said Dalrymple on behalf of the Industrial Commission.

"Helping growing communities address the demand for affordable housing for our workforce is one of the Commission's top priorities and XTO Energy's partnership in those efforts will help ensure that affordable housing is available for all North Dakotans, especially those providing essential services."

The Industrial Commission, consisting of Dalrymple as chairman, Agriculture Commissioner, Doug Goehring and Attorney General Wayne Stenehjem, oversees North Dakota Housing Finance Agency (NDHFA), the fund administrator.

"North Dakotans have welcomed the energy industry to their state, and helping to preserve and enhance the communities where we operate is an essential element of our business," said Tim McIlwain, senior vice president, XTO Energy. "We support North Dakota's efforts to provide affordable housing."

HIF relies on taxpayer support to provide low-cost financing to developers of affordable multifamily housing. Contributions can be targeted to a specific project or community.

Four projects: Killdeer Employee Housing, Wolf Run Village II in Watford City, Watford City Apartments and Williston Station –will split XTO Energy's contribution. More than half of the 287 units in the developments selected are for essential service workers, individuals employed by city and county departments, medical facilities, school districts and law enforcement agencies.

"We continue to hear about the need for housing for the workforce that provides essential community services, as well as for low and moderate income households," said Jolene Kline, NDHFA executive director. "By contributing to the Housing Incentive Fund, businesses and individuals are helping to address our state's housing needs."

In early July, NDHFA announced HIF commitments to 24 projects. The agency is focused on fully capitalizing the fund so that these projects can move forward. To do so, NDHFA must raise $30 million by Dec. 31, 2016. Individuals and businesses that contribute to HIF receive a dollar for dollar state tax credit.

More information on HIF is available online at www.ndhousingincentivefund.org or by contacting NDHFA at (800) 292-8621 or hfainfo@nd.gov.

Construction is Expected to Begin on the Williston Basin International Airport in Spring 2016

Aircraft lined up outside of the Sloulin International Airport terminal.

By Tie Shank

WILLISTON: The Sloulin Field International Airport is expected to begin construction of the new Williston Basin International Airport in the spring 2016 and anticipates the completion between the fall of 2017 and fall of 2018.

Although the airport will be changing the name to Williston Basin International, they will be naming the terminal of the new airport 'Sloulin Terminal' to honor the sacrifice and dedication of the Sloulin family.

The new terminal will sit on approximately 1500 acres, located about 5 miles NW of the current Sloulin Field International airport and will be roughly 100,000 sq. ft. in public space. Airport Director Steven Kjergaard states, "Cost estimates of the total project are between $230 & $250 million." Kjergaard adds, "I expect to have space for up to four car rental companies as well as a full restaurant and bar inside the terminal. The airport will have very similar amenities as you see at other similar sized airports."

"We are out of space everywhere you look at the airport. There are additional design issues such as the hill to the NW and the slope of the runway is too steep for aircraft as well," replies Kjergaard when asked what the reason was for building the new airport.

Last year nearly 240,000 passengers used the airport's terminal. In addition to the larger terminal and abundant parking, the new airport will be more accommodating to the growth of the Bakken and the influx of people using the terminal by being able to handle larger aircraft, up to 180-200 passenger airplanes.

Kjergaard's goal is to add additional carriers and destinations; however it is too early in the relocation process to determine if this will happen.

County Agent Update

By Danielle Steinhoff
Agriculture and Natural Resources Agent
Williams County

Using Glyphosate in small grains

With the growing season starting a little earlier this year, which means harvest is right around the corner. Many of the small grain crops are quickly approaching maturity. Using glyphosate as a pre-harvest grain is a possibility, and the instructions will be listed below. Glyphosate may be used to control both green weeds and to speed up uniform ripening of the crop. It has been proven that glyphosate will reduce the time needed for a crop to reach harvest moisture, even when the weather conditions are not favorable. It generally takes seven to ten days for the glyphosate to take effect because it is a systemic herbicide. Applying glyphosate too early can reduce the crop's yield, test weight and increase the potential of glyphosate residue to accumulate the grain. With that being said, glyphosate should not be used on fields where the crop will be used for seed or on barley intended for malt. The best and preferred time to apply glyphosate is when the crop has reached physiological maturity, in most wheat varieties this will happen when the grain moisture is around 30% (20% for barley). One way to determine the correct moisture content is if you run your thumbnail across the kernel, the indentation will remain, meaning it is at hard dough stage. It is important to check many kernels throughout the field as not all of the wheat or barley mature at the same rate. A visual indicator can be used as well, when the portion of the stem below the spike turns from green to yellow, the plant will be at physiological maturity. Remember the applications of glyphosate must be made seven days before harvest, always read and follow label directions. This information was from the July 23 NDSU Crop & Pest Report.

Monarchs

Most of us can easily identify the bright orange wings of the monarch butterfly, but taking a closer look at this insect will surprise you. They have landed in North Dakota after thousands of miles from Mexico, now relaxing, feeding and breeding in our flower gardens and prairies. The monarchs travel 2,500 miles to make it to their winter home, no other insect on earth travels that far for their migration. Within a month, starting in late August, they will sense the shorter days and will start flying south. Monarchs glide around 25 miles day, when they arrive in Mexico it will be in the same villages and even the same trees as their great-grandparents. Monarchs are in amazing insect, they are able to scare away predators 100 times larger than them. By eating milkweeds, their bodies will store toxins that many birds, lizards and other predators have evolved to avoid. Their populations have declined by 80% over the last 20 years. They are extremely fragile. Some of the reasons are because of the loss of overwintering sites in Mexico, losing breeding sites in the United States and the development of herbicide-tolerant crops. Milkweed, ornamental, swamp or butterfly, is the only food that the monarch butterfly and the monarch caterpillar will eat. We can support the growth of these populations by planting these in our gardens. They do have a pretty pink or orange flower on them so milkweeds are visually appealing as well. Reducing the use of unnecessary poisonous insecticides and reducing the use of herbicides on the edge of fields will give the monarchs a higher chance of survival and growth. This information was from the July 18 NDSU Yard & Garden Report.

Sidney ARS Plans Plant, Insect ID Station At Fair

By Beth Redlin
Wondering just what kind of bug that is? Or that funny looking plant? Concerned that you may have unwanted weeds or insect pests encroaching on your garden or field? Bring your samples to the Richland County Fair and get them identified.
Insect and plant specialists with the USDA Agricultural Research Service's Northern Plains Agricultural Research Laboratory (NPARL) in Sidney MT, will be on hand Friday evening of the fair to help identify plant or insect samples brought in by interested fairgoers. The plant and insect identification station will be held at the NPARL fair booth located at the front of the Agricultural Building from 6-8 pm on Friday, August 7.
Interested persons are encouraged to bring their plant and insect samples for identification at that time, although they can also drop off samples throughout the four-day fair for analysis. Insect samples are best brought in plastic or glass jars or containers while plant samples can be brought in plastic or paper bags (paper is best for moist samples). It's also best to have a sample of the whole plant, including roots and flowers wherever possible, to speed identification.
To further speed identification, forms asking for additional information on where a particular plant or insect was collected, along with surrounding habitat and other details, will be available, both at the booth during the fair and ahead of time at the NPARL website ( www.ars.usda.gov/pa/nparl ). As noted above, persons unable to participate on Friday can bring in samples earlier and drop them at the NPARL booth for analysis. You will be asked to provide a phone number or email address so that we can contact you with the results. We will do the same for those samples researchers are unable to fully identify on Friday.
For more information, contact Beth Redlin at 406-433-9427 or 406-433-2020 or by email at beth.redlin@ars.usda.gov.

Enbridge expected to begin work on the ND work stations of the Sandpiper Pipeline Project late fall 2015

By Tie Shank

The Sandpiper Project is an interstate crude oil pipeline that will bring growing supplies of North Dakota Bakken crude oil from the Enbridge Beaver Lodge Station south of Tioga, North Dakota to Clearbrook, Minnesota and then onto an existing Enbridge terminal in Superior, Wisconsin. From these terminals, the crude oil can be shipped through Enbridge pipelines and other third-party pipelines to U.S. and eastern Canadian refineries. More than 75 percent of the Sandpiper route follows pipelines and other infrastructure already in operation.

Enbridge has been working with regulatory and environmental agencies, county officials, communities, and landowners to develop the 616 mile Sandpiper route since April 2013. Once completed, the pipeline will have the capacity to move 225,000 barrels per day (bpd) of Bakken crude to Clearbrook, Minnesota and 375,000 bpd to Superior, Wisconsin.

Katie Haarsager, Enbridge ND Community Relations Advisor states, "Currently we are waiting on further permitting approvals in Minnesota and Wisconsin in order to start on any of the linear construction of the pipe. However in North Dakota we are approved and will be able to start some work on the stations at Stanley, Beaver Lodge, Berthold, and Lakota approximately later this fall. We are hoping to receive approvals by the end of the year to maintain an in-service date of 2017."

Enbridge lists the following FACTS about pipelines on their website:

There are more than 180,000 miles of liquid petroleum pipelines traversing the United States, connecting producing areas to refineries and chemical plants while delivering the products American consumers and businesses need.

The U.S. Department of Transportation credits pipelines as the safest most reliable and efficient manner of transporting crude oil and other liquid petroleum products.

Pipelines are one of the most heavily regulated industries in the U.S. and undergo rigorous and robust regulatory reviews from a variety of federal and state agencies

Triangle Electric: Wired for Success

By Tie Shank

WILLISTON: For nearly seven decades Triangle Electric has been a family owned business, serving the western North Dakota and eastern Montana regions. The company began in 1946 and then in 1947 owners Harold Hoffelt, Oscar Stenehjem, and Selmer Johnson placed an ad in the Williston Herald offering a reward to the person who choose the best name for their company, thus became Triangle Electric.

When the oil and gas exploration began in North Dakota in the early 1950's, Triangle Electric was well established and participated in the first major oil boom in the Williston Basin.

Through the years the ownership of the company has been held by members of the Hoffelt family. In 1978, Donn Hoffelt, an electrical engineer, joined his father Harold and brother Dennis in the business. Following Harold's retirement in 1980 and Dennis's retirement in 1996, Donn became sole proprietor and currently serves as company president. Under Donn's management and guidance, Triangle Electric has grown from approximately 50 employees in 2008 to approximately 400 electricians and support staff to date.

Triangle Electric's electricians service the oilfield, commercial and residential customers and do service call work. An after-hours answering service will connect you to one of their on-call electricians who are available 24/7 to respond when issues arise.

The company has a nearly 5,000 sq. ft. warehouse stocked with a wide range of electrical parts. They also stock an abundant supply of electrical motors for pumping units, hazardous locations, and many other applications.

In addition to all of this, Triangle Electric is the parent company of Telemasters and Industrial Automation.

Telemasters has a full line of Security Systems and installations, as well as complete Business Phone Systems. They provide service throughout the Bakken in the following areas:

- All Low Voltage Requirements
- Fire Alarm
- Home Entertainment Systems
- Network Cabling
- Office Phone and Data Systems
- Security Systems / CCTV

Industrial Automation, a U.L. listed panel shop with the capability to write custom programs, custom PLC fabrication and SCADA / Communication Systems, was founded in 2008 and currently employs several dedicated panel builders and many skilled field technicians.

Triangle Electric contributes their nearly seven decades of success to their employees. General Manager of Triangle Electric, Brandon Johnson, said "Without quality, top notch employees, we wouldn't be where we are today. Quality employees doing quality work."

Triangle Electric has been setting the standard in electrical construction for the down-, mid- and up-stream sectors of the Williston basin oil and gas industry for over 40 years.
